On October 5, 1982, the FAA's Southwest Region, Air Traffic Division, completed an evaluation of the Airpark-Dallas Airport traffic pattern requirements of Part 93, Subpart L. This evaluation revealed the rule is no longer needed, that similar situations exist at other airports which do not require a special rule, and that the rule serves little useful purpose. However, since the rule has been in effect for over 10 years, the FAA believes it necessary to precede revocation with public comment and an actual evaluation of operations conducted under Part 91. On September 28, 1984, the FAA proposed to issue an SFAR which would temporarily suspend the special air traffic rules and communication requirements at Airpark-Dallas Airport. Interested parties were invited to participate in this rulemaking proceeding by submitting written comments on the proposal to the FAA. No comments objecting to the proposal were received. Further, in a recent survey of activity at these airports, both the air traffic facility (Addison Airport Traffic Control Tower) and the responsible Flight Standards District Office reported that no significant problems existed that would require the retention of Subpart L.

The Rule

In consideration of the foregoing, the FAA is sufficiently confident that the provisions of Part 91 and the traffic patterns utilized at Airpark-Dallas Airport provide an adequate level of safety with respect to the Addison Airport Traffic Area. Therefore, this SFAR temporarily suspends the special air traffic rules and communication requirements at Airpark-Dallas Airport, Part 93, Subpart L. Operations at this location are temporarily relieved from the requirements to establish and maintain two-way radio communications with the Addison Airport Traffic Control Tower or to execute the prescribed traffic patterns. Affected operations are covered by the appropriate provisions of FAR Part 91, General Operating Rules. However, if during the effective period of this SFAR, safety or efficiency are adversely affected, then the FAA will immediately issue a NOTAM to supersede this SFAR and reinstate Part 93, Subpart L.

Regulatory Flexibility Determination

The FAA has determined that this action: (1) Is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not a significant rule under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures, it is certified that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me, the following Special Federal Aviation Regulation is issued effective April 29, 1985 through April 29, 1986, unless extended, superseded, or rescinded, for Airpark-Dallas Airport, Addison, TX.

Special Federal Aviation Regulation No. 48

1. Subpart L, Part 93 is suspended.

2. This SFAR terminates at 12:01 a.m. local time unless sooner superseded or rescinded.

3. In the event the Manager, Addison Airport Traffic Control Tower, or his/her designee determines that safety or efficiency are adversely affected, the FAA will issue a NOTAM to supersede this SFAR and reinstate Part 93, Subpart L.

4. When a NOTAM has been issued under paragraph 3 of this section, no person may operate in noncompliance with such NOTAM.

PART 0—[AMENDED]

Title 16 Part 0 of the Code of Federal Regulations is hereby amended as follows:

1. Part 0.5 is added to read as follows:

§ 0.5 Laws authorizing monetary claims.

The Commission is authorized to entertain monetary claims against it under two statutes. The Federal Tort Claims Act (28 U.S.C. 2671-2680) provides that the United States shall be liable for injury or loss of property or personal injury or death caused by the negligent or wrongful acts or omissions of its employees acting within the scope of their employment or office. The Military Personnel and Civilian Employees Claims Act of 1964 (31 U.S.C. 3701, 3721) authorizes the Commission to compensate employees' claims for damage to or loss of personal property incident to their service. The Commission's claims officer for both statutes is Teresa A. Hennessy, telephone (202) 523-3533.

[Docket No. RM79-14]

Order of the Director, OPPR of Publication of Incremental Pricing Acquisition Cost Thresholds Under Title II of the NGPA

AGENCY: Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, DOE.

ACTION: Order prescribing incremental pricing thresholds.

SUMMARY: The Director of the Office of Pipeline and Producer Regulation is issuing the incremental pricing acquisition cost thresholds prescribed by Title II of the Natural Gas Policy Act and 18 CFR 282.304. The Act requires the Commission to compute and publish the threshold prices before the beginning of each month for which the figures apply. Any cost of natural gas above the applicable threshold is considered to be an incremental gas cost subject to incremental pricing surcharging.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 1, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kenneth A. Williams, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 N. Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, (202) 357–8500.

Section 203 of the NGPA requires that the Commission compute and make available incremental pricing acquisition cost threshold prices prescribed in Title II before the beginning of any month for which such figures apply.

Pursuant to that mandate and pursuant to § 375.307(1) of the Commission's regulations, delegating the publication of such prices to the Director of the Office of Pipeline and Producer Regulation, the incremental pricing acquisition cost threshold prices for the month of May 1985 is issued by the publication of a price table for the applicable month. The incremental pricing acquisition cost threshold prices for months prior to May 1985 are found in the tables in § 282.304.

Special Local Regulations; Kentucky Derby Festival Steamboat Race

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: Special local regulations are being adopted for Miles 604.0 to 597.0, Ohio River. The "Kentucky Derby Festival Steamboat Race", an approved marine event, will be held on May 1, 1985 at Louisville, Kentucky. These special local regulations are needed to provide for the safety of life and property on navigable waters during the event.

EFFECTIVE DATE: These regulations will be effective from 4:00 p.m. on May 1, and terminate at 8:00 p.m. on May 1, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lcdr. B.J. Willis, Chief, Boating Technical Branch Second Coast Guard District, 1430 Olive Street, St. Louis, MO 63103.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: These special local regulations are issued pursuant to 33 U.S.C. 1233 and 33 CFR 100.35, for the purpose of promoting the safety of life and property on the Ohio River between miles 604.0 and 597.0 during the "Kentucky Derby Festival Steamboat Race", May 1, 1985. This event will consist of two steamboats, a flotilla of press boats and spectator craft which could pose hazards to navigation in the area. Therefore, these special local regulations are deemed necessary for the promotion of safety of life and property in the area during this event. A notice of proposed rule making has not been published for these regulations and they are being made effective less than 60 days from the date of publication. Following normal rule making procedures would have been impracticable. The application to hold the event was not received until April 5, 1985, and there was insufficient time in which to publish proposed rules in advance of the event, or to provide for a delayed effective date. These regulations have been reviewed under the provisions of Executive Order 12291 and have been determined not to be a major rule. This conclusion follows from the fact that the duration of the regulated area is short. In addition, these regulations are considered to be nonsignificant in accordance with guidelines set forth in the Policies and Procedures for Simplification, Analysis, and Review of Regulations (DOT Order 2100.5 of 5–22–80). An economic evaluation has not been conducted since, for the reasons discussed above, its impact is expected to be minimal. In accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), it is also certified that these rules will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule is necessary to ensure the protection of life and property in the area during the event.

Drafting Information

The drafters of this regulation are BMCM W.L. Giessman, USCGR, Project Officer, Boating Technical Branch, and LT. R.E. Kilroy, USCG, Project Attorney, Second Coast Guard District Legal Office.

Final Regulations

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 100 of Title 33, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended by adding a temporary § 100.35–0203 to read as follows:

PART 100—[AMENDED]

§ 100.35–0203 Ohio River, miles 604.0 through 597.0.

(a) Regulated Area: The area between Miles 604.0 and 597.0 Ohio River is designated the regatta area, and may be closed to commercial navigation or mooring between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. (local time) on May 1, 1985.

(b) Special Local Regulations: Vessels desiring to transit the regulated area may do so only with prior approval of the Patrol Commander and when so directed by that officer. Vessels will be operated at a no wake speed to reduce the wake to a minimum and in a manner which will not endanger participants in the event of any other craft. The rules contained in the above two sentences shall not apply to participants in the event or vessels of the patrol, while they are operating in the performance of their assigned duties.

(1) The Patrol Commander may be reached on Channel 16 (156.8 MHz) when necessary, by the call sign "COAST GUARD PATROL COMMANDER".

(c) A succession of sharp, short signals by whistle or horn from vessels patrolling the areas under the direction of the U.S. Coast Guard Patrol Commander shall serve as a signal to stop. Vessels so signalled shall stop and shall comply with the orders of the Patrol Vessel. Failure to do so may result in expulsion from the area, citation for failure to comply, or both.

(d) The Patrol Commander may establish vessel size and speed limitations and operating conditions.

(e) The Patrol Commander may restrict vessel operation within the regatta area to vessels having particular operating characteristics.

(f) The Patrol Commander may terminate the marine event or the operation of any vessel at any time it is deemed necessary for the protection of life and property.

(g) This § 100.35–0203 will be effective on May 1, 1985, between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. local time.

Special Local Regulations: Tri-State Fair Powerboat Races

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: Special local regulations are being adopted for Miles 237.0 to 328.0, OHIO RIVER. The "Tri-State Fair Powerboat Races", an approved marine event, will be held on June 29 and 30, 1985 at Ironton, Ohio. These special local regulations are needed to provide for the safety of life and property on navigable waters during the event.

EFFECTIVE DATES: These regulations will be effective from 9:00 a.m. on June 29, and terminate at 5:00 p.m. on June 30, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: LCDR. B.J. Willis, Chief, Boating Technical Branch Second Coast Guard District, 1430 Olive St., St. Louis, MO 63103.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: These special local regulations are issued pursuant to 33 U.S.C. 1233 and 33 CFR 100.35, for the purpose of promoting the safety of life and property on the Ohio River between miles 327.0 and 328.0 during the "Tri-State Fair Powerboat Races", June 29 and 30, 1985. This event will consist of approximately 60 participants operating Sport E, Modified V, and SST 140 Champ boats, which could pose hazards to navigation in the area. Therefore, these special local regulations are deemed necessary for the promotion of safety of life and property in the area during this event.

A notice of proposed rule making has not been published for these regulations and they are being made effective less than 60 days from the date of publication. VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

38 CFR Part 21

Dependents' Education; Time Limits for Processing Claims

AGENCY: Veterans Administration.

ACTION: Final regulation.

SUMMARY: This regulation clarified that the Veterans Administration (VA) considers a claim for dependents' educational assistance to be abandoned if an eligible child either fails to submit requested evidence or fails to report for required counseling (for reasons not beyond his or her control) within 1 year of the date of request for evidence or the date of the scheduled counseling appointment as the case may be. This change also clarifies that claims processing time is no longer considered by the VA in determining the period of eligibility for receiving dependents' educational assistance.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 3, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: June C. Schaeffer (225), Assistant Director for Policy and Program Administration, Education Service, Department of Veterans Benefits, Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20420, (202) 389–2092.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On pages 46441 and 46442 of the Federal Register of November 26, 1984, there was published a notice if intent to amend Part 21 in order to clarify certain matters with respect to claims for dependents' educational assistance.

Interested people were given 30 days in which to submit comments, suggestions or objections. The VA received no comments, suggestions or objections. Accordingly, the agency is making the proposal final.

The VA has determined that this regulation is not a major rule as that term is defined by E.O. 12291, entitled Federal Regulation. The regulation will not cause a major increase in costs or prices for anyone. It will have no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs has certified that this regulation will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as they are defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), 5 U.S.C. 601–612. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 605(b), this regulation, therefore, is exempt from the initial and final regulatory analyses requirements of sections 603 and 604.

This certification can be made because this regulation affects individual benefit recipients. The regulation will have no significant economic impact on small entities, i.e., small businesses, small private and nonprofit organizations and small governmental jurisdictions.

The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance number for the program affected by this regulation is 64.117.

PART 21—VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION AND EDUCATION

The Veterans Administration is amending 38 CFR Part 21 as set forth below:

In § 21.3032, paragraph (a) is revised as follows:

§ 21.3032 Time limit.

(a) Completion of claim—(1) Failure to furnish requested information. The Veterans Administration will consider a claim to be abandoned when the Veterans Administration requests evidence in connection with a claim, and the parent, guardian or eligible person does not furnish the evidence within 1 year of the request. After the expiration of 1 year, the Veterans Administration will not take further action unless a new claim is received.

(2) Failure to complete required counseling. When an eligible person delays counseling required by § 21.4105 for 12 or more months, for other than a reason beyond his or her control, the Veterans Administration will consider the claim to be abandoned.

(3) Reopening a claim. Where an application has been considered abandoned under paragraph (a)(1) or (2) of this section, the Veterans Administration will consider any subsequent communication from the parent, guardian or eligible person requesting a program of education to be a new application. The date of application in these cases is the date of receipt of the subsequent communication. (38 U.S.C. 3003(a))

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

46 CFR Part 572

[Docket No. 85-4]

Miscellaneous Modifications to Existing Agreements—Exemption

AGENCY: Federal Maritime Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This Rule sets forth the approach the Commission will take under the Shipping Act of 1984 with regard to modifications to existing agreements which provide for cancellations of agreements and reflect changes in conference membership, officials of agreements, and neutral body authority and procedures. Copies of these modifications shall be submitted to the Commission for information purposes in the proper format but are otherwise exempt from the Information Form, notice and waiting period requirements of the rules.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 29, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Joseph C. Polking, Director, Bureau of Agreements and Trade Monitoring, Federal Maritime Commission, Washington, D.C. 20573, (202) 523-5787.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In order to fulfill an obligation of the Commission as stated in its Final Rule in Dockets Nos. 84-26 and 84-32 Rules Governing Agreements by Ocean Common Carriers and Other Persons Subject to the Shipping Act of 1984, 49 FR 45320 (November 15, 1984), the rule proposed in this proceeding would exempt modifications to existing agreements, which provide for cancellations of agreements and reflect changes in conference membership, officials of agreements, and neutral body authority and procedures, from the waiting period requirements of section 6 of the Shipping Act of 1984 (46 U.S.C. app. 1705), and allow them to become effective upon filing.

The Proposed Rule was published in the Federal Register on February 8, 1985 (50 FR 5401) with comments due on March 11, 1985. Comments were received from: (1) The Trans-Pacific Freight Conference of Japan/Korea, the Japan/Korea-Atlantic and Gulf Freight Conference, the Trans-Pacific Freight Conference (Hong Kong) and the New York Freight Bureau (collectively); (2) the North Europe-U.S. Pacific Freight Conference; (3) the Mediterranean/U.S.A. Freight Conference, the North Atlantic/Mediterranean Freight Conference, the U.S. Atlantic and Gulf/Australia-New Zealand Conference, and the U.S. Atlantic Ports/Italy, France and Spain Freight Conference (collectively); (4) the Atlantic and Gulf/West Coast of South America Conference, the West Coast of South America Northbound Conference, the United States Atlantic and Gulf/Colombia Conference, the United States Atlantic and Gulf/Venezuela Conference and the United States Atlantic and Gulf/Ecuador Freight Conference (collectively); (5) the Philippines-North America Conference; and (6) the North Europe-U.S. Gulf Freight Association, the Gulf-European Freight Association, the North Europe-U.S. Atlantic Conference, the U.S. Atlantic-North Europe Conference, the Pan-Atlantic Carrier Trade Agreement and the Trans-Atlantic American Flag Liner Operators Agreement (collectively).

All of the conferences, with the exception of the five South American conferences, fully support the Rule and urge the Commission to adopt it as proposed.

The five South American conferences recommended that the Commission modify its rule with respect to agreement cancellations and changes in membership to allow these to become effective upon receipt of a letter from the agreement chairman (or whatever title is afforded the senior official of the agreement) or agreement counsel, provided that the modification is subsequently received by the Commission within 30 days of receipt of the letter. The reason given by the conferences was that there exist a pre-submission delay occasioned by the need to collect signatures to such modifications from parties whose corporate offices are located in cities or countries other than the location of the conference office.

This suggested change cannot be accommodated. Adequate notice of an agreement cancellation or change in membership would not be assured by such proposal because the Commission and the public could be uncertain of the effectiveness of such changes for as long as 30 days after notice is received. This could seriously compromise the Commission's surveillance responsibilities and contribute to possible abuse and manipulation of events in regard to a conference member's status, rights and responsibilities under the law.

For the reasons stated in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the Commission remains of the opinion that the proposed exemption will not substantially impair effective regulation by the Commission, be unjustly discriminatory, result in substantial reduction in competition, or be detrimental to commerce within the meaning of section 16 of the Act. Accordingly, the proposed rule is adopted as final without change.

The Commission has determined that this Rule is not a "major rule" as defined in Executive Order 12291 dated February 17, 1981, because it will not result in:

(1) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more;

(2) A major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; or

(3) Significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovations, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission certifies pursuant to section 605(b) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601, et seq.) that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, including small businesses, small organizational units and small governmental jurisdictions.

The Commission has determined that this rule is excepted from the 30-day effective date requirement of 5 U.S.C. 553 because it grants an exemption and relieves a restriction from existing requirements.

PART 572—[AMENDED]

Therefore, in order to exempt these agreements from the waiting period requirements of section 6 of the Act, and allow them to become effective upon filing, the Commission, pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) and sections 16 and 17 of the Shipping Act of 1984 (46 U.S.C. app. 1715, 1716), hereby amends Part 572 of Title 46 of the Code of Federal Regulations as follows:

1. The authority citation is revised to read:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 553, 46 U.S.C. app. 1701–1707, 1709–1710, 1712 and 1714–1717.

2. A new § 572.307 is added to read as follows:

§ 572.307 Miscellaneous Modifications to Agreements—Exemptions.

(a) Each of the following types of modifications to agreements is exempt from the Information Form, notice and waiting period requirements of the Act and of this part provided that such modifications are filed for informational purposes in the proper format:

(1) Any modification which cancels an effective agreement.

(2) Any modification to the following disignated agreement articles:

(i) Article 3—Parties to the agreement (limited to conference agreements).

(ii) Article 6—Officials of the agreement and delegations of authority.

(iii) Article 10—Neutral body policing (limited to the description of neutral body authority and procedures related thereto).

(b) Any modification exempt under paragraph (a) is effective upon filing.

§ 572.605 [Amended]

3. Section 572.605 Requests for Expedited Approval is amended by the removal of paragraph (c).

By the Commission.

Released: March 29, 1985.

By Memorandum Opinion and Order in this proceeding, FCC 85-101, released March 26, 1985, the Commission conditionally granted all of the above-captioned requests for waiver except one, which was denied. See id., para. 45, notes 34 and 36 and para. 136, n. 90. Inadvertently, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's request was omitted from the list of granted petitions. Therefore, paragraph 139 of the Memorandum Opinion and Order (FCC 85-101), released March 26, 1985, is corrected to read:

139. Accordingly, pursuant to sections 1, 4(i), 4(j), 201-05, 218 and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934 as amended, 47 U.S.C. 151, 154(i), 154(j), 201-05, 218 and 303(r), and Section 1.3 of the Commission's Rules, 47 CFR Chapter I 1.3, it is hereby ordered, that the Petitions for Waiver filed by Pacific Bell, Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company, South Central Bell Telephone Company, New York Telephone Company, New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Company, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and the Ameritech Operating Companies are granted to the extent indicated herein subject to the conditions and additional filing requirements established in this order, and are otherwise denied.

In the matter of amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Allotments, FM Broadcast Stations (Julian, California), MM Docket No. 83-1323, RM-4585, FCC 85-1150.

Adopted: March 12, 1985.
Released: March 15, 1985.
By the Commission

1. The Commission has before it for consideration the Notice of Proposed Rule Making ("Notice"), 48 FR 56610, published December 22, 1983, requesting comments on the proposed allotment of Channel 261A to Julian, California, as that community's first local FM channel. The Notice was issued in response to a petition from Andrew G. Smith ("petitioner"). The petitioner and Harold A. Jahnke ("Jahnke") filed comments and reply comments supporting the allocation and affirming an interest in activating the channel.[1] Opposition comments were filed by Imperial Valley Broadcasters, Inc. ("Imperial"), licensee of Station KGBA-FM, Holtville, California.[2] In addition, the Commission has before it an Application for Review, filed by Imperial, concerning the staff's denial of its request for a one-day extension of time in which to file its comments.

2. Imperial's Application for Review seeks reversal of the staff's denial of its extension of time requests [3] and the acceptance of its comments. Imperial contends that motions for extension of time are generally granted, particularly where no party would be harmed by the delay, the Commission's processes are nor unduly disrupted, and the information contained in the comments are of importance to the proceeding. It also contends that there is "no real difference" between granting an extension of time in which to file

[1] The comments and reply comments of Jahnke are procedurally defective since they were not timely filed. Nevertheless we have reviewed both comments and find that they provide us with no information which is not already before the Commission in timely filed comments. Thus we have not accepted these comments for consideration herein.

[2] Imperial's late-filed comments were accompanied by a request that they be accepted. It contends that the allotment at Julian does not provide the required distance separation. Imperial measured the distance from El Centro, a community for which its station has been given dual city ID authority. The mileage calculation should have been based on the distance between Station KGBA-FM's transmitter site and Julian's reference coordinates. See Section 73.208 of the Rules. Thus, the comments provide us with no information of decisional significance and have not been accepted. In light of this decision, the reply comments of petitioner need not be discussed as they relate solely to Imperial's comments.

[3] Order, adopted February 10, 1984, Mimeo No. 2698.

comments and accepting late-filed comments. Therefore, lacking an extension, Imperial seeks acceptance of its untimely comments stating that they were filed only one day late, that the petitioner was notified by telephone that the comments were being submitted and that no party or the Commission would be adversely affected by acceptance of its pleading. It notes that the parties to this proceeding was served with copies of its comments and responded to the issues raised therein.

3. Section 1.46 of the Commission's rules governs motions for extension of time. It states that it is the policy of the Commission that extension requests will not be granted routinely. Under this rule extension requests must be filed at least seven days prior to the expiration of the comment period. It does, however, allow that in "emergency situation," the Commission would consider late-filed motions for brief extensions of time related to the duration of the emergency and that we would also consider motions for acceptance of pleadings filed after the filing deadline.

4. Imperial's request for an extension of time does not comply with the criteria set forth in our rules. Imperial made no showing of exceptional circumstances merely stating that it had received information which would interest the Commission. It also failed to meet any of the procedural requirements set forth in the rules. It did not comply with the seven day filing requirement and presented us with no indication of any emergency situation which would have convinced us to waive this rule.

5. Imperial also contends that no party would have been harmed by the grant of its requested extension. We disagree. Any other interested party would be operating under the assumption that the original deadline would stand since no extension request had been filed seven days prior to the comment deadline. If we had granted Imperial's last-minute request, these parties would have been deprived of the extra time granted to Imperial since they would have already filed. Imperial further argues that there is no difference between accepting late-filed comments and the grant of an extension of time. Generally extensions of time occasion a delay in the decision making process. They are therefore granted only when the Commission has been provided with sufficient reason to believe that the information to be provided is of such significance that the public would in fact benefit from such a delay. As a matter of fairness, an extension of time, if properly filed and granted, allows all parties the use of the additional response time. The acceptance of late-filed pleadings, on the other hand, permits the Commission to make a case-by-case determinations as to whether the information supplied is of such significance as to warrant the grant of an individual waiver of the filing deadline. In addition, other parties may raise objections arguing that such late-filed pleadings not be considered. Accordingly we affirm the Order denying an extension of time and hold that the late filed comments of Imperial are unacceptable.

6. With respect to the allotment of Channel 261A to Julian, California, we believe the public interest would be served by providing the opportunity for a first local FM service. The channel can be allocated in compliance with the Commission's minimum distance separation and other technical requirements. Mexican concurrence has been obtained as Julian is located within 320 kilometers (199 miles) of the U.S.-Mexican border. Accordingly, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4(i), 5(c)(1), 303(g) and (r) and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, it is ordered, that effective April 22, 1985, the FM Table of Allotments, Section 73.202(b) of the Commission's Rules, is amended with respect to the community listed below, read as follows:

City	Channel No
Julian, Calif.	261A

7. It is further ordered, that the Application for Review of the Order denying the request for extension of time filed by Imperial Valley Broadcasters, Inc., is denied.

8. It is further Ordered, that this proceeding is terminated.

9. For further information concerning this proceeding, contact Leslie K. Shapiro, Mass Media Bureau, (202) 634-6530.

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration

50 CFR Part 611

[Docket No. 50107-5007]

Foreign Fishing; Groundfish of the Gulf of Alaska

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), NOAA, Commerce.

ACTION: Emergency interim rule; extension of effective date.

SUMMARY: The Secretary of Commerce extends an emergency rule now in effect that establishes amounts of sablefish, Pacific ocean perch, and other rockfish as prohibited species catches (PSCs). Extension of these PSC levels allows foreign nations to harvest allocations of target species, so long as their incidental catch of species fully utilized by the U.S. industry remains below prescribed levels.

EFFECTIVE DATES: The suspension of § 611.92(b)(2), (C)(2)(i) (A) and (D), (C)(2)(ii) (B) and (C), (e)(3)(ii), and (f)(2)(i) is extended from April 25, to May 1, 1985. The effective date of § 611.92(b)(5), (C)(2)(i) (F), (G), and (H), (c)(2)(ii) (D), (E), and (F), and (i) is extended from April 25 until May 1, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ronald J. Berg (Fishery Management Biologist, NMFS), 907-586-7229.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Administrator of NOAA determined that the emergency rule set forth in 50 CFR Part 3911, January 29, 1985, which this rule extends for 6 days, was not major and that the resource emergency, which justified the emergency regulations under section 305(e) of the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act, also constituted an emergency under section 8(a)(1) of Executive Order 12291. The emergency conditions discussed in the original interim rule still exist as the Japanese longline fleet has not yet taken its allocation of Pacific cod. This extension will avoid the waste of amounts of target groundfish species that are allocated but could not be harvested in this fishery if these incidental catches were not allowed. This extension is based on the North Pacific Fishery Management Council's recommendation that 10,000 metric tons of Pacific cod by allocated. These PSC amounts are derived from that allocation and are discussed in the original interim rule.

Classification

The Administrator of NOAA has determined that this rule is necessary to respond to an emergency situation and that it is consistent with the Magnuson Act and other applicable law.

Contrary to expectations, foreign Pacific cod allocations in the Gulf of Alaska have not been taken by April 24. As conclusion of the Pacific cod fishery as early as possible in 1985 is desirable because fewer sablefish, Pacific ocean perch, and rockfish are incidentally taken, this must rule takes effect immediately. The Administrator of NOAA has therefore determined that it is impractical and contrary to the public interest to provide prior notice and opportunity for public comment or to delay the effective date of this rule for 30 days.

[Airspace Docket No. 18605/80-ASO-4]

Group I Terminal Control Area, Miami, FL; and Proposed Group II Terminal Control Area, Fort Lauderdale, FL

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Withdrawal of notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice withdraws the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) concerning Airspace Docket No. 18605/80-ASO-4, which was published in the Federal Register on September 22, 1980. That notice proposed to establish a Group II Terminal Control Area (TCA) at Fort Lauderdale, FL, and reconfigure the Group I TCA at Miami FL. The Federal Aviation Administration's review of public comments, as well as its own further analysis of other factors such as safety, cost, and traffic complexity indicated that the existing Fort Lauderdale Terminal Radar Service Area (TRSA) and Miami Group I TCA provided the level of safety intended in the proposed notice.

In conjunction with this withdrawal, the FAA intends to continue to evaluate the adequacy of the Miami TCA and Fort Lauderdale TRSA, and implement actions where necessary to enhance safety and provide for the most efficient use of airspace.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lewis W. Still, Airspace and Air Traffic Rules Branch (ATO-230), Airspace Rules and Aeronautical Information Division, Air Traffic Operations Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591; telephone: (202) 426-8626.

The Proposed Rule

On September 22, 1980, a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published in the Federal Register to reconfigure the Miami Group I TCA and establish the Fort Lauderdale Group II TCA. That action was intended to increase the capability of the air traffic control (ATC) system to separate all aircraft in the terminal airspace around the Miami and Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airports. The proposal was based on data indicating that a high percentage of near midair collisions reported to the FAA in terminal areas involved visual flight rules (VFR) aircraft that are not required to be under ATC control. The objective of the proposal was to substantially increase safety while accommodating the legitimate concerns of airspace users.

Summary of Comments

Prior to the issuance of the NPRM for expansion of the Miami Group I TCA and establishment of the Ft. Lauderdale Group II TCA, the FAA had the benefit of recommendations derived from numerous meetings with various user groups and individuals. In response to the NPRM, the FAA received 380 written comments and recommendations from individuals, pilots and aircraft owners, state and Federal governmental agencies, and aviation trade and industry associations. Some of the responses had multiple signatures, while others purported to represent the views of a large number of organizational members. The remaining responses were from individuals.

Most of the comments received came from pilots and owners of general aviation aircraft. Many of these persons supported a position stated by the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association (AOPA) that the proposal would: (1) Force more aircraft to operate at lower altitudes due to the TCA ceiling being at 12,500 feet MSL; (2) compress the majority of aircraft into a smaller amount of airspace creating the potential for midair collisions; (3) create costly and inconvenient delays in obtaining clearances; (4) cause an increase in fuel consumption; and (5) help the FAA justify implementation of proposed TCA's at Tampa and Orlando for pilots. Many other pilots not referencing the AOPA position echoed the same concerns. For citizens, AOPA stated that the proposal would: (1) Cause thousands of tourists and their dollars to avoid the South Florida area; (2) force many out-of area businesses to take their dollars elsewhere; (3) force many local businesses to relocate away from the TCA; (4) potentially, decrease take home pay by increasing taxes due to the loss of tourist and business dollars; and (5) increase the potential for midair collisions.

Some commenters stated that two types of TCA's in one area would confuse pilots, and that the design of both TCA's was so large that pilots would be confused as to where different types of equipment for flight in each type of airspace would be required. Several comments stated that the present system of air traffic control is working very well, is easy for pilots to understand and, therefore, should not be changed. Others supported the TCA concept, but recommended the regulatory airspace be much smaller, while still others favored the "corridor concept." The majority of commenters expressed great concern that many pilots would be forced into operating below the floor of the TCA, significantly increasing the potential for midair collisions. The Air Transport Association found no objections to the proposal. The Airline Pilots Association supported the proposal, further recommending that the Ft. Lauderdale TCA be upgraded to Group I. Two other commenters concurred in the proposal.

Conclusions

The primary concern in any proposed TCA action is providing a high degree of safety while preserving the efficient use of the available terminal airspace. With this in mind, each TCA candidate site must be evaluated on its own merits before a final decision is made to proceed with rulemaking or to withdraw a proposal. FAA evaluation, based on user comments and in conjunction with all other stated requirements for reconfiguring the Miami TCA and establishing the Fort Lauderdale TCA, produced the following:

1. Traffic activity at Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport decreased 24.2 percent in FY 1981 as compared to FY 1979. Air Carrier operations for the same period decreased 4.99 percent. Nonair carrier operations have decreased by 21.6 percent and local operations by 74.5 percent.

2. Public comments were solicited on the prototype of the South Florida VFR

Flyway Chart which was published on September 2, 1982. All comments were favorable. The flyway will be charted beginning with the August 29, 1985. publication of the Miami VFR. The purpose of charting the flyway is to provide VFR/general aviation pilots with suggested VFR routes that can be used to navigate safely in the Miami area, thereby avoiding high density traffic areas.

3. The Fort Lauderdale Terminal Radar Service Areas provide an adequate level of safety for the users.

4. As part of the Airport Radar Service Area (ARSA) program, Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport is being considered as a proposed ARSA location. Implementation of an ARSA at Fort Lauderdale will further enhance safety.

5. Analysis of the Miami Group I TCA indicates that the existing configuration provides an adequate level of safety. Expanding the TCA as proposed would not increase that level of safety. A separate proposal to raise the floor of the TCA from 1,500 to 2,000 feet MSL in a small area adjacent to the Opa Locka Airport Instrument Landing System (ILS) final approach course for Runway 9L is being considered. This action would allow more flexibility in navigating around the TCA and would accommodate legitimate concerns of airspace users in this area.

These factors provide the basis for our recommendation that the reconfiguration of the Miami TCA and establishment of the Fort Lauderdale Group II TCA proposal be withdrawn.

Hawaii Dental Service Corp.; Proposed Consent Agreement With Analysis To Aid Public Comment

AGENCY: Federal Trade Commission.

ACTION: Proposed Consent Agreement.

SUMMARY: In settlement of alleged violations of federal law prohibiting unfair acts and practices and unfair methods of competition, this consent agreement, accepted subject to final Commission approval, would require the Hawaii Dental Service Corporation ("HDS"), an organization engaged in the administration and operation of prepaid dental care programs whose dentist members provide dental care service for a fee, amont other things, to cease basing its decision to send dentists to the counties of Maui, Kauai, and Hawaii, on the approval or consent of member dentists who reside in those counties. The Order would bar the organization from denying membership to any dentist licensed to practice in Hawaii, based in whole or in part on the approval of other dentists in the geographic location of the dentist's proposed practice, and from inducing, encouraging, or assisting any dentist or other non-governmental organization to take any of the prohibited actions. Within thirty days from the effective date of the Order, HDS would be required to remove from its constitution and bylaws or other guidelines, any provision, interpretation or policy statement that is inconsistent with the Order and publish in its newsletter and another publication, a notice of such removal.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before June 28, 1985.

Agreement Containing Consent Order To Cease and Desist

In the Matter of Hawaii Dental Service Corporation, a corporation.

The Federal Trade Commission having initiated an investigation of certain acts and practices of Hawaii Dental Service Corporation, a corporation, and it now appearing that said corporation, hereinafter sometimes referred to as proposed respondent, is will to enter into an agreement containing an order to cease and desist from the use of the acts and practices being investigated,

It is hereby agreed by and between proposed respondent, by its duly authorized officer, and counsel for the Federal Trade Commission that:

1. Hawaii Dental Service Corporation is a corporation, existing and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Hawaii with its office and principal place of business located at 700 Bishop Street, Suite 700, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813.

2. Proposed respondent admits all the jurisdictional facts set forth in the draft of complaint here attached.

3. Proposed respondent waives:

a. Any further procedural steps;

b. The requirement that the Commission's decision contain a statement of findings of fact and conclusions of law;

c. All rights to seek judicial review or otherwise to challenge or contest the validity of the order entered pursuant to this agreement; and

d. Any claim under the Equal Access to Justice Act.

4. This agreement shall not become a part of the public record of the proceeding unless and until it is accepted by the Commission. If this agreement is accepted by the Commission, it, together with the draft of the complaint contemplated thereby, will be placed on the public record for a period of sixty (60) days and information with respect thereto publicly released. The Commission thereafter may either withdraw its acceptance of this agreement and so notify proposed respondent, in which event it will take such action as it may consider appropriate, or issue and serve its complaint (in such form as the circumstances may require) and decision, in disposition of the proceeding.

5. Group account purchaser of prepaid dental services prefer, and are more likely to contract for, prepaid group dental benefits programs that ensure access for their beneficiaries or enrollees to an adequate supply of participating dentists in all the counties where they have beneficiaries or enrollees. An individual also prefers, and is more likely to purchase, a prepaid dental services policy if the purchaser is assured of access to an adequate supply of participating dentists. The unrestricted ability of HDS to send dentists at its discretion to the counties of Maui, Kauai, and Hawaii, who then participate in its prepaid dental services program, could aid HDS in attracting purchasers of its prepaid dental services policies and in competing with other providers of dental care financing or dental insurance. HDS does not have the unrestricted power to freely send its members to these counties.

6. This agreement contemplates that, if it is accepted by the Commission, and if such acceptance is not subsequently withdrawn by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of § 2.34 of the Commission's Rules, the Commission may, without further notice to proposed respondent, (1) issue its complaint corresponding in form and substance with the draft of complaint here attached and its decision containing the following order to cease and desist ("Order") in disposition of the proceeding, and (2) make information public with respect thereto. When so entered, the Order shall have the same force and effect and may be altered, modified or set aside in the same manner and within the same time provided by statute for other orders. The Order shall become final upon service. Delivery by the U.S. Postal Service of the complaint and decision containing the agreed-to-Order to proposed respondent's address as stated in this agreement shall constitute service. Proposed respondent waives any right it may have to any other manner of service. The complaint may be used in construing the terms of the Order, and no agreement, understanding, representation, or interpretation not contained in the Order or in this agreement may be used to vary or contradict the terms of the Order.

7. Proposed respondent has read the proposed complaint and Order. It understands that once the Order has been issued, (1) it will be required to file one or more compliance reports showing it has fully complied with the Order and (2) it may be liable for civil penalties in the amount provided by law for each violation of the Order after it becomes final.

Order

I

For purposes of this Order, the following definitions shall apply:

A. "HDS" means respondent Hawaii Dental Service Corporation, its Board of Directors, officers, committees, representatives, agents, employees, successors, and assigns; and

B. "Member dentist" means a dentist with whom HDS has a contractual agreement to render dental care to beneficiaries of HDS dental care plans.

II

It is ordered that HDS, directly or indirectly, or through any corporation or other device, in connection with the administration and operation of prepaid dental care programs in or affecting commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, forthwith cease and desist from:

A. Basing the decision to send dentists, dentist groups, or dentist panels to the counties of Maui, Kauai, and Hawaii, in whole or in part, on the approval or consent of other member dentists who reside in those counties;

B. Denying membership in HDS to a dentist licensed to practice in the State of Hawaii based in whole or in part on the approval or consent of other member dentists to the geographic location of the dentist's proposed practice; and

C. Inducing, urging, encouraging, or assisting any dentist, group of dentists, or any other non-governmental organization to take any of the actions prohibited by Part II of this Order.

III

It is further ordered that HDS shall:

A. Within thirty (30) days after this Order becomes final, remove from its constitution and bylaws, and from any other existing policy statements or guidelines of HDS, any provision, interpretation or policy statement which is inconsistent with Part II of this Order, and within sixty (60) days after this Order becomes final, publish in the Hawaii Dental Service Newsletter and one other publication generally circulated to dentists practicing in the State of Hawaii a notice of the removal of such provision, interpretation, policy statement or guideline;

B. Within thirty (30) days after this Order becomes final, distribute a copy of this Order to each of HDS's supervisory personnel having procedural or policy responsibilities with respect to the subject matter of this Order, and secure a signed statement acknowledging receipt of said Order;

C. Within ninety (90) days after this Order becomes final, file a written report with the Federal Trade Commission setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this Order;

D. For a period of five (5) years after this Order becomes final, maintain and make available to the Commission staff, for inspection and copying upon reasonable notice, records adequate to describe in detail any action taken in connection with the activities covered by this Order; and

E. Within one (1) year after this Order becomes final, and annually thereafter for a period of four (4) years, file, if requested by Commission staff, a written report with the Federal Trade Commission setting forth in detail any action taken in connection with the activities covered by this Order.

IV

It is further ordered that HDS shall notify the Commission at least thirty (30) days prior to any proposed change in HDS, such as dissolution, assignment, or sale resulting in the emergence of a successor corporation or association, or any other change in HDS which may affect compliance obligations arising out of this Order.

Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

The Federal Trade Commission has accepted an agreement to a proposed consent order from Hawaii Dental Service Corporation ("HDS").

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for sixty (60) days for reception of comments by interested persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After sixty (60) days, the Commission will again review the agreement and the comments received and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement or make final the agreement's proposed order.

The complaint in this matter alleges that HDS has combined or agreed with some of its members to limit, foreclose, frustrate, or eliminate competition by enacting bylaws that restrict its ability to freely recruit and send dentists to the counties of Maui, Kauai, and Hawaii.

The consent agreement provides as follows:

1. HDS cannot base its decision to send dentists, dentist groups, or dentist panels to the counties of Maui, Kauai, and Hawaii, in whole or in part, on the approval or consent of other HDS-member dentists who reside in those counties.

2. HDS cannot deny membership in HDS based in whole or in part on the approval or consent of other HDS-member dentists to the geographic location of the dentist's proposed practice.

3. HDS shall remove from its constitution and bylaws, and from any other existing policy statements or guidelines of HDS, any provision, interpretation or policy statement which is inconsistent with items 1 and 2 above and publish in the HDS Newsletter and one other publication, a notice of the removal.

The purpose of this analysis is to facilitate public comment on the proposed order, and it is not intended to constitute an official interpretation of the agreement and proposed order or to modify in any way their terms.

Secretary.

In consideration of the foregoing, in Chapter IX of Title 22, Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 901-909 are revised and new Parts 910 and 911 are added to read as follows:

PART 901—GENERAL

Subpart A—Purpose and Scope

Sec.
901.1 Purpose and Scope.

Subpart B—Meanings of Terms as Used in This Chapter

901.10 Act.
901.11 Agency.
901.12 Board.
901.13 Executive Secretary.
901.14 Service.
901.15 Exclusive representative.
901.16 Grievant.
901.17 Charged employee.
901.18 Grievance.
901.19 Labor organization.
901.20. Party.
901.21 Record of proceedings.
901.22 Representative.

Authority: Secs. 610, 1101, 1102, 1105, and 1106 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-465; 22 U.S.C. 4131, 4132, 4135, and 4136).

Subpart A—Purpose and Scope.

§ 901.1 Purpose and scope.

The regulations contained in this chapter establish the internal organization of the Foreign Service Grievance Board and prescribe its procedures in:

(a) Determining its jurisdiction in cases involving grievances and separation for cause proceedings;

(b) Compiling a record in such cases;

(c) Conducting hearings in such cases, when required or deemed necessary; and

(d) Deciding such cases, or otherwise disposing of them, so as to ensure the fullest measure of due process for the members of the Foreign Service.

Subpart B—Meanings of Terms as Used in This Chapter

§ 901.10 Act

"Act" means the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465, October 17, 1980).

§ 901.11 Agency.

"Agency" means the Department of State, the Agency for International Development, the U.S. Information Agency, the Department of Agriculture, or the Department of Commerce, if the Agency employs the individual appearing in a case before the Board and/or has control over the act, omission, or condition forming the subject matter of such case.

§ 901.12 Board.

"Board" means the Foreign Service Grievance Board, including any designated panel or member thereof.

§ 901.13 Executive secretary.

"Executive Secretary" means the Executive Secretary of the Board or his or her designee.

§ 901.14 Service.

"Service" means the Foreign Service of the United States.

§ 901.15 Exclusive representative.

"Exclusive Representative" means any labor organization which is certified as the Exclusive Representative of the bargaining unit of which the grievant or Charged Employee is a member.

§ 901.16 Grievant.

"Grievant" means anyone who has filed a grievance and who is a Member of the Service and is a citizen of the United States, or for the purposes of § 901.18(a)(7) a former member of the Service, or in the case of death of the member, the surviving spouse or, if none, another member of the family.

§ 901.17 Charged employee.

"Charged Employee" means a Member of the Senior Foreign Service or a Member of the Service assigned to a salary class who has been proposed for separation for cause under section 601(a)(2) of the Act.

§ 901.18 Grievance.

"Grievance" means any act, omission, or condition subject to the control of an Agency which is alleged to deprive a Member of the Service who is a citizen of the United States of a right or benefit authorized by law or regulation or is otherwise a source of concern or dissatisfaction to the Member, including but not limited to:

(1) Complaints against separation of a Member allegedly ccontrary to law or regulation or predicated upon alleged inaccuracy, omission, error or falsely prejudicial character of information in any part of the official personnel record of the Member;

(2) Other alleged violation, misinterpretation or misapplication of applicable law, regulation, collective bargaining agreement or published post or agency policy affecting the terms and conditions of the employment or career status of the Member;

(3) Allegedly wrongful disciplinary action against the Member;

(4) Dissatisfaction with respect to the working environment of the Member;

(5) Alleged inaccuracy, omission, error, or falsely prejudicial character of information in the official personnel record of the Member which is or could be prejudicial to the Member;

(6) Action alleged to be in the nature of reprisal or other interference with freedom of action in connection with participation by a Member in a grievance; and

(7) Alleged denial of an allowance, premium pay or other financial benefit to which the Member claims entitlement under applicable laws or regulations.

(b) The scope of grievances described above may be modified by written agreement between an Agency and its Exclusive Representative.

(c) The term "grievance" does not include:

(1) Complaints against an individual assignment of a Member under Chapter 5 of the Act, other than an assignment which is alleged to be contrary to law or regulation;

(2) The judgment of a selection board (established under section 602 of the Act) or a tenure board (established under section 306(b) of the Act) or any other equivalent body established by laws or regulations which similarly evaluates the performance of Members of the Service on a comparative basis, including a merit promotion selecting official, except that alleged procedural violations of law, regulation or collective bargaining agreement or prohibited personnel practice(s) arising under these procedures are grievable;

(3) The expiration of a limited appointment, termination of a limited appointment under section 611 of the Act, or the denial of a limited career extension or denial of a renewal of a limited career extension under section 607(b) of the Act; or

(4) Pursuant to section 1109 of the Act, any complaint or appeal where a specific statutory hearing procedure exists other than procedures for considering prohibited personnel practice charges before the Merit Systems Protection Board or Special Counsel (5 U.S.C. 1206).

(5) Non-adoption of a member suggestion or disapproval of a quality salary increase, performance award, or any other kind of honorary discretionary award, except where such action is alleged to be contrary to law, regulation or collective bargaining agreement; and

(6) The content of published agency policy which is not contrary to law, regulation or collective bargaining agreement.

(d) For the purposes of these regulations, the written complaint concerning any act, omission, or condition specified above may be referred to as the "grievance".

§ 901.19 Labor organization.

"Labor organization" means any employee organization accorded recognition as the exclusive employee representative under section 1002(11) of the Act. For the Department of State and the Agency for International Development (AID), the exclusive employee representative is the American Foreign Service Association; for the U.S. Information Agency (USIA), the exclusive employee representative is the American Federation of Government Employees, Local 1812 (AFL–CIO).

§ 901.20 Party.

"Party" means: (a) The Grievant/Charged Employee; (b) the Agency or Agencies employing the Grievant/Charged Employee and/or having control over the act, omission, or condition leading to appearance before the Board; or (c) the Exclusive Representative if it has achieved Party status under § 903.5(a). A Party may act through its duly designated representative.

§ 901.21 Record of proceedings.

"Record of Proceedings" means the case file maintained by the Board on each grievance case, or separation for cause proceeding.

§ 901.22 Representative.

"Representative" means the person(s) identified in writing to the Board as assisting the Party or Parties in the presentation of the case.

PART 902—ORGANIZATION

Sec.

902.1 Chairperson and Deputy Chairperson.
902.2 Board operations.
902.3 Board staff.

Authority: Secs. 1105 and 1106 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4135 and 4136).

§ 902.1 Chairperson and deputy chairperson.

The Chairperson presides over meetings of the Board. The Chairperson shall select one of the Board Members as deputy. In the absence of the Chairperson, the Deputy Chairperson, or in his or her absence, another member designated by the Chairperson, may act for him or her.

§ 902.2 Board operations.

(a) The Board may operate either as a whole, or through panels or individual members designated by the Chairperson.

(b) When operating as a whole, the Board may not act in the absence of a quorum. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum. The Board will act by a majority vote of those present. Amendments to these regulations and Board policies adopted pursuant to § 910.3 shall be be adopted by the Board operating as a whole.

(c) Board panels and presiding members of panels shall be designated by the Chairperson subject only to the provision of § 906.3.

§ 902.3 Board staff.

The Chairperson shall select the Board's Executive Secretary and other staff provided for in the Act. The Executive Secretary and staff shall be responsible only to the Board through the Chairperson.

PART 903—INITIATION AND DOCUMENTATION OF CASES

Sec.

903.1 Initiation of cases.
903.2 Record of proceedings.
903.3 Rulings on materials.
903.4 Participation of exclusive representative.
903.5 Service of documents.
903.6 Interrogatories.
903.7 Acknowledgment.
903.8 Withdrawal.
903.9 Access to records.
903.10 Access to witnesses.

Authority: Secs. 610, 1104, and 1106–1109 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4010, 4134, and 4136–4139).

§ 903.1 Initiation of cases.

(a) Grievances submitted to the Board shall be in writing, and shall explain the nature of the grievance, and the remedy sought; shall contain all the documentation furnished to the Agency and the Agency's final review; and shall be timely filed in accordance with applicable regulations.

(b) A member whose grievance is not resolved satisfactorily under Agency procedures, the representative of the grievant, or the exclusive representative (on behalf of a grievant who is a member of the bargaining unit), shall be entitled to file a grievance with the Board no later than 60 days after receiving the Agency decision. In the event that an Agency has not provided its decision within 90 days of filing with the Agency, the grievant, the representative of the grievant, or the exclusive representative (on the grievant's behalf) shall be entitled to file a grievance with the Board no later than 150 days after the date of filing with the Agency. The Board may extend or waive for good cause shown the time limits stated in this section, and may permit or request the views of the parties with respect to whether good cause has been shown for such an extension.

(c) Separation for cause proceedings against a Charged Employee shall be initiated before the Board by submission of a statement of the acts or behavior considered by the Agency to warrant separation.

§ 903.2 Record of proceedings.

Upon receipt of initial documents relating to a case, a Record of Proceedings shall be established, and all material received or obtained by the Board in connection with the case shall be placed in it unless the Board excludes such material under § 903.3. The Parties and the Exclusive Representative, if any, shall have access to the Record of Proceedings. Classified portions of the Record of Proceedings may be reviewed by the Parties and the Exclusive Representative, if any, under conditions prescribed by the Board to ensure appropriate security.

§ 903.3 Rulings on materials.

The Board may at any stage of the proceedings exclude materials from the Record of Proceedings at the request of a Party or on its own initiative, on the grounds that such materials are irrelevant, immaterial or unduly repetitive.

§ 903.4 Participation of exclusive representative.

(a) Upon the initiation of a case, the Executive Secretary shall ascertain from the Agency, the Grievant/Charged Employee and any labor organization which has been certified as the Exclusive Representative of employees of the Agency, whether the relevant position occupied by the Grievant/Charged Employee is part of the bargaining unit for which the labor organization is the Exclusive Representative. If a substantial dispute exists as to whether that position is part of the bargaining unit, and if the Board determines that resolution of that dispute is necessary for determining the status of the labor organization in a case, the Board shall notify the Parties and the labor organization, who may request determination of that dispute. If the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board determines that the Grievant or Charged Employee is a member of a bargaining unit represented by an Exclusive Representative, the Executive Secretary shall promptly send a copy of the papers filed with the Board to the Exclusive Representative.

(b) The Exclusive Representative has the right to intervene as a Party to the case if such Exclusive Representative gives timely notice to the Board in writing of its decision to intervene as a Party. Notice shall be considered to be timely if given prior to or at the prehearing conference, or, in a case to be decided under Part 907 of this Chapter, if given within 10 days of receipt of a notice from the Board of the Board's intent to close the Record of Proceedings.

(c) An Exclusive Representative which has not intervened under paragraph (b) of this section may be permitted to intervene as a Party upon written application. In ruling upon the application, the Board shall consider whether granting the application will unduly delay or prejudice the adjudication of the rights of the original parties, and may place conditions on the Exclusive Representative's participation to avoid such delay or prejudice.

§ 903.5 Service of documents.

Any Party submitting documents to the Board in connection the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board to make a final with a case shall send a copy to the other Parties and to the Exclusive Representative, if any. The Board shall send copies of its correspondence concerning the case to the Parties and the Exclusive Representative, if any.

§ 903.6 Interrogatories.

Each Party shall be entitled to serve interrogatories upon another Party, and have such interrogatories answered by the other Party unless the Board finds such interrogatories irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitive. Parties shall follow procedures established by the Board concerning the use of interrogatories.

§ 903.7 Acknowledgment.

Each case received shall be acknowledged in writing by the Executive Secretary of the Board. If in the judgment of the Executive Secretary additional documentation or information is needed, he or she may request such materials.

§ 903.8 Withdrawal.

A case may be withdrawn at any time by written notification to the Board from the Party initiating the case. A case may be determined by the Board to have lapsed when the Grievant fails to respond in writing to two successive written Board inquiries within any deadline fixed for such response. The Board may permit the reopening of lapsed cases upon a showing of good cause and may permit or request the views of the parties as to whether good cause has been shown.

§ 903.9 Access to records.

(a) If a Party is denied access to any Agency record prior to or during the consideration of a case by the Agency, the Party may protest such denial before the Board in connection with the case.

(b) In considerating a case, the Board shall have access to any Agency record as follows:

(1) The Board shall request access to any Agency record which the Grievant/Charged Employee requests to substantiate his or her grievance or defense to a charge if the Board determines that such record may be relevant and material to the case.

(2) The Board may request access to any other Agency record which the Board determines may be relevant and material to the case.

(3) An Agency shall make available to the Board any Agency record requested under paragraphs (b) (1) and (2) of this section unless the head or deputy head of such Agency personally certifies in writing to the Board that disclosure of the record to the Board and the Parties would adversely affect the foreign policy or national security of the United States or that such disclosure is prohibited by law. If such a certification is made with respect to any record, the Agency shall supply to the Board a summary or extract of such record unless the reasons specified in the proceeding sentence preclude such a summary or extract.

(c) If the Board determines that an Agency record, or a summary or extract of a record, made available to the Board under paragraph (b) of this section is relevant and material to the case, the agency concerned shall make such record, summary, or extract, as the case may be, available to the Parties.

(d) In considering a case, the Board may take into account the fact that the Parties or the Board were denied access to an Agency record which the Board determines is or may be relevant and material to the case.

(e) The Parties in any case decided by the Board shall have access to the Record of Proceedings and the decision of the Board.

§ 903.10 Access to witnesses.

The grievant or grievant's representative, or charged employee or his representative, shall be given access to witnesses employed by the foreign affairs agencies. In the evant that the agency of the grievant determines that the requests for access are excessive, it may so notify the Board, which shall rule on the relevance and materiality of the potential testimony and may order that access be granted to any or all of the potential witnesses. It shall be the responsibility of the grievant to advise the agency of the agency witnesses to be interviewed and to request administrative leave.

PART 904—JURISDICTION AND RELATED MATTERS

Sec.

904.1 General.
904.2 Preliminary determinations.
904.3 Relationship to other remedies.

Authority: Secs. 1101, 1104, 1108, and 1109 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4131, 4134, 4138, and 4139).

§ 904.1 General.

The Board's jurisdiction extends to any grievance, and to separation for cause proceeding initiated pursuant to section 610(a)(2) of the Act.

§ 904.2 Preliminary determinations.

(a) If an Agency, in its final review, has questioned whether a complaint constitutes a grievance, the Board will make a preliminary determination of its jurisdiction unless the Board concludes that resolution of the question of jurisdiction should be deferred until the Board has compiled a Record of Proceedings or held a hearing on the merits of the case.

(b) Prior to compiling a Record of Proceedings or holding a hearing on the merits of the case, the Board also may make a preliminary determination on any question raised by a Party concerning the timeliness of a grievance, the election of other remedies under § 904.3, or any other issue whose resolution might avoid the necessity of further proceedings.

(c) Before making a preliminary determination under this section, the Board shall obtain the views of the other Parties and transmit those views to all Parties.

(d) Where a preliminary determination is made under this section which would result in the termination of a case, a panel of three members of the Board who did not participate in the preliminary decision shall decide the question on review. This panel may permit or request the views of the parties with respect to the jurisdictional question.

§ 904.3 Relationship to other remedies.

(a) A Grievant may not file a grievance with the Board if the Grievant has normally requested, prior to filing a grievance, that the matter or matters which are the basis of the grievance be considered or resolved and relief provided under another provision of law, regulation, or Executive Order, and the matter has been carried to final decision under such provision on its merits or is still under concideration. This provision shall not apply to Grievants who have filed a prohibited personnel practice charge before the Special Counsel for the Merit Systems Protection Board.

(b) If a Grievant is not prohibited from filing a grievance under paragraph (a) of this section, the Grievant may file with the Board a grievance which is also eligible for consideration, resolution, and relief as a prohibited personnel practice complaint under the provisions of law relating to the Merit Systems Protection Board or Special Counsel, or under a regulation or Executive Order. An election of remedies under this section shall be final upon the acceptance of jurisdiction by the Board.

PART 905—BURDEN OF PROOF

Sec.

905.1 Grievances other than disciplinary actions.
905.2 Disciplinary grievances.
905.3 Separations for cause.

Authority: Secs. 610 and 1106 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 95–465; 22 U.S.C. 4010 and 4136)

§ 905.1 Grievances other than disciplinary actions.

(a) In all grivances other than those concerning disciplinary actions, the grievant has the burden of establishing, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the grievance is meritorious.

(b) Where a grievant established that an evaluation contained falsely prejudicial material which may have been a substantial factor in an agency action, the burden will shift to the agency to establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the agency would have taken the same action with respect to the grievant had it not seen the falsely prejudicial material.

(c) Where a grievant establishes that a procedural error occurred which is of such a nature that it may have been a substantial factor in an agency action with respect to the grievant, and the question is presented whether the agency would have taken the same action had the procedural error not occurred, the burden will shift to the agency to establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that it would have done so.

§ 905.2 Disciplinary grievances.

In grievances over disciplinary actions, the agency has the burden of establishing by a preponderance of the evidence that the disciplinary action was justified.

§ 905.3 Separation for cause.

In separation for cause cases, the agency has the burden of establishing, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the proposed separation is for such cause as will promote the efficiency of the service.

PART 906—HEARINGS

Sec.

906.1 Decision whether to hold a hearing
906.2 Mandatory hearing.
906.3 Notification.
906.4 Hearing panels and members
906.5 Prehearing conferences.
906.6 Powers of presiding member.
906.7 Conduct of hearing.
906.8 Witnesses.
906.9 Failure of party to appear.

Authority: Secs. 610 and 1106 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4010 and 4136).

§ 906.1 Decision whether to hold a hearing.

After deciding either to accept jurisdiction over a grievance or to postpone decision of that question under § 904.2(a) of this chapter, the Board will make an initial determination of whether a hearing shall be held in accordance with this Part 906, or whether the grievance shall be resolved without a hearing in accordance with Part 907 of this section. The Board may reconsider its decision as to holding a hearing upon the written request of any Party or on its own initiative.

§ 906.2 Mandatory hearing.

The Board shall conduct a hearing: (a) At the request of the Grievant in any case which involves disciplinary action or a Grievant's retirement from the Service for expiration of time-in-class or based on relative performance, or (b) in any case which in the judgment of the Board can best be resolved by a hearing or presentation of oral argument. The Board shall also conduct a hearing in separation for cause proceedings unless the Charged Employee waives in writing his or her right to such hearing.

§ 906.3 Notification.

When the Board orders a hearing, the Executive Secretary shall so notify the Parties in writing. The Parties shall be given reasonable notice of the date and place selected by the Board for the hearing.

§ 906.4 Hearing panels and members.

Unless the Board and the Parties agree otherwise, all hearings shall be held before a panel of at least three members.

§ 906.5 Prehearing conferences.

(a) The Board may in its discretion order a prehearing conference of the Parties (which may be presided over by any member) for the purpose of considering:

(1) Simplification or clarification of the issues;

(2) Serving of interrogatories;

(3) Stipulations, admissions, agreements on documents, matters already on record, or similar agreements which will avoid the necessity of proving facts or issues not in dispute;

(4) Identification of witnesses the Parties may wish to call and the intended scope of their testimony; limitation on the number of witnesses; and arrangement for the appearance of witnesses;

(5) Avoidance of irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitive testimony;

(6) The possibility of disposition of the case through agreement;

(7) The order of presentation at the hearing and the allocation of the burden of proof; and

(8) Such other matters as may aid in the disposition of the case.

(b) The Parties authorized to attend the hearing may attend the prehearing conference.

(c) The results of the conference shall be summarized in writing by the Board and made a part of the Record of Proceedings. Copies of the summary shall be sent to the Parties. The Parties may submit comments or corrections on the summary.

§ 906.6 Power of presiding member.

In connection with the hearing, the presiding member shall, as appropriate:

(a) Fix the time and place of the hearing;

(b) Order further conferences;

(c) Regulate the course of the hearing;

(d) Administer oaths and affirmations;

(e) Dispose of procedural requests and similar matters;

(f) Rule on admissibility of testimony and exhibits;

(g) Exclude any person from the hearing for behavior that obstructs the hearing;

(h) Authorize and set the time for the filing of briefs or other documents;

(i) Grant continuances and extensions of time;

(j) Reopen the record;

(k) Take any other action in the course of proceedings consistent with the purpose of this part.

§ 906.7 Conduct of hearing.

(a) Authorized attendance. The Parties and, as determined by the Board, a reasonable number of representatives of the Parties are entitled to be present at the hearing. The Board may, after considering the views of the Parties and of any other individuals connected with the grievance, decide that a hearing should be open to others. No person shall be permitted to attend the hearing when classified material is being discussed unless that person possesses the appropriate security clearance.

(b) Procedure. Hearings shall be conducted by the presiding member so as to assure a full and fair proceeding. The Board shall not be limited by the legal rules of evidence. However, the presiding member shall exclude irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitive evidence. The Board may require the Parties to designate one of their representatives as principal spokesperson.

(c) Order of presentation. In cases involving disciplinary action, including separation for cause cases, the Agency will ordinarily present its case first and will retain that order of precedence throughout the hearing. In other cases the Grievant will ordinarily present his or her case first and will retain that order of precedence throughout the hearing.

(d) Evidence. Subject to the presiding member's rulings on the relevancy, materiality, and repetitious nature of evidence, the Parties may offer such evidence, including interrogatories, depositions and Agency records as they desire. They shall produce such additional evidence as the presiding member shall consider relevant and material. Where deemed appropriate by the Board, the Parties may be supplied only with a summary or extract of classified material (also see § 903.9).

(e) Testimony. Testimony at a hearing shall be given under oath or affirmation.

(f) Transcript. A verbatim transcript shall be made of any hearing and shall be part of the Record of Proceedings.

§ 906.8 Witnesses.

(a) General. Each Party shall be entitled to examine and cross-examine witness at the hearing or by deposition. A Party wishing to take the deposition of a witness shall give the other Parties reasonable notice of the time and place of the deposition and of the identity of the witness.

(b) Availability. Upon request of the Board or upon request of the Grievant/Charged Employee deemed relevant and material by the Board, an Agency shall promptly make available at the hearing or by deposition any witness under its control, supervision or responsibility. If the Board determines that the actual presence of such witness at the hearing is required for just resolution of the case, the witness shall be made available at the hearing, with necessary costs and travel expenses paid by the Agency which is a Party to the hearing.

(c) Notice. The Parties are responsible for notifying their witnesses and for arranging for their appearance at the time and place set for the hearing. The Board may preclude a witness from testifying because of the failure of the Party responsible for the witness' appearance to comply with this section.

§ 906.9 Failure of party to appear.

The hearing may proceed in the absence of any Party who, after due notice and without good cause, fails to be present or obtain an adjournment.

PART 907—PROCEDURE WHEN HEARING IS NOT HELD

Authority: Sec. 1106 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4136).

§ 907.1 General.

(a) In a case in which a hearing is not required under § 906.1 of this section, the Board may request in writing that specified documents or other evidence be furnished to it and/or may authorize the Executive Secretary to obtain such additional documents or other evidence as may be necessary to understand and decide the case.

(b) Each Party will be offered the opportunity to review and to supplement, by written submissions, the Record of Proceedings, prior to the date fixed by the Board for closing of the Record. The Board shall then consider the case and make a decision based on that Record. This may include the ordering of a hearing in accordance with Part 906 of this Chapter.

PART 908—REMEDIES

Sec.
908.1 Board orders.
908.2 Board recommendations.

Authority: Secs. 1106 and 1107 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4136 and 4137).

§ 908.1 Board orders.

If the Board finds that a grievance is meritorious, the Board shall have the authority to direct the Agency:

(a) To correct any official personnel record relating to the Grievant which the Board finds to be inaccurate or erroneous, to have an omission, or to contain information of a falsely prejudicial character;

(b) To reverse a decision denying the Grievant compensation or any other prerequisite of employment authorized by laws or regulations when the Board finds that such decision was arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to laws or regulations;

(c) To retain in the Service a Member whose separation would be in consequence of the matter by which the Member is aggrieved;

(d) To reinstate the Grievant, and to grant the Grievant back pay, where it is established that the separation or suspension without pay of the employee was unjustified or unwarranted under the Back Pay Act (5 U.S.C. 5596(b)(1)).

(e) To pay reasonable attorney fees to the same extent and in the same manner as such fees may be required by the Merit Systems Protection Board under 5 U.S.C. 7701 (g); or

(f) To take any corrective action deemed appropriate by the Board provided it is not contrary to law or collective bargaining agreement.

§ 908.2 Board recommendations.

(a) If the Board finds that the grievance is meritorious and that remedial action should be taken that relates directly to promotion or assignment of the Grievant or to other remedial action not otherwise provided for in this section, or if the Board finds that the evidence in a grievance proceeding warrants disciplinary action against any employee of an Agency, it shall make an appropriate recommendation to the head of the concerned Agency.

(b) The head of the Agency shall make a written decision on the recommendation of the Board within 30 days after receiving the recommendation and shall implement the recommendation of the Board except to the extent that the head of the Agency rejects the recommendation in whole or in part on the basis of a determination that implementation of the recommendation would be contrary to law or would adversely affect the foreign policy or national security of the United States. If the head of the Agency rejects the recommendation in whole or in part, the decision shall specify the reasons for such action. Copies of the decision shall be served on the other Parties. Pending the decision of the head of the Agency, there shall be no ex parte communication concerning the grievance between the head of the Agency and any person involved in the proceedings of the Board. The head of the Agency shall, however, have access to the entire Record of the Proceedings of the Board.

PART 909—DECISION MAKING

Sec.
909.1 Basis.
909.2 Board order.
909.3 Board recommendation.
909.4 Other decision.
909.5 Time limits for compliance.
909.6 Summaries of Board decisions.

Authority: Secs. 1106 and 1107 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4136 and 4137).

§ 909.1 Basis.

Decisions of the Board shall be based upon the Record of Proceedings, shall be in writing, shall include findings of fact, and shall include a statement of the reasons for the decision.

§ 909.2 Board order.

Where the Board's decision imposes action on an Agency the decision shall be in the form of a remedial order addressed to the designated official of the Agency. A copy of the decision shall be supplied to each Party.

§ 909.3 Board recommendation.

Where the Board's decision is a recommendation, it shall be directed to the head of the Agency. A copy of the decision shall be supplied to each Party.

§ 909.4 Other decision.

Where the Board's decision requires no action by an Agency, the decision shall be forwarded to the Grievant. A copy of the decision shall be supplied to each Party.

§ 909.5 Time limits for compliance.

Orders of the Board and recommendations which are not rejected in accordance with § 908.2 of this section shall be compiled with within any time limits for compliance established by the Board's decision, unless the Board extends the time limit on a showing of good cause.

§ 909.6 Summaries of Board decisions.

The Board may, from time to time, issue such summaries and expurgated versions of its decisions as it may consider necessary to permit the Agencies, the Exclusive Representative organization(s), and the Members of the Service to become aware of the general nature of the cases it has received and their manner of disposition, without invading the privacy of the Grievants.

PART 910—MISCELLANEOUS

Sec.
910.1 Suspension of Agency actions.
910.2 Requests to reopen cases.
910.3 Ex parte communications.
910.4 Board policy statements.
910.5 Confidentiality.
910.6 Judicial review.
910.7 Pending grievances.

Authority: Secs. 1106, 1107, 1110, and 2401 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4136, 4137, 4140 and 4172).

§ 910.1 Suspension of Agency actions.

(a) If the Board determines that the Agency is considering the involuntary separation of the Grievant, disciplinary action against the Grievant, or recovery from the Grievant of alleged overpayment of salary, expenses, or allowances, which is related to a grievance pending before the Board, and that such action should be suspended, the Agency shall suspend such action until the Board has ruled on the grievance. Notwithstanding such suspension of action, the head of the agency concerned or a chief of mission or principal officer may exclude the grievant from official premises or from the performance of specified functions when such exclusion is determined in writing to be essential to the functioning of the post or office to which the grievant is assigned.

(b) The Board shall expedite its decisions on requested suspensions of proposed Agency actions. The Board may permit or require argument with respect to such requests by the Parties and Exclusive Representative, if any.

§ 901.2 Requests to reopen cases.

The Board may reconsider any decision upon the presentation of newly discovered or previously unavailable material evidence.

§ 910.3 Ex parte communications.

(a) "Ex parte communications" or oral or written communications between the Board or its staff and an interested party to a proceeding which are made without providing the other parties a chance to participate.

(b) Ex parte communications concerning the merits of any matter which has or may come before the Board for adjudication or which would otherwise contravene the rules regarding written submissions are prohibited until the Board renders a final decision. Any communication made in contravention of this rule shall be made a part of the record and an opportunity for rebuttal allowed. If the communication was oral, a memorandum stating the substance of the discussion shall be placed in the record.

(c) This rule does not apply to communications concerning such matters as the status of a case, the methods for transmitting evidence to the Board, and other procedural matters which do not concern the merits of any matter before the Board for adjudication and which do not otherwise contravene the rules regarding written submissions.

§ 910.4 Board policy statements.

The Board may publish statements regarding policies it has established as to its operations and procedures.

§ 910.5 Confidentiality.

(a) To the maximum extent practicable, the Board will make every effort to preserve the confidentiality of the identity of the Grievant or Charged Employee.

(b) The records of the Board shall be maintained by the Board under appropriate safeguards to preserve confidentiality and shall be separate from all records of the Agencies.

§ 910.6 Judicial review.

Any aggrieved Party may obtain judicial review of a final action of an Agency head or the Board on any grievance in the district courts of the United States in accordance with the standards set forth in Chapter 7 of Title 5 of the United States Code, 5 U.S.C. 706 shall apply without limitation or exception.

§ 910.7 Pending grievances.

Any grievance pending before the Board prior to February 15, 1981 shall be resolved under the provisions of the Foreign Service Act of 1946 as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

PART 911—IMPLEMENTATION DISPUTES

Sec.
911.1 Definition.
911.2 Filing complaint.
911.3 Procedure.
911.4 Effect of Board decision.
911.5 Arbitrability of determination.
911.6 Finality of choice.
911.7 Review.

Authority: Sec. 1014, Foreign Service Act of 1980, (Pub. L. 96–465; 22 U.S.C. 4114).

§ 911.1 Definition.

An implementation dispute is any dispute between the agency and the exclusive representative, as provided in regulations adopted as a result of collective bargaining between the agencies and the employee representatives. Such a dispute, also referred to as an institutional dispute, is one which directly concerns the rights and obligations of an agency and an exclusive representative toward each other or the rights or obligations between an agency and one or more employees as set forth in a collective bargaining agreement.

§ 911.2 Filing complaint.

If the dispute is not satisfactorily resolved at the agency level, the moving party may file a complaint within 45 calendar days from the date of the response (or in any case must file within 90 days of filing the implementation dispute) with the Board in writing and with specificity as to the nature of the violation.

§ 911.3 Procedure.

Implementation disputes shall be handled by the Board in accordance with the procedures set forth in Sections 901–910 above.

§ 911.4 Effect of Board decision.

The Action of the Board shall be final and binding and shall be implemented by the parties, unless an exception is filed with the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board within 30 days after receipt of the Grievance Board action.

§ 911.5 Arbitrability of determination.

Questions that cannot be resolved by the parties as to whether a complaint is subject to this procedure may be referred by either party to the Grievance Board for a threshold determination.

§ 911.6 Finality of Choice.

An alleged violation of an institutional right as reflected in a collective bargaining agreement may be filed under these procedures or as an unfair labor practice, but not both.

§ 911.7 Review.

Resolution of disputes under this section shall not be subject to judicial review.

Issued at Washington, D.C., on this twenty-second day of March 1985.

Dated: April 4, 1985.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention

28 CFR Part 34

Competition on Peer Review Policy

AGENCY: Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Justice.

ACTION: Proposed Competition and Peer Review Regulation with Request for Public Comment.

SUMMARY: The Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) is publishing for public comment a proposed regulation to implement the competition and peer review requirements of section 225(d) of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, 42 U.S.C. 5601, et seq., as amended (Pub. L. 93–415, as amended by Pub. L. 94–503, Pub. L. 95–115, Pub. L. 96–509, and Pub. L. 98–473) (hereinafter "Act"). The regulation will govern the award of categorical grant funds under Part B, Subpart II and Part C of the Act.

DATES: Comments are due on or before May 29, 1985. All comments will be considered in the publication of the final regulation.

ADDRESS: Address all comments to Mr. Alfred S. Regnery, Administrator, OJJDP, 633 Indiana Avenue, N.W., Room 1142 B, Washington, D.C. 20531.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. James C. Howell, Office of the Deputy Administrator, OJJDP, 633 Indiana Avenue, N.W., Room 748, Washington, D.C. 20531; telephone 202/724–5911.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background Information

This proposed regulation pertains to new requirement in the Act. The statute previously contained no requirement for use of competition or peer review in the award of funds to programs and projects under either Part B, Subpart II, or Part C of the Act.

Exclusions

The exclusions from coverage applicable to Subpart A and Subpart B warrant additional explanation of the rationale for excluding them from competition and/or peer review coverage.

(1) Exclusion of projects selected for funding prior to October 12, 1984. The proposed regulation excludes projects for which initial applications were received prior to or on October 12, 1984, and which receive(d) an initial award after such date (§ 34.2(b)). The primary basis for this exclusion is that Section 225(d)(2) of the Act specifies that "new programs selected after the effective date of the Act shall be reviewed before selection and thereafter as appropriate through a formal peer review process * * *". Further, our review of the legislative history of the 1984 Amendments to the Act indicates that Congress intended that the provision apply only to "new" programs, not those already selected and being processed for funding.

(2) Exclusion of procurement contracts. The proposed regulation does not cover procurement contracts (§ 34.2(h)). This is because OJJDP's procurement contracts are already subject to other Federal laws (the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act) and regulations (the Federal Acquisition Regulation), which severely limit sole source contract awards, and because both the statute and its legislative history make specific reference to "assistance" awards and not to the procurement of goods and services for the benefit and use of the government.

(3) Exclusion of competitively awarded research projects from peer review. These are excluded by statute. The peer review requirement applies only to assistance awards under section 224 of the Act.

(4) Exclusion of continuation projects. Section 34.2(c) provides that the funding of "continuation" awards is excepted from the proposed regulation. This exception applies to awards for the continuation of project activities which were initially funded under projects selected for award prior to or on October 12, 1984. When continuation awards are made that extend the projected or anticipated project completion date, OJJDP intends, by use of this limiting language, to fund only those specific follow-up activities which were within the scope of and consistent with the original purposes and objectives of the project.

(5) Exclusion of other projects. Other specific types of projects are excluded from the proposed regulation. For example, Federal inter-agency transfers are excluded because it would be impractical to include them.

Reservation of Subpart C, Emergency Expedited Review

Section 225(d)(3) of the Act provides that "the Administrator * * * shall provide for emergency expedited consideration of program proposals when necessary to avoid any delay which would preclude carrying out the program."

Although it is not possible to specify in advance if or when emergency expedited consideration may be necessary, several circumstances have called for expedited application processing by OJJDP in the past. These include the following circumstances:

(1) A local tragedy, disaster, or crisis, such as that which occurred a few years ago in Atlanta (because of the child murders) to which OJJDP responded quickly with funds for prevention programming; and

(2) An opportunity to support an outstanding program which is about to cease operations because of the unanticipated loss of existing financial support.

Under these and other emergency circumstances, OJJDP believes that, by administratively expediting the procedures set forth for competition and peer review under Subpart A and Subpart B of this regulation, no delay will occur which would preclude carrying out the program. Consequently, OJJDP is reserving rulemaking under Subpart C. If experience in implementing the competition and peer review process subsequently indicates the need for special emergency expedited review procedures, a rule would be proposed for public comment as Subpart C of this regulation.

Consultation

OJJDP has initiated consultation with the National Science Foundation (NSF) and the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) as required by section 225(d)(2) of the Act. The peer review process proposed in Subpart B will be reviewed by these agencies. OJJDP will carefully consider their comments, as well as those received from the public, in the formulation of a final peer review regulation.

Executive Order 12291

This announcement does not constitute a "major" rule as defined by Executive Order 12291 because it does not result in: (a) An effect on the economy of $100 million or more, (b) a major increase in any costs or prices, or (c) adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, or innovation among American enterprises.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

This proposed rule, if promulgated, will not have "significant" economic impact on a substantial number of small "entities", as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96–354).

Paperwork Reduction Act

There are no collection of information requirements contained in this regulation required to be submitted to the Office of Management and Budget for review under the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. 3504(h).

Subpart C—Emergency Expedited Review [Reserved]

Authority: Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, as amended, (42 U.S.C. 5601 et seq.)

Subpart A—Competition

§ 34.1 Purpose and Applicability.

(a) This Subpart of the regulation implements section 225(d)(1) (A) and (B) of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, as amended. This provision requires that projects funded under new programs selected for categorical assistance awards under the Special Emphasis Discretionary Grant Program (Section 224) or by the National Institute for Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention under Part C, after October 12, 1984, be selected through a competitive process established by rule by the Administrator, OJJDP. The statute specifies that this process must include announcement of fund availability for assistance programs, the criteria applicable to the selection of applicants for assistance, and a description of the procedures applicable to the submission and review of assistance applications.

(b) This Subpart of the regulation applies to all grant, cooperative agreement, and other assistance awards made by the Administrator, OJJDP, or the Administrator's designee, hereinafter referred to in this part as the Administrator, after October 12, 1984, under Part B, Subpart II, section 224, and under Part C of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5601), except as provided in the Exceptions to Applicability set forth below.

§ 34.2 Exceptions to applicability.

The following are assistance and procurement contract award situations that OJJDP considers to be outside the scope of the section 225(d) competition requirement.

(a) Assistance awards to projects under competitive programs announced prior to October 12, 1984.

(b) Assistance awards to projects for which initial applications were received prior to or on October 12, 1984, and which receive(d) an initial award after such date.

(c) Assistance awards to continue activities initially funded under projects selected for award prior to or on October 12, 1984.

(d) Assistance awards to projects if the Administrator has made a written determination that the proposed program is not within the scope of any program announcement expected to be issued, is othwerwise eligible for an award, and if the proposed project is of such outstanding merit, as determined through peer review under Subpart B, that an assistance award without competition is justified (Section 225(d)(1)(B)(i)).

(e) Assistance awards for training services under Part C, section 244, if the Administrator has made a written determination that the applicant is uniquely qualified to provide such services (Section 225(d)(1)(B)(ii).

(f) Assistance awards of funds transferred to OJJDP by another Federal agency to augment authorized juvenile justice programs, projects, or purposes.

(g) Funds transferred to other Federal agencies by OJJDP for program purposes as authorized by law.

(h) Procurement contract awards which are subject to applicable Federal laws and regulations governing the procurement of goods and services for the benefit and use of the government.

(i) Assistance awards from the 5% "set aside" of Special Emphasis funds under section 224(e).

§ 34.3 General selection criteria.

All programs and individual project applications subject to competition under § 34.1 of this Subpart will, at a minimum, be subject to review based on the extent to which they meet the following general selection criteria:

(a) The problem to be addressed by the project is clearly stated;

(b) The objectives of the proposed project are clearly defined;

(c) The project design is sound and contains program elements directly linked to the achievement of project objectives;

(d) The project management structure is adequate to the successful conduct of the project;

(e) Organizational capability is demonstrated at a level sufficient to successfully support the project; and

(f) Budgeted costs are reasonable in comparison to the activities proposed to be undertaken.

§ 34.4 Additional competitive application requirements and procedures.

(a) Applications for grants: Any applicant eligible for assistance may submit on or before such submission deadline date or dates as the Administrator may establish in program announcements, an application containing such pertinent information and in accordance with the forms and instructions as prescribed therein and any additional forms and instructions as may be specified by the Administrator. Such application shall be executed by the applicant or an official or representative of the applicant duly authorized to make such application and to assume on behalf of the applicant the obilgations imposed by law, applicable regulations, and any additional terms and conditions of the assistance award. The Administrator may require any applicant eligible for assistance under this Subpart to submit a preliminary proposal for review and approval prior to the acceptance of an application.

(b) Cooperative arrangements:

(1) Eligible parties may enter into cooperative arrangements with other eligible parties, including those in another State, to apply for assistance.

(2) A joint application made by two or more applicants for assistance for this Subpart may have separate budgets corresponding to the programs, services and activities performed by each of the joint applicants or may have a combined budget. If joint applications present separate budgets, the Administrator may make separate awards, or may award a single assistance award authorizing separate amounts for each of the joint applicants.

(c) Evaluation of applications submitted under Part C of the Act: All applications filed in accordance with § 34.1 of this Subpart for assistance with Part C funds shall be evaluated by the Administrator through officers, employees, and/or such experts or consultants engaged for this purpose as the Administrator determines are specially qualified in the particular Part C program area covered by the announced program. The general selection criteria set forth under § 34.3 of this Subpart may be supplemented for each program by program specific selection criteria for the particular Part C program. Such announcements may modify the general selection criteria to provide greater specificity or otherwise improve their applicability to a given program. The program announcement shall clearly state the application review procedures to be used for each competitive Part C program announcement.

(d) Applicant's performance on prior award: where the applicant has previously received an award from OJJDP or another Federal agency, the applicant's compliance or noncompliance with requirements applicable to such prior award as reflected in past written evaluation reports and memoranda on performance, and the completeness of required submissions, may be considered by the Administrator. However, in any case where the Administrator proposes to deny assistance based upon the applicant's noncompliance with requirements applicable to a prior award, the Administrator shall do so only after affording the applicant reasonable notice and an opportunity to rebut the proposed basis for denial of assistance.

(e) Disposition of Applications: On the basis of competition and applicable review procedures completed pursuant to this Part, the Administrator will either:

(1) Approve the application for funding, in whole in part, for such amount of funds, and subject to such conditions as the Administration deems necessary or desirable for the completion of the approved project;

(2) Determine that the application is of acceptable quality for funding, in that it meets minimum criteria, but that the application must be disapproved for funding because it did not rank sufficiently high in relation to other applications approved for funding to qualify for an award based on the level of funding allocated to the program; or

(3) Reject the application for failure to meet the applicable selection criteria at a sufficiently high level to justify an award of funds or for any other reason which the Administrator determines adversely impacts upon the applicant's capability to successfully carry out the project.

(f) Notification of disposition: The Administrator will notify the applicant in writing of the disposition of the application. A signed Grant/Cooperative Agreement form will be issued to notify the applicant of an approved project application.

(g) Effective date of approved grant: Federal financial assistance is normally available only with respect to obligations incurred subsequent to the effective date of an approved assistance project. The effective date of the project will be set forth in the Grant/Cooperative Agreement form. Recipients may be reimbursed for costs resulting from obligations incurred before the effective date of the assistance award if such costs are authorized by the Administrator in the notification of grant award or subsequently in writing, and otherwise would be allowable as costs of the assistance award under applicable guidelines, regulations, and grant terms and conditions.

Subpart B—Peer Review

§ 34.100 Purpose and applicability.

(a) This Subpart of the regulation implements section 225(d)(2) of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, as amended. This provision requires that projects funded under new programs selected for categorical assistance awards under the Special Emphasis discretionary grant program (Section 224), after October 12, 1984, shall be reviewed before selection and thereafter as appropriate through a formal peer review process. Such process must utilize experts (other than officials and employees of the Department of Justice) in fields related to the subject matter of the proposed program.

(b) This Subpart of the regulation applies to all grant, cooperative agreement, and other assistance awards made by the Administrator, OJJDP, after October 12, 1984, under Part B, Subpart II, Section 224, and awards under Part C that are being considered for noncompetitive award (and hence subject to section 225(d)(1)(b)(i)), of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5601), except as provided in the Exceptions to Applicability set forth below.

§ 34.101 Exceptions to applicability.

The assistance and procurement contract situations specified in § 34.2 (a), (b), (c), (f), (g), (h), and (i) of Subpart A and all Part C awards competitively funded pursuant to section 225(d)(1)(A) are considered by OJJDP to be outside the scope of the section 225(d) peer review requirement as set forth in this Subpart.

§ 34.102 Peer review procedures.

OJJDP peer review procedures will be contained in an OJJDP Peer Review Manual, which is currently under development. In addition to procedural matters related to the peer review process, the Manual will address such issues as standards of conduct, conflict of interest, compensation of peer reviewers, etc. All peer reviews of assistance awards subject to this Subpart will be conducted in a manner consistent with this Subpart.

§ 34.103 Definition.

"Peer review" means the technical evaluation by a group of experts qualified by training and experience to give expert advice, based on selection criteria established under Subpart A of this Part or in a program announcement, on the technical and programmatic merit of assistance.

§ 34.104 Use of peer review.

(a) Each program announcement will indicate the program specific peer review procedures and selection criteria to be followed in peer review for that program. In the case of programs for which a large number of applications is expected, pre-applications (concept papers) may be required at the Administrator's option. Pre-applications will, generally, only be reviewed by qualified OJJDP staff to eliminate those pre-applications which fail to meet minimum requirements or lack sufficient merit to qualify as potential candidates for funding consideration. However, if appropriate, the Administrator may subject both pre-applications and formal applications to the peer review process.

(b) Where formal applications are required in response to a program announcement, an initial review will be conducted by qualified OJJDP staff, in order to eliminate from further consideration applications which do not meet minimum application requirements. Such requirements will be specified in the program announcement. Applicants determined to be qualified and eligible for further consideration will then be considered under the peer review process.

(c) The results of peer review under a competitive program will be a relative aggregate ranking of applications in the form of "Summary Ratings." These will ordinarily be based on numerical values assigned by individual peer reviewers, and as set forth in the OJJDP Peer Review Manual.

(d) Peer review recommendations, in conjunction with the results of program staff review, will supplement and assist the Administrator's consideration of competing applications and the selection of applications for funding.

(e) Comments on applications may also be requested from appropriate specialists and consultants outside of Government.

(f) Peer review recommendations are advisory only and are not binding on the Administrator except as provided by section 225(d)(1)(B)(i) for noncompetitive assistance awards to programs determined through peer review to be of such outstanding merit that an award without competition is justified.

§ 34.105 Peer review methods.

(a) Peer review will normally consist of written comments provided in response to the general selection criteria established under Subpart A of this Part and any program specific selection criteria identified in the program announcement, together with assigned numerical values. Peer review may be conducted at meetings of peer reviewers held under OJJDP oversight, through ad hoc mail reviews, or a combination of both. Where appropriate, site visits may also be employed. The primary method of peer review for each announced competitive program, including all evaluation criteria to be used by peer reviewers, will be specified in each program announcement.

(b) For peer review conducted through meetings, peer review panelists will be gathered together for instruction, including review of the OJJDP Peer Review Manual, and will then conduct individual review sessions. Where time or other factors such as cost preclude the convening of a peer review panel, mail reviews will be used. Ad hoc mail reviews will be the normal procedure used for noncompetitive assistance applications being considered for Part C fund support. In such case, the application would have to be determined, through the peer review process, to qualify as "Outstanding".

§ 34.106 Number of external reviewers.

The number of peer reviewers will vary by program (as affected by the volume of applications anticipated or received). OJJDP will select a minimum of three external reviewers (individuals who are not officers or employees of the Department of Justice) for each program or project review in order to ensure a diversity of backgrounds and perspectives. In no case will fewer than three reviews be made of each application.

§ 34.107 Use of Department of Justice staff.

OJJDP reserves the right to use qualified DOJ staff as internal peer reviewers. However, in no case will DOJ staff constitute a majority of any peer review panel or provide a majority of the reviews of any individual proposal. Any such use of DOJ staff will be specified in competitive program announcements.

§ 34.108 Selection of reviewers.

The Administrator, OJJDP, will make the final selection of both internal and external reviewers. The selection process will be detailed in the OJJDP Peer Review Manual.

§ 34.109 Qualifications of external reviewers.

The general reviewer qualification criteria to be used by the Administrator in the selection of external reviewers are:

(a) Generalized knowledge of juvenile justice or related fields.

(b) Specialized knowledge in areas or fields addressed by the applications to be reviewed under a particular program.

Additional details will be provided in the OJJDP Peer Review Manual.

§ 34.110 Management of peer reviewers.

A technical support contractor may assist OJJDP staff in managing the external review process.

§ 34.111 Compensation.

All external reviewers will be eligible to be paid an appropriate consulting fee. Detailed information will be provided in the OJJDP Peer Review Manual.

Coast Guard

33 CFR Part 117

[CGD3 84-35]

Drawbridge Operation Regulations; Cheesequake Creek, NJ

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: At the request of New Jersey Transit Rail Operations, the Coast Guard is considering a change to the regulations governing the Morgan railroad drawbridge over Cheesequake Creek at Morgan, NJ. This change would permit the draw to remain closed during peak morning and evening rail periods. This proposal is being made to respond to the needs of commuter rail traffic. This action should accommodate the needs of rail traffic and should still provide for the reasonable needs of navigation.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before June 13, 1985.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be mailed to Commander (oan-br), Third Coast Guard District, Bldg. 135A, Governors Island, NY 10004. The comments and other materials referenced in this notice will be available for inspection and copying at this address. Normal office hours are between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. Comments may also be hand-delivered to this address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William C. Heming, Bridge Administrator, Third Coast Guard District (212) 668-7994.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Interested persons are invited to participate in this proposed rulemaking by submitting written views, comments, data, or arguments. Persons submitting comments should include their name and address, identify the bridge, and give reasons for concurrence with or for any recommended change in the proposal. Persons desiring acknowledgment that their comments have been received should enclose a stamped, self-addressed postcard or envelope

The Commander, Third Coat Guard District will evaluate all communications received and will determine a final course of action on this proposal. The proposed regulations may be changed in light of comments received.

Drafting Information

The drafters of this notice are Ernest J. Feemster, project manager, and Mary Ann Arisman, project attorney.

Discussion of Proposed Regulations

The Morgan railroad bridge is crossed by the North Jersey Coast Line system, a major commuter rail line of New Jersey Transit Rail Operations (NJTRO). This commuter line handles many trains enroute to and from New York City and northern New Jersey. NJTRO has requested that they be exempted from opening the draw during morning and evening commuter hours. This request is made because, except for one 17 minute period, the longest interval between scheduled trains during the commuter hours is 13 minutes. This is not sufficient to provide an opening for a vessel without resultant delays to subsequent trains. NJTRO has, therefore, requested that the draw not be required to open between 6:30 a.m. and 8:00 a.m., and from 5:30 p.m. to 6:40 p.m.

There are four marinas upstream of the bridge and these account for the overwhelming majority of openings of the Morgan draw. Since the waterway is used almost exclusively for summer, recreational boating, no major impacts are anticipated during the non-boating season. However, recreational boaters would appear to be inconvenienced somewhat during the boating season. The Morgan railroad bridge has a vertical clearance of three feet at Mean High Water and must open for most vessels transiting past the bridge.

The Route 35 highway bridge about 0.2 miles downstream has regulations permitting it to (1) only open or the hour from May 15 through October 15 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., and (2) not be required to open December 1 through March 31 from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. The Route 35 bridge has a 25-foot vertical clearance at Mean High Water (in the closed position) and this is adequate for most vessels using the waterway.

Economic Assessment and Certification

These proposed regulations are considered to be non-major under Executive Order 12291 on Federal Regulation, and nonsignificant under Department of Transportation regulatory policies and procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979).

The economic impact of this proposal is expected to be so minimal that a full regulatory evaluation is unnecessary. The proposed change in the regulations would be inconvenient to boaters desiring to transit through the draw during the commuter closure hours. However, it is expected that boaters will be able to schedule around proposed closures. Since the economic impact of this proposal is expected to be minimal, the Coast Guard certifies that if adopted, it will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Drawbridge Operation Regulations; Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, Florida

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: At the request of the Florida Department of Transportation the Coast Guard is considering changing the regulations governing the Siesta Key Bridge, mile 71.6, at Sarasota by permitting the number of openings to be limited during certain periods. This proposal is being made because vehicular traffic has increased. This action should accommodate vehicular traffic and yet still provide for the reasonable needs of navigation.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before June 13, 1985.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be mailed to Commander (oan), Seventh Coast Guard District, 51 SW. 1st Avenue, Miami, Florida 33130. The comments and other materials referenced in this notice will be available for inspection and copying at 51 SW. 1st Avenue, Room 816, Miami, Florida 33130. Normal office hours are 7:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. Comments may also be hand-delivered to this address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Walt Paskowsky, Bridge Administration Specialist, (305) 350-4103.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Interested persons are invited to participate in this proposed rulemaking by submitting written views, comments, data, or arguments. Persons submitting comments should include their names and addresses, identify the bridge, and give reasons for concurrence with or any recommended change in the proposal. Persons desiring acknowledgment that their comments have been received should enclose a stamped, self-addressed postcard or envelope.

The Commander, Seventh Coast Guard District, will evaluate all communications received and determine a course of final action on this proposal. The proposed regulations may be changed in light of comments received.

Drafting Information

The drafters of this notice are Mr. Walt Paskowsky, Bridge Administration Specialist, project officer, and Lieutenant Commander Ken Gray, project attorney.

Discussion of Proposed Regulations

Vehicular traffic has increased 20% since 1981 to an average of 14,500 cars daily between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. In a recent 12 month study, drawbridge openings were concentrated on weekends when the bridge was opened an average of 3.6 times per hour between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. This proposal would eliminate multiple or "back to back" bridge openings which are the major cause of vehicular traffic congestion.

Economic Assessment and Certification

These proposed regulations are considered to be non-major under Executive order 12291 on Federal Regulation and non-significant under the Department of Transportation regulatory policies and procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979).

The economic impact of this proposal is expected to be so minimal that a full regulatory evalution is unnecessary. We conclude this because the proposal would exempt tugs with tows. Since the economic impact of this proposal is expected to be minimal, the Coast Guard certifies that, if adopted, the proposal would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Proposed Regulations

In consideration of the foregoing, the Coast Guard proposed to amend Part 117 of Title 33, Code of Federal Regulations, by adding a new § 117.287 (b-1) to read as follows:

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Gen. Docket No. 83–483; FCC 85–191]

Allowing the Public Direct Remote Access to Commission Computer Data Bases

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Memorandum Opinion and Order addressing petitions for reconsideration and/or clarification.

SUMMARY: A Report and Order was released in August 1984 which authorized the Commission staff to develop a competitive solicitation to seek a third party contractor who would make certain computerized radio service license data available to the public through direct dial-up access to the contractor's computer. Several petitions for partial reconsideration and/or clarification were received by the Commission in September 1984. This action provides the partial reconsideration/clarifications requested to the extent indicated in the Memorandum Opinion and Order

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Don Enty, Information Resources Planning Division, Office of the Managing Director, (202) 632–7581.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Memorandum Opinion and Order

In the matter of allowing the public direct remote access to Commission computer data bases, Gen. Docket No 83–483; FCC 85–191

Adopted: April 15, 1985.
Released: April 19, 1985

By the Commission.

Background

1. On August 8, 1984, the Commission adopted a Report and Order [1] (R&O) in this proceeding which was the result of a Notice of Inquiry (NOI).[2] The NOI was issued in response to a petition filed by the Association of Federal Communications Consulting Engineers (AFCCE) to allow the public direct remote access to the Commission's electronically filed computer data bases.

2. The petition from AFCCE to amend § 0.455 [3] of the Commission's Rules noted that present methods of providing data to the public are very time consuming, not in accord with the state-of-the-art data processing technology, and the data obtained under present methods are often outdated when received. The AFCCE, therefore, requested direct remote access to several of the Commission's electronically filed data bases.

3. The R&O authorized the development of a competitive solicitation document to seek a third party contractor who would provide the means for the public to have direct electronic access to authorized Commission computer data bases. Under this arrangement, the National Technical Information Service (NTIS) would act as the account manager for the contract.

4. Section 0.465 of the Rules details the procedures for obtaining copies of materials available for public inspection including computer data bases. 47 CFR 0.465. Computer data bases developed by the Commission for its own use are available through NTIS, Department of Commerce, in the form of magnetic tape or microfiche. Source programs, models, etc., developed by and for the Commission are available through the Computer Applications Division, Office of Managing Director.

5. The Commission's intent in this proceeding was to satisfy the petition from AFCCE to the extent feasible and practicable. The Commission concluded that the AFCCE proposal had merit. (See para. 17, R&O). However, the Commission also felt that the most practicable way of satisfying the request without compromising its budgetary, security, and system integrity considerations was to provide direct remote access to Commission data residing on a third party contractor facility. Under this arrangement, NTIS would act as account manager for the contractor relieving the Commission of significant administrative requirements and allowing the Commission to retain cost recovery reimbursements. (See para. 17 & 18, R&O). The Commission did not plan to modify or amend Commission Rules 0.465 (47 CFR 0.465) or 0.455 (47 CFR 0.455) by this proceeding. These rules provide for obtaining computer data bases through NTIS and for inspecting certain records in the various bureaus and offices of the Commission which will continue to be available according to the Rules. Furthermore, the Commission had no intention of permitting a contractor to change, add, delete, etc., Commission data when it included the following sentence in paragraph 15 of the R&O . . . "A Contractor would be free to develop enhanced information packages . . ." The word "enhanced" in this instance was meant to convey the idea that the contractor would be permitted to provide custom programming services, data manipulation, etc., to satisfy special customer requirements. Again, the Commission will not permit its data to be altered and thus purported to be approved or sanctioned Commission data. It was the intention of the Commission to select a single contractor, as opposed to multiple contractors, to make Commission data files directly accessible by the public (see para. 18, R&O). At the time the R&O was adopted, it was felt that the high start-up costs required by the contractor would preclude making multiple contractor awards. Finally, this proceeding is not dependent on PR Docket No. 83–737 (Frequency Coordination in the Private Land Mobile Radio Services); it merely provides the public with an alternative source to Commission computer data bases.

Petitions/Oppositions

6. Petitions for Partial Reconsideration and/or Clarification were filed on behalf of CompComm, Inc. and on behalf of Moffet, Larson and Johnson, P.C. on September 17, 1984.

7. In summary, the petitions and oppositions raised the following issues:

a. Single Contractor versus Selection of Multiple Contractors;

b. Data Base Enhancements and Contractor Expertise;

c. Elimination of Present Source (NTIS) of Commission Data;

d. Bulk/Raw Data from Contractor in a Cost Effective, Timely Manner; and Issues

Issue No. 1. Single Contractor vs Multiple Contractors

8. Moffet, Larson and Johnson, P.C. (MLJ) contends that the R&O appears to include a determination that a single contractor will be selected to make all of the Commission's data files available to the public. MLJ petitions the Commission to reconsider and/or modify that limited aspect of its decision.

9. This issue will remain open. It will be reconsidered after experience is gained with the initial third party contractor who will be competitively selected during the solicitation process to make the initial 33 services directly accessible by the public (see para. 17 and Appendix, R&O). The Commission has delegated the responsibility for making this decision to the Managing Director.

Issue No. 2. Data Base Enhancements and Contractor Expertise

10. MLJ asks that the first solicitation of competitive bids focus exclusively on data base enhancements, access arrrangements and contractor qualifications appropriate to providing access to the 32 Private Land Mobile Services and the one General Mobile Radio Service that will be made available initially and, after gaining experience with access arrangements for these services, the Commission could then determine how to handle future contract solicitations for other Commission data bases. MLJ submitted that the public would be best served if the contractor providing access to the data bases for certain services (e.g., AM, FM, and TV broadcast services) had the engineering expertise and other capabilities needed to verify and enhance important data maintained on certain classes of stations.

11. With regard to this issue, the Commission did not nor does it have any intention of permitting the Contractor to "enhance" Commission data as envisioned above and purporting it to be Commission approved and sanctioned data. The contractor will be permitted to respond to special customer data automation type requirements by building special query packages, custom programming, or other value-added data services from an automatic data processing standpoint. In this instance, the Commission feels that expertise in automatic data processing is just as important as engineering expertise.

Issue No. 3. Elimination of Present Source of Commission Data

12. CompComm, Inc. (CompComm) argues that the R&O warrants reconsideration by reason of having taken action beyond the scope of the Notice of Inquiry (see NOI, para. 5) and in a manner conflicting (see R&O, para. 16) with Commission Rule 0.465. That is, ". . . the NOI failed to offer any notice that the Commission was intending to eliminate NTIS delivery of magnetic tape or microfiche copies of its computer records to the Public . . ." and ". . . the R&O does not suggest repeal of § 0.465, . . ." of the Rules. The Commission did not nor does it plan to eliminate the present source of Commission data and therefore has no plans to modify or amend Commission Rule 0.465. Confusion arose regarding this issue from a sentence in paragraph 16 of the R&O which was taken out of context when it stated ". . . products will not flow through NTIS . . ." The purpose of bypassing NTIS under the third party contractual arrangement is to ensure that the contractor will obtain the data in a timely manner. Routing the data through NTIS to the contractor would delay its currency and timeliness. Commission data bases shown in the NTIS catalog will continue to go directly to NTIS.

Issue No. 4. Bulk/Raw Data from the Contractor

13. In summary, CompComm requested that the Commission expand and clarify the role of the third party contractor to ensure that the public be afforded the availability of bulk/raw data in a cost effective timely manner.

14. The primary purpose of this proceeding is to satisfy the petition from AFCCE; i.e., provide direct remote electronic access to Commission data bases. Accordingly, while the Commission does not intend to require the contractor to provide bulk/raw data, he/she will be permitted to extract and provide these data when requested by the public. NTIS will also be able to fulfill bulk/raw data requirements. The third party contractor and the competitive solicitation process is designed to provide least cost services to the public.

Issue No. 5. Impact of PR Docket No. 83-737, Frequency Coordination in the Private Land Mobile Radio Services

15. The National Association of Business and Educational Radio, Inc. (NABER) submits that ". . . it is imperative that before a final decision can be made in this proceeding, the Commission and interested parties must analyze the impact of the agency's decision in the context of the pending frequency coordination docket, PR Docket No. 83–737."

16. We agree with NABER that the issue of access to our data base is critically interrelated with issues in PR Docket No. 83–737. However, we do not agree that we must withhold action in this proceeding until PR Docket No. 83–737 is resolved. Rather, we believe it is preferable to proceed with this decision and gain some experience with the approach we are adopting here. We recognize that we may have to adjust our approach depending on the outcome of PR Docket No. 83–737, in order to recognize the special requirements of frequency coordinating committees.

17. In accordance with the foregoing clarifications it is hereby ordered, that the Petitions for Partial Reconsideration and/or Clarification submitted on behalf of CompComm, Inc. and on behalf of Moffet, Larson and Johnson, P.C. be partially adopted to the extent indicated herein and otherwise denied.

It is further ordered that this proceeding is terminated.

Federal Communications Commission.

Zone of Reasonableness for Car-Hire Charges

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Notice of withdrawal of proposed rules.

SUMMARY: At 45 FR 73524, November 5, 1980, the Commission proposed upward flexibility to prescribed per diem rates to complement downward flexibility adopted in Ex Parte No. 334 (Sub-No. 4), Flexibility in Setting Railroads Per Diem Levels. After consideration of numerous comments, we have decided to withdraw the original proposal. Significant developments have occurred that warrant a broader inquiry. Further analysis of this subject will be undertaken in Ex Parte No. 334 (Sub-No. 6), Review of Car Hire Regulation, issued concurrently with this decision.

Review of Car Hire Regulation

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Advance notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Commission is undertaking a broad review of the regulation of railroad car-hire charges (except car-hire charges for boxcars). This action is warranted because the regulatory environment has changed significantly since passage of the Staggers Rail Act of 1980 and because a number of problems have surfaced in several pending proceedings that require coordinated treatment. Among the options to be considered are (1) retaining but modifying the present car-hire formula, particularly with respect to the computation of the cost of capital and the measurement of active car days and car miles per year; (2) permitting the Association of American Railroads to determine car-hire rates collectively; (3) allowing car owners to raise their car-hire rates above prescribed levels unilaterally; (4) deprescribing car-hire and withdrawing antitrust immunity; and (5) permitting direct rental of cars to shippers.

DATES: Notices of intent to participate are due on May 29, 1985. A service list will be provided to participants by June 13, 1985. Initial comments are due on June 28, 1985. Reply comments are due on August 27, 1985.

ADDRESSES: Notices of intent to participate and an original and 15 copies of any comments, referring to Ex Parte No. 334 (Sub-No. 6), should be sent to:

ACTION: Notice of revision of income eligibility levels for Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion Programs.

SUMMARY: This notice revises the schedules of income eligibility levels for individuals and families for the Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion Programs published in the Federal Register May 23, 1984 (49 FR 21774). The revised schedule is based on revised Poverty Income Guidelines from DHHS, effective March 8, 1985 (50 FR 9517), as modified for Hawaii only by Federal Register insert of March 14, 1985 (50 FR 10319). This revision adopts as the income eligibility level for each State the higher amount of either (a) 125% of the DHHS Poverty Income Guideline, or (b) 100% of the DHHS Poverty Income Guideline plus the amount each state supplements Federal SSI, rounded to the next highest multiple of $5.00.

Any person whose income is not more than 100 percentum of the DHHS poverty income guideline for her/his specific family unit status shall be given special consideration for participation in the Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion Programs.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 29, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: C. Wade Freeman, Director, Older American Volunteer Programs, ACTION, 806 Connecticut Avenue, NW., Room M–1006, Washington, D.C. 20525, or telephone (202) 634–9355.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: These ACTION programs are authorized pursuant to sections 211 and 213 of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, as amended, Pub. L. 93–113, 87 Stat. 394.

The income eligibility levels are determined by the currently applicable guideline published by DHHS pursuant to sections 652 and 673(2) of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 which requires poverty income guidelines to be adjusted for Consumer Price Index changes.

The income eligibility levels will be reviewed at least once a year, and similar schedules will be prepared to reflect any changes required as a result of that review.

Schedule of Income Eligibility Levels: Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion Programs

State	For family units of—
	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six	Seven	Eight
Alaska	$9,695	$13,265	$16,080	$18,895	$21,710	$24,525	$27,340	$30,155

Declaration of Emergency Because of Gypsy Moth

Whereas, a serious infestation of gypsy moth exists in parts of Lane County, Oregon, and

Whereas, these insects are capable of causing massive defoliation to trees resulting in loss of tree growth, increased tree mortality, and loss of production of nursery and forest products on large segments of federally and privately owned forest land,

Now, therefore, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of September 25, 1981, 95 Stat. 953 (7 U.S.C. 147b), I declare that there is an emergency which threatens segments of agricultural production industries if this country, particularly the nursery, wood and forest products industries, and I authorize the transfer and use of such sums as may be necessary from appropriations or other funds available to the agencies or corporations of the Department of Agriculture for the conduct of a program to eradicate infestations of gypsy moth in Lane County, Oregon, and to control and prevent the dissemination of gypsy moth, in whatever stage of life, to nonifested areas.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This declaration of emergency shall become effective April 24, 1985.

Rural Electrification Administration

Glacier Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Finding of No Significant Impact

AGENCY: Rural Electrification Administration, USDA.

ACTION: Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended, the Council on Environmental Quality Regulations (40 CFR Part 1500), and REA Environmental Policies and Procedures, 7 CFR Part 1794, has made a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) with respect to a project proposed by Glacier Electric Cooperative, Inc. (Glacier Electric), of Cut Bank, Montana. The project consists of the construction of approximately 53 km (33 mi.) of a 69 kV transmission line. The line would be located in Glacier County, Montana.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: REA's FONSI and Environmental Assessment (EA) may be reviewed at or obtained from the office of the Director, Western Area—Electric, REA, South Agriculture Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, telephone: (202) 382-8848, or the office of Glacier Electric Cooperative, Inc. (Mr. David W. Chapman, Manager), 410 East Main, Cut Bank, Montana 59427, telephone: (406) 873-5566, during regular business hours.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: REA reviewed the Borrower's Environmental Report (BER) submitted by Glacier Electric and determined that it represents an accurate assessment of the environmental impact of the proposed project.

The proposed project consists of constructing approximately 53 km (33 mi.) of 69 kV transmission line between Browning and Babb, Montana. Possible REA actions could include providing financing assistance to Glacier Electric for the proposed project and approving construction contracts, power rate contracts, etc., related to utilization of the proposed facilities.

The BER and EA adequately consider potential impacts of the proposed project to resources including threatened and endangered species, prime farmland, prime forest land, prime rangeland, cultural resources, floodplains, and wetlands.

Alternatives examined included no action, energy conservation, rebuilding the existing power line, alternative routes for transmission line construction, and underground construction. After reviewing these alternatives, REA determined that the proposed project is an acceptable alternative and it meets Glacier Electric's needs with a minimum of environmental impact.

In accordance with REA's Environmental Policies and Procedures, 7 CFR Part 1794, Glacier Electric advertised the availability of its BER in the local newspaper. No comments were received.

Based upon the BER and other data, REA prepared an EA and FONSI concerning the proposed construction. REA independently evaluated the proposed project and concluded that approval of financing assistance for the project would not constitute a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the environment.

This program is listed in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance as 10.850—Rural Electrification Loans and Loan Guarantees.

Dated: April 23, 1985.

International Trade Administration

[A-427-503]

Animal-Food Grade DL-Methionine From France; Initiation of Antidumping Duty Investigation

AGENCY: International Trade Administration, Import Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: On the basis of a petition filed in proper form with the United States Department of Commerce, we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether imports of animal-food grade DL-Methionine (DLM) from France are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. We are notifying the United States International Trade Commission (ITC) of this action so that it may determine whether imports of this product are causing material injury, or threaten material injury, to a United States industry. If this investigation proceeds normally, the ITC will make its preliminary determination on or before May 5, 1985, and we will make ours on or before September 11, 1985.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 29, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Paul Thran, Office of Investigations, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20230; telephone: (202) 377-3963.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: .

The Petition

On April 4, 1985, we received a petition in proper form filed by Degussa Corporation. In compliance with the filing requirements of § 353.36 of the Commerce Regulations (19 CFR 353.36), the petition alleged that imports of the subject merchandise from France are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value within the meaning of section 731 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act), and that these imports are causing material injury, or threaten material injury, to a United States industry.

The petitioner based the United States price on actual sales and offers for sale of DLM, to U.S. purchasers, less U.S. and ocean freight, insurance, U.S. and French handling, distribution's discount, and U.S. Customs duties. The petitioner based the foreign market value on actual sale prices to French purchasers, less warehousing and handling.

By comparing the values calculated by the foregoing method, the petitioner alleged dumping margins ranging from 43 to 63 percent.

Initiation of Investigation

Under section 732(c) of the Act, we must determine, within 20 days after a petition is filed, whether it sets forth the allegations necessary for the initiation of an antidumping duty investigation and whether it contains information reasonably available to the petitioner supporting the allegations.

We examined the petition on DLM and have found that it meets the requirements of section 732(b) of the Act. Therefore, in accordance with section 732 of the Act, we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether imports of DLM from France are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. If our investigation proceeds normally we will make our preliminary determination by September 11, 1985.

Scope of Investigation

The product under investigation is animal-food grade DL-Methionine, currently classified in the Tariff Schedules of the United States, Annotated (TSUSA) under item 425.0420.

Notification of ITC

Section 732(d) of the Act requires us to notify the ITC of this action and to provide it with the information we used to arrive at this determination. We will notify the ITC and make available to it all nonprivileged and nonconfidential information. We will also allow the ITC access to all privileged and confidential information in our files, provided it confirms that it will not disclose such information either publicly or under an administrative protective order without the consent of the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

Preliminary Determination by ITC

The ITC will determine by May 5, 1985, whether there is a reasonable indication that imports of DLM from France are causing material injury, or threaten material injury, to a United States industry. If its determination is negative the investigation will terminate; otherwise, it will proceed according to the statutory procedures.

April 23, 1985.

Alan F. Holmer,

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

Extension of the Deadline for a Preliminary Countervailing Duty Determination; Fuel Ethanol From Brazil AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce is extending the deadline for its preliminary determination in the countervailing duty investigation of fuel ethanol from Brazil in order to investigate upstream subsidies provided to fuel ethanol producers in Brazil through subsidies to the Brazilian sugar cane growers. On March 29, 1985, petitioner presented information which establishes a reasonable basis to believe or suspect that an upstream subsidy is being paid or bestowed on the product under investigation. Under section 703(h) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (the Act), as amended by the Trade and Tariff Act of 1984, we may extend the deadline for a preliminary detemination to 250 days after a filing of a petition whenever there is a reasonable basis to believe or suspect that an upstream subsidy is paid or bestowed and additional time is required to investigate the upstream allegation. The Department concludes that such additional time is required and will make its preliminary determination by November 4, 1985.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 29, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Alain Letort or Barbara Tillman, Office of Investigations, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20230; telephone: (202) 377-5050 (Letort) or (202) 377-1785 (Tillman).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Case History

On February 25, 1985, we received a petition filed by the Ad Hoc Committee of Domestic Fuel Ethanol Producers on behalf of the fuel ethanol industry in the United States. In compliance with the filing requirement of § 355.26 of our regulations (19 CFR 355.26), the petition alleged that certain benefits which constitute subsidies within the meaning of section 701 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, are being provided, directly or indirectly, to manufacturers, producers, or exporters in Brazil of fuel ethanol, and that these imports materially injure or threaten material injury to a U.S. industry.

We found that the petition contained sufficient grounds on which to initiate a countervailing duty investigation, and on March 18, 1985, we initiated such an investigation (50 FR 11526). We stated that we expected to issue a preliminary determination by May 21, 1985. Since Brazil is a "country under the Agreement" withing the meaning of section 701(b) of the Act, an injury determination is required for this investigation. Therefore, we notified the ITC of our initiation.

On April 17, 1985, the ITC published its preliminary detemination (50 FR 15236) and stated that there is a reasonable indication that these imports threaten material injury to a U.S. industry.

We presented a questionnaire concerning the allegations to the government of Brazil in Washington, D.C. on April 15, 1985.

Upstream Subsidy Allegation

In the petition, petitioner alleged that Brazilian producers of fuel ethanol received an "upstream subsidy" through the purchase of subsidized inputs of sugar cane, and that such subsidies bestowed a competitive benefit on fuel ethanol and have a significant effect in lowering the cost of producing fuel ethanol. In our notice of initiation, we stated that the upstream subsidy allegation was insufficient to initiate an investigation because the petition failed to quantify the amount of subsidy bestowed on sugar cane produces and to specify how much of that subsidy is passed through to ethanol producers.

On March 29, 1985, petitioner requested the Department to re-examine the upstream subsidy allegation and provided further infomation in support of the allegation. In consideration of the information received, we determine that we now have reasonable grounds to believe or suspect that an upstream subsidy is paid or bestowed on the product under investigation.

Under section 703(h) of the Act, we may extend the deadline for a preliminary determination to 250 days after the filing of a petition, whenever the Department determines that additional time is required to investigate an upstream subsidy allegation. Accordingly, we intend to make our preliminary determination on or before November 4, 1985.

Alan F. Holmer,

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

Notice of Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Instrument; University of California, Santa Barbara

This decision is made pursuant to section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Pub. L. 89-651, 80 Stat. 897; 15 CFR Part 301). Related records can be viewed between 8:30 AM and 5:00 PM in Room 1523, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C.

Dockt No. 84-302. Applicant: University of Califonia, Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara, CA 93106. Instrument: GC/Mass Spectrometer/Data System, Model VG 70-250HF. Manufacturer: VG Instruments, Inc., United Kingdom. Intended Use: See notice at 49 FR 40069.

Comments: None received.

Decision: Approved. No domestic manufacturer was both "able and willing" to manufacture an instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign instrument for such purposes as the instrument was intended to be used, and have it available to the applicant without unreasonable delay in accordance with § 301.5(d)(2), at the time the foreign instrument was ordered (August 15, 1984).

Reasons: The foreign instrument provides a mass range of 1 to 2800 atomic units at an accelerating voltage of 6000 volts. The National Institutes of Health advises in its memorandum dated January 23, 1984 that the capability of the foreign instrument described above is pertinent to the applicant's intended purposes. We know of no domestic manufacturer both able and willing to provide an instrument with the required features at the time the foreign instrument was ordered.

As to the domestic availability of instruments, § 301.5(d)(2) provides that, in determining whether a U.S. manufacturer is able and willing to produce an instrument, and have it available without unreasonable delay, "the normal commercial practices applicable to the production and delivery of instruments of the same general category shall be taken into account, as well as other factors which in the Director's judgment are reasonable to take into account under the circumstances of a particular case." This subsection also provides that, if "a domestic manufacturer was formally requested a bid an instrument, without reference to cost limitations and within a leadtime considered reasonable for the category of instrument involved, and the domestic manufacturer failed formally to respond to the request, for the purposes of this section the domestic manufacturer would not be considered willing to have supplied the instrument."

The regulations require that domestic manufacturers be both "able and willing" to produce an instrument for the purpose of comparison with the foreign instrument. Where an applicant, as in this case, received no response to a formal request for quotation sent to the only known domestic manufacturers of comparable instruments (Nuclide Corporation and Nicolet Analytical Instruments, which manufacture magnetic sector mass spectrometers), it is apparent that the domestic manufacturers were either not able or not willing to produce an instrument of equivalent scientific value to the foreign instrument for such purposes as the foreign instrument was intended to be used at the time the foreign instrument was ordered.

Oil Country Tubular Goods From Korea; Postponement of Final Antidumping Duty Determination

AGENCY: International Trade Administration, Import Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice informs the public that the Department of Commerce (the Department) has received a request from the petitioners in this investigation to postpone the final determination, as provided for in section 735(a)(2)(B) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act) (19 U.S.C. 1673(d)(a)(2)(B)). Based on this request, we are postponing our final determination as to whether sales of oil country tubular goods (OCTG) from Korea have occurred at less than fair value until not later than May 31, 1985.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 29, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Paul Thran, Office of Investigations, Import Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20230; telephone (202) 377-3963.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On July 10, 1984, we announced the initiation of an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether OCTG from the Republic of Korea, are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value (49 FR 28084). We issued our preliminary negative determination on January 16, 1985 (50 FR 2312). That notice stated that we would issue a final determination by March 25, 1985. On February 7, 1985, counsel for petitioners, Lone Star Steel Company, CF&I Steel Corporation, and LTV Steel Company, requested that the Department extend the period for the final determination for 30 days, in accordance with section 735(a)(2)(B) of the Act. On Marcy 7, 1985, we extended the period for the final determination until April 24, 1985 (50 FR 9307).

On April 22, 1985, counsel for petitioners requested that the Department again extend the period for the final determination, until not later than 135 days after the date of publication of the preliminary determination. If a petitioner requests an extention after a negative preliminary determination, the Department is required, absent compelling reasons to the contrary to grant the request. Accordingly, we grant the request and postpone our final determination until not later than May 31, 1985.

This notice is published pursuant to section 735(d) of the Act. The United States International Trade Commission is being advised of this postponement, in accordance with section 735(d) of the Act.

Scope of Investigation

The term "oil country tubular goods" covers hollow steel products of circular cross section intended for use in the drilling of oil or gas. It includes oil well casing, tubing and drill pipe of carbon or alloy steel, whether welded or seamless, manufactured to either American Petroleum Institute (API) or non-API (e.g., proprietary), specifications as currently provided for in the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA) items 610.3216, 610.3219, 610.3233, 610.3242, 610.3243, 610.3249, 610.3252, 610.3254, 610.3256, 610.3258, 610.3262, 610 3264, 610.3721, 610.3722, 610.3751, 610.3925, 610.3935, 610.4025, 610.4035, 610.4225, 610.4235, 610.4325, 610.4335, 610.4942, 610.4944, 610.4946, 610.4954, 610.4955, 610.4956, 610.4957, 610.4966, 610.4967, 610.4968, 610.4969, 610.4970, 610.5221, 610.5222, 610.5226, 610.5234, 610.5240, 610.5242, 610.5243, and 610.5244. This investigation includes OCTG that are finished and unfinished.

Comments

In order to have any comments considered for our final determination, parties must submit them by April 30, 1985. All written views should be filed at the U.S. Department of Commerce, Room B099, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20230, in at least 10 copies.

COMMITTEE FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF TEXTILE AGREEMENTS

Import Restraint Limit on Certain Wool Textile Products Produced or Manufactured in the People's Republic of China

April 24, 1985.

The Chairman of the Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements (CITA), under the authority contained in E.O. 11651 of March 3, 1972, as amended, has issued the directive published below to the Commissioner of Customs to be effective on April 30, 1985. For further information contact Diana Solkoff, International Trade Specialist (202) 377–4212.

Background

On April 6, 1984, a notice was published in the Federal Register (49 FR 13736) establishing a twelve-month limit for wool knit shirts and blouses in Category 438, among other categories, produced or manufactured in China and exported during the twelve-month period, which began on March 29, 1984, pending agreement on a mutually satisfactory solution concerning this category between the Governments of the United States and the People's Republic of China. To avoid the continued risk of market disruption, the Government of the United States has decided, in the absence of agreement on this category, pursuant to section 204 of the Agricultural Act of 1956, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1854) and the Bilateral Cotton, Wool and Man-Made Fiber Textile Agreement of August 19, 1983, to continue the import restraint limit for an additional twelve-month period beginning on March 29, 1985 and extending through March 28, 1986 at a level of 12,195 dozen. The level reflects a one percent increase over the previous level.

A description of the textile categories in terms ot T.S.U.S.A. numbers was published in the Federal Register on December 13, 1982 (47 FR 55709), as amended on April 7, 1983 (48 FR 15175), May 3, 1983 (48 FR 19924), December 14, 1983 (48 FR 55607), December 30, 1983 (48 FR 57584), April 4, 1984 (49 FR 13397), June 28, 1984 (49 FR 26622), July 16, 1984 (49 FR 28754), November 9, 1984 (49 FR 44782), and in Statistical Headnote 5, Schedule 3 of the TARIFF SCHEDULES OF THE UNITED STATES ANNOTATED (1985).

Commissioner of Customs,

Department of the Treasury, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Commissioner: Under the terms of section 204 of the Agricultural Act of 1956, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1854), pursuant to the Bilateral Cotton, Wool and Man-Made Fiber Textile Agreement of August 19, 1983, between the Governments of the United States and the People's Republic of China, and in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 11651 of March 3, 1972, as amended, you are directed, effective on April 30, 1985, to permit entry into the United States for consumption of wool textile products in Category 438, produced and manufactured in the People's Republic of China and exported during the twelve-month period which began on March 29, 1985 and extends through March 28, 1986, in excess of 12,195 dozen. [1]

In carrying out this directive, entries of wool textile products in Category 438, produced or manufactured in China, which have been exported to the United States on and after March 29, 1984 and extending through March 28, 1985, shall, to the extent of any unfilled balance, be charged against the level established for such goods during that twelve-month period. In the event the level established for that period has been exhausted by previous entries, such goods shall be subject to the level set forth in this letter.

Textile products in Category 438 which have been released from the custody of the U.S. Customs Service under the provisions of 19 U.S.C. 1448(b) or 1484(a)(1)(A) prior to the effective date of this directive shall not be denied entry under this directive.

A description of the textile categories in terms of T.S.U.S.A. numbers was published in the Federal Register on December 13, 1982 (47 FR 55709), as amended on April 7, 1983 (48 FR 15175), May 3, 1983 (48 FR 19924), December 14, 1983 (48 FR 55607), December 30, 1983 (48 FR 57584), April 4, 1984 (49 FR 13397), June 28, 1984 (49 FR 26622), July 16, 1984 (49 FR 28754), November 9, 1984 (49 FR 44782), and in Statistical Headnote 5, Schedule 3 of the TARIFF SCHEDULES OF THE UNITED STATES ANNOTATED (1985).

In carrying out the above directions, the Commissioner of Customs should construe entry into the United States for consumption to include entry for consumption into the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

The Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements has determined that this action falls within the foreign affairs exception to the rulemaking provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553.

Sincerely,

Walter C. Lenahan,

Chairman, Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements.

New Limits for Certain Cotton and Man-Made Fiber Textile Products Produced or Manufactured in Indonesia; Correction

April 24, 1985.

On March 11, 1985, a notice was published in the Federal Register (50 FR 9704) announcing new limits for certain categories of cotton and man-made fiber textile products, including Categories 317 and 339, produced or manufactured in Indonesia and exported to the United States during specified periods. The following sentence was omitted and should appear as the penultimate sentence in paragraph 4 of the notice document and as the final sentence of paragraph 3 of the letter to the Commissioner of Customs which followed that notice:

In neither case shall the phased entry amounts be permitted to exceed the total amounts of the increases in the new limits for these two categories.

The effective date in the first sentence of paragraph 3 of the letter to the Commissioner of Customs should be corrected to read "March 11, 1985."

BILLING CODE 3510-DR-M

Announcing an Import Restraint Level for Certain Cotton Textile Products Produced or Manufactured in Bangladesh

April 25, 1985.

On March 21, 1985, a notice was published in the Federal Register (50 FR 11410) announcing that, on February 28, 1985, the United States Government, under Article 3 of the Arrangement Regarding International Trade in Textiles, had requested the Government of Bangladesh to enter into consultations concerning exports to the United States of men's and boys' woven cotton shirts in Category 340, produced or manufactured in Bangladesh.

The United States Government has decided, inasmuch as consultations with the Government of Bangladesh held April 2-5, 1985 failed to reach a mutually satisfactory solution concerning this category, to control imports of cotton textile products in Category 340, produced or manufactured in Bangladesh and exported during the twelve-month period which began on February 28, 1985 and extends through February 27, 1986 at a level of 212,011 dozen.

Accordingly, in the letter published below the Chairman of the Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements directs the Commissioner of Customs to prohibit entry into the United States for consumption, or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption, of cotton textile products in Category 340 exported during the twelve-month period which began on February 28, 1985, in excess of the designated level of restraint.

A description of the textile categories in terms of T.S.U.S.A. numbers was published in the Federal Register on December 13, 1982 (47 FR 55709), as amended on April 7, 1983 (48 FR 15175), May 3, 1983 (48 FR 19924), December 14, 1983 (48 FR 55607), December 30, 1983 (48 FR 57584), April 4, 1984 (49 FR 13397), June 28, 1984 (49 FR 26622), July 16, 1984 (49 FR 28754), November 9, 1984 (49 FR 44782), and in Statistical Headnote 5, Schedule 3 of the TARIFF SCHEDULES OF THE UNITED STATES ANNOTATED (1985).

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 29, 1985.

Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements

Commissioner of Customs,
Department of the Treasury, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Commissioner: Under the terms of Section 204 of the Agricultural Act of 1956, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1854), and the Arrangement Regarding International Trade in Textiles; done at Geneva on December 20, 1973, as extended on December 15, 1977 and December 22, 1981; and in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 11651 of March 3, 1972, as amended, you are directed, effective on April 29, 1985, to prohibit entry into the United States for consumption and withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of cotton textile products in Category 340, produced or manufactured in Bangladesh and exported during the twelve-month period which began on February 28, 1985, in excess of 212,011 dozen.[1]

Textile products in Category 340 which have been exported to the United States prior to February 28, 1985 shall not be subject to this directive.

Textile products in Category 340 which have been released from the custody of the U.S. Customs Service under the provisions of 19 U.S.C. 1448(b) or 1484(a)(1)(A) prior to the effective date of this directive shall not be denied entry under this directive.

A description of the textile categories in terms of T.S.U.S.A. numbers was published in the Federal Register on December 13, 1982 (47 FR 55709), as amended on April 7, 1983 (48 FR 15175), May 3, 1983 (48 FR 19924), December 14, 1983 (48 FR 55607), December 30, 1983 (48 FR 57584), April 4, 1984 (49 FR 13397), June 28, 1984 (49 FR 26622), July 16, 1984 (49 FR 28754), November 9, 1984 (49 FR 44782), and in Statistical Headnote 5, Schedule 3 of the TARIFF SCHEDULES OF THE UNITED STATES ANNOTATED (1985).

In carrying out the above directions, the Commissioner of Customs should construe entry into the United States for consumption to include entry for consumption into the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION

Chicago Mercantile Exchange and MidAmerica Commodity Exchange; Proposed Amendments Relating to the Live Hog Futures Contracts

AGENCY: Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

ACTION: Notice of proposed contract market rule changes.

SUMMARY: The Chicago Mercantile Exchange ("CME") and the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange ("MCE") have submitted proposals to amend their live hog futures contracts. The proposed amendments would revise the delivery specifications for both the CME and MCE live hog contracts. The Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("Commission") has determined that the proposals are of major economic significance and that, accordingly, publication of these proposals is in the public interest, will assist the Commission in considering the views of interested persons, and is consistent with the purposes of the Commodity Exchange Act.

DATE: Comments should be received on or before May 29, 1985.

ADDRESS: Interested persons should submit their views and comments to Jean A. Webb, Secretary, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, 2033 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20581. Reference should be made to CME and MCE live hog futures contracts.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Fred Linse, Division of Economic Analysis, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, 2033 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20581, (202) 254–6990.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the current CME live hog contract, an unlimited number of U.S. No. 1 and No. 2 hogs and up to 10 U.S. No. 3 hogs are deliverable at par and up to 30 U.S. No. 3 hogs are deliverable at a $2.00 per hundredweight discount. The current MCE live hog contract has the same provisions except that the numbers of U.S. No. 3 hogs deliverable at par and at a discount are one-half the numbers specified by the CME, reflecting the smaller size of the MCE contract. The CME and MCE proposals would amend the delivery unit to allow for the delivery of an unlimited number of U.S. No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 hogs, all at par. No other hogs would be deliverable under the proposed amendments.

The CME and MCE state that the proposed amendments to the par delivery unit of the live hog contracts are based on the revised USDA hog quality standards that were implemented in January 1985. The exchanges submit that the new grades reflect the improved quality of hogs produced and marketed over the past several years. In order to maintain delivery standards that reflect the current quality of live hogs available in the cash market, the exchanges state that they must revise the current delivery standards of the live hog futures contracts.

The proposed amendments to the CME and MCE live hog futures contracts would become effective after Commission approval for all contract months subsequently listed by the exchanges for trading, but would not be applicable to currently listed months.

In accordance with section 5a(12) of the Commodity Exchange Act, 7 U.S.C. 7a(12) (1982), the Commission has determined that the proposals submitted by the CME and MCE concerning their live hog futures contracts are of major economic significance and that the receipt of public comment on these proposed rule amendments will assist the Commission in its determination whether they should be approved. In particular, the Commission is requesting information regarding the proposal of the CME and the MCE to specify that all deliverable grades of hogs—U.S. No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3—would be delivered at par, with no limitation on the number of hogs in any one of these grades. The Commission seeks comments on whether the absence of premiums or discounts with respect to these three different grades of hogs, or the lack of any limitation on the number of head of any single grade, is consistent with cash market practices. If not, comments are also requested on whether the proposed specifications are necessary or appropriate for the contract and will result in sufficiently available and saleable deliverable supplies.

The CME and MCE proposals will be available for inspection at the Office of the Secretariat, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, 2033 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20581. Copies can be obtained through the Office of the Secretariat by mail at the above address or by phone at (202) 254–6314. Other materials submitted by the CME and MCE in support of the proposed rules may be available upon request pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552) and the Commission's regulations thereunder (17 CFR Part 145 (1984)), except to the extent that they are entitled to confidential treatment as set forth in 17 CFR 145.5 and 145.9. Requests for copies of such materials should be made to the FOI, Privacy and Sunshine Acts Compliance Staff of the Office of the Secretariat at the Commission's headquarters in accordance with 17 CFR 145.7 and 145.8.

Any person interested in submitting written data, views or arguments on the proposed amendments should send such comments to Jean A. Webb, Secretary, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, 2033 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20581, by May 29, 1985.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on April 23, 1985.

Jean A. Webb,

Secretary of the Commission.

Defense Science Board 1985 Summer Study Panel on Tactical Directed Energy Weapons; Advisory Committee Meetings

The Defense Science Board 1985 Summer Study Panel on Tactical Directed Energy Weapons will meet in closed session on 21 May and 25 June 1985 in the Pentagon, Arlington, Virginia.

The mission of the Defense Science Board is to advise the Secretary of Defense and the Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering on scientific and technical matters as they affect the perceived needs of the Department of Defense. At these meetings the Panel will examine the status, technical feasibility and tactical weapon potential of all forms of non-nuclear directed energy technology. The Panel will also examine the vulnerabilities and means of countering the effects of these technologies on U.S. systems.

In accordance with section 10(d) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, Pub. L. No. 92–463, as amended (5 U.S.C. App. II (1982)), it has been determined that this DSB Panel meeting, concerns matters listed in 5 U.S.C. 552b(c)(1) (1982), and that accordingly this meeting will be closed to the public.

In accordance with section 252(c)(1)(A)(i) of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (42 U.S.C. 6272(c)(1)(A)(i)), the following meeting notice is provided:

A meeting of the Industry Working Party (IWP) of the International Energy Agency (IEA) will be held on May 7 and 8, 1985, at the offices of Mobil Oil Corporation, Room 21W905, 150 East 42nd Street, New York, NY, beginning at 9:30 a.m. on May 7. The agenda for the meeting is as follows:

1. Status of activities of the IWP and the Standing Group on the Oil Market (SOM).
2. Supply/demand balancing item.
3. Crude oil price indicators.
4. Refining margin calculations.
5. Processing gain.
6. Arrangements for future meetings of the SOM and IWP.

As provided in section 252(c)(1)(A)(ii) of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act, this meeting is open only to representatives of members of the IWP, their counsel, employees of the Departments of Energy, Justice, State, the Federal Trade Commission, and the General Accounting Office, representatives of committees of Congress, employees of the IEA, representatives of the Commission of the European Communities, and invitees of the IWP or the IEA.

Issued in Washington, D.C., April 24, 1985.

Eric J. Fygi,

Acting General Counsel.

Colorado Interstate Gas Co.; Proposed Change in Rates Under Purchased Gas Adjustment Clause Provision

April 23, 1985.

Take notice that Colorado Interstate Gas Company (CIG), on April 15, 1985, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1. According to § 381.103(b)(2)(iii) of the Commission's regulations (18 CFR 381.103(b)(2)(iii)), the date of filing is the date on which the Commission receives the appropriate filing fee, which in the instant case was not until April 18, 1985. The proposed changes would increase the demand rate under CIG's jurisdictional rate schedules by 10 cents per Mcf and decrease the commodity rate by 1.29 cents per Mcf. This filing reflects a net annual decrease in purchased gas costs of approximately $.7 million.

The filing was made to enable CIG to reflect in its rates, pursuant to section 21 of CIG's FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, net decreased purchased gas costs it will experience as the result of rate filings made by certain of its pipeline suppliers.

CIG requests that the instant filing be made effective on May 1, 1985. Copies of the filing have been served upon CIG's jurisdictional customers and other interested persons, including public bodies.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 385.214). Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Eastern Shore Natural Gas Co.; Revised Tariff Filing

April 23, 1985.

Take notice that Eastern Shore Natural Gas Company (Eastern Shore) on March 26, 1985, tendered for filing revised tariff sheets to its FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1. According to 381.103(b)(2)(iii) of the Commission's regulations (18 CFR 381.103(b)(2)(iii), the date of filing is the date on which the Commission receives the appropriate filing fee, which in the instant case was not until April 18, 1985. The revised tariff sheets are as follows:

To Be Effective October 23, 1984

Substitute First Revised Sheet No. 1
Substitute First Revised Sheet No. 2
Substitute Twenty-Sixth Revised Sheet No. 5
Substitute Twenty-Sixth Revised Sheet No. 6
Substitute Twenty-Sixth Revised Sheet No. 10
Substitute Twenty-Sixth Revised Sheet No. 11
Substitute Twenty-Sixth Revised Sheet No. 12
Substitute Twenty-Sixth Revised Sheet No. 13

To Be Effective November 1, 1984

Substitute Twenty-Seventh Revised Sheet No. 5
Substitute Twenty-Seventh Revised Sheet No. 6
Substitute Twenty-Seventh Revised Sheet No. 10

Substitute Twenty-Seventh Revised Sheet No. 11
Substitute Twenty-Seventh Revised Sheet No. 13

Eastern Shore states that the purpose of this filing is to reflect the settlement rates in Docket No. RP84–72–000 to be effective October 23 and November 1, 1984, as approved by the Commission's letter order and adjusted to reflect rate changes made by Transco, Eastern Shore's supplier, subsequent to May 1, 1984 in accordance with the purchased gas adjustment provision of Eastern Shore's Tariff.

Eastern Shore states that copies of the filing have been mailed to each of its jurisdictional customers and interested State Commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before April 30, 1985. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Harrisonburg Associates; Surrender of Preliminary Permit

April 23, 1985.

Take notice that the Harrisonburg Associates, Permittee for the McGaheysville Project No. 8181 located on the South Fork of the Shenandoah River in Rockingham County, Viginia has requested that its preliminary permit be terminated. The preliminary permit was issued on December 24, 1984, and would have expired on May 31, 1986. The Permittee states that analysis of the McGaheysville Project did not indicate feasibility for development.

The Permittee filed the request on April 8, 1985, and the preliminary permit for Project No. 8181 shall remain in effect through the thirtieth day after issuance of this notice unless that day is a Saturday, Sunday or holiday as described in 18 CFR 385.2007, in which case the permit shall remain in effect through the first business day following that day. New applications involving this project site, to the extent provided for under 18 CFR Part 4, may be filed on the next business day.

[Docket No. RP85–132–000]

Michigan Gas Storage Co.; Change in Tariff

April 23, 1985.

Take notice that on April 15, 1985, Michigan Gas Storage Company (Storage Company) tendered for filing the following revised sheets to its FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1:

Eighth Revised Sheet No. 4
Eighth Revised Sheet No. 5
Second Revised Sheet No. 24E

An effective date of May 15, 1985, is proposed.

Storage Company states that the filing effects two changes in its cost of service tariff: (1) The allowance for cash working capital is being eliminated; and (2) the overall cost of money is being reduced to 11.65% from 12.53%. Storage Company further states that the cumulative impact of these two changes is to reduce Storage Company's cost of service by approximately $636,000.

Storage Company states that copies of its filing have been served upon Storage Company's only resale customer, Consumers Power Company, and upon the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before April 30, 1985. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Pacific Offshore Pipeline Co.; Compliance Filing

April 23, 1985.

Take notice that on April 16, 1985, Pacific Offshore Pipeline Company (POPCO) tendered for filing supporting documentation and an amendment to its gas purchase agreement in compliance with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's (Commission) March 29, 1985, order. According to § 381.103(b)(2)(iii) of the Commission's regulations (18 CFR 381.103(b)(2)(iii)), the date of filing is the date on which the Commission receives the appropriate filing fee, which in the instant case was not until April 17, 1985. Included in this filing was First Revised Sheet No. 35 to POPCO's FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, which POPCO believes will remove any ambiguity as to the method of calculation and which complies with Ordering Paragraph (C). POPCO requests that this tariff sheet be made effective April 1, 1985.

POPCO states that copies of this filing, and the attached tariff sheet, have been served on its customer, the interested state commission, and all parties to Docket No. TA85–2–62–000.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before April 30, 1985. Stingray Pipeline Co.; Change in Tariff

April 23, 1985.

Take notice that Stingray Pipeline Company (Stingray), on April 17, 1985 tendered for filing revised tariff sheets to its FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1.

The proposed effective date of the revised tariff sheets listed in Appendix A to Stingray's filing is April 1, 1985.

Stingray states that the instant filing contains the revised tariff sheets necessary to implement the reduced rates resulting from the Docket No. RP85–16–000 Stipulation and Agreement that was filed with the Commission on April 16, 1985, pending FERC approval of that instrument and is requesting the necessary waivers of the Commission's regulations to place the reduced rates into effect April 1, 1985, on an interim basis, subject to being superseded by those currently in effect if the Stipulation and Agreement is not approved.

Copies of the filing were served on all jurisdictional customers.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before April 30, 1985. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Docket No. CI85–385–000]

Energy Marketing Exchange, Inc.; Application for Blanket Limited Term Certificate and Limited Partial Abandonment Authorization

April 22, 1985.

Take notice that on April 15, 1985, Energy Marketing Exchange, Inc. ("EME"), P.O. Box 6060, Bridgewater, NJ 08807, filed an application pursuant to Sections 4 and 7 of the Natural Gas Act, 15 U.S.C. 717c, 717f, and the provisions of 18 CFR Part 157, for a blanket limited-term certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing EME to conduct a short-term spot sales marketing program, hereinafter referred to as Energy Mark Program, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Approval would (1) authorize the sale of natural gas for resale in interstate commerce; (2) permit limited-term, partial abandonment of certain natural gas sales; (3) confer pre-granted abandonment authorization for sales of natural gas made pursuant to the requested certificate; (4) authorize transportation of natural gas by interstate pipeline companies able and willing to participate in Energy Mark Program; and (5) confer pre-granted abandonment authorization for the transportation service allowed under the requested certificate. EME also requests the Commission to declare that, with respect to EME and its activities, the Commission will only assert Natural Gas Act jurisdiction over sales for resale and transportation not otherwise exempt from the NGA.

Under Energy Mark Program, EME proposes to sell natural gas qualifying for the section 102, 103, 107 and 108 rates under the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA), 15 U.S.C. 3301–3432. Only contractually committed gas will be sold. EME and participating producers will seek temporary releases of gas from the purchasers in order to meet market demand for natural gas sales. Releasing purchasers will be absolved from take-or-pay liability for any volumes of gas released and sold under the program. Arrangements for transporting the released gas will be made on a case-by-case basis.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before May 6, 1985, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 and 385.214). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Persons wishing to become parties to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless Applicant is otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or to be represented at the hearing.

Glen Elder Associates; Surrender of Preliminary Permit

April 22, 1985.

Take notice that Glen Elder Associates, Permittee for the proposed Glen Elder Hydro Project No. 8362, has requested that its preliminary permit be terminated. The permit was issued on November 29, 1984, and would have expired April 30, 1986. The project would have been located on the Solomon River near Glen Elder, Mitchell County, Kansas. The Permittee cites that the proposed project is not economically feasible as the basis for the surrender request.

The Permittee filed the request on April 8, 1985, and the preliminary permit for Project No. 8362 shall remain in effect through the thirtieth day after issuance of this notice unless that day is a Saturday, Sunday or holiday as described in 18 CFR 385.2007, in which case the permit shall remain in effect through the first business day following that day. [Docket No. SA85-20-000]

Tom Horn; Petition for Adustment

April 22, 1985.

On March 21, 1985, Tom Horn filed with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission a petition for an adjustment under section 502(c) of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) and Rules 1101 through 1104 of the Commission's rules.[1]

Tom Horn owns the Edith S. Horn Gas Well in the Panhandle West Field, Carson County, Texas. He operated the well to produce irrigation gas until it depleted to a point insufficient to supply that demand. In January, 1981, the remaining reserves were determined to be 15 mmcf. Horn applied for and was granted a Certificate of Abandonment. In October 1981, Horn began a system of enhanced recovery. It was successful, and the first delivery of gas was allegedly made on February 25, 1982.

Horn states that he first learned that his gas well had been disqualified and that no application for a section 108 NGPA enhanced recovery determination had been filed with the Texas Railroad Commission on December 19, 1984. On January 9, 1985 Horn sought a section 108 NGPA enhanced recovery determination. It was approved on February 4, 1985.

Horn seeks an adjustment excusing him from the late filing of his enhanced recovery petition. He asserts that he expended substantial sums on his enhanced recovery technique and on certain necessary equipment, and that unless he is permitted to recover a section 108 gas price for the period from July 1, 1982 through January 9, 1985, he will incur a substantial refund obligation and sustain substantial out-of-pocket losses.

Subpart K of Part 385 of the Commission's rules sets out the procedures that apply to this adjustment proceeding. Any person who wishes to participate in this proceeding shall file a petition to intervene in accordance with Subpart K. All such petitions must be filed within 15 days after this notice is published in the Federal Register.

BILLING CODE 6717-01-M

[Docket Nos. ST85-518-000 et al.]

Louisiana Resources Co. et al.; Self-Implementing Transactions

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that the following transactions have been reported to the Commission as being implemented pursuant to Part 284 of the Commission's Regulations and sections 311 and 312 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA). The "Recipient" column in the following table indicates the entity receiving or purchasing the natural gas in each transaction.

The "Part 284 Subpart" column in the following table indicates the type of transaction. A "B" indicates transportation by an interstate pipeline pursuant to § 284.102 of the Commission's Regulations.

A "C" indicates transportation by an intrastate pipeline pursuant to § 284.122 of the Commission's Regulations. In those cases where Commission approval of a transportation rate is sought pursuant to § 284.123(b)(2), the table lists the proposed rate and expiration date for the 150-day period for staff action. Any person seeking to participate in the proceeding to approve a rate listed in the table should file a petition to intervene with the Secretary of the Commission.

A "D" indicates a sale by an intrastate pipeline pursuant to § 284.142 of the Commission's Regulations and Section 311(b) of the NGPA. Any interested person may file a complaint concerning such sales pursuant to § 284.147(d) of the Commission's Regulations.

An "E" indicates an assignment by an intrastate pipeline pursuant to § 284.163 of the Commission's Regulations and Section 312 of the NGPA.

An "F(157)" indicates transportation by an interstate pipeline for an end-user pursuant to § 157.209 of the Commission's Regulations.

A "G" indicates transportation by an interstate pipeline on behalf of another interstate pipeline pursuant to a blanket certificate issued under § 284.221 of the Commission's Regulations.

A "G(LT)" or "G(LS)" indicates transportation, sales or assignments by a local distribution company pursuant to a blanket certificate issued under § 284.222 of the Commission's Regulations.

A "G(HT)" or "G(HS)" indicates transportation, sales or assignments by a Hinshaw Pipeline pursuant to a blanket certificate issued under § 284.222 of the Commission's Regulations.

A "C/F(157)" indicates intrastate pipeline transportation which is incidental to a transportation by an interstate pipeline to an end-user pursuant to a blanket certificate under 18 CFR 157.209. Similarly, a "G/F(157)" indicates such transportation performed by a Hinshaw Pipeline or distributor.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protests with reference to a transaction reflected in this notice should on or before May 10, 1985, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, a motion to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 or 385.214). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants party to a proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Kenneth F. Plumb,

Secretary.

[Docket No. GP85-25-000]

Mississippi Fuel Co.; Petition for Declaratory Order

April 22, 1985.

Take notice that on April 3, 1985, Mississippi Fuel Company (Fuelco) tendered for filing a Petition For Declaratory Order. Fuelco requests that the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission) issue an order declaring that certain transportation by Fuelco of natural gas purchased by James River Norwalk, Inc. (James River) from Koch Hydrocarbons, Inc. (Koch), which is subsequently transported by Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Company (Transco) in interstate commerce, is not transportation by Fuelco in interstate commerce subject to the Commission's jurisdiction under section 1(b) of the Natural Gas Act and does not constitute transportation on behalf of eligible purchasers under section 311(a)(2) of the Natural Gas Policy Act (NGPA) and applicable Commission regulations.

In the event the Commission concludes that such transportation by Fuelco is not exempt from Commission jurisdiction, then in the alternative and pursuant to § 294.123(b)(2) of Commission regulations under the NGPA, Fuelco petitions for an order approving transportation charges. However, Fuelco is required to file separately a petition for approval of such charges in a separate proceeding and to submit the fee required by § 381.403, 18 CFR § 381.403 (1984). Accordingly, Fuelco's alternate petition for rate approval is deficient and will not be processed pending receipt of the required fee.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before May 22, 1985. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Secretary.

Northwest Pipeline Corp.; Motion To Make Effective Suspended Rates and Conditionally, Settlement Rates

Arpil 18, 1985.

Take notice that Northwest Pipeline Croporation (Northwest) on April 15, 1985, filed a motion in the above-captioned proceeding to place into effect as of May 1, 1985, subject to refund, the rates and tariff sheets proposed in Northwest's October 31, 1984 rate filing, which was suspended by Commission order issued November 30, 1984 (29 FERC ¶ 61,264 (1984)).

Northwest moves, in the alternative, to place into effect as of May 1, 1985, subject to refund and conditions precedent, the rates and tariff sheets which would constitute the base tariff rates that would result from Commission approval of the offer of settlement filed by Northwest on April 5, 1985 for customers who consent to the settlement. The suspended rates will be effective for those customers who did not consent to the settlement. Northwest would define "consent" to mean either comments filed in support of the settlement of a failure to file any comments concerning the settlement, pursuant to Rule 602(f)(3) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.602(f)(3)).

Northwest requests Commission authority to place its settlement rates into effect for consenting customers subject to the following conditions: (1) Any action by the Commission which Northwest construes to be a modification, disapproval, or condition in an "unacceptable manner" of the offer of settlement, or a remand for further proceedings will permit Northwest to charge all customers the suspended rates as of the date of such order; and (2) if the settlement is not made effective in accordance with its terms, Northwest would collect from each customer the difference between the amounts collected pursuant to the settlement rates and the amounts that would have been collected pursuant to rates and charges ultimately approved by the Commission in this proceeding, together with interest determined pursuant to § 154.67(c) of the Commission's regulations (18 CFR 154.67(c)).

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before April 25, 1985. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America; Compliance Filing

April 18, 1985.

Take notice that on April 9, 1985, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Natural) submitted for filing as part of its FERC Gas Tariff, Third Revised Volume No. 1, the following revised tariff sheets to be effective April 1, 1985:

Second Revised Sheet No. 137
Original Sheet No. 137A
Twenty-First Revised Sheet No. 301
Twentieth Revised Sheet No. 305
Ninth Revised Sheet No. 501

Natural states that the revised tariff sheets were filed to reflect the revisions required to implement the tariff provisions governing sales service to Entex, Inc. that became effective pursuant to Commission "Order Affirming Initial Decision," issued January 14, 1985, in Docket No. CP82-355-000.

Natural states that a copy of the filing was mailed to Natural's jurisdictional customers, interested state regulatory agencies, and all parties set out on the official service list at Docket No. CP82-355-000.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before April 26, 1985. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Docket Nos. CP84-676-001 et al.]

Seagull Interstate Corp. et al.; Natural Gas Certificate Filings

Take notice that the following filing have been made with the Commission:

1. Seagull Interstate Corporation

[Docket No., CP84-676-001]

April 17, 1985.

Take notice that on March 25, 1985,[1] Seagull Interestate Corporation (Seagull Interstate), 1100 Louisiana Street, Houston, Texas 77002, filed in Docket No. CP84-676-001 an amendment to the pending application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity filed on August 30, 1984, in Docket No. CP84-676-000 pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act so as to reflect the transportation of gas for an additional party, all as more fully set forth in the amendment which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

By the pending application in Docket No. CP84-676-000, authorization is requested for the construction and operation of seven miles of 16-inch pipeline from Matagorda Island Block 555-L, which lies in Federal waters in the outer continental shelf, to an existing intrastate pipeline referred to as the Cavallo line, owned by Seagull Energy Corporation (Seagull Energy) in Matagorda Island Block 526-L, which lies in Texas state waters, all in Matagorda Island Area, offshore Texas. The new facility would be referred to as the New Seagull Interstate Facility. Authorization is also requested in the pending application for the transportation of up to 75 billion Btu of natural gas per day, or greater quantities depending upon pipeline capacity availability, for Florida Gas Transmission Company (FGT) from the Matagorda Island Block 555 Field, by utilizing the New Seagull Interstate Facility, to Seagull Energy's Cavallo line.

In Docket No. CP84-676-001, an amendment to the application was filed to include a request for authorization to provide transportation service also for Northern Natural Gas Company, Division of InterNorth, Inc. (Northern). It is explained that pursuant to the terms of a March 21, 1985, transportation agreement, Seagull Interstate would transport up to 18.6 billion Btu of natural gas per day attributable to Exploration and Production, Division of InterNorth, Inc.'s interest in the Matogorda Island Block 555 Field through the New Seagull Interstate Facility for the account of Northern to Seagull Energy's Cavallo line. It is also explained that the total contract demand for the transportation of FGT's and Northern's gas would remain 75 billion Btu of natural gas per day. Seagull Interstate asserts that Northern's gas would then be delivered into the Cavallo line for transportation by Seagull Energy for the account of Seagull Interstate pursuant to 311(a) of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) to a 6-inch pipeline owned by Houston Pipe Line Company (HPL) in Matagordo Island Block 520-L for measurement of the gas. It is explained that the gas would then be delivered to facilities of Valero Transmission Comapny (Valero) in Matagorda Island Block 485, which would provide the additional transportation service pursuant to Section 311(a) of the NGPA for final redelivery of the gas into Northern's system. Seagull Interstate submits that its transportation service for Northern would be for a primary term of 10 years commencing on the date of first deliveries and from year to-year thereafter unless and until terminated by either party giving 30 days prior written notice at the end of the primary term or at the end of any year thereafter.

It is stated that Seagull Interstate would charge Northern a rate not to exceed 13.0 cents for each million Btu of gas transported from Matagorda Island Block 555-L to the point of redelivery into the Valero line in Matagorda Island Block 485-L. It is asserted that the fees for transporting Northern's gas through the Cavallo line and the 6-inch HPL line are included within the 13-cent charge. Seagull Interstate also states that it would also have the right to seek authorization for an adjustment to Seagull Interstate's rates and charges as may be needed to assure a just and reasonable rate provided that it may not do so more than once during any two-year period beginning after the first three years of service.

Comment date: May 1, 1985, in accordance with the first subparagraph of Standard Paragraph F at the end of this notice.

2. ANR Pipeline Company

[Docket No. CP79-467-003]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 28, 1985, ANR Pipeline Company (Petitioner), 500 Renaissance Center, Detroit, Michigan 48243, filed in Docket No. CP79-467-003 a petition pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act to amend the Commission's order issued June 10, 1981, so as to authorize a modification in the transportation service provided by Petitioner for Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (TETCO), all as more fully set forth in the petition to amend which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Petitioner requests authority to modify the level of transportation for TETCO pursuant to the second amendment dated November 21, 1984, to the transportation agreement between the parties dated July 6, 1979, as previously modified by an amendment dated January 16, 1981.

Petitioner states that the second amendment, extending for an additional contract year (November 1, 1984 through November 1, 1985) the full transportation volumes of 75,000 Mcf of gas per day, is consistent with various regulatory authorities TETCO has obtained, or is subject to, regarding the importation of the natural gas subject to transportation herein, which TETCO is purchasing from ProGas Limited (ProGas).

Petitioner requests authority to extend for an additional contract year, through November 1, 1985, the transportation of 75,000 Mcf of natural gas per day on behalf of TETCO. Petitioner states that the volumes subject to transport would be adjusted for the sixth through ninth contract years as set forth in the second amendment.

Petitioner states that its transportation service is provided in conjunction with service provided by Great Lakes Gas Transmission Company (Great Lakes). Great Lakes has filed with the Commission in Docket No. CP79-462-004, et al., a petition seeking companion authority to modify its level of transportation through November 1, 1985.

Comment date: May 10, 1985, in accordance with the first subparagraph of Standard Paragraph F at the end of this notice.

3. Arkla Energy Resources, a division of Arkla, Inc.

[Docket No. CP85-391-000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 26, 1985, Arkla Energy Resources, a division of Arkla, Inc. (Arkla), P.O. Box 21734, Shreveport, Louisiana 71151, filed in Docket No. CP85-391-000 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) for authorization to transport natural gas on behalf of Aluminum Company of America (ALCOA) under the certificate issued in Docket No. CP82-384-000 and CP82-384-001 pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Arkla proposes to transport up to 2.64 million Btu equivalent of natural gas per day for ALCOA. It is stated that the gas to be transported would be purchased from Samson Resources Company (Samson) and would be used as boiler fuel and process gas in ALCOA's Bauxite, Arkansas, plant. It is further stated that Arkla would receive the gas from Samson at existing receipt points in Oklahoma and Arkansas and would redeliver the gas at an existing interconnection with ALCOA's plant in Saline County, Arkansas.

It is indicated that Arkla would charge the currently applicable transportation rate in accordance with its ECOSHARE Transportation Rate Schedule or Rate Schedule No. TRG-1, FERC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 2.

Arkla also requests flexible authority to add or delete receipt/delivery points associated with sources of gas acquired by the end-user. The flexible authority requested would apply only to points related to sources of gas supply, not to delivery points in the market area. Arkla would file a report providing certain information with regard to the addition or deletion of sources of gas as further detailed in the application and any additional sources of gas would only be obtained to constitute the transportation quantities herein and not to increase those quantities.

Comment date: June 3, 1985, in accordance with Standard Paragraph G at the end of this notice.

4. Columbia Gas Transmission Corporation; Columbia Gulf Transmission Company

[Docket No. CP85-427-000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on April 10, 1985, Columbia Gas Transmission Corporation (Columbia Gas), 1700 MacCorkle Avenue, S.E., Charleston, West Virginia 25314, and Columbia Gulf Transmission Company (Columbia Gulf), 3805 West Alabama Avenue, Houston, Texas 77027, filed in Docket No. CP85-427-000 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) for authorization to transport natural gas on behalf of Jersey Central Power and Light Company (Jersey Central) under their certificates issued in Docket Nos. CP83-76-000 and CP83-496-000, respectively, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as more fully set forth in the request on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Pursuant to a transportation agreement dated December 13, 1984, Columbia Gas and Columbia Gulf propose the transportation of up to 25 billion Btu of natural gas per day for Jersey Central. It is stated that the volumes to be transported are 25 billion Btu for peak day, 16,986 million Btu for an average day and 6,200 billion Btu on an annual basis.

It is asserted that Jersey Central, through its agent Energy Marketing Exchange, Inc. (EME), has arranged for the purchase of quantities of natural gas from Rosewood Resources (POC) Inc., a producer located in Louisiana. It is further asserted that through its agent, EME, Jersey Central has arranged for such gas to be transported by Monterey Pipeline Company to Columbia Gulf which would in turn deliver the gas to Columbia Gas. Columbia Gulf, it is stated, woud receive the gas in Vermilion Parish, Louisiana. Columbia Gas, it is asserted, would deliver the gas to Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (Texas Eastern) at existing points of interconnection in Chester County, Pennsylvania, and in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. It is further stated that Texas Eastern would transport and redeliver the gas for the account of Jersey Central to Elizabethtown Gas Company (Elizabethtown) at existing points of interconnection in Middlesex County, Pennsylvania, and in Hunterdon County, New Jersey. It is explained that Elizabethtown would in turn deliver the gas to Jersey Central for utilization as fuel-oil displacement gas at Jersey Central's Gilbert generating plant at Milford, New Jersey.

It is stated that Columbia Gulf would charge one of the rates set forth in its Rate Schedule T-2 which current rates are as follows: offshore to Kentucky—23.92 cents per dt and 1.69 percent retainage; lateral onshore to Kentucky—14.28 cents per dt and 1.50 percent retainage; Rayne, Louisiana, to Kentucky—12.76 cents per dt and 1.50 percent retainage; and Corinth, Mississippi, to kentucky—6.38 cents per dt and 0.75 percent retainage. It is further stated that Columbia Gas would charge one of the rates set forth in its Rate Schedule TS-2 which current rates are as follows: received from Columbia Gulf at Leach, Kentucky—32.50 cents per dt and received from receipt points other than Leach, Kentucky—41.27 cents per dt. It is submitted that Columbia Gas would retain 2.43 percent of the volumes received. In addition, it is stated that Columbia Gas would collect the General R & D Funding Unit of the Gas Research Institute for all quantities transported under this transportation arrangement.

Comment date: June 3, 1985, in accordance with Standard Paragraph G at the end of this notice.

5. Northern Natural Gas Company, Division of InterNorth, Inc.

[Docket Nos. CP85-366-000, CP85-366-001]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 15, 1985, Northern Natural Gas Company, Division on InterNorth, Inc. (Northern), 2223 Dodge Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68102, filed in Docket No. CP85-366-000 a request, as amended April 12, 1985, in Docket No. CP85-366-001, pursuant to § 157.205 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) for authorization to transport natural gas on behalf of a qualified end-user under the certificate issued in Docket No. CP82-401-000 pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The proposed transportation service would be performed pursuant to a transportation agreement dated January 28, 1985, between Northern and Marathon Oil Company (Marathon). Northern states that the agreement provides for the transportation of up to 10,000 Mcf of natural gas per day on an interruptible basis. It is explained that Marathon would have gas delivered to Northern at existing interconnections between Northern and Oklahoma Natural Gas Company (ONG) in Woodward and Roger Mills Counties, Oklahoma, and that Northern would transport equivalent volumes to Marathon at the Yates Plant in Pecos County, Texas. It is stated that Northern would charge 4.65 cents per Mcf per 100 miles, as set forth in its Rate Schedule EUT–1. The gas would be used for compressor fuel, it is stated.

Northern also requests flexible authority to add or delete receipt/delivery points associated with sources of gas acquired by the end-user. The flexible authority requested applies only to points related to sources of gas supply, not to delivery points in the market area. Northern will file a report providing certain information with regard to the addition or deletion of sources of gas as further detailed in the application and any additional sources of gas would only be obtained to constitute the transportation quantities herein and not to increase those quantities.

Comment date: June 3, 1985, in accordance with Standard Paragraph G at the end of this notice.

6. Columbia Gulf Transmission Company; Columbia Gas Transmission Corporation; Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company, a Division of Tenneco Inc.

[Docket No. CP85–388–000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 25, 1985, Columbia Gulf Transmission Company (Columbia Gulf), P.O. Box 683, Houston, Texas 77001, Columbia Gas Transmission Corporation (Columbia), P.O. Box 1273, Charleston, West Virginia 25325, and Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company, a Division of Tenneco Inc. (Tennessee) (jointly referred to as Applicants), P.O. Box 2511, Houston, Texas 77001, filed in Docket No. CP85–388–000 a joint application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the transportation and exchange of natural gas offshore Texas, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicants propose to transport and exchange natural gas offshore Texas. It is stated that Tennessee has the right to purchase natural gas from High Island Block 281 A, offshore Texas, from Tenneco Oil Company, Samedan Oil Corporation, and New England Energy, Inc. (referred to jointly as Tenneco). It is further stated that Columbia has the right to purchase natural gas from wells in High Island Blocks 280 and 286, offshore Texas, from Exxon Company, U.S.A. (Exxon). Applicants claim that by agreements dated October 1, 1979, the gas reserves from High Island Blocks 280, 281 and 286 were unitized and that gas producted from Exxon well Nos. A–1, A–2 and A–3, and Tenneco well Nos. A–1, A–2, A–4 and A–6 would be allocated 50 percent to Tenneco and 50 percent to Exxon.

It is stated that Columbia Gulf would receive Tennessee's gas at High Island Block 287–A and Tennessee in exchange would receive Columbia's gas at High Island Block A–281. Applicants indicate that if on any day Tennessee has gas available in excess of the amount Columbia has available for delivery to Tennessee then Columbia Gulf would transport all of the excess gas, on a best-efforts basis, to an underwater side tap on the High Island Offshore System (HIOS) in Island Block 280, offshore Texas, for the account of Tennessee. It is further stated that if on any day Columbia has gas available in excess of the amount Tennessee has available for delivery to Columbia then Tennessee would transport all of the excess gas, on a best-efforts basis, to an underwater side tap on HIOS in High Island Block 281, offshore Texas, for the account of Columbia.

Appllicants state that for all excess gas transported by Columbia Gulf, Columbia Gulf would receive 1.82 cents per Mcf of gas at 14.73 psia and 60 °F. It is claimed that this rate is in accordance with the determination in Docket No. RP84–74. It is further stated that for all excess gas transported by Tennessee, Columbia would pay a transportation rate of 3.65 cents per Mcf of gas.

It is asserted that such rates would be subject to increase or decrease pursuant to the agreement among the Applicants and subject to any order issued in any rate proceeding affecting any of the Applicants.

Comment date: May 10, 1985, in accordance with Standard Paragraph F at the end of this notice.

7. K N Energy, Inc.

[Docket No. CP85–326–000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 4, 1985, K N Energy, Inc. (K N), P.O. Box 15265, Lakewood, Colorado 80215, filed in Docket No. CP85–326–000 an application, as supplemented March 28, 1985, pursuant to § 157.205 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) for authorization to construct and operate two sales taps to permit the delivery of gas to end-users under the certificate issued in Docket Nos. CP83–140–000, CP83–140–001 and CP83–140–002 pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

K N states that it proposes to construct and operate two on-system sales taps for new or existing direct retail customers to the extent allowable under its FERC Tariff. K N is further proposing to deliver up to 30 Mcf on a peak day or up to 1,000 Mcf annually to Mr. Jerry Otte in Fillmore County, Nebraska for irrigation purposes and up to 10 Mcf on a peak day or up to 600 Mcf annually to Heah Hopa, Inc., in Clay County, Nebraska for commercial space heating. K N avers that the proposed new sales taps would not significantly impact K N's peak day or annual deliveries. K N explains that these volumes would be billed at the retail rate currently authorized by the applicable states and local regulatory agencies.

Comment date: June 3, 1985, in accordance with Standard Paragraph G at the end of this notice.

8. K N Energy, Inc.

[Docket No. CP85–380–000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 22, 1985, K N Energy, Inc. (KN), P.O. Box 15265, Lakewood, Colorado 80215, filed in Docket No. CP85–380–000 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Commission's Regulations (18 CFR 157.205) for authority to construct and operate six new sales taps for the delivery of gas to end users in Kansas, Nebraska, and Wyoming under the certificate issued in Docket No. CP83–140–000, as amended in Docket Nos. CP83–140–001 and CP83–140–002, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

K N states its blanket certificate in Docket Nos. CP83–140–000, et al., as amended, authorizes K N to use the prior notice procedure under § 157.205 of the Commission's Regulations in connection with requests to construct and operate on-system sales taps for new or existing direct retail customers to the extent permitted under K N's FERC Gas Tariff provisions concerning limitations on deliveries. It is further stated that § 157.211(b)(2) of the Regulations is waived as to such requests.

Consistent with its blanket authorization K N proposes to construct and operate new sales taps to make direct sales for residential, agricultural, and small commercial use. It is indicated that two of the taps would be located in Phelps County, Nebraska, and the other four taps would be located in Chase and Hall Counties, Nebraska, Kearny County, Kansas, and Platte County, Wyoming. It is explained the gas would be used for domestic, irrigation, and small commercial purposes. K N asserts the sales taps are not prohibted by any of K N's existing tariffs and would have no significant impact on K N's peak day and annual deliveries.

KN asserts that the proposed taps would be used to deliver volumes to the customers as indicated below:

Customer	Location of tap	Approximate quantity to be sold (Mcf's)		End use of gas
		Peak day	Annual
Resident/occupant:
Excelsior Oil Corp	NE¼ Sec. 4-26-36, Kearny Co., KS	10	500	Small commercial.

9. Mountain Fuel Resources, Inc.

[Docket No. CP85-385-000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 25, 1985, Mountain Fuel Resources Inc. (Resources), 79 South State Street, Salt Lake City, Utah 84147, filed in Docket No. CP85-385-000 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing Resources to transport natural gas for Northwest Pipeline Corporation (Northwest), all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Resources requests authority to transport natural gas for Northwest, as follows: (1) Up to 5,000 Mcf per day from the Gladhill Draw area of Moffat County, Colorado; (2) up to 1,500 Mcf per day from the Henry's Fork area of Uinta County, Wyoming; and (3) up to 2,000 Mcf per day from the Cave Creek area of Summit County, Utah. It is stated that Resources would redeliver the gas to Northwest at existing interconnections between the parties in Sweetwater County, Wyoming, and/or in Uintah County, Utah. It is also stated that Northwest would pay Resources the following transportation and gathering rates for gas transported from the above-described areas:

	Transportation rate per Mcf (cents)	Gathering rate per Mcf (cents)
(1) Gaidhill Draw	13.22	5.36
(2) Henry's Fork	13.22	20.63
(3) Cave Creek [1]

[1] With respect to gas transported from the Cave Creek area, it is stated that Northwest would pay Resources a transportation charge and furnish fuel and unaccounted-for gas in accordance with the effective rates and provisions set forth from time to time in Resources' FERC Gas Tariff.

Resources also requests flexible authority to add and delete receipt and delivery points, subject to annual reporting requirements, in the areas of interest referred to above, i.e., Gladhill Draw, Henry's Fork and Cave Creek. Resources states that such authority is consistent with that already granted to Resources under its currently effective Rate Schedules X-17, X-19, X-21, X-22, X-23, X-24, X-25, X-31, X-32 and X-36.

Lastly, Resources states that its agreements with Northwest for transportation from the Gladhill Draw and Henry's Fork areas anticipate that Northwest may acquire gas from areas that are contiguous to, but not within, the areas of interest specified in the respective agreements. Therefore, Resources also requests flexible authority to add areas of interest, upon the amendment of such agreements, provided that the areas are contiguous to and reasonably related to the areas originally certificated and subject to annual reporting requirements. Alternatively, Resources requests that it be permitted to use the notice and protest procedures of § 157.205 of the Regulations to add acreage under the agreements should such additions be negotiated by Northwest and Resources.

No new facilities are proposed to be constructed at this time, it is stated.

10. Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company

[Docket No. CP84-656-002]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on April 2, 1985, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Panhandle), P.O. Box 1642, Houston, Texas 77001, filed in Docket No. CP84-656-002 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations (18 CFR 157.205) for authorization to increase the quantity of natural gas to be transported for a shipper end-user, Sherex Chemical Company, Inc. (Sherex), under the certificate issued in Docket No. CP83-83-000 pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Panhandle states it is currently authorized in Docket No. CP84-656-000 to transport for Sherex up to 900 Mcf of gas per day on an interruptible basis. It is explained that natural gas is received for Sherex's account at existing interconnection points between Panhandle and Consolidated Fuel sSupply, Inc., in Dewey, Beckham, Custer and Ellis Counties, Oklahoma, and ultimately delivered to Sherex by the distributor, Central Illinois Light Company, at Sherex's Mapleton, Illinois, plant. Panhandle requests an increase in the authorized daily transportation quantity to 1,200 Mcf from the existing 900 Mcf level in accordance with the second amendment dated March 12, 1985, to the July 12, 1984, transportation agreement.

Panhandle advises that it does not propose at this time any other change in the instant transportation activity as currently authorized, stating that the transportation service would continue to be on behalf of the same end-user, for gas delivered at the same end-user location within the same maximum annual volumes authorized by its blanket certificate, and subject to the same terms and conditions currently authorized.

11. Southern Natural Gas Company

[Docket No. CP85-400-000]

April 19 1985.

Take notice that on March 28, 1985, Southern Natural Gas Company (Southern), P.O. Box 2563, Birmingham, Alabama 35202-2563, filed in Docket No. CP85-400-000 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) for authorization to construct and operate a sales tap which would be used for delivery of gas to Mississippi Valley Gas Company (MVG), an exsiting customer, for resale under the certificate issued in Docket No. CP2-406-000 pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Southern proposes to construct and operate a sales tap located at or near Mile Post 2.0 on its South Meridian 8-inch line in Clarke County, Mississippi. Southern states that MVG would resell the gas to certain school and residential customers which currently are not being supplied with natural gas. Southern asserts that the maximum annual deliveries MVG would be entitled to take through the proposed facilities would be 5,000 Mcf, which would not result in MVG receiving volumes greater than its certificated volumes.

Southern states that MVG would reimburse it for the total cost of the proposed sales tap, which is estimated to cost $2500.

12. Texas Gas Transmission Corporation

[Docket No. CP85-383-000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 22, 1985, Texas Gas Transmission Corporation (Texas Gas), 3800 Frederica Street, Owensboro, Kentucky 42301, filed in Docket No. CP85-383-000 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205 for authorization to transport natural gas for Indiana Gas Company, Inc. (Indiana Gas), as agent for Fairfield Manufacturing Company, Inc. (Fairfield), under the certificate issued in Docket No. CP82-407-000 pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Texas Gas proposes to transport up to 900 million Btu of natural gas per day on an interruptible basis for Indiana Gas as agent for Fairfield until June 30, 1985, with an extension for a term to end no later than October 31, 1985, should the Commission extend the end-user transportation program beyond June 30, 1985. Texas Gas indicates that the gas to be transported would be purchased by Fairfield from EnTrade Corporation (EnTrade). Texas Gas further states it would deliver the above stated volumes to Fairfield at its Lafayette, Indiana, plant and that such gas would be used for low-priority boiler fuel at that plant. Texas Gas also states that Fairfield purchased said volumes of natural gas from EnTrade in a first sale and that such volumes were not dedicated to interstate commerce on November 8, 1978.

Texas Gas states that it would receive the gas for Fairfield's account from EnTrade in either Bossier or LaSalle Parish, Louisiana, and deliver said volumes of natural gas to Indiana Gas in Lawrence County, Indiana.

Texas Gas indicates that it would charge indiana Gas the rate provided in its Rate Schedule TSC for Rate Schedule G sales customers, which is currently 21.90 cents for each million Btu of natural gas transported, plus a 1.25 cents GRI surcharge, if applicable. Texas Gas further states it would retain 2.57 percent of the gas delivered to it for fuel, company-use, and accounted-for gas.

Texas Gas also requests flexible authority to add or delete receipt/delivery points associated with sources of gas acquired by Fairfield. The flexible authority requested applies only to points related to sources of gas supply not to delivery points in the market area. Texas Gas will file a report providing certain information with regard to the addition or deletion of sources of gas as further detailed in the application and any additional sources of gas would only be obtained to consititute the transportation guantities herein and not to increase those quantities.

13. Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation

[Docket No. CP85-401-000]

April 22, 1985.

Take notice that on March 28, 1985, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation (Transco), Post Office Box 1396, Houston, Texas 77251, filed in Docket No. CP85-401-000 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of certain pipline and appurtenant facilities in Louisiana, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Transco proposes to construct and operate 0.78 mile of 36-inch pipeline and appurtenant facilities comprising an underwater crossing of the Mississippi River on Transco's main line between Compressor Station Nos. 50 and 60 located in Pointe Coupee and West Feliciana Parishes, Louisiana, respectively. It is explained that the 36-inch line would be bored beneath the Mississippi riverbed by using directional drilling techniques and would join a 30-inch bored line constructed in 1984 in supplementing two 30-inch lines, a 24-inch line and an 18-inch line which cross the Mississippi River in trenches. The new line would assure adequate continuity of service in the event of an outage of one or more of the existing trenched lines, it is asserted.

Transco states that the estimated cost of the facilities is $5,026,000, which would be financed initially through revolving credit arrangements, short-term loans and funds on hand. Permanent financing would be undertaken as part of an overall long-term fianancing program at a later date.

14. Williston Basin Interstate Pipeline Company

[Docket No. CP85-373-000]

April 19, 1985.

Take notice that on March 18, 1985, Williston Basin Interstate Pipeline Company (Applicant), Suite 200, 304 East Rosser Avenue, Bismarck, North Dakota 58501, filed in Docket No. CP85-373-000, an application for an order disclaiming jurisdiction, or in the alternative, an order pursuant to section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act permitting and approving the abandonment of certain compression facilities used and associated with the purchase and gathering of natural gas in the Pumpkin Creek field, located in Custer and Powder River Counties, Montana, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant states the Pumpkin Creek field was permanently shut-in January 1981, rendering the compression facilities of no practical use. Applicant states it believes the facilities to be non-jurisdictional. Applicant further states the facilities were reported as non-jurisdictional gathering facilities in Montana-Dakota Utility Co.'s statement relative to construction in Docket No. CP75-166. Applicant states the facilities installed included one 139 rated horsepower field gathering compressor discribed as a Waukesha F817-GU driven Worthington HBGG compressor. On January 17, 1985, Montana-Dakota Utilities Co., Applicant's predecessor, entered into a sales contract to sell the compressor to Production Operators, Inc. Applicant states that there would be not effect on service to any of Applicant's customers by the abandonment of these facilities. Applicant request a disclaimer of jurisdiction, or in the alternative, an order permitting and approving the abandonment of the facilities.

15. Seagull Energy Corporation)

[Docket No. CP84-690-001]

April 22, 1985.

Take notice that on March 25, 1985,[2] Seagull Energy Corporation (Seagull Energy), 1100 Louisiana Street, Houston, Texas 77002, filed in Docket No. CP84-690-001 an amendment to the pending application filed August 30, 1984, in Docket No. CP84-690-000 pursuant to § 284.127 of the Commission's Regulations so as to reflect the transportation of natural gas for an additional party, on behalf of Seagull Interstate Corporation (Seagull Interstate), all as more fully set forth in the amendment which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

By the pending application in Docket No. CP84-690-000, authorization is requested for the transportation of natural gas owned by Florida Gas Transmission Company (FGT) on behalf of Seagull Interstate. It is explained that Seagull Energy would transport up to 75 billion Btu per day of FGT's gas pursuant to section 311 (a) of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) through its Cavallo line which extends from Matagorda Island Block 526-L to Matagorda Island Block 520-L, all in Texas state waters. The gas would then be delivered to a 20-inch line owned by Houston Pipe Line Company (HPL) for final transportation of FGT's gas into its system, also pursuant to section 311(a) of the NGPA.

In Docket No. CP84-690-001, an amendment to the application was filed to include a request for authorization also to transport up to 18.6 billion Btu of natural gas per day owned by Exploration and Production, Division of InterNorth, Inc. In order to receive the gas into its system, Northern Natural Gas Company, Division of InterNorth, Inc. (Northern), has entered into a gas transportation agreement with Seagull Interstate. It is explained that Seagull Energy would transport Northern's gas on behalf of Seagull Interstate through its Cavallo line. It is explained that the gas would then be delivered to a 6-inch line owned by HPL and transported by backhaul to the Kilroy Production Company (Kilroy) platform in Matagorda Island Block 485 for measuring the gas and the gas would then be delivered back into a new 6-inch line which would extend approximately 2,000 feet from the Kilroy platform to a point of interconnection with a 12-inch line owned by Valero Transmission Company (Valero). The new 6-inch line would be owned and operated by Seagull Energy, it is stated. It is further explained that Valero would then provide the additional transportation in order to redeliver thermally equivalent volumes to Northern's system in Pecos and/or Midland Counties, Texas. It is asserted that the total contract demand for FGT's and Northern's gas would remain 75 billion Btu of gas per day of which the 18.6 billion Btu is included. Seagull Energy submits that the term of the transportation service would be for a primary term of 10 years commencing on the date of first deliveries and from year-to-year thereafter until terminated by either party upon 30 days prior written notice at the end of the primary term or at the end of any year thereafter.

It is stated that Seagull Energy proposes to charge Seagull Interstate for transporting the Northern gas the same rate it charges other interstate companies which utilize the Cavallo line for Section 311(a) service, which is currently 10.0 cents per million Btu. It is asserted that Seagull Energy would charge the same rate for transporting FGT's gas. Seagull Energy submits that said rate is fair and equitable for the service rendered.

16. Penn-York Energy Corporation; National Fuel Gas Supply Corporation

[Docket No. CP76-492-036]

April 22, 1985.

Take notice that on March 29, 1985, Penn-York Energy Corporation (Penn-York), 10 Lafayette Square, Buffalo, New York 14203, and National Fuel Gas Supply Corporation (National), 1100 State Street, Erie, Pennsylvania 16501, filed in Docket No. CP76-492-036 a tenth amendment in Docket No. CP76-492-036 to its pending application filed in Document No. CP76-492, as amended, pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act requesting permanent authorization for Penn-York to operate underground gas storage facilities in Allegany County, New York, and to provide long-term storage service to various customers, and permanently authorizing National to provide storage and peaking service to Penn-York and to provide related transportation service for some of Penn-York's customers, all as more fully set forth in the amendment which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Penn-York requests permanent authorization to operate the East Independence, West Independence and Beech Hill storage fields at an aggregate volume of natural gas of 37,100,000 Mcf of which 19,400,000 Mcf would be top gas. Penn-York also requests permanent authorization to serve its customers at an annual storage level of 24,876,620 Mcf. It is indicated that Penn-York presently provides storage service to its customers at an annual level of 19,400,000 Mcf. The revised level of service would result from the net of increased service to five customers and reduced service to two customers (See attached Appendix for a list of Penn-York's customers and proposed service levels).

National requests permanent authorization to provide an annual level of storage service of 5,476,620 Mcf to Penn-York in order to assist Penn-York in meeting Penn-York's storage service obligations. It is indicated that National presently provides storage service to Penn-York at an annual level of 5,100,000 and that National's proposed increase in storage service is attributable to Penn-York's proposed revised level of service. National further proposes to provide up to 33,200 Mcf annual peaking volumes with associated gas banking service to enhance Penn-York's deliverability to its customers. It is also indicated that the proposed peaking service would be utilized by Penn-York during the injection season to enhance Penn-York's ability to inject customer gas. National further requests permanent authorization to provide transportation service for Penn Fuel Gas, Inc., UGI Corporation, Delmarva Power & Light Company, Elizabethtown Gas Company and Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation in conjunction with the storage service provided by Penn-York to such customers. National also requests cancellation of the cerificate authorizing standby storage service to Penn-York pursuant to National's Rate Schedule X-37.

National proposes to charge Penn-York for peaking service a three-part rate consisting of (1) a monthly deliverability charge of 136.83 cents per Mcf of maximum daily peaking volume, (2) a monthly capacity charge of 0.88 cent per Mcf of maximum advanced quantity, (3) and injection, withdrawal and transportation charge of 23.16 cents for each Mcf of advanced volume and net credit volume delivered or returned. National proposes to charge Penn-York for increased storage service a rate of 61.69 cents per Mcf of annual storage volume. Penn-York proposes to charge for increased service to five customers a

[2] The amendment was initially tendered for filing on March 25, 1985; however, the fee required by § 159.1 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 159.1) was not paid until April 1, 1985; thus, filing was not completed until the latter date.

17. El Paso Natural Gas Company

[Docket No. CP85-404-000]

April 22, 1985.

Take notice that on March 29, 1985, El Paso Natural Gas Company (El Paso), P.O. Box 1492, El Paso, Texas 79978, filed in Docket No. CP85-404-000 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) for authorization to install and operate a new sales tap to permit delivery of gas to Gas Company of New Mexico (Gas Company) for resale to consumers in the City of Alamogordo, and environs in Otero County, New Mexico, under the certificate issued in Docket No. CP85-435-000 pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

It is asserted that the 1-inch O.D. sales tap and valve assembly, with appurtenances would supply an estimated average of 96,500 annually of natural gas for commercial and residential use under El Paso's Rate Schedule ABD-L.

El Paso states that the proposed service would have a neglible effect upon its gas deliveries based on past sales.

It is also stated that the proposed sales tap would be located on El Paso's existing 3½ inch O.D. Alamogordo line and the 4½ inch O.D. Alamogordo loop line in Otero County and would be referred to as the Alamogordo Airport No. 2 Tap.

El Paso has estimated the cost of the tap to be $7,400; which would be paid for by Gas Company, but owned and operated by El Paso.

Standard Paragraphs

F. Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said filing should on or before the comment date file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, a motion to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 and 385.214) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission or its designee on this filing if no motion to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a motion for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for the applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

G. Any person or the Commission's staff may, within 45 days after the issuance of the instant notice by the Commission, file pursuant to Rule 214 of the Commission's Procedural Rules (18 CFR 385.214) a motion to intervene or notice of intervention and pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) a protest to the request. If no protest is filed within the time allowed therefor, the proposed activity shall be deemed to be authorized effective the day after the time allowed for filing a protest. If a protest is filed and not withdrawn within 30 days after the time allowed for filing a protest, the instant request shall be treated as an application for authorization pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act.

BILLING CODE 6717-01-M

[Docket Nos. QF85-339-000 et al.]

University Cogeneration Partners Ltd. et al.; Small Power Production and Cogeneration Facilities; Qualifying Status; Certificate Applicants, Etc.

Comment date: Thirty days from publication in the Federal Register, in accordance with Standard Paragraph E at the end of this notice.

April 23, 1985.

Take notice that the following filings have been made with the Commission.

1. University Cogeneration, Inc., Partners Ltd.

[Docket No. QF85-339-000]

On April 9, 1985, University Cogeneration Partners, Ltd. (Applicant) of 3430 Camino Del Rio North, San Diego, California 92108 submitted for filing an application for certification of a facility as a qualifying cogeneration facility pursuant to § 292.207 of the Commission's regulations. No determination has been made that the submittal consitutes a complete filing.

The topping-cycle cogeneration facility will be located at Teledyne Ryan Electronic, 8650 Balboa Avenue, San Diego, California 92123. The electric power production capacity will be 800 kilowatts. The primary energy source will be natural gas. The facility will consist of one naturally aspirated reciprocating engine-generator, one low pressure (15 psig) steam heat recovery unit, one 250 nominal low absorption chiller and one 370 nominal ton cooling tower. Installation will begin on May 31, 1985.

2. Cargill, Incorporated

[Docket No. QF85-340-000]

On April 9, 1985, Cargill, Inc. (Applicant), of Box 7506, Chesapeake, Virginia 23324, submitted for filing an application for certification of a facility as a qualifying cogeneration facility pursuant to § 292.207 of the Commission's regulations. No determination has been made that the submittal constitutes a complete filing.

The proposed topping-cycle cogeneration facility will be located at the Applicant's Domestic Soybean processing facilities, Box 7506, Chesapeake, Virginia 23324. The facility will supply steam and electricity to the Applicant's soybean processing plant. The facility will consist of a coal-fired high pressure boiler and a steam-fired back-pressure turbine generator. The maximum electric power production capacity of the facility will be 1780 kW. The primary energy source will be coal. Installation of the facility is scheduled for completion June, 1985.

3. Intex Fuels and Chemical Corp.

[Docket No. QF85-337-001]

On April 8, 1985, Intex Fuels and Chemicals Corp. et al., P.O. Box 557, Springville, Utah 84663 submitted for filing an application for certification of a facility as a qualifying cogeneration facility pursuant to § 292.207 of the Commission's regulations. No determination has been made that the submittal constitutes a complete filing.

The topping cycle cogeneration facility will be located in Glacier County, Montana. It will consist of a dual fuel engine generator system from which heat will be recovered for use in grain drying and alcohol production. The net electric power production capacity will be 8800 kilowatts. Installation will take place in 1985 and 1986.

4. Flowind Partners 3

[Docket No. QF85-347-000]

On April 15, 1985, Flowind Partners 3 (Applicant) of 1183 Quarry Lane, Pleasanton, California 94566 submitted for filing an application for certification of a facility as a qualifying small power production facility pursuant to § 292.207 of the Commission's regulations. No determination has been made that the submittal constitutes a complete filing.

[Project No. 1746-000]

Mrs. Virginia Kirk Cord; Application for Transfer of Minor License

April 22, 1985.

Public notice is hereby given that an application was filed on March 11, 1985, under the Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. 791(a)-825(r), by Mrs. Virginia Kirk Cord, Licensee and Four Rent, Inc., Transferee, for transfer of minor license for the Leidy Creek Project No. 1746. The project is located on Leidy Creek in Esmeralda County, Nevada. Correspondence should be directed to Mrs. Virginia Kirk Cord, c/o Nada Novakovich, 195 S. Sierra, Reno, Nevada 89501 and Four Rent, Inc., Mr. Donald H. Hatfield, President, 1801 E. Tropicana Avenue, Suite #29, Las Vegas, Nevada 89109.

Transferee states that it will comply with all applicable laws of the State of Nevada as required by Section 9(b) of the Federal Power Act.

Anyone desiring to be heard or to make any protest about this application should file a motion to intervene or a protest with the Commission, in accordance with the requirements of its Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 CFR 385.211 or 385.214. Comments not in the nature of a protest may also be submitted by conforming to the procedures specified for protests. In determining the appropriate action to take, the Commission will consider all protests or other comments filed, but a person who merely files a protest or comments does not become a party to the proceeding. To become a party or to participate in any hearings, a person must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules. Any comments, protests, or motions to intervene must be received on or before June 3, 1985. The Commission's address is: 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, DC 20426. The application is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Agency Forms Under Review

April 23, 1985.

Background

On June 15, 1984, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) delegated to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board) its approval authority under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, as per 5 CFR 1320.9, "to approve of and assign OMB control numbers to collection of information requests and requirements conducted or sponsored by the Board under conditions set forth in 5 CFR 1320.9." Board-approved collections of information will be incorporated into the official OMB inventory of currently approved collections of information. A copy of the SF 83 and supporting statement and the approved collection of information instrument(s) will be placed into OMB's public docket files. The following forms, which are being handled under this delegated authority, have received initial Board approval and are hereby published for comment. At the end of the comment period, the proposed information collection, along with an analysis of comments and recommendations received, will be submitted to the Board for final approval under OMB delegated authority.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before May 14, 1985.

ADDRESS: Comments, which should refer to the OMB Docket number (or Agency form number in the case of a new information collection that has not yet been assigned an OMB number), should be addressed to Mr. William W. Wiles, Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 20th and C Streets, NW., Washington, D.C. 20551, or delivered to room B-2223 between 8:45 a.m. and 5:15 p.m. Comments received may be inspected in room B-1122 between 8:45 a.m. and 5:15 p.m., except as provided in § 261.6(a) of the Board's Rules Regarding Availability of Information, 12 CFR 261.6(a).

A copy of the comments may also be submitted to the OMB desk officer for the Board: Robert Neal, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, New Executive Office Building, Room 3208, Washington, D.C. 20503.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

A copy of the proposed form, the request for clearance (SF 83), supporting statement, instructions, and other documents that will be placed into OMB's public docket files once approved may be requested from the agency clearance officer, whose name appears below.

Federal Reserve Board Clearance Officer—Cynthia Glassman—Division of Research and Statistics, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551 (202-452-3829)

Proposal to approve under OMB delegated authority the extension without revision of the following report:

1. Report title: Allocation of Low Reserve Tranche and Reservable Liabilities Exemption

Agency form number: FR 2930, FR 2930a
OMB Docket number: 7100-0088
Frequency: Annually
Reporters: Depository institutions.
Small businesses are affected.
General description of report: This information collection is mandatory (12 U.S.C. 248(a) and 461) and is given confidential treatment (5 U.S.C. 552b(4) and b(8)).

The report provides information on the allocation of the low reserve tranche and reservable liabilities exemption among particular offices of those families of institutions that have offices located in more than one state or Federal Reserve district, which submit separate deposit reports instead of one single, nationally aggregated report. These data are needed for the calculation of required reserves.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, April 23, 1985

Compagnie Financiere de Suez and Banque Indosuez; Proposal to Deal in Foreign Currency Options Traded on a Stock Exchange Through a Joint Venture

Compagnie Financiere de Suez and its subsidiary, Banque Indosuez, both of Paris, France, have applied, pursuant to section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.23(a)(3) of the Board's Regulation Y (12 CFR 225.23(a)(3)), for permission to engage in the activity of dealing in French franc options in the role of specialist in such foreign currency options traded on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange. Applicants would engage in the activity through a joint venture with Drexel Burnham Lambert Group Inc., New York, New York ("DBL"), an investment banking firm. Banque Indosuez and DBL would each own 50 percent of the shares of Indosuez-Drexel Burnham Lambert, Inc. ("Company"), the successor to Drexel Burnham Lambert (French) Options Inc., a company previously formed to serve as the vehicle for conducting the proposed activity through the proposed joint venture. The activity would be performed through Company's offices in Philadelphia and on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, serving customers in the United States and abroad.

Section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act provides that a bank holding company may, with Board approval, engage in any activity "which the Board after due notice and opportunity for hearing has determined (by order or regulation) to be so closely related to banking or managing or controlling banks as to be a proper incident thereto." The Board has not previously approved the proposed activity. Applicants believe that the activity is so closely related to banking or managing or controlling banks as to be a proper incident thereto. In the Applicants' opinion, currency options are functionally equivalent to other aspects of foreign exchange traditionally and historically dealt in by commercial banks. In addition, Applicants state that at least one bank has been permitted to engage in the proposed activity of acting as a specialist in foreign currency options on a stock exchange.

Interested persons may express their views on whether the proposed activity, conducted through a joint venture on the basis proposed, is "so closely related to banking or managing or controlling banks as to be a proper incident thereto," and whether the proposal as a whole can "reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience, increased competition or gains in efficiency, that outweigh possible adverse effects, such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interests, or unsound banking practices." Any request for a hearing on these questions must be accompanied by a statement of the reasons why a written presentation would not suffice in lieu of a hearing, identifying specifically any questions of fact that are in dispute, summarizing the evidence that would be presented at a hearing, and indicating how the party commenting would be aggrieved by approval of the proposal.

The application may be inspected at the offices of the Board of Governors or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Any views or requests for hearing should be submitted in writing and received by William W. Wiles, Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, not later than May 28, 1985.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, April 23, 1984.

William W. Wiles,

Secretary of the Board.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Health Resources and Services Administration

Health Education Assistance Loan Program; Maximum Interest Rates for Quarter Ending June 30, 1985 and Rate of Insurance Premium

Section 727 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 294) authorizes the Secretary of Health and Human Services to establish a Federal program of student loan insurance for graduate students in health professions schools.

A. Section 60.13(a)(4) of the program's implementing regulations (42 CFR Part 60, previously 45 CFR Part 126) provides that the Secretary will announce the interest rate in effect on a quarterly basis.

The Secretary announces that for the period ending June 30, 1985, two interest rates are in effect for loans executed through the Health Education Assistance Loan (HEAL) program.

1. For loans made before January 27, 1981, the variable interest rate is 12 percent. Using the regulatory formula (45 CFR 128.13(a)(2) and (3)), in effect prior to January 27, 1981, the Secretary would normally compute the variable rate for this quarter by finding the sum of the fixed annual rate (7 percent) and a variable component calculated by subtracting 3.50 percent from the average bond equivalent rate of 91-day U.S. Treasury bills for the preceding calendar quarter (8.46 percent), and rounding the result (11.96 percent) upward to the nearest 1/8 percent (12 percent). However, the regulatory formula also provides that the annual rate of the variable interest rate for a 3-month period shall be reduced to the highest one-eighth of 1 percent which would result in an average annual rate not in excess of 12 percent for the 12-month period concluded by those 3 months. Because the average rate of the 4 quarters ending June 30, 1985 is not in excess of 12 percent, there is no necessity for reducing the interest rate. For the previous 3 quarters the variable interest at the annual rate was as follows: 12⅜ percent for the quarter ending September 30, 1984; 11⅞ percent for the quarter ending December 31, 1984; and 11¾ percent for the quarter ending March 31, 1985.

2. For fixed rate loans executed during the period of April 1, 1985 through June 30, 1985, and for variable rate loans executed after January 27, 1981, the interest rate is 12 percent. Using the regulatory formula (42 CFR 60.13 (a)(3)), in effect since January 27, 1981, the Secretary computes the maximum interest rate at the beginning of each calendar quarter by determining the average bond equivalent rate for the 91-day U.S. Treasury bills during the preceding quarter (8.46 percent); adding 3.50 percent (11.96 percent); and rounding that figure to the next higher one-eighth of 1 percent (12 percent).

B. Section 60.14(b) of the regulations provides that the rate of the insurance premium shall not exceed 2 percent per year of the loan principal and that the Secretary will announce the rate of the insurance premium on a quarterly basis through a notice published in the Federal Register.

The Secretary announces that for the period ending June 30, 1985, the rate of the insurance premium continues to be 2 percent per year of the loan principal for loans executed through the HEAL program.

National Institutes of Health

National Cancer Institute; Amended Notice of Meeting

The meeting of the Board of Scientific Counselors, Division of Cancer Prevention and Control, Prevention Subcommittee, National Cancer Institute, April 19, 1985, National Airport, Room 262, Washington, DC, which was published in the Federal Register on April 8, (50 FR 13882) was cancelled due to the conflict of schedules of the majority of the members.

This meeting is being rescheduled for May 9, 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., Building 1 Wilson Hall, and will be open from 5:00 p.m to 7:00 p.m.

In accordance with provisions set forth in sections 552b(c)(4) and 552b(c)(6), Title 5, U.S. Code and section 10(d) of Pub. L. 92-463, the meeting will be closed to the public from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. due to potential problems being experienced with certain grants which have been brought to the attention of the subcommittee for their advice on program direction. These awards and the discussion could reveal confidential trade secrets or commercial property such as patentable material and personal information concerning individuals associated with the awards, disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

[OR 37655]

Realty Action; Exchange of Public and Private Lands in Malheur County, OR

The following described lands have been examined and determined to be suitable for disposal by exchange under section 206 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (90 Stat. 2756; 43 USC 1716):

Willamette Meridian

T. 19 S., R. 46 E.,
Sec. 3, SW¼NW¼, NW¼SW¼.

The area described aggregates 80 acres of public land.

In exchange for these lands, the United States will acquire the following described lands from Harry L. Smith:

Willamette Meridian

T. 20 S., R. 46 E.,
Sec. 6, SE¼SW¼, SW¼SE¼.

The area described aggregates 80 acres of private land.

The purpose of the exchange is to facilitate the resource management program of the Bureau of Land Management and to enhance the range management potential for the area. The Federal lands to be exchanged are hard to manage parcels completely surrounded by private lands.

This proposal is consistent with Bureau planning for the lands involved and has been discussed with State and local officials. The public interest will be well served by making this exchange. The comparative values of the lands exchanged are approximately equal and the acreage will be adjusted and/or a cash payment to the United States will be used to equalize the values upon completion of the final appraisal of the lands. Any monetary adjustments made will be for no more than 25% of the appraised value of Federal lands involved.

The exchange will be subject to:

(1) A reservation to the United States of a right-of-way for ditches or canals under the Act of August 30, 1890.

(2) Valid, existing rights including but not limited to the North Canal and any other right-of-way, easement, or lease of record.

Publication of this notice has the effect of segregating all of the above described Federal land from appropriation, under the public land laws and these lands are further segregated from appropriation under the mining laws, but not from exchange pursuant to section 206 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976. The segregative effect of this notice will terminate upon issuance of patent or in two years from the date of the publication of this notice, whichever occurs first.

Detailed information concerning the exchange is available for review at the Vale Distict Office of the Bureau of Land Management, 100 Oregon Street, Vale, Oregon 97918.

For a period of 45 days, interested parties may submit comments to the Vale District Manager at the above address. Any adverse comments will be evaluated by the Oregon State Director, BLM, who may vacate or modify this realty action and issue a final determination. In the absence of any action by the State Director, this realty action will become the final determination of the Department of the Interior.

Date of Issue: April 17, 1985.

Bureau of Reclamation

All-American Canal Relocation Project, California; Intent To Prepare an Environmental Impact Statement

Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended, the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, intends to prepare an environmental impact statement on the potential All-American Canal Relocation Project located in southern California. The planning report/draft environmental impact statement is scheduled for completion in October 1985.

The All-American Canal system, authorized in 1928, conveys water from the Colorado River at Imperial Dam to the Imperial Valley of California. Previous canal relocation studies are described in the June 1980 special study for the Colorado River Basin Salinity Control Project, Title I Division, Reject Stream Replacement Study.

The purpose of the potential project is to conserve water seepage which occurs at an average rate of about 113,000 acre-feet a year from the unlined All-American Canal between Pilot Knob and the East Highline Canal. Most of this seepage would serve municipal and industrial water demands in southern California, reject stream replacement for the Yuma Desalting Plant, and industrial water demands in Imperial County, California.

The environmental impact statement will examine the impacts of project alternatives along the 30 miles of canal between Pilot Knob and Drop No. 4. The Alternatives include: (1) Seepage recovery through pumping ground water from a series of wells located along the canal between the sand hills area and Pilot Knob and discharging the water directly into the canal; (2) relocation of the existing canal and concrete lining from Pilot Knob to Drop No. 4; and (3) no action, the future conditions without the project.

A number of public involvement activities, including a meeting in El Centro, California, were carried out during the Reject Stream Replacement Study. More recently, meetings on All-American Canal lining have been held with Federal, State, and local entities. A public involvement program is being carried out to obtain public input and to keep the public informed about study progress and decisions. In November 1984, a newsletter was mailed to interested entities and individals including environmental groups. Since these activities did not generate public comment and no major opposition is expected, a scoping meeting is not planned. However, public involvement activities will continue to be conducted periodically to respond to any public concerns which may arise.

Comments are invited to assure that all significant impacts are identified and the full range of related issues is discussed in the environmental impact statement. Comments should be sent to: Regional Director, Bureau of Reclamation, Attention: Code LC-760, P.O. Box 427, Boulder City, Nevada 89005.

Please contact Mr. Gary Bryant, telephone (702) 293-8522 or FTS 598-7522, at the same address for additional information concerning the All-American Canal Relocation Project Draft Environmental Impact Statement or for a copy of the newsletter.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Docket No. AB-6 (Sub-249)]

Rail Carriers, Burlington Northern Railroad Co., Inc.; Abandonment in Clatsop County, OR; Findings

The Commission has issued a certificate authorizing Burlington Northern Railroad Company, Inc. to abandon its 2.82-mile rail line between Warrenton (milepost 0.00) and Hammond (milepost 2.81) in Clatsop County, OR. The abandonment certificate will become effective 30 days after this publication unless the Commission also finds that: (1) A financially responsible person has offered financial assistance (through subsidy or purchase) to enable the rail service to be continued; and (2) it is likely that the assistance would fully compensate the railroad.

Any financial assistance offer must be filed with the Commission and the applicant no later than 10 days from publication of this Notice. The following notation shall be typed in bold face on the lower left-hand corner of the envelope containing the offer: "Rail Section, AB–OFA". Any offer previously made must be remade within this 10-day period.

Information and procedures regarding financial assistance for continued rail service are contained in 49 U.S.C. 10905 and 49 CFR Part 1152.

Suspension of Car Hire Updates

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Notice of proposed suspension of annual car-hire updates.

SUMMARY: The Commission proposes to suspend the 1984 update of car hire charges and all subsequent updates pending completion of Ex Parte No. 334 (Sub-No. 6), Review of Car Hire Regulation, subject to the right of affected parties to petition for a future update should circumstances change sufficiently to warrant such action.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Drug Enforcement Administration

[Docket No. 83-37]

Levorphanol; Grant of Registration

On May 10, 1983, Mallinckrodt, Inc., made application to the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) for registration pursuant to 21 U.S.C. 823(a) as a bulk manufacturer of the basic class of the controlled substance known as levorphanol. Levorphanol is a Schedule II controlled substance under the Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C. 801, et seq. As required by 21 CFR 1301.43(a), notice of this filing was duly published in the Federal Register, 48 FR 50806, on November 3, 1983. The notice advised that any registered bulk manufacturer of levorphanol and any other person who then had pending an application for similar registration could file written comments or objections to the granting of Mallinckrodt's application and could request a hearing based on its objections to Mallinckrodt's registration.

By letter dated December 23, 1983, Hoffman-LaRoche, Inc., (Roche) filed objections to Mallinckrodt's application and requested a hearing. Roche is the only entity currently registered by DEA as a bulk manufacturer of levorphanol and therefore, it is entitled to object to the granting of Mallinckrodt's application and to request a hearing on its objections. Accordingly, this matter was placed on the docket of Administrative Law Judge Francis L. Young.

There were four participants or parties in this proceeding: the applicant, Mallinckrodt; the objector or opposer, Roche; the DEA staff; and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice. On February 22, 1984, Roche submitted a Motion for Summary Denial of Mallinckrodt's Application on the ground that Mallinckrodt had no lawful commercial outlet for levorphanol and therefore, to produce the drug in commercial quantities would be inconsistent with the public health and safety as required under the Controlled Substances Act. After considering Roche's Motion and the written responses of both Mallinckrodt and DEA counsel the Administrative Law Judge concluded that genuine issues of material fact did exist. Accordingly, by order dated March 12, 1984, Judge Young denied Roche's Motion for Summary Denial of Mallinckrodt's Application.

Initially, in its request for a hearing, Roche stated eight issues or objections to Mallinckrodt's proposed registration as a bulk manufacturer of levorphanol. Subsequently, in a paper filed on March 16, 1984, Roche undertook to withdraw all of its objections except for the first one. The other parties objected to this withdrawal. After receiving memoranda from the other parties, the Administrative Law Judge ruled that Roche's objections two through eight would be considered withdrawn, such withdrawal to be with prejudice as to conditions extant in 1984. The proceeding then continuned with respect to the one remaining issue raised by Roche: "Whether it is consistent with the public interest to register Mallinckrodt as a bulk manufacturer of levorphanol when Mallinckrodt has no legitimate medical, scientific, research or industrial outlets for the substance."

The testimony of four witnesses on direct examination was prepared and submitted in written narrative form, under oath. A number of documents were also submitted by the parties. Thereafter, a one-day evidentiary hearing session was held before Judge Young on May 15, 1984, in Washington, D.C., to provide an opportunity for cross-examination of the witnesses. Counsel for Mallinckrodt, Roche and the DEA staff then submitted proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law and written arguments or briefs in support of their respective positions.

On December 7, 1984, the Administrative Law Judge issued his opinion and recommended ruling, findings of fact, conclusions of law and decision in this matter. Both Mallinckrodt and Roche filed written exceptions to that document pursuant to 21 CFR 1316.66. These written exceptions and responses were made part of the formal record. The entire record was certified to the Administrator by the Administrative Law Judge on January 14, 1985 pursuant to 21 CFR 1316.65. The Acting Administrator has considered this record in its entirety and, pursuant to 21 CFR 1316.67, hereby issues his final order in this matter, based upon findings of fact and conclusions of law as hereinafter set forth.

The Administrative Law Judge found that only Roche has an approved New Drug Application (NDA) from the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for levorphanol at the present time. No other pharmaceutical company can lawfully purchase bulk levorphanol, process it into dosage forms and ship it in interstate commerce without first obtaining an NDA of its own.

Roxane Laboratories, Inc. (Roxane) wants to produce dosage form levorphanol, but at this point does not have an approved NDA for such production. Roxane asserts that it must expend approximately $50,000 or $60,000 to prepare itself for producing dosage form levorphanol. It claims that it is unwilling to go to this expense unless it is reasonably certain that it will be able to obtain the bulk levorphanol it will require.

The Administrative Law Judge noted that Roxane first approached Roche in an effort to obtain bulk levorphanol. Roche manufactures levorphanol in bulk form and also markets this drug in dosage form. If Roche were to sell some of its bulk product to Roxane, Roche would be supplying a potential competitor at the dosage-formulator level. Indeed, Roche refused to sell levorphanol to Roxane. Roxane then approached Mallinckrodt which is a bulk manufacturer of many controlled substances. Although Mallinckrodt does not presently manufacture levorphanol, it has the capability to do so, and has asserted that it will do so if it is granted DEA registration.

Section 823 of Title 21, United States Code, provides that the Administrator of DEA, "shall register an applicant to manufacture controlled substances in Schedule I or II if he determines that such registration is consistent with the public interest. . . ." It further provides, that in determining the public interest, one of the enumerated factors to be considered is, "such other factors as may be relevant to and consistent with the public health and safety." Roche asserts that Mallinckrodt's registration as a bulk manufacturer of levorphanol is inconsistent with the public interest in that Mallinckrodt has no legitimate outlet, i.e., no customer possessing its own approved NDA, for such levorphanol as it might produce once it is registered. Since there is no such legitimate outlet, Roche argues that the challenged registration would be inconsistent with "the public health and safety," because Mallinckrodt's registration would either: (1) Encourage production which could not be used legally by any drug formulator, or (2) result in the registration of a company that has no legitimate need for the substance it is registered to produce—a meaningless regulatory act.

Roche has the burden to establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that any issue or objection it raised should bar Mallinckrodt's application. 21 CFR 1301.55(a); McNeilab, Inc. Docket No. 78–13, 46 FR 22089 (1981); Olin Construction Co. v. OSHRC, 525 F.2d 464, 467 (2d Cir. 1975). The Administrator Law Judge found that Roche did not meet this burden. The position of Mallinckrodt and Roxane is wholly reasonable. The mere fact that Mallinckrodt will have no customer for its bulk product as of the time it is registered to produce it, is not a reasonable ground for denying the registration. Mallinckrodt is an established pharmaceutical manufacturer. There is no evidence in the record that Mallinckrodt has failed in the past to give DEA complete cooperation in complying with controls imposed to prevent diversion of controlled substances. No cause is shown for assuming that Mallinckrodt will not conduct itself in an ethical and lawful manner if the registration is granted.

Roche suggested that a researcher registration would be more appropriate than bulk manufacturer registration. Judge Young concluded that Roche did not introduce sufficient evidence to establish that a researcher registration for Mallinckrodt would be more likely to preserve the "public health and safety" than a bulk manufacturer registration.

Roche asserts that Mallinckrodt's application should be denied because neither Mallinckrodt, nor its potential customer, Roxane, have obtained an approved NDA for levorphanol-containing products from the FDA. Roche states that such approval is a prerequisite to the introduction of a drug product into interstate commerce and should also be considered a prerequisite to registration of a manufacturer under the Controlled Substances Act. Judge Young again concluded that Roche did not meet its burden of proof. It did not produce sufficient evidence to establish that Roxane's present lack of an approved NDA in this instance is likely to be detrimental to the "public health and safety."

Section 303(a) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 823(a)) does not require that an applicant or its potential customer possess an approved NDA from FDA as a condition precedent to registration by DEA. There is no DEA regulation which requires an applicant to hold an approved NDA as prerequisite to registration. M.D. Pharmaceutical, Inc., [No Docket number], 42 FR 25389 (1977); MBH Chemical Corp., Docket Nos. 73–17, 73–18, 39 FR 12364 (1974).

Based on the foregoing reasons, the Administrative Law Judge recommended that Mallinckrodt's application be granted. After reviewing the entire record, including the exceptions filed by Mallinckrodt and by Roche, the Acting Administrator adopts the recommended ruling, findings of fact, conclusions of law and decision of the Administrative Law Judge in their entirety.

The objections to the granting of Mallinckrodt's application raised by Roche based upon the premise that the application is contrary to the public interest have been considered by the Acting Administrator and rejected. Accordingly, the Acting Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration pursuant to the authority vested in him by 21 U.S.C. 823 and 28 CFR 0.100(b) hereby orders that the application of Mallinckrodt, Inc. to be registered as a bulk manufacturer of levorphanol under the Controlled Substance Act be, and it hereby is granted.

Dated: April 19, 1985.

Acting Administrator.

NATIONAL FOUNDATION ON THE ARTS AND THE HUMANITIES

Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities; Arts and Artifacts Indemnity Panel; Advisory Committee; Meeting

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92–463, as amended), notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Arts and Artifacts Indemnity Panel of the Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities will be held at 1100 Pensylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20506 in Room M–14, from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., on May 23, 1985.

The purpose of the meeting is to review applications for certificates of indemnity submitted to the Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities for exhibits beginning after July 1, 1985.

Because the proposed meeting will consider commercial and financial data and because it is important to keep values of objects, methods of transportation and security methods confidential, pursuant to the authority granted me by the Chairman's Delegation of Authority to Close Advisory Committee Meetings, dated April 16, 1978, I have determined that the meeting would fall within exemptions (4) and (9) of 5 U.S.C. 552(b) and that it is essential to close the meeting to protect the free exchange of internal views and to avoid interference with the operation of the Committee.

It is suggested that those desiring more specific information contact the Advisory Committee Management Officer, Stephen J. McCleary, 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20506, or call 202/786–1322.

Humanities Panel Meetings

AGENCY: National Endowment for the Humanities.

ACTION: Notice of meetings.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92–463, as amended), notice is hereby given that the following meetings of the Humanities Panel will be held at the Old Post Office, 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20506:

Date: April 29–30, 1985
Time: 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Room: 415

Program: This meeting will review applications submitted for the Humanities Projects in Media, Division of General Programs, for projects beginning after October 1, 1985.

Date: May 2–3, 1985
Time: 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Room: 415

Program: This meeting will review applications submitted for the Humanities Projects in Media, Division of General Programs, for projects beginning after October 1, 1985.

The proposed meetings are for the purpose of panel review, discussion, evaluation and recommendation on applications for financial assistance under the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965, as amended, including discussion of information given in confidence to the agency by grant applicants. Because the proposed meetings will consider information that is likely to disclose: (1) Trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person and privileged or confidential; (2) information of a personal nature the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy; and (3) information the disclosure of which would significantly frustrate implementation of proposed agency action; pursuant to authority granted me by the Chairman's Delegation of Authority to Close Advisory Committee Meetings, dated January 15, 1978, I have determined that these meetings will be closed to the public pursuant to subsections (c)(4), (6) and (9)(B) of section 552b of Title 5, United States Code. These are not regularly scheduled panel meetings but panel meetings convened to review applications for which review was anticipated. In light of the unexpected nature of these panel meetings, the National Endownment for the Humanities is unable to provide the notice within the time required.

Further information about these meetings can be obtained from Mr. Stephen J. McCleary, Advisory Committee Management Officer, National Endownment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C. 20506, or call (202) 786–0322.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 50–414]

Duke Power Co. et al., (Catawba Nuclear Station, Unit 2); Exemption

I

On July 24, 1972, Duke Power Company tendered an application for licenses to construct Catawba Nuclear Station, Units 1 and 2 (Catawba or the facility) with the Atomic Energy Commission (currently the Nuclear Regulatory Commission or the Commission). Following a public hearing before the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board, the Commission issued Construction Permit Nos. CPPR–116 and CPPR–117 permitting the construction of Units 1 and 2, respectively, on August 7, 1975. Each unit of the facility is a pressurized water reactor, containing a Westinghouse Electric Company nuclear steam supply system, located in York County, South Carolina.

On March 21, 1979, Duke Power Company tendered an application for operating licenses for each unit of the facility. On January 17, 1985, the Director of the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation issued a full power license for Catawba Unit 1. Catawba Unit 2 remains in the licensing review process.

By letters dated May 15, 1978, and April 8, 1981, Duke Power Company transmitted two applications for amendment to Construction Permit No. CPPR–117 to add respectively North Carolina Municipal Power Agency No. 1 (NCMPA–1) and Piedmont Municipal Power Agency (PMPA) as co-owners of Catawba Unit 2. By letters dated October 19, 1978, and November 24, 1981, the staff has amended CPPR–117 to reflect the two changes in ownership.

II

The Construction Permit issued for constructing the facility provides, in pertinent part, that the facility is subject to all rules, regulations and orders of the Commission. This includes General Design Criterion (GDC) 4 of Appendix A to 10 CFR Part 50. GDC 4 requires that structures, systems and components important to safety shall be designed to accommodate the effects of, and to be compatible with, the environmental conditions associated with the normal operation, maintenance, testing and postulated accidents, including loss-of-coolant accidents. These structures, systems and components shall be appropriately protected against dynamic effects, including the effects of missiles, pipe whipping, discharging fluids that may result from equipment failures, and from events and conditions outside the nuclear power unit.

In a submittal dated December 20, 1983, the applicants enclosed Westinghouse Report MT–SME–3166 (Reference 1) containing the technical basis for their request to: (1) Eliminate the need to postulate circumferential and longitudinal pipe breaks in the RCS primary loop (hot leg, cold leg, and cross-over leg piping); (2) eliminate the need for associated pipe whip restraints in the RCS primary loop and eliminate the requirement to design for the structural effects associated with RCS primary loop pipe breaks including jet impingement; and (3) eliminate the need to consider dynamic effects and loading conditions associated with previously postulated primary loop pipe breaks. These effects include blowdown loads, jet impingement loads, and reactor cavity and subcompartment pressurization. Attachment 3 to the December 20, 1983, submittal identified the primary loop break locations and the erection status of the associated pipe whip restraints. By letter dated February 14, 1985, the applicants updated the installation status for those restraints. Furthermore, by letter (from W.H. Owen, Duke, to H.R. Denton, NRC) dated April 17, 1985, the applicants withdrew that portion of the December 20, 1983, exemption request that related to the leak-before-break effects on reactor cavity and subcompartment pressurization. Also, by the same letter the applicants requested that a partial exemption to GDC–4 be granted for the first two cycles of operation.

The applicants also stated in their submittals that employment of the leak-before-break concept would not eliminate pipe breaks in the RCS primary loop as a design basis for the following: (1) Containment design; (2) sizing of Emergency Core Cooling System; (3) environmental qualification of equipment; and (4) supports for heavy components.

Based on its review of the applicants' December 20, 1983, submittal, the NRC staff requested additional information and provided comments on the reports (References 1 and 9) which were transmitted to the applicants in the form of questions by NRC letter dated April 10, 1984 (Reference 2).

By a submittal dated May 11, 1984, the applicants responded to the staff's questions, providing a new report identified as Westinghouse Report WCAP–10546 (Reference 3). In the same submittal, the applicants requested an exemption from a portion of the requirements of GDC 4 of Appendix A to 10 CFR Part 50.

By letter dated September 14, 1984, the applicants submitted an analysis of the occupational radiation dose reduction which, together with the information contained in the December 20, 1983, and May 11, 1984, submittals, constituted the value-impact analysis for Catawba Unit 2. The technical information contained in references 1 and 3, together with the value-impact analysis, provided a comprehensive justification for requesting a partial exemption from the requirements of GDC 4.

From the deterministic fracture mechanics analysis contained in the technical information furnished, the applicants contend that the postulated double-ended guillotine breaks (DEGB) of the primary loop coolant piping in Catawba Unit 2 will not occur and, therefore, need not be considered as a design basis for installing protective devices, such as pipe whip restraints and jet impingement shields, to guard against the dynamic effects associated with such postulated breaks. No other changes in design requirements are addressed within the scope of the referenced reports; e.g., no changes to the definition of a LOCA nor its relationship to the regulations addressing design requirements for ECCS (10 CFR 50.46), containment (GDC 16, 50), other engineered safety features and the conditions for environmental qualification of equipment (10 CFR 50.49).

The Commission's regulations require that applicants provide protective measures ". . . against dynamic effects, including the effects of missiles, pipe whipping, and discharged fluids, that may result from equipment failures and from events and conditions outside the nuclear power unit." (GDC 4) Protective measures include physical isolation from postulated pipe rupture locations if feasible or the installation of pipe whip restraints, jet impingement shields or compartments. In 1975, concerns arose as to the asymmetric loads on pressurized water reactor (PWR) vessels and their internals which could result from these large postulated breaks at discrete locations in the main primary coolant loop piping. This led to the establishment of Unresolved Safety Issue (USI) A–2, "Asymmetric Blowdown Loads on PWR Primary Systems."

The NRC staff, after several review meeting with the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards (ACRS) and a meeting with the NRC Committee to Review Generic Requirements (CRGR), concluded that an exemption from the regulations would be acceptable as an alternative for resolution of USI A–2 for sixteen facilities owned by eleven licensees in the Westinghouse Owners' Group (one of these facilities, Fort Calhoun has a Combustion Engineering nuclear steam supply system). This NRC staff position was stated in Generic Letter 84–04, published on February 1, 1984 (Reference 4). The generic letter states that the affected licensees must justify an exemption to GDC 4 on a plant-specific basis. Other PWR applicants or licensees may request similar exemptions from the requirements of GDC 4 provided that they submit an acceptable technical basis for eliminating the need to postulate pipe breaks.

The acceptance of an exemption was made possible by the development of advanced fracture mechanics technology. These advanced fracture mechanics techniques deal with relatively small flaws in piping components (either postulated or real) and examine their behavior under various pipe loads. The objective is to demonstrate by deterministic analyses that the detection of small flaws by either inservice inspection of leakage monitoring systems is assured long before the flaws can grow to critical or unstable sizes which could lead to large break areas such as the DEGB or its equivalent. The concept underlying such analyses is referred to as "leak-before-break" (LBB). There is no implication that piping failures cannot occur, but rather that improved knowledge of the failure modes of piping systems and the application of appropriate remedial measures, if indicated, can reduce the probability of catastrophic failure to insignificant values.

Advanced fracture mechanics technology was applied in topical reports (References 5, 6 and 7) submitted to the staff by Westinghouse on behalf of the licensees belonging to the USI A–2 Owners Group. Although the topical reports were intended to resolve the issue of asymmetric blowdown loads that resulted from a limited number of discrete break locations, the technology advanced in these topical reports demonstrated that the probability of breaks occurring in the primary coolant system main loop piping is sufficiently low such that these breaks need not be considered as a design basis for requiring installation of pipe whip restraints or jet impingement shields. The staff's Topical Report Evaluation is included as Enclosure 1 to Reference 4.

Probabilistic fracture mechanics studies conducted by the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratories (LLNL) on both Westinghouse and Combustion Engineering nuclear steam supply system main loop piping (Reference 8) confirm that both the probability of leakage (e.g., undetected flaw growth through the pipe wall by fatigue) and the probability of a DEGB are very low. The results given in Reference 8 are that the best-estimate leak probabilities for Westinghouse nuclear steam supply system main loop piping range from 1.2×10^{-8} to 1.5×10^{-7} per plant year and the best-estimate DEGB probabilities range from 1×10^{-12} to 7×10^{-12} per plant year. Similarly, the best-estimate leak probabilities for Combustion Engineering nuclear steam supply system main loop piping range from 1×10^{-8} per plant year to 3×10^{-6} per plant year, and the best-estimate DEGB probabilities range from 5×10^{-14} to 5×10^{-13} per plant year. These results do not affect core melt probabilities in any significant way.

During the past few years it has also become apparent that the requirement for installation of large, massive pipe whip restraints and jet impingement shields is not necessarily the most cost effective way to achieve the desired level of safety, as indicated in Enclosure 2, Regulatory Analysis, to Reference 4. Even for new plants, these devices tend to restrict access for future inservice inspection of piping; or if they are removed and reinstalled for inspection, there is a potential risk of damaging the piping and other safety-related components in this process. If installed in operating plants, high occupational radiation exposure (ORE) would be incurred while public risk reduction would be very low. Removal and reinstallation for inservice inspection also entail significant ORE over the life of a plant.

IV

The primary coolant system of Catawba, Unit 2, described in Reference 3, has four main loops each comprising a 33.9 inch diameter hot leg, a 36.2 inch diameter crossover leg and 32.14 inch diameter cold leg piping. The material in the primary loop piping is cast stainless steel (SA 351 CF8A). In its review of Reference 3, the staff evaluated the Westinghouse analyses with regard to:

—the location of maximum stresses in the piping, associated with the combined loads from normal operation and the SSE;
—potential cracking mechanisms;
—size of through-wall cracks that would leak a detectable amount under normal loads and pressure;
—stability of a "leakage-size crack" under normal plus SSE loads and the expected margin in terms of load; —margin based on crack size; and —the fracture toughness properties of thermally-aged cast stainless steel piping and weld material.

The NRC staff's criteria for evaluation of the above parameters are delineated in its Topical Report Evaluation, Enclosure 1 to Reference 4, Section 4.1, "NRC Evaluation Criteria", and are as follows:

(1) The loading conditions should include the static forces and moments (pressure, deadweight and thermal expansion) due to normal operation, and the forces and moments associated with the safe shutdown earthquake (SSE). These forces and moments should be located where the highest stresses, coincident with the poorest material properties, and induced for base materials, weldments and safe-ends.

(2) For the piping run/systems under evaluation, all pertinent information which demonstrates that degradation or failure of the piping resulting from stress corrosion cracking, fatigue or water hammer is not likely, should be provided. Relevant operating history should be cited, which includes system operational procedures; system or component modification; water chemistry parameters, limits and controls; resistance of material to various forms of stress corrosion, and performance under cyclic loadings.

(3) A through-wall crack should be postulated at the highest stressed locations determined from (1) above. The size of the crack should be large enough so that the leakage is assured of detection with adequate margin using the minimum installed leak detection capability when the pipe is subjected to normal operational loads.

(4) It should be demonstrated that the postulated leakage crack is stable under normal plus SSE loads for long periods of time; that is, crack growth, if any, is minimal during an earthquake. The margin, in terms of applied loads, should be determined by a crack stability analysis, i.e., that the leakage-size crack will not experience unstable crack growth even if larger loads (larger than design loads) are applied. This analysis should demonstrate that crack growth is stable and the final crack size is limited, such that a double-ended pipe break will not occur.

(5) The crack size margin should be determined by comparing the leakage-size crack to critical-size cracks. Under normal plus SSE loads, it should be demonstrated that there is adequate margin between the leakage-size crack and the cirtical-size crack to account for the uncertainties inherent in the analyses, and leakage detection capability. A limit-load analysis may suffice for this purpose, however, on elastic-plastic fracture mechanic (tearing instability) analysis is preferable.

(6) The materials data provided should include types of materials and materials specifications used for base metal, weldments and safe-ends, the materials properties including the J–R curve used in the analyses, and long-term effects such as thermal aging and other limitations to valid data (e.g. J maximum crack growth)

V

Based on its evaluation of the analysis contained in Westinghouse Report WCAP–10546 (Reference 3), the staff finds that the applicants have presented an acceptable technical justification, addressing the above criteria, for not installing protective devices to deal with the dynamic effects of large pipe ruptures in the main loop primary coolant system piping of Catawba, Unit 2. This finding is predicated on the fact that each of the parameters evaluated for Catawba Unit 2 is enveloped by the generic analysis performed by Westinghouse in Reference 5, and accepted by the staff in Enclosure 1 to Reference 4. Specifically:

(1) Although the moment associated with the highest stressed location in the main loop primary system piping (which for Catawba Unit 2 occurs in cross over leg piping) is lower than the bounding moment used by Westinghouse in Reference (5) for the hot leg piping, it is slightly higher than established by the staff as a limit (i.e., a moment of 42,000 in-kips in Enclosure 1 to Reference 4). However, this is compensated for in that the pipe diameter and thickness are larger than those analyzed by Westinghouse and the staff for the reference case. Thus, the resultant net stresses are within the bounds established by the staff in Enclosure 1 to Reference (4). The Catawba loads are 1,864 kips (axial) and 43,407 in-kips (bending moment).

(2) For Westinghouse plants, there is no history of cracking failure in reactor primary coolant system loop piping. The Westinghouse reactor coolant system primary loop has an operating history which demonstrates its inherent stability. This includes a low susceptibility to cracking failure from the effects of corrosion (e.g., intergranular stress corrosion cracking), water hammer, or fatigue (low and high cycle). This operating history totals over 400 reactor-years, including five (5) plants each having 15 years of operation and 15 other plants with over 10 years of operation.

(3) The results of the leak rate calculations performed for Catawba, using an initial through-wall crack of 7.5 inches are identical to those of Enclosure 1 to Reference (4). The Catawba plant has an RCS pressure boundary leak detection system which is consistent with the guidelines of Regulatory Guide 1.45, and it can detect leakage of one (1) gpm within one hour. The calculated leak rate through the postulated flaw is at least 10 gpm. Therefore, the Catawba plant leak detection system is capable of detecting leaks one-tenth that of the calculated leak rate.

(4) The margin in terms of load for Catawba Unit 2, based on fracture mechanics analyses for the leakage-size crack under normal plus SSE loads, is within the bounds calculated by the staff in Section 4.2.3 of Enclosure 1 to Reference 4. Based on a limit-load analysis, the load margin is about 2.4 and based on the J limit discussed in (6) below, the margin is at least 1.3.

(5) The margin between the leakage-size crack and the critical-size crack was calculated by a limit-load analysis. Again, the result demonstrated that a margin of at least 3 of crack size exists and is within the bounds of Section 4.2.3 of Enclosure 1 to Reference (4).

(6) As an integral part of its review, the staff's evaluation of the material properties data of Reference (9) is enclosed as Appendix I to this Safety Evaluation Report. In Reference 9, data for ten (10) plants, including the Catawba Units, are presented, and lower bound or "worst case" materials properties were identified and used in the analysis performed in the Reference (3) report by Westinghouse. The applied J for Catawba in Reference (3) was less than 3000 in-lb/in ^{2} and, hence, the staff's upper bound on the applied J (refer to Appendix I, page 6) was not exceeded.

In view of the analytical results presented in Reference 3 and the staff's evaluation findings related above, the staff concludes that the probability or likelihood of large pipe breaks occurring in the primary coolant system loop of Catawba Unit 2 is sufficiently low such that protective devices associated with postulated pipe breaks at the eight (8) locations per loop in Catawba Unit 2 primary coolant system (as specified in the applicants' submittals of December 20, 1983, and May 11, 1984) need not be installed. However, in order to provide the Commission with an opportunity to consider the long term aspects of the NRC staff's recent acceptance criteria of the "leak-before-break" approach, this exemption is limited to a period extending until the completion of the second refueling outage of Catawba Unit 2, pending the outcome of Commission rulemaking on this issue.

The applicant's request does not affect the design bases for the containment, the emergency core cooling system, the environmental qualification for equipment for Catawba Unit 2, or the supports for heavy equipment, and does not propose to the alter the design basis of reactor cavity and subcompartment pressurization from that originally performed which was based on a limited displacement DEGB. The staff agrees that this schedular exemption does not affect these matters.

The staff also reviewed the value-impact analysis provided by the applicants in their December 20, 1983, May 11, and September 14, 1984, submittals for not providing protective devices against postulated reactor coolant system loop pipe breaks to assure as low as reasonably achievable (ALARA) exposure to plant personnel. Consideration was given to design features for reducing doses to personnel who must operate, service and maintain the Catawba Unit 2 instrumentation, controls, equipment, etc. The Catawba Unit 2 value-impact analysis shows that the elimination of protective devices for RCS pipe breaks will save an occupational dose for plant personnel of approximately 600 person-rem for Catawba Unit 2 over its operating lifetime. The staff review of the analysis shows it to be a reasonable estimate of dose savings. Therefore, with respect to occupational exposure, the staff finds that there is a radiological benefit to be gained by eliminating the need for the protective structures.

VI

In view of the staff's evaluation findings, conclusions, and recommendations above, the Commission has determined that, pursuant to 10 CFR 50.12(a), the following exemption is authorized by law and will not endanger life or property or the common defense and security, and is otherwise in the public interest. The Commission hereby approves the limited schedular exemption from GDC 4 of Appendix A to 10 CFR Part 50, to permit the applicants not to install protective devices and not to consider dynamic effects and loading conditions as detailed in Part II of this exemption associated with postulated pipe breaks of the eight (8) locations per loop in the Catawba Unit 2 primary coolant system, for a period ending at the completion of the second refueling outage, pending the outcome of rulemaking on this subject.

Pursuant to 10 CFR 51.32, the Commission has determined that the issuance of the Exemption will have no significant impact on the environment (50 FR 15802).

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 23rd day of April 1985.

This Exemption will become effective upon date of issuance.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Appendix I—Evaluation of Westinghouse Report WCAP 10456, "The Effects of Thermal Aging on the Structural Integrity of Cast Stainless Steel Piping for Westinghouse Nuclear Steam Supply Systems"

Introduction

The primary coolant piping in some Westinghouse Nuclear Steam Supply System (NSSS) contain cast stainless steel base metal and weld metal. The base metal and weld metal are fabricated to produce a duplex structure of delta (δ) ferrite in an austenitic matrix. The duplex structure produces a material that has a higher yield strength, improved weldability and greater resistance to intergranular stress corrosion cracking than a single phase austenitic material. However, as early as 1965 (Ref. 1), it was recognized that long time thermal aging at primary loop water temperature (550 °F–650 °F) could significantly affect the Charpy impact toughness of the duplex structured alloys. Since the Charpy impact test is a measure of a material's resistance to fracture, a loss in Charpy impact toughness could result in reduced structural stability in the piping system.

The purpose of Report WCAP 10456 is to evaluate whether cast stainless steel base metal and weld metal containing postulated cracks will be sensitive to unstable fracture during the 40 year life of a nuclear power plant. In order to determine whether a piping system will behave in such a fashion, the pipe materials' mechanical properties, design criteria and method of predicting failure must be established. In this evaluation, we will assess the mechanical properties of thermally aged cast stainless steel pipe materials, which are reported in Report WCAP 10456.

Discussion

1. Weld Metal

Report WCAP 10456 refers to test results reported in a paper by Slama, et. al. (Ref. 2) to conclude that the weld metal in primary loop piping would not be overly sensitive to aging and that the aged cast pipe base metal material would be structurally limiting. In the Slama report eight (8) welds were evaluated. The tensile properties were only slightly affected by aging. The Charpy U-notch impact energy in the most highly sensitive weld decreased from 7daJ/cm² (40 ft-lbs) to near 4daJ/cm² (24 ft-lbs) after aging for 10,000 hours at 400 °C (752 °F). This change was not considered significant. The relatively small effect of aging on the weld, as compared to cast pipe material was reported to be casued by a difference in microstructure and lower levels of ferrite in the weld than in the cast pipe material.

2. Cast Stainless Steel Pipe Base Metal

Report WCAP 10456 contains mechanical property test results from a number of heats of aged cast stainless steel material and a metallurgical study, which was performed by Westinghouse, to support a statistically based model for predicting the effect of thermal aging on the Charpy impact test properties of cast stainless steel. As a result of these tests and the proposed model, Westinghouse concludes that the fracture toughness test results from one heat of material tested represents end-of-life conditions for the ten (10) plants surveyed. The ten (10) plants surveyed are identified as Plants A through J.

a. Mechanical Property Test Results Reported in WCAP 10456. Mechanical property test results on aged and unaged cast stainless steel materials which were reported in a paper by Landerman and Bamford (Ref. 3), Bamford, Landerman and Diaz (Ref. 4), Slama et. al. (Ref. 2) were discussed in Report 10456. In addition, Westinghouse performed confirmatory Charpy V notch and J-integral tests on aged cast stainless material, which was tested and evaluated by Slama et. al.

The results of these tests indicate that:

(1) The fatigue crack growth rate of aged or unaged material in air and pressurized water reactor environments were equivalent.

(2) Tensile properties were essentially unaffected except for a slight increase in tensile strength and a decrease in ductility.

(3) J-integral test results indicate that the J_{IC} and tearing modulus, T, are affected by aging.

b. Mechanism Study in WCAP 10456. The tests and literature survey conducted by Westinghouse indicate that the proposed mechanism of aging occurs in the range of operating temperatures for pressurized water reactors and the data from accelerated aging studies can be used to predict the behavior at operating temperatures.

c. Cast Stainless Steel Pipe Test. The materials data discussed in the previous section of this evaluation were obtained from small specimens. As a consequence, the J–R results are limited to relatively short crack extensions. To investigate the behavior of cast stainless steel in actual piping geometry, Westinghouse performed two experiments, one of which was with thermally aged cast stainless steel and the other test was identical except that the steel was not thermally aged.

Each pipe tested contained a throughwall circumferential crack to the extent specified in WCAP 10456. The pipe sections were closed at the ends, pressurized to nominal PWR operating pressure and then bending loads were applied.

The results of the tests were very similar, in that both pipes displayed extensive ductility, and stable crack extension. There was no observed unstable crack extension or fast fracture.

The results of the Westinghouse pipe experiments indicate that cast stainless steel, both aged and unaged, can withstand crack extensions will beyond the range of the J–R results with small specimens. However, if crack extension is predicted in an actual application of thermally aged cast stainless steel in a piping system, we believe that it is prudent to limit the applied J to 3000 in-lbs/in ^{2} or less unless further studies and/or experiments demonstrate that higher values are tolerable. Loss of initial toughness due to thermal aging of cast stainless steels at normal nuclear facility operating temperatures occurs slowly over the course of many years; therefore, continuing study of the aging phenomenon may lead to a relaxation of this position. Conversely, in the unlikely event that the total loss of toughness and the rate of toughness loss are greater than those projected in this evaluation, the staff will take appropriate action to limit the values to that which can be justified by experimental data. Because the aging is a slow process, the staff believes there would be sufficient time for the staff to recognize the problem and to rectify the situation. However, the staff believes this situation is highly unlikely because the staff has accepted only the lower bounds of data that were gathered among ten plants encompassing the range of materials in use.

d. Effects of Thermal Aging on Westinghouse Supplied Centrifugally Cast Reactor Coolant Piping Reported in WCAP 10456. The reactor collant cast stainless steel piping materials in the plants identified in WCAP 10456 as A through J, were produced to the specification SA–351, Class CF8A as outlined in ASME Code Section II, Part A and also to Westinghouse Equipment Specification G–678864, as revised. For these materials, Westinghouse has calculated the predicted end-of-life Charpy U-notch properties,based on their proposed model. The two (2) standard deviation end-of-life lower limit value for all the plants surveyed was greater than the Charpy U notch properties of the aged reference materials, which Westinghouse indicates represents end-of-life properties for all the plants. As a result, Westinghouse concluded that the amount of embrittlement in the aged reference material exceed the amount projected at end-of-life for all cast stainless steel pipe materials in Plants A through J.

Conclusions

Based on our review of the information and data contained in Westinghouse Report WCAP 10456, we conclude that:

1. Weld metal that is used in cast stainless steel piping system is initially less fracture resistant than the cast stainless steel base metal. However, the weld metal is less susceptible to thermal aging than the cast stainless steel base metal. Hence, at end-of-life the cast stainless steel base metal is anticipated to be the least fracture resistant material.

2. The Westinghouse proposed model may be used to predict the relative amount of embrittlement on a head of cast stainless steel material. The two standard deviation lower confidence limit for this model will provide a useful engineering estimate of the predicted end-of-life Charpy impact properties for cast stainless steel base metal.

3. Since there is considerable scatter in J–integral test data for the heats of material tested, lower bound values for J_{Ic} and T should be used as engineering estimates for the fracture resistance of the aged reference material. We believe these values should also provide a lower bound for the fracture resistance of aged and unaged weld metal. If crack extension is predicted in an actual application of cast stainless steel in a piping system, we conclude that the applied J should be limited to 3000 in-lbs/in ^{2} or less unless further studies and tests demonstrate that higher values are tolerable. The Westinghouse pipe tests demonstrate that this may be possible.

4. Since the predicted end-of-life Charpy impact values for the materials in Plants A through J are greater than the value measured for the aged reference material, the lower bound fracture properties for aged reference material may be used to determine the fracture resistance for the cast stainless steel material in Plants A through J.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

CoElco, Ltd.; Order of Suspension of Trading

April 23, 1985.

It appears to the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") that CoElco, Ltd. ("CoElco") has filed a Form 10 registration statement which inadequately and inaccurately represents, among other things, CoElco's assets, its financial condition and its transactions with affiliated companies and that CoElco has disseminated to the marketplace financial statements which inadequately and inaccurately represent, among other things, CoElco's assets, its financial condition, its transactions with affiliated companies, and the preparation and certification of the statements, the Commission is of the opinion that the public interest and the protection of investors require summary suspension of trading in the securities of CoElco.

Therefore, it is ordered pursuant to section 12(k) of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, that over-the-counter trading of the securities of CoElco be suspended for the ten-day period beginning at 2:00 p.m. on April 23, 1985 and terminating at midnight on May 2, 1985.

By the Commission.

Indiana & Michigan Electric Co.; Notice of Proposed Sale of Electric Utility Assets

April 22, 1985.

Indiana & Michigan Electric Company ("I&M"), One Summit Square, P.O. Box 60, Fort Wayne, Indiana 48801, an electric utility subsidiary of American Electric Power Company, Inc., a registered holding company, has filed a declaration with this Commission pursuant to section 12(d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") and Rule 44 promulgated thereunder.

I&M proposes to sell to the City of Mishawaka, Indiana, certain electrical distribution facilities located in the service territory of the City of Mishawaka, for a total price of $341,969 to be paid in cash. The replacement cost, less observed depreciation, for the equipment is $341,969. The facilities involved are installed in place in the City of Mishawaka; are presently employed by I&M for providing service to customers whose service will be transferred to the City of Mishawaka pursuant to an order of the Public Service Commission of Indiana dated August 18, 1983, regarding the assignment of electrical service territories in the State of Indiana; and are not adaptable, at that location, for use in serving any other customers of I&M.

The declaration and any amendments thereto are available for public inspection through the Commission's Office of Public Reference. Interested persons wishing to comment or request a hearing should submit their views in writing by May 20, 1985, to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549, and serve a copy on the declarant at the address specified above. Proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. Any request for a hearing shall identify specifically the issues of fact or law that are disputed. A person who so requests will be notified of any hearing, if ordered, and will receive a copy of any notice or order issued in this matter. After said date, the declaration, as filed or as it may be amended, may be permitted to become effective.

Middle South Energy, Inc.; Supplemental Notice of Proposed Short-Term Borrowing

Middle South Energy, Inc. ("MSE"), 225 Baronne Street, New Orleans, Louisiana 70112, a special purpose subsidiary of Middle South Utilities, Inc., a registered holding company, has filed a post-effective amendment to its declaration in this proceeding with this Commission under sections 6(a) and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") and Rule 50(a)(2) under the Act.

By order dated November 4, 1983, MSE was authorized to issue and sell its unsecured promissory notes or other evidences of indebtedness ("notes") to various commercial banks in an amount not to exceed $225 million outstanding at any one time through May 1, 1985. The notes would mature within 12 months of issuance, be renewable upon approval by the bank, and be prepayable without penalty at the option of MSE. The interest rate for each borrowing would be set by negotiation and be either a fixed or variable rate. MSE may be required to maintain compensating balances not expected to exceed 10% of any borrowing. In no event would the total borrowing cost per annum, including the effective cost of compensating balances and any fees, exceed 200 basis points over the prevailing New York prime rate at the time of borrowing.

MSE does not expect that the outstanding amount of notes will at any time exceed 5% of its total capitalization, including long-term debt, common stock and retained earnings. Net proceeds from the sale of the notes will be used to fund MSE's construction program and for other corporate purposes, including repayment of other indebtedness.

By this post-effective amendment, MSE proposes to extend the period to May 1, 1987 during which MSE may issue and sell notes pursuant to the terms of the original authorization and to increase the maximum which may be sold to $300 million. MSE continues to expect that the outstanding amount of notes will not at any time exceed 5% of its total capitalization, including long-term debt, common stock and retained earnings and, in addition, any preferred stock outstanding during this period.

The amended declaration and any amendments thereto are available for public inspection through the Commission's Office of Public Reference. Interested persons wishing to comment or request a hearing should submit their views in writing by May 13, 1985 to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549, and serve a copy on the declarant at the address specified above. Proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. Any request for a hearing shall identify specifically the issues of fact or law that are disputed. A person who so requests will be notified of any hearing, if ordered, and will receive a copy of any notice or order issued in this matter. After said date, the amended declaration, as filed or as it may be further amended, may be permitted to become effective.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management, pursuant to delegated authority.

Secretary.

Southeastern Growth Fund, Inc.; Notice of Application for Exemptive Order Permitting Imposition and Waiver of Contingent Deferred Sales Charge

April 22, 1985.

Notice is hereby given that Southeastern Growth Fund, Inc. ("Applicant"), 707 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia 23219, an open-end, diversified management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act"), filed an application on March 13, 1985, and amendments thereto on March 29 and April 9, 1985, for a Commission order, pursuant to section 6(c) of the Act, exempting Applicant from the provisions of sections 2(a)(32), 2(a)(35), 22(c) and 22(d) of the Act and Rule 22c-1 thereunder to permit Applicant to assess (and waive in certain cases) a contingent deferred sales charge on redemptions of its shares. All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a statement of the representations contained therein, which are summarized below, and to the Act and the rules thereunder for the text of the applicable provisions.

According to the application, Wheat Investment Advisors, Inc. (the "Adviser"), a Virginia corporation wholly-owned by WFS Financial Corporation ("WFS"), will serve as Applicant's investment adviser. It is further stated that Wheat, First Securities, Inc. (the "Distributor"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of WFS, will serve as Applicant's distributor.

Applicant proposes to deduct a contingent deferred sales charge from the proceeds of certain redemptions of its shares. The contingent deferred sales charge would be imposed if an investor redeems an amount which causes the value of the investor's account with Applicant to fall below the total dollar amount of purchase payments made by the investor during the preceding five years. Applicant represents that no contingent deferred sales charge would be imposed to the extent that the net asset value of Applicant's shares redeemed does not exceed (1) the net asset value of shares purchased more than five years prior to the redemption, plus (2) the current net asset value of shares purchased through reinvestment of dividends or capital gains distributions, plus (3) increases in the net asset value of the investor's shares above the total amount of payments for the purchase of Applicant's shares made during the preceding five years. Applicant proposes to waive the contingent deferred sales charge on redemptions made in connection with: (a) The death or disability of a shareholder, (b) certain distributions from Individual Retirement Accounts or other qualified retirement plans, (c) distributions from pension or profit sharing plans sponsored by WFS, and (d) distributions from any pension, profit sharing or similar employee benefit plan for which the Adviser or any of its affiliates serves as investment adviser or is otherwise a fiduciary respecting the plan.

Applicant represents that, in determining the applicability of a contingent deferred sales charge to each redemption, the amount which represents an increase in the net asset value of the investor's shares within the last five years will first be redeemed. In the event the redemption amount exceeds such increase in value, the next portion of the amount redeemed will represent the net asset value of the investor's shares purchased more than five years prior to the redemption and/or shares purchased through reinvestment of dividends or distributions. Any portion of the amount redeemed which exceeds both such increase in value and the value of shares purchased through reinvestment of dividends or distributions will be subject to a contingent deferred sales charge.

Applicant states that, where a contingent deferred sales charge is imposed, the amount of the charge will depend on the number of years since the investor made the purchase payment comprising the source of the redemption. During the first year after purchase, the charge would be five percent of the amount redeemed. Thereafter, the charge would decrease one percent annually until the expiration of five years, at which time no charge would be imposed.

Applicant states that the amount of the contingent deferred sales charge (if any) is calculated by determining the date on which the relevant purchase payment was made and applying the appropriate percentage to the amount of the redemption subject to the charge. In determining the rate of any applicable deferred sales charge, Applicant will assume that the investor is redeeming shares held for the longest period within five years preceding the redemption.

Applicant will reimburse the Distributor for its expenses in offering Applicant's shares according to a distribution plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b–1 under the Act which generally permits investment companies to finance their own distribution expenses. Applicant states that the proposed distribution fee will accrue daily and be paid monthly at the annual rate of one percent of Applicant's average daily net assets. The Distributor also will receive the proceeds of the contingent deferred sales charge imposed upon redemptions of Applicant's shares. Applicant represents, however, that the amount of such contingent deferred sales charge will never exceed five percent of the aggregate purchase payments made by the investor.

Applicant requests an exemption from section 2(a)(32) of the Act which defines "redeemable security" to the extent necessary to permit Applicant to continue to qualify as an open-end company under section 5(a)(1) of the Act. Applicant asserts that imposition of a contingent deferred sales charge in no way restricts a shareholder from receiving a proportionate share of a fund's current net assets, but merely defers deduction of the sales charge and makes it contingent upon an event which may never occur.

Applicant further requests an exemption from sections 2(a)(35) and 22(c) of the Act and Rule 22c–1 thereunder to permit implementation of the contingent deferred sales charge. Applicant submits that the proposed charge is consistent with the intent of the definition of sales charge contained in the Act and that the deferral of the charge and its contingency upon an event which might not occur does not change the nature of the charge. Applicant further submits that when a redemption of its shares is effected, the price of the shares will be based on their current net asset value. The contingent deferred sales charge will merely be deducted from redemption proceeds in arriving at the shareholder's net proceeds payable at the time of redemption.

Applicant also requests an exemption from section 22(d) of the Act to permit it to waive the contingent deferred sales charge under the circumstances described above. Applicant submits that the proposed waiver of the charge will not harm Applicant or its remaining shareholders or unfairly discriminate among shareholders or purchasers. Applicant further intends to fully disclose the waiver provisions in its prospectus.

Notice is further given that any interested person wishing to request a hearing on the application may, not later than May 17, 1985, at 5:30 p.m., do so by submitting a written request setting forth the nature of his interest, the reasons for his request, and the specific issues, if any, of fact or law that are disputed, to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of the request should be served personally or by mail upon Applicant at the address stated above. Proof of service (by affidavit or, in the case of an attorney-at-law, by certificate) shall be filed with the request. After said date, an order disposing of the application will be issued unless the Commission orders a hearing upon request or upon its own motion.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management, pursuant to delegated authority.

Secretary.

Application and Opportunity for Hearing; Sears Mortgage Securities Corp.

April 19, 1985.

Notice is hereby given that Sears Mortgage Securities Corporation ("Applicant") has filed an application pursuant to section 12(h) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, (the "1934 Act") for an order exempting Applicant from certain reporting requirements under section 13 and the operation of section 16 of the 1934 Act.

For a detailed statement of the information presented, all persons are referred to the application which is on file at the offices of the Commission in the Public Reference Room, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549.

Notice is further given that any interested person not later than May 14, 1985, may submit to the Commission in writing his views or any substantial facts bearing on the application or the desirability of a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549, and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting the hearing, the reason for such request, and the issues of fact and law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponement thereof. At any time after that date, an order granting the application may be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporation Finance, pursuant to delegated authority.

[Release No. IC–14479; File No. 812–5895]

Application and Opportunity for Hearing; The Union Central Life Insurance Co. et al.

April 22, 1985.

Notice is hereby given that The Union Central Life Insurance Company ("the Company"), Carillon Account ("Account"), and Carillon Investments, Inc. (collectively, "Applicants"), P.O. Box 179, Cincinnati, Ohio, filed an application on July 11, 1984, and amendments thereto on February 5 and March 29, 1985, for an order pursuant to section 6(c) of the Act granting exemptions from the provisions of sections 26(a) and 27(c)(2) of the Act to the extent necessary to permit the transactions described in the application. All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a statement of the representations contained therein, which are summarized below, and are referred to the Act for a statement of the relevant provisions.

The Company is a mutual life insurance company organized under the laws of the State of Ohio and is licensed to do business in all states and the District of Columbia. Applicants state that the Company is the sponsor-depositor for the Account, which is a segregated investment "separate account" of the Company established in connection with the proposed issuance of certain flexible premium individual deferred variable annuity contracts ("Contracts"). The Account is registered under the Act as a unit investment trust.

Applicants state that Carillon Investments, Inc., a registered broker-dealer, is the principal underwriter of the Contracts and investment adviser of Carillon Fund (the "Fund"), the underlying investment vehicle for the Account. Net payments made on the contract will be allocated to one or more of the Account subdivisions that invest solely in the shares of a particular portfolio of the Fund. The Fund is registered under the Act as an open-end, diversified management investment company of the series type and currently consists of three portfolios.

According to the application, the Company does impose an initial sales charge on purchase payments. If a Contract is partially or totally surrendered during the first eight years, however, a contingent deferred sales load is deducted as a means for the Company to recover its sales expense. The sales load is assessed as a percentage of the amount withdrawn, and decreases from 7% in the first two contract years to zero at the end of the eighth year. Applicants represent that the surrender charge was designed to produce sufficient revenue to cover distribution expenses. They state, however, that any deficiency will be met from the Company's general corporate funds, which includes amounts derived from the mortality and expense risk charge. Applicants state that for assuming mortality and expense risks described in the application (including the risk that the surrender charges will be insufficient to cover distribution expenses), the Company will make a daily charge of 1.20% on an annual basis of the value of the Account's assets which will be added to the Company's general funds. The charge is allocable 0.80% for mortality risks and 0.40% for expense risks and Applicants state that the Company currently expects a profit from this charge.

According to the application, there is currently a $10 transaction charge for each transfer between the subdivisions which may be increased to a maximum of $15 based on increases in expected costs. Applicants state there is a two part administration fee guaranteed for the life of the contract which is designed to reimburse the Company for actual expenses, without profit. The first, is an annual fee of $30 deducted from the Contract value; the second part is a daily deduction from the Contract value at an annual rate of 0.25%. Finally, certain premium taxes are deducted from the Contract value when incurred.

Requested Relief

Applicants request relief from sections 26(a) and 27(c)(2) to the extent necessary to permit (1) the Company to enter into a custodial agreement with a bank under which shares of the Fund will be held under an open account arrangement without the use of stock certificates; and (2) the deduction of the mortality and expense risk charge at the rate of 1.20% annually.

With respect to (1) above, Applicants represent that Union Central is subject to extensive supervision and control by state insurance regulatory officials, that the custodian bank will have the qualifications prescribed by section 26(a)(1) of the Act, and the Fund will provide the Company with a written verification of each purchase or redemption transaction and will provide the custodian with a written confirmation of each transaction. Applicants argue that, for these reasons, the assets will be protected and requiring the issuance of fund certificates would impose an unnecessary administrative burden.

With respect to (2) above, Applicants assert that the mortality and expense risk charge meets the standard set forth in section 6(c) because it is reasonable as determined by industry practice with respect to comparable annuity products. The Company states that this representation is based upon an analysis of publicly available information about similar industry products, taking into consideration such factors as current charge levels and the existence of expense guarantees and guaranteed annuity rates, and that the analysis has been supplied by an outside expert consultant employed by the Company for the purpose of designing variable annuity products and assisting in developing necessary administrative systems for variable annuity contracts. The Company represents that as a further condition for this relief, it will maintain at it Home Office and available to the Commission, a memorandum which identifies the products analyzed and the methodology used to support this representation.

With respect to (2) above, the Company also represents that its has concluded there is a reasonable likelihood that the use of the asset charge for distribution expenses has a reasonable likelihood of benefiting the Account and the contract-owners. As a further condition of relief, Applicants represent that a memorandum setting forth the basis for this representation will be maintained at the Company's Home Office and available to the Commission. Applicants also represent that as a condition of this relief, the Account will invest only in funds which undertake to have a board of directors with a disinterested majority formulate and approve any plan pursuant to Rule 12b–1 under the Act to finance distribution expenses.

Notice is further given that any interested person wishing to request a hearing on the application may, not later than May 14, 1985, at 5:30 p.m., do so by submitting a written request setting forth the nature of his interests, the reasons for his request, and the specific issues, if any, of fact or law that are disputed, to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of the request should be served personally or by mail upon the Applicants at the address stated above. Proof of service (by affidavit or, in the case of an attorney-at-law, by certificate) shall be filed with the request. After said date an order disposing of the application will be issued unless the Commission orders a hearing upon request or upon its own motion.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management, pursuant to delegated authority.

Secretary.

[Release No. 34-21975; SR-NYSE-85-4]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; New York Stock Exchange, Inc.; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change

April 23, 1985.

The New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE") submitted on February 26, 1985, copies of a proposed rule change pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act") and Rule 19b-4 thereunder, that would authorize a six-month pilot program to determine the feasibility of formally amending NYSE Rule 64, and NYSE policies thereunder,[1] in order to provide for alternative settlement periods, where both parties to a transaction agree to such alternative periods. The NYSE has indicated in its filing that it intends to initiate the pilot program by testing next day settlement but may also determine during the pilot program to test two, three and four day (T+2, T+3, T+4) settlement as well. The NYSE states in its filing that its members have requested certain alternative settlement periods and that, in particular, they have requested a one-day settlement period.[2] The NYSE further states in its filing that several regional exchanges currently permit settlement on a one day basis.[3]

Notice of the proposed rule change together with the terms of substance of the proposed rule change was given by the issuance of a Commission Release (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 21836, March 11, 1985) and by publication in the Federal Register (50 FR 11472, March 21, 1985). No comments have been received with respect to the proposed rule change.

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange and, in particular, the requirements of sections 6(b)(5) in that the proposed rule change fosters cooperation and coordination among persons engaged in setting and facilitating securities transactions.

[1] NYSE Rule 64, captioned "Bonds, Rights and 100-Share-Unit Stocks," deals with settlement periods.

[2] The NYSE states in its filing that currently, under its Rule 64, only three settlement periods are available: (1) "Cash" or same day settlement, (2) "regular way" or settlement on the fifth business day after a transaction, and (3) "seller's option" providing for settlement in six to 60 business days after a transaction.

[3] The Commission notes that some regional excnanges, by rule or practice, do permit one day settlement, at least under certain circumstances. See, e.g., Pacific Stock Exchange, Inc., Rule 1, section 13(a), paragraph 4.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change referenced above be, and it hereby is, approved.[4]

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation pursuant to delegated authority.

John Wheeler,

Secretary.

[4] The Commission expects that the NYSE will monitor trade volume for transactions settled within alternative settlement periods during the pilot program, and that it will continue to review precedures under the pilot and to respond to concerns expressed by member firms in connection with alternative settlement periods.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Coast Guard

[CGD 85-032]

Bridges, Proposed Construction; South Litchfield Beach, Georgetown County, SC

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of Public Hearing.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the Commandant has authorized a public hearing to be held by the Commander, Seventh Coast Guard District, at Pawleys Island, South Carolina. The purpose of the hearing is to consider the application by Trippsco Inc., for Coast Guard approval of location and plans of a proposed fixed highway bridge across Midway Creek (also known as Clubhouse Creek) from the mainland to South Litchfield Beach, Georgetown County, South Carolina.

All interested persons may present data, views and comments, orally or in writing, concerning the impact of the proposed bridge on navigation and the human environment. Of particular concern at this time are the effects that a fixed bridge with a vertical clearance of 8 feet above mean high water would have on navigation. Comments that the proposed clearance is inadequate should, if possible, recommend a specific minimum vertical clearance and include appropriate justification. Desirable information would include: Description of vessel, owner's name and address, height of highest fixed point above the waterline (exclusive of appurtenances unessential to navigation or easily lowered), mooring location, and frequency of operation upon the waterway.

DATE: May 30, 1985 commencing at 7:00 p.m. unitl all speakers in attendance wishing to comment have provided comments.

ADDRESS: The hearing will be held at Waccamaw School, Shell Road, Pawleys Island, South Carolina.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Gary D. Pruitt, Bridge Administration Specialist, Seventh Coast Guard District, 51 SW. First Avenue, Miami, Florida 33130, (305) 350–4103.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The proposed bridge would be approximately 1183 feet in length and 30 feet in width and would provide navigation with a minimum vertical clearance of 8 feet above mean high water and 10.8 feet above mean low water with a horizontal clearance of 28 feet between pile caps normal to the axis of the waterway. The reason for the proposed bridge under consideration is to provide access to the proposed Cape Litchfield Development at South Litchfield Beach. Part of the proposed residential development will be located in the designated Coastal Barrier Resource area. The entire area to be developed will be located within the base 100-year flood plain. The Coast Guard as lead federal agency has determined that the project is a major federal action for the purposes of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

Written comments on this proposal were previously solicited by Public Notice 13–85 issued by the Commander, Seventh Coast Guard District, on March 5, 1985.

The hearing will be informal. A Coast Guard representative will preside at the hearing, make a brief opening statement describing the proposed bridge project, and announce the procedures to be followed at the hearing. Each person who wishes to make an oral statement should notify the Commander (oan), Seventh Coast Guard District, at the above address by May 24, 1985. Such notification should include the approximate time required to make the presentation. It may be necessary to limit the time available to individual speakers in order to provide all commenters the opportunity to speak. Speakers are encouraged to provide written copies of their oral statements to the hearing officer. A transcript will be made of the hearing and may be purchased or reviewed by the public in the Seventh Coast Guard District office approximately 30 days after the hearing date.

Interested persons who are unable to attend the hearing may also participate in the consideration of this bridge permit application by submitting their comments at the hearing, or by July 1, 1985. Each written comment should identify the proposed project, clearly state the reasons for any objections, comments or proposed changes to the plans, and include the name and address of the person or organization submitting the comment. Copies of all written communications will be available for examination by interested persons at the office of the Commander (oan), Seventh Coast Guard District, between 7:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays.

All comments received, whether in writing or presented orally at the public hearing, will be considered before final agency action is taken on the proposed bridge permit application. After the time set for the submission of comments, the Commander (oan), Seventh Coast Guard District, will evaluate all comments resulting from the hearing and the previous public notice to determine a vertical clearance to provide for the reasonable needs of navigation. If its is determined that a greater vertical clearance is necessary, the applicant will be invited to sumbit revised plans with the requisite clearance. In such event, a new public notice will be issued inviting public comment on the proposed higher bridge.

Bridges; Proposed Construction; Oak Island Canal, Charleston, County, SC

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of public hearing.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the Commandant has authroized a public hearing to be held by the Commander, Seventh Coast Guard District, at James Island, South Carolina. The purpose of the hearing is to consider the application by Coggins Investment and Trading Company for Coast Guard approval of location and plans of a proposed fixed highway bridge across Oak Island Canal, Long Island Drive near Folly Beach, Charleston County, South Carolina.

All interested persons may present data, views and comments, orally or in writing, concerning the impact of the proposed bridge on navigation and the human environment. Of particular concern at this time are the effects that a fixed bridge with a vertical clearance of 14.2 feet above mean high water would have on navigation. Comments that the proposed clearance is inadequate should, if possible, recommend a specific minimum vertical clearance and include appropriate justification. Desirable information would includes: Description of vessel, owner's name and address, height of highest fixed point above the waterline (exclusive of appurtenances unessential to navigation or easily lowered), mooring location, and frequency of operation upon the waterway.

DATE: May 31, 1985 commencing at 7:00 p.m. until all speakers in attendance wishing to comment have provided comments.

ADDRESS: The hearing will be held at Ft. Johnson Middle School, 1825 Camp Road, James Island, South Carolina.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Gary D. Pruitt, Bridge Administration Specialist, Seventh Coast Guard District, 51 S.W. First Avenue, Miami, Florida 33130, (305) 350–4103.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The proposed bridge would be approximately 160 feet in length and 12 feet in width and would provide navigation with a minimum vertical clearance of 14.2 feet above mean high water and 19.4 feet above mean low water with a horizontal clearance of 30 feet between pile caps normal to the axis of the waterway. The Coast Guard as lead federal agency has determined that the project is a major federal action for the purposes of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

Written comments on this proposal were previously solicited by Public Notice 8–85 issued by the Commander, Seventh Coast Guard District, on February 5, 1985.

The hearing will be informal. A Coast Guard representative will preside at the hearing, make a brief opening statement describing the proposed bridge project, and announce the procedures to be followed at the hearing. Each person who wishes to make an oral statement should notify the Commander (oan), Seventh Coast Guard District at the above address by May 24, 1985. Such notification should include the approximate time requried to make the presentation.

Introduction to the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

REGULATORY INFORMATION SERVICE CENTER

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Regulatory Information Service Center.

ACTION: Introduction to the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: Executive Order 12291 (Federal Regulation) and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 605) require that agencies publish semiannual regulatory agendas describing regulatory actions they are developing. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin 85-6 (December 13, 1984) requires that each agency agenda include, at a minimum, specific types of information for each entry, and that all agendas be published together in a uniform format as a Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

The following Parts in this issue of the Federal Register are the agency agendas, which together comprise the April 1985 edition of the semiannual Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

ADDRESS: Regulatory Information Service Center, Room 5216, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information about specific regulatory projects, please refer to the Agency Contact listed for each entry. About the Unified Agenda

The Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations is compiled by the Regulatory Information Service Center for the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget. The Center provides information about federal regulatory activity to the President and his Executive Office, the Congress, agency managers, and the public. The Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs is responsible for overseeing the Federal Government's regulatory, paperwork, and information-management activities and for implementing President Reagan's Executive Orders 12291 (Federal Regulation) and 12498 (Regulatory Planning). Under EO 12498, OMB will publish the Administration's Regulatory Program that will state the Administration's overall regulatory policies, and describe in more detail the most significant regulatory actions planned by 17 Federal agencies during the coming year.

Many of the regulatory actions that will be described in the Administration's Regulatory Program are included in this Agenda. Because OMB will publish the Regulatory Program at a later date, that publication may contain revised information concerning the continuance or modification of regulatory activities described in this edition of the Agenda.

This edition of the Unified Agenda includes 56 regulatory agendas from all Federal departments, agencies, and commissions that publish agendas. Agencies of the United States Congress are not included. The Unified Agenda provides uniform reporting of data on regulatory activities under development throughout the Federal Government.

The Unified Agenda is produced through a computer system designed by the Center with the advice and assistance of the Government Printing Office. The system was designed to save agencies time and money by automating the preparation and printing of their agendas in a uniform format and to make the Agenda easier to use. In the future, the system may provide computer-generated indices and appendices of the information in the Agenda. For now, the Center provides for those agencies that request it a computer-produced Table of Contents that appears after the preamble of the agency's Agenda and includes Agenda Sequence Numbers. These numbers also appear before the title of the regulation in the Agenda. The Tables of Contents help readers locate quickly those entries that may be of most interest to them.

All agendas contain uniform data elements--regulation title, agency contact, small business effects, CFR citation, legal authority, abstract, and timetable. Agencies also include any additional information they consider important. If any of the data elements is not included, the agency either did not report the information or may provide an explanation in its preamble. For further information, please contact the individual agency.

The Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations is published in April and October of each year. We welcome comments on this edition and suggestions for improving future ones.

DATED: April 1, 1985.

Mark G. Schoenberg,

Executive Director.

How to Use the Unified Agenda

Each agency agenda appears as a separate Part in this edition of the Federal Register. The Parts are organized alphabetically in three groups: cabinet departments, other executive agencies, and independent agencies. Departments are divided into agencies, which may in turn be divided into subagencies.

Each agency begins its agenda with a preamble providing information specific to its agenda. Each agency was asked to list its rules in three groups:

1. Current and Projected Rulemakings--regulations the agency is currently developing or plans to develop during the next 12 months;

2. Existing Regulations Under Review--existing regulations the agency is reviewing to determine whether to propose modifications through rulemaking; and

3. Completed Actions--actions or reviews the agency completed or withdrew since publishing its last agenda. This section also includes items that were begun and completed between issues of the Unified Agenda.

An agency may use a subheading to identify regulations that it has grouped according to a particular topic. When these subheadings are used, they appear above the title of the first regulation in the group.

A dot (●) preceding an entry indicates that the entry appears in its present section of the agenda for the first time.

A number preceding an entry indicates that the agency chose to provide a Table of Contents at the beginning of its agenda. The numbers in the Table of Contents correspond to the numbers preceding the entries. These Agenda Sequence Numbers should help readers easily locate items of most interest to them.

The regulatory activities included in the agency agendas are those currently planned for the next 12 months. The agendas do not include regulations excluded from review under EO 12291 such as military regulations and regulations related to internal agency management.

OMB Bulletin 85-6 states that entries describing regulations under development and review should contain, at a minimum, the following information:

- Title of the Regulation.
- Priority -- the priority status of the entry. Priority entries include:
  a. Any regulations designated for priority development or review by the agency;
  b. All regulations designated as "major" under Section 1(b) of Executive Order 12291; and
  c. All regulations that were designated for review by the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief.

Each entry for a priority action indicates which of the above criteria were used in determining its priority status. The priority heading appears only if the agency has designated the entry as a priority action.

Under EO 12291, a major rule is any regulation that is likely to result in:

a. An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more;
b. A major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; or
c. Significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

- Legal Authority -- the section(s) of the United States Code (USC) or Public Law (PL) or the Executive Order that authorize(s) the regulatory action (agencies may provide common name references to laws in addition to USC or PL references).
- CFR Citation -- the section(s) of the Code of Federal Regulations which affect or will be affected by the action.
- Abstract -- a description of the problem the regulation will address; to the extent available, the alternatives that the agency is considering to address the problem; and the potential costs and benefits of the action.
- Timetable -- the dates and citations (if available) for all past stages and at least the next future stage of rulemaking. If a date appears in this section as 00/00/00, it means the date of the action is presently undetermined. Similarly, 10/00/85 means the agency can predict the month and year the action will take place, but not the date it will occur.
- Effects on Small Businesses and Other Small Entities -- indicates whether the rule is expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities" as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601(6)).
- Agency Contact -- the name, title, address, and phone number of a person in the agency who is knowledgeable about the regulation.

Some agencies have provided other optional information at their discretion.

Data Limitations

Agencies prepared entries for this edition of the Unified Agenda to give the public notice of their plans to review, propose, and issue regulations. They have tried to predict their activities over the next 12 months as accurately as possible, but dates and schedules are subject to change. Agencies may withdraw some of the regulations now under development, and they may issue or propose other regulations not included in their agendas. Agency actions in the rulemaking process may occur before or after the dates they have listed. The Agenda does not create a legal obligation on agencies to adhere to schedules within it or to confine their regulatory activities to those regulations that appear in it. The information in this edition is accurate as of February 27, 1985, in the judgment of the submitting agencies, except as otherwise noted in individual agency preambles.

List of Abbreviations

The following abbreviations appear throughout this edition of the Agenda:

ANPRM -- An Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is a preliminary notice that an agency is considering a regulatory action. The agency issues an ANPRM before it develops a detailed proposed rule, describing the general area that may be subject to regulation and asking for public comment on the issues and options being discussed. An ANPRM is issued only when an agency believes it needs to gather more information before proceeding to a formal regulatory proposal.

CFR -- The Code of Federal Regulations is an annual codification of the general and permanent regulations published in the Federal Register by the departments and agencies of the Federal Government. The Code is divided into 50 titles and each title covers a broad area of Federal regulatory law. The CFR is keyed to and kept up-to-date by the daily issues of the Federal Register.

EO -- An Executive Order is a directive from the President to an executive agency, issued under Constitutional or statutory authority. Executive Orders are published in the Federal Register and in Title 3 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

FR -- The Federal Register is a daily Federal Government publication that provides a uniform system for publishing Presidential documents, all proposed and final regulations, notices of meetings, and other official documents required by statute to be published.

FY -- The Federal fiscal year runs from October 1 to September 30.

NPRM -- A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is the document an agency issues and publishes in the Federal Register that describes and solicits public comments on a proposed regulatory action. Under the Administrative Procedure Act, an NPRM must include, at a minimum:

- A statement of the time, place, and nature of the public rulemaking proceeding;
- A reference to the legal authority under which the rule is proposed; and
- Either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved.

PL -- A Public Law is a law passed by Congress and signed by the President or enacted over his veto. It has general applicability, as opposed to a private law that applies only to those persons or entities specifically designated. Public laws are numbered in sequence throughout the two-year life of each Congress; for example, PL 97-17 would be the seventeenth public law of the 97th Congress.

RFA -- A Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (RFA) describes the impact of a proposed rule on small entities, as required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601). An RFA describes why the agency is considering the action; the objectives of and legal basis for the proposed rule; an estimate of the number of small entities that could be affected and the compliance requirements they would have to fulfill; any other duplicative, overlapping, or conflicting Federal rules; and alternatives to the proposed action. When required, an initial RFA accompanies an NPRM and a final RFA accompanies a final rule.

RIA -- A Regulatory Impact Analysis is required by EO 12291 for all major rules and other regulations designated by the Office of Management and Budget. An RIA is prepared to determine whether a proposed regulatory action meets the requirements of Section 2 of EO 12291, namely that it:

- Be based on adequate information concerning the need for and consequences of the action;
- Not be undertaken unless the potential benefits outweigh the potential costs to society;
- Maximize net benefits to society;
- Entail the least net cost to society of the alternatives considered; and
- Take into account the condition of particular affected industries, the national economy, and contemplated future regulatory actions.

RIN -- The Regulatory Information Service Center assigns a Regulation Identifier Number to identify each regulatory action listed in the Agenda.

USC -- The United States Code is a consolidation and codification of all general and permanent laws of the United States. The USC is divided into 50 titles and each title covers a broad area of Federal law.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda: Spring 1985

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, USDA.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: This Agenda provides summary descriptions of major and non-major regulations being developed in agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture in conformance with Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulation. The agenda also describes regulations affecting small entities as required by section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354.

USDA has attempted to list all regulations and regulatory reviews pending at the time of publication except for minor and routine or repetitive actions, but some may have been inadvertently missed. There is no legal significance to the omission of an item from this listing. Also, the dates shown for the steps of each action are estimated and are not commitments to act on or by the date shown.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information on any specific entry shown in this agenda, please contact the person listed for that action.

Requests for copies of the Agenda should include a self-addressed, stamped envelope and be directed to: Regulatory Agenda, OBPA, Office of the Secretary, Room 148-E, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, (202) 382-1270.

DATED: March 11, 1985.

John R. Block,

Secretary.

32. 1985 SUGAR BEET AND SUGARCANE LOAN RATES

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1446(h); Agricultural Act of 1949, Sec 201(h)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1435.110 et seq

Abstract: The objective of this action is to determine and announce the price support loan rates for the 1985 crops of sugar beets and sugarcane. The determination of these loan rates is required by the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended. Establishment of the price for raw sugar at 18.00 cents per pound or above is being considered. Establishing raw cane sugar above 18.00 cents per pound could cost consumers and cause the Commodity Credit Corporation to receive sugar by forfeiture. The loan rate for refined beet sugar is to be established at such level which is determined to be fair and reasonable in relation to the loan rate established for raw cane sugar. (ASCS 84-040)

34. ● 1985-86 MILK PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAM (EFFECTIVE 10/1/85)

Legal Authority: The Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1430

Abstract: The Agricultural Act of 1949 (the Act), as amended, requires that the price support for milk shall be carried out through purchase of milk or milk products. The Act requires that the price of milk to producers be supported at such level between 75 and 90 percent of parity as would assure an adequate supply of milk, reflect changes in the cost of production, and assure a level of farm income to maintain productive capacity sufficient to meet future needs.

In the absence of new legislation, the minimum price support level on October 1, 1985, would revert to 75 percent of parity. (ASCS 85-009)

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: To minimize recurring surpluses and shortages of wheat in interstate and foreign commerce; to provide for the maintenance of adequate reserve supplies; to provide for an adequate and orderly flow of wheat and its products in interstate and foreign commerce at prices fair and reasonable to farmers and consumers; and to prevent acreage diverted from the production of wheat from adversely affecting other commodities in interstate and foreign commerce.

The provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended by the Agriculture and Food Act of 1981, expire with the 1985 crop of wheat. Without new legislation, program authority for the 1986 crop of wheat reverts to permanent legislation. Under this authority, the Secretary must determine whether marketing quotas are necessary, proclaim a national acreage allotment, conduct a referendum of farmers and determine commercial wheat producing areas. 53. ● GENERAL REGULATIONS GOVERNING 1982 THROUGH 1985 CROP PEANUT WAREHOUSE LOANS AND HANDLER OPERATIONS (AMENDMENT 4)

Legal Authority: PL 79-78; 7 USC 1359; 7 USC 1423; 7 USC 1427; 7 USC 1445c-1

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1446

Abstract: This action is needed to prevent damage to the peanut price support program. The objective of this action is to prevent the use of 1985-crop contract additional peanuts in the domestic market. The following changes are proposed: (1) Apply a lien against peanuts involved in penalties and against subsequent crops when there are unpaid penalties against handlers of additional peanuts; (2) require a letter of credit on all contract additional peanuts to assure they will be crushed or exported and, if exported, will not be re-entered in the U.S. market; (3) clarify penalties applied to handlers failing to comply with regulations; and (4) make other minor changes to clarify regulations applicable to contract additional peanuts. Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 150dd to ff; 7 USC 159; 7 USC 162

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 319.56

Abstract: An increased number of exotic pests have been introduced recently into the United States. Some of these pests may have arrived on importations of fruits and vegetables. Since these pests are capable of causing extensive economic damage, Plant Protection and Quarantine (PPQ) is considering the development of an improved system for determining the entry status of agricultural products, particularly fruits and vegetables. 58. REVISION OF FMHA INSTRUCTION 1944-A, "SECTION 502 RURAL HOUSING LOAN POLICIES, PROCEDURES AND AUTHORIZATIONS," TO IMPLEMENT THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE RURAL HOUSING AMENDMENTS OF 1983

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1471 et seq

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1924; 7 CFR 1944

Abstract: The need for Government action is mandated by changes in the Agency's authorizing statute requiring corresponding changes in the FmHA rural housing program. The objectives of the action are: (1) allow extension of terms for applicants for initial loans with incomes of not more than 60 percent of median income for up to 38 years if needed for repayment ability; (2) give priority to applicants with the greatest need for housing because of their low income and inadequate dwellings, and to those applicants who will reside in areas which are the most rural in character; (3) implement Section 502 loans to purchase mobile/manufactured homes and sites, and certain allowable expenses for transportation and set-up. Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1989

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1980

Abstract: The general objective of the proposed action is to integrate Government and Private Sector resources in a continual effort to resolve financial difficulties in agriculture.

The specific objective of the proposed action is to provide nongovernmental lenders with a means to continue to provide credit to their farm borrowers who do not now have adequate security and/or repayment ability. The farm operation must be characterized as a family-size farm for eligibility purposes. (FmHA 84-014)

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1981(d); 7 USC 1989

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1951

Abstract: The need for government action is the distressed financial situation of some FmHA borrowers. The objectives of this action are to (1) alleviate somewhat the distressed financial situation of some FmHA borrowers and (2) provide FmHA borrowers with the opportunity to make critical decisions on disposition of the current crop income and to develop plans for continuing their farming operation. Abstract: The rule reorganizes existing regulatory provisions for clarity and ease of reference. This rule outlines the responsibilities of the Food and Nutrition Service and State agencies concerning the distribution of USDA-donated foods acquired under various legislative authorities. The rule prescribes the terms and conditions under which donated foods may be obtained through State distributing agencies for use in schools, child care institutions, nonprofit summer camps for children, charitable institutions, nutrition programs for the elderly, and otherwise in the assistance of needy persons. 75. FOOD DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM ON INDIAN RESERVATIONS

Legal Authority: 7 USC 2013

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 253

Abstract: The rule reorganizes existing regulatory provisions for clarity and ease of reference. This rule describes the terms and conditions under which (1) USDA-donated foods (available under 7 CFR 250) may be distributed to households on or near Indian reservations; (2) the program may be administered by capable Indian tribal organizations; and (3) funds may be obtained from USDA for the costs incurred in administering the program. The rule also provides for the concurrent operation of the Food Distribution Program and the Food Stamp Program on Indian reservations when such concurrent operation is requested by an Indian tribal organization. 86. COMPETITIVE FOODS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1779

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 210; 7 CFR 220

Abstract: This rule amends the regulations for the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs which prohibit the sale of foods of minimal nutritional value (carbonated beverages, water ices, chewing gum and certain candies). States and local authorities will continue to be allowed to exceed this minimum Federal restriction. This rule responds to a Court decision that the Department has exceeded its authority in promulgating the "time and place" provision of the 1980 competitive foods rule. (FNS 84-507)

138. ● CASH DOWN PAYMENTS, PERIODIC PAYMENTS FOR NATIONAL FOREST TIMBER CONTRACTS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 618

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 223

Abstract: The objective of the down payment and periodic payment requirements is to discourage speculative bidding on National Forest timber sales. Regulation is required by statute.

An interim policy notice is needed in order to conform to the legislated January 1, 1985, effective date for these actions. Because of the time required to prepare timber sale documents, such as the advertisement, prospectus and sample contract, and because of the 30-day advertisement period for timber sales, it is not possible to include down payment and periodic payment policies in the same manner as the proposed policy for other features of the Act. Abstract: It is SCS policy to make and keep current an inventory of the prime farmland and unique farmland of the nation. This inventory is carried out in cooperation with other federal, state, and local agencies. The objective is to identify the extent and location of important rural lands needed to produce food, feed, fiber, forage, and oilseed crops. (SCS 83-007)

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Commerce.

ACTION: April 1985 regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: In compliance with Executive Order (EO) 12291, entitled "Federal Regulation," and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), the Department of Commerce (DOC) in April and October of each year publishes in the Federal Register an agenda of the regulations that the Department expects to propose or to issue over the next 12 months. In addition, the agenda lists all existing regulations currently under review for possible revision or repeal and all such reviews scheduled to begin over the next 12 months. Finally, the agenda lists all rulemakings and reviews of existing regulations completed since publication of the last agenda. The purpose of the agenda is to provide information to the public on all regulations currently under review, being proposed, or issued by the Department. The agenda is intended to facilitate comments and views by interested members of the public.

DOC's April 1985 regulatory agenda includes all regulatory activities that are expected to be conducted during the period April 1, 1985 through March 31, 1986. Regulatory developments occurring after February 27, 1985 for agenda items will be reported in the next agenda.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Specific: For additional information about a specific regulatory action listed in the agenda, contact the individual identified as the contact person.

General: Comments or inquiries of a general nature about the agenda should be directed to H. Stephen Halloway, Associate General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, Telephone: (202) 377-1328.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On February 17, 1981, President Reagan signed Executive Order 12291. The EO requires all executive agencies to publish semiannually an agenda of those regulations that are under consideration. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin No. 85-6, issued December 13, 1984 establishes guidelines and procedures for the preparation and publication of the April 1985 Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations for all Federal departments and agencies. EO 12291 and the OMB Bulletin require that each agenda report the following information on all regulatory activities being conducted or planned to be conducted by the agency during the twelve- month period succeeding publication: The title of the regulation; the name, title, address and phone number of an agency person who is knowledgeable about the regulation; whether the regulation has or is expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities; the section(s) of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) which affects or will be affected by the action; the section of the United States Code (USC), Public Law (PL), or Executive Order (EO) that authorizes the action; an abstract describing the problem the regulation addresses, alternatives to the regulation being considered, and potential costs and benefits of the action; and a timetable of dates and, if available, Federal Register citations for past and future stages of the action.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act requires agencies to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis (RFA) where there is a positive finding that a rule will have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. EO 12291 requires agencies to prepare a regulatory impact analysis (RIA) for any regulation considered to be a "major rule" as defined in the EO.

The OMB Bulletin also requires that regulations designated for priority development or review by the agency head or the President's Task Force on Regulatory Relief, and regulations which are "major rules" within the meaning of the EO be designated in the agenda as "priority." The Department also designates as "priority" all rules required to be reviewed, revised or issued by a court order. The OMB Bulletin also requires that all regulations issued or withdrawn, and all reviews completed since publication of the preceding agenda, be listed with the following information: the title of the regulation; the name and phone number of the agency contact person; the Federal Register citation of the final action, if available; and the final action taken including the reason therefore.

Explanation of Information Contained in the Agenda

Within the Department, the Office of the Secretary and various operating units may issue regulations. Operating units such as the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), the International Trade Administration (ITA), National Bureau of Standards (NBS) and the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) issue the greatest share of the Department's regulations, while other operating units such as the United States Travel and Tourism Administration currently have no regulations in effect.

A large number of the regulations presented in the agenda deal with fishery management programs of NOAA's National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS). To avoid repetition of programs and definitions, as well as to provide some understanding of the technical and institutional elements of the NMFS programs, a section on "Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries" is provided below.

Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries

The Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976 (16 USC 1801 et seq.) (Act) requires that a preliminary fishery management plan (PMP) be prepared for all fisheries within a fishery conservation zone (FCZ) fished in by foreign fishing nations. The FCZ refers to those waters from the outer edge of the United States territorial sea to a distance of 200 miles. Fishery management plans (FMPs) are to be prepared if those fisheries require conservation and management measures. Although PMPs apply only to foreign fishing, the FMPs regulate both foreign and domestic fishing. When promulgated, the FMPs supersede the PMPs. Under the Act, eight Regional Fishery Management Councils (Councils) prepare FMPs for fisheries within their respective areas. In the development of such plans and their implementing regulations, the Councils are required by law to conduct public hearings on the draft plans and to consider the use of alternative means of regulating.

DOC

The Council process for developing FMPs makes it difficult for NMFS to determine the significance of some regulatory actions under consideration at the time the semiannual regulatory agenda is published. Frequently NMFS does not have specific plan objectives or alternatives for management since the Councils may not have approved or submitted plans to the Secretary of Commerce for review, adoption, and implementation.

Another large number of regulatory actions reported in the agenda are proposed or final Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS), issued by the National Bureau of Standards under Pub. L. 89-306. FIPS consist of standards and guidelines to improve Federal Government use and management of computers and information technology. The standards, while often of great use to industry and the public, apply only to the Federal Government. In developing the standards and guidelines, and in providing technical guidance and coordination to Federal agencies, NBS works closely with private industry standard-setting organizations.

The DOC regulatory agenda follows.

DOC—OS Current and Projected Rulemakings

Legal Authority: 41 USC 251 et seq; PL 98-369; PL 98-577

CFR Citation: 48 CFR 1 to 53

Abstract: The Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) has been amended to incorporate the requirements of Public Law 98-369. Agencies are required to provide necessary implementing regulations which are peculiar to the executive agency. This is accomplished by Commerce through amendments to the existing Commerce Acquisition Regulation (CAR) (48 CFR 13). The provisions of the Public Law are effective April 1, 1985. Public Law 98-577 also requires amendments to the FAR and the CAR. Effective dates of Public Law 98-577 sections vary, but implementing regulations will be prepared by Mar. 1986. Commerce will amend the existing CAR once the amendments to the FAR are available to the public. Specific parts of the FAR requiring agency supplements cannot be readily determined at this time. Periodic updates are anticipated to implement regulatory and new statutory requirements.

5. COMMERCE ACQUISITION REGULATION

Legal Authority: 41 USC 251; EO 12352

CFR Citation: 48 CFR 1 to 53

Abstract: The General Services Administration and the Department of Defense have jointly issued the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) which established uniform policies and procedures for the acquisition of supplies and services by all executive agencies. The FAR replaced the Federal Procurement Regulations (FPR) and the Defense Acquisition Regulation (DAR) and is intended to be a simplified, more understandable and unified version of the FPR and the DAR. The FAR was published September 19, 1983 and is effective April 1, 1984. Executive agencies are expected to implement the FAR by April 1, 1984. Even though agencies are advised to control and limit issuance of supplemental implementing regulations and not repeat, paraphrase or restate FAR material, substantial agency regulations are still anticipated to supplement the FAR which consists of about 2000 pages. The extent of specific FAR parts requiring supplemental agency regulations cannot be readily determined at this time. However, periodic updates are anticipated to implement statutory and regulatory requirements.

6. ● SURVEYS OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE IN SERVICES BETWEEN U.S. AND FOREIGN PERSONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 22 USC 3101 to 3108 International Investment Survey Act of 1976; PL 98-573, Sec 306 Trade and Tarift Act of 1984

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 802, (Revision); 15 CFR 803, (Revision)

Abstract: Action will fill gaps in data on international services transactions so U.S. Government can better assess size and impact of these transactions, more effectively formulate international economic policies and conduct negotiations to reduce the barriers to services trade, improve recording of services transactions in the U.S. balance of payments accounts, and assist U.S. services businesses in identifying and evaluating market opportunities. Annual cost to BEA of conducting surveys will be about $470,000; initial cost to respondents will be about 100,000 manhours, or $2.5 million, at a maximum. Benefits in terms of reduction in barriers to services trade, increased sales of services, and improved balance of payments statistics will far exceed costs.

15. ● BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM - FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE FOR INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL PURPOSES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3211; Department of Commerce Organization Order 10-4, as amended

CFR Citation: 13 CFR 306

Abstract: This rule amends EDA's project financing regulation by increasing EDA's ordinary maximum participation for business loan projects from $10,000 to $20,000 per job created or saved. Findings from EDA and GAO studies indicate that the current average government cost per job saved or created far exceeds the $10,000 limit. An increased limit of $20,000 per job created or saved is consistent with these findings.

17. ADMINISTRATIVE OFFSETS FOR DEBTS OWED THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 2A, (New)

Abstract: The proposed regulation will cover Department procedures for withholding money due individuals and businesses indebted to the Federal Government. Administrative offsets will be used by the Department when debtors have failed to make timely and adequate payments to satisfy such debts. Prior to collecting claims through administrative offset, debtors will be provided under the regulations with a notification of the amount and nature of the claim and the Department's intention to collect the claim through administrative offset, and explanation of the debtor's rights, an opportunity for the debtor to inspect and copy the agency's records relating to the claim, an opportunity for review of the claim by the agency if contested by the debtor, and an opportunity to enter into a written agreement with the agency for repayment of the amount due. These procedures will ensure the effective use of administrative offsets when appropriate, thereby increasing collections of amounts due the Federal Government. The result will be better cash management and a slight reduction in the need of the Federal Government to borrow funds in the capital market.

Abstract: The existing regulations provide procedures for the administrative programs required to carry out the Department's responsibilities for regulating exports of U.S. goods and technology for purposes of national security, foreign policy, and short supply. Review of these regulations to remove artificial barriers to small business exports was initiated by the President's Task Force on Regulatory Relief. Revisions to the regulations will be proposed to improve organization, indexing, simplify language, eliminate unnecessary administrative requirements and obsolete provisions, reduce documentation requirements, review certain policy issues, and lessen the compliance burden. Economic impacts will be reviewed and addressed. A more readable and understandable set of regulations with reduced administrative and documentation requirements will result from these revisions. This should considerably aid small business in making exports.

20. GENERAL REGULATIONS GOVERNING FOREIGN TRADE ZONES IN THE UNITED STATES, WITH RULES OF PROCEDURES

Legal Authority: 19 USC 81a et seq Foreign-Trade Zones Act of 1934

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 400

Abstract: Revision of the regulation is needed to administer the Foreign-Trade Zones Act of 1934, as amended, to provide for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of foreign-trade zones in ports of entry of the United States. At the time the ANPRM was published the emphasis was on changing the rules to provide improved guidance to the public on procedures and criteria followed in making decisions concerning special-purpose subzones and operations detrimental to the public interest. Since that time, it has been decided to propose revisions to the entire 15 CFR 400 in order to update the language and conform it to current CFR format.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 19 USC 1303; 19 USC 1671 et seq

Abstract: Certain unfair trade practices by foreign governments that could be penalized as dumping or subsidization are either not subject to such remedies under the current law or regulations, subject to challenge if penalized, or escape detection by petitioners and the Department. While certain constraints are imposed by the statutes, the relevant Codes, and the effects on U.S. exporters, all possibilities will be examined with a goal of achieving the maximum benefit for U.S. trading interests and amendments to the regulations will be proposed to take care of as much of the problem as possible through the regulatory process.

24. TECHNICAL DATA, PART 379 OF THE EXPORT ADMINISTRATION REGULATIONS

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2401 et seq Export Administration Act of 1979; EO 12002; EO 12214

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 379

Abstract: Existing Part 379 "Technical Data" of the Export Administration Regulations is being revised to put it in a simpler style and to include more specific definitions of various types of technical data: publicly available data, scientific and educational data, critical data, etc. When these revisions are published exporters should be able to determine more easily if and how their particular technical data is controlled. The revised regulation will be easier to read and use, and should result in fewer export license applications returned to exporters for lack of proper information, speedier license approvals, and less paperwork for Office of Export Administration.

25. EXPORT LICENSING GENERAL POLICY, PART 370 OF THE EXPORT ADMINISTRATION REGULATIONS

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2401 et seq Export Administration Act of 1979; EO 12002; EO 12214

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 370

Abstract: Part 370 of the Export Administration Regulations, Export Licensing General Policy, is being revised to simplify its style and organization. This revision will consolidate much general information presently scattered throughout various parts of the regulations. An expanded Glossary of Terms will be included as a supplement to this Part, with concise definitions of many terms exporters feel are ambiguous. A simpler style and more logical organization of this regulation will provide the public with a clearer introduction to the Office of Export Administration and its export control program.

26. EFFECT OF IMPORTED ARTICLES ON THE NATIONAL SECURITY

Legal Authority: 19 USC 1862 Trade Expansion Act of 1962, as amended; 5 USC App. Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1979; EO 12188

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 359

Abstract: Section 359.10(a) of the existing regulation requires that a report of an investigation be organized into several sections containing classified and unclassified information. Paragraph (c) of that section requires that the report (excluding confidential material) be published in the Federal Register. Paragraph (a) will be amended to delete the report organization requirement and paragraph (b) will be amended to permit publication of either the full report or a summary thereof. It is impractical, time consuming, and not cost effective to organize the report, and publish the full report, as now required by the regulation. Section 359.10(c) will also be amended to provide that a copy of the report will be available to the public from the Publications Distribution Office of the Department rather than at ITA's Freedom of Information Records Inspection Facility.

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2401 et seq Export Administration Act of 1979; EO 12002; EO 12214

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 378

Abstract: Part 378 of the Export Administration Regulations, Special Nuclear Controls, was revised in 1980 following a policy review, and we do not anticipate further significant policy changes. However, Part 378 will be further revised to make it clearer, reduce redundancy, and improve organization and readability.

28. REMOVAL OF THE SHORT SUPPLY VALIDATED LICENSING REQUIREMENT ON EXPORTS OF LINEAR ALPHA OLEFINS AND OTHER ACYCLIC ORGANIC COMPOUNDS

Legal Authority: 50 USC 1702 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 203; 50 USC 1704 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 206; EO 12470 March 30, 1984 (49 FR 13099, April 3, 1984); 42 USC 6212 PL 94-163, as amended, Sec 103; EO 11912 April 13, 1976 (49 FR 15825, as amended); 10 USC 7430 as amended by PL 94-258, Sec 201(10)

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 377

Abstract: Linear Alpha Olefins are currently subject to validated export licensing requirements under a basket category which applies to naphthas (Group N of Supplement No 2 to 377 of the Export Administration Regulations). The Department is considering removing licensing requirements for LAOs and similar commodities because they do not have a likely energy end use. During the comment period, all respondents favored the removal of licensing requirements on the grounds that current requirements are burdensome, that LAOs are not naphthas, that they do not have a likely energy end use, and that they are not in short supply. Accordingly, the Department is in the process of considering the most appropriate course of action with regard to possible decontrol of this and smaller commodities.

29. ● PETROLEUM PARTLY REFINED FOR FURTHER REFINING

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 50 USC 1702 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 203; 50 USC 1704 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 206; EO 12470 March 30, 1984 (49 FR 13099, April 3, 1984); 42 USC 6212 PL 94 163, as amended, Sec 103; EO 11912 April 13, 1976 (49 FR 15825, as amended); 10 USC 7430 as amended by PL 98-258, Sec 201(10)

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 377

Abstract: With few exceptions, the Congress prohibits the export of crude oil. However, the Department wants to ensure that it does not unnecessarily restrict sales of refined petroleum products by imposing regulatory barriers that were not intended by statutes. Accordingly, the Department will attempt to clarify the definition of refined petroleum products to provide greater certainty to exporters as to what may be exported. There are no costs associated with this action.

30. ● COMMODITIES SUBJECT TO THE NAVAL PETROLEUM RESOURCES PRODUCTION ACT OF 1976 (NPRPA)

Legal Authority: 50 USC 1702 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 203; 50 USC 1704 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 206; EO 12470 March 30, 1984 (49 FR 13099, April 3, 1984); 42 USC 6212 PL 94-163, as amended, Sec 103; EO 11912 April 13, 1976 (49 FR 15825, as amended); 10 USC 7430 as amended by PL 94-258, Sec 201(10)

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 377

Abstract: The Naval Petroleum Resources Production Act of 1976 (NPRPA) prohibits the export of products refined from crude oil produced from the Naval Petroleum Reserves. However, many commodities now subject to NPRPA restrictions include products which are far removed from crude oil and do not require validated export licenses. Accordingly, the Department proposes to limit the applicability of the NPRPA to those products currently subject to a validated export license. There are no costs associated with this action which would promote the export of decontrolled products.

31. GUIDELINES FOR THE ISSUANCE OF EXPORT TRADE CERTIFICATES OF REVIEW

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 15 USC 4017

Abstract: Section 307 of PL 97-290 (15 USC 4017) authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to issue, with the concurrence of the Attorney General, guidelines for the issuance of certificates of review setting forth the standards and analytical approach which will be applied in determining whether to certify an applicant's proposed export trade, export trade activities and methods of operation. A person to whom a certificate of review is issued is protected from the trebling of damages for any injury resulting from and criminal liability for, conduct specified in the certificate.

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 1400

Abstract: To be eligible to receive MBDA assistance, an applicant must qualify as a socially or economically disadvantaged individual, business enterprise, or group. The purpose of this proposed rule is to provide guidance to groups, not enumerated in E.O. 11625 and not previously designated by the Secretary of Commerce as eligible for assistance, who believe they are entitled to MBDA funded programs. Upon adequate showing to the Secretary of Commerce by representatives of a group that the group is as a whole, socially or economically disadvantaged the Secretary will designate the group as such and individuals of the group will be eligible for MBDA assistance.

59. CIVIL PROCEDURES

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act; 16 USC 773 et seq Northern Pacific Halibut Act of 1982

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 904

Abstract: The existing regulations (15 CFR 904) provide uniform procedures for enforcement and civil proceedings under the various fishery and marine resource statutes administered by NOAA. The regulations are being revised to consolidate all aspects of NOAA's civil process which can be uniformly treated. The revised regulations will provide uniform permit processing procedures and sanction procedures; means of addressing the respondent's ability to pay in civil penalty proceedings; procedures for issuance and appeal of written warnings, summary forfeitures, and for selling seized perishable fish. The revisions will clarify for the public the procedures which NOAA follows in carrying out its enforcement responsibilities. The amendments thus are beneficial rather than burdensome to the public. These procedural regulations will not increase costs to the public or local governments. Nor will they have a significant adverse effect on competition, employment or industry. The alternative of not further consolidating the procedures was considered and rejected. There is no alternative to making the updating and housekeeping portions of the amendments.

62. GENERAL AND RECREATIONAL FOREIGN FISHING

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 611.1 to 611.98

Abstract: The regulations will be amended to revise the general regulations governing foreign fishing within the fishery conservation zone (FCZ). The action is necessary because the regulations no longer reflect current practice in the fisheries; they are not deterring illegal actions, and are disjointed, contradictory and difficult to use. The revision is intended to make the regulations consistent with current practices in the fisheries, reduce illegal fishing and simplify and improve the utility of the regulations. The revision reorganizes almost every section of the two affected subparts. Additional definitions are added, including one for recreational fishing which would exempt foreign recreational fishing vessels from permit requirements. Obsolete material is deleted. Reports required for foreign fishing vessels are revised. Additional requirements for facilitation are added. Recordkeeping requirements are revised and requirements for joint ventures are specified.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1856 Sec 306, Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 619

Abstract: The regulations interpret certain statutory terms applicable to, and establish procedures governing, formal adjudicatory hearings to be held before the Secretary of Commerce can apply Federal fishery regulations to certain waters within State boundaries. Section 306(b) of the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to regulate a fishery within State boundaries in certain circumstances. Before the Secretary is authorized to do so, he must make certain findings after providing an opportunity for a formal adjudicatory hearing. The regulations apprise affected parties of the procedures to be followed at such a hearing and also of the types of information to be scrutinized that is relevant to the findings to be made.

Additional Information: The Department of the Interior, as lead agency in the development of the regulations, has prepared a draft environmental assessment. A determination will be made at the time of the final rule as to whether this is a major Federal action within the meaning of Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. 65. U.S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF FISH STEAKS

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 262A

Abstract: The interim rule would establish a voluntary standards system to classify fish steaks by quality into four categories - U.S. Grade A, B, C, and Substandard. The objective is to facilitate trade in fish steaks classified by quality thereby benefiting the consumer and the industry. The standards would be used in a voluntary program of fishery products inspection and certification by NMFS. The total value of the industry product in 1981 was $19 million. Industry has expressed a high level of interest in and support for the voluntary standards. The timetable for this action is very tentative. 67. U.S. GENERAL STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF SHRIMP

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

Abstract: The final rule will establish general quality grading standards for all non-breaded forms of fresh or frozen shrimp. These grading standards will provide for the systematic differentiation of the quality of shrimp into four categories -- U.S. Grades A, B, C and Substandard. The proposed standards will be applied to all commercial species of fresh or frozen shrimp in raw or cooked states in all non-breaded market forms. The adoption of grading standards is expected to facilitate trade in shrimp of all commercial species, as consumers will be able to select shrimp on the basis of identified quality. Industry has shown great interest in and support for the standards. Timetable for next action is very tentative. Public comments received indicate a need for further research before the rule is published.

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 267, (New)

Abstract: This proposed standard will establish a voluntary standards system to identify various products made from North American Freshwater Catfish and to grade these products A, B, C and Substandard. The objective of the standard is to facilitate trade in these products thereby benefiting the consumer. The standard will be used by NMFS in the voluntary program of fishery products inspection and certification. Industry has expressed strong support for these voluntary standards.

71. AMENDMENT NO. 3 TO THE HIGH SEAS SALMON FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 674

Abstract: Amendment No. 3 and implementing regulations to the High Seas Salmon Fishery Management Plan (FMP) may be needed to prevent depletion of the stocks by overfishing if naturally spawning stocks of southeast Alaska and Pacific Northwest chinook salmon are depressed. Reducing the optimum yield (OY) could contribute to resolution of the problem; alternatively reducing the harvest level within the current OY range may be adequate to address the problem. Adjustment of fishing season dates may also be appropriate. Adjustment of OY levels or the fishing season would impact over 3,000 commercial salmon trollers. Adverse impacts could include lower catch/revenues or increase competition for available catch. It is unknown at this time whether a 1985 or 1986 amendment will be necessary.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 228.20 to 228.29, (New)

Abstract: Based on request from the Air Force, the NMFS will propose regulations which would allow a small number of marine mammals to be incidentally taken as a result of sonic booms from space shuttle launches from Vandenberg Air Force Base, California. Section 101 (a)(5) of the Marine Mammal Protection Act provides for allowing the taking of small numbers of marine mammals incidental to specified activities provided that certain findings can be made and regulations are established which set forth permissible methods of taking, and requirements for monitoring and reporting.

73. AMENDMENT TO THE FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN (FMP) FOR ATLANTIC SEA SCALLOPS TO ENSURE BETTER CONSERVATION OF THE SCALLOP RESOURCES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 650

Abstract: New England Fishery Management Council will prepare an amendment to the FMP for Atlantic Sea Scallops. With the current low scallop abundance and poor recruitment prospects, the present FMP does not appear to be providing the degree of resource protection anticipated by the Council. If the resource is to be conserved for the benefit of the industry and public, revised management measures are needed to ensure that incoming recruitment to the fishery, when and if it occurs, be better protected. The proposed measure will be a minimum individual meat size, rather than the present average minimum meat count. The valuable Atlantic sea scallop resource is capable of yielding 100 million dollars annually, and requires additional protection.

74. FINAL RULE IMPLEMENTING THE NORTHEAST MULTISPECIES FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 651

Abstract: The New England Fishery Management Council is developing a comprehensive, long-term, groundfish plan to cover all of the important groundfish species caught in the New England trawl fishery. This plan, termed the Northeast Multispecies Fishery Management Plan (FMP) is intended to replace the present "Interim Fishery Management Plan for Atlantic Groundfish" which has regulated fishing for cod, haddock, and yellowtail flounder since 1982. The Northeast Multispecies FMP will take into account the fact that many different groundfish species are taken together in the same trawl, and that the mix of species changes on a trip and seasonal basis. The Council has adopted a set of management policies and is considering alternative management measures and impacts. The conservation focus is on maintenance of a minimum stock abundance size which reasonably protects against recruitment failure; emphasis is on minimum regulatory intervention or restrictions on fishing options.

75. REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE TAKING AND IMPORTING OF MARINE MAMMALS; DEFINITION OF COMMERCIAL FISHING OPERATION

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.3

Abstract: It is proposed to modify the definition of "commercial fishing operation" to include commercial passenger fishing vessels (party boats) under that definition. This modification would allow party boat owners and operators to apply for general permits and certificates of inclusion which allow the incidental taking of marine mammals during fishing operations. Under the Marine Mammal Protection Act, no marine mammals may be taken in the course of fishing operations unless permits and certificates have been obtained and until now, party boats were excluded from obtaining permits and certificates. Therefore, they were unable to protect the catch and gear of their paid passengers from depredations. Modification of definition should improve fishing conditions and result in increased revenue. Potential total costs to applicants are estimated at $450. Cost per applicant is estimated at $2.50.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 642

Abstract: Amendment 1 to the plan would revise the implementing regulation to modify management of king mackerel. The resource is divided into Gulf and South Atlantic Migratory Groups. For each group an annual total allowable catch is determined that is allocated among recreational and commercial fishermen. A portion of the commercial quota is allocated to the purse seine fishery. Annual permits are required for vessels fishing the Gulf group. When a commercial quota is attained, commercial fishing must cease for that group. Recreational quotas will be controlled by a bag limit on charter and private boats of 3 fish per person per trip.

Abstract: The policies are to guide Federal participation in, and support of, interjurisdictional fisheries management by defining the Federal role, proposing general management objectives, and identifying means of implementation. These policies are needed to: provide a framework for more effective management planning and other actions concerning interjurisdictional fisheries and fishery resources; (2) develop a broad awareness of the shared State & Federal responsibilities, and benefits of, long-term management of these fisheries and resources; (3) promote consistent conservation & management throughout the entire range of interjurisdictional fisheries and resources; and (4) establish specific & effective means of resolving jurisdictional differences which interfere with effective fisheries management. It is expected that these policies will result in closer cooperations between State and Federal government agencies responsible for interjurisdictional fisheries programs.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: The Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council will prepare a fishery management plan (FMP) for the Atlantic coast migratory stock of striped bass. The drastic 10-year decline of commercial and recreational landings of striped bass indicates the need for protective management measures for territorial waters and the fishery conservation zone (FCZ). The territorial waters will be managed by the Interstate Striped Bass Plan of the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission, while the FCZ needs management with compatible measures through the striped bass FMP. Proposed management measures include a minimum fish size limit, a maximum fish size limit and prohibition of taking striped bass in the FCZ on a seasonal closure basis.

87. ● SHALLOW-WATER REEFFISH FISHERY OF PUERTO RICO AND THE U.S. VIRGIN ISLANDS

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: The Caribbean Fishery Management Council has prepared a Fishery Management Plan (FMP) for shallow-water reeffish of Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. A fishery for various species of snappers, groupers, grunts, porgies, goatfishes, and other edible reeffish using fish traps exists in the territorial waters of Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands and the fishery conservation zone. These states have agreed to adopt compatible regulations with those developed by the FMP. Declining catch per unit effort for the reeffish fishery indicates that management measures are necessary to maximize spawning potential and prevent overfishing. Within a 2-3 yr. period after implementation, benefits are predicted to outweigh costs for proposed regulations concerning minimum fish sizes for yellowtail snapper and Nassau grouper. The propose minimum mesh size for fish traps will allow some juvenile stages of most reeffishes to escape the gear & optimize the size of goatfish which are retained.

89. ● DEVELOPMENT OF A FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR SUMMER FLOUNDER

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser and Management Act

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: Summer flounder is seasonably vulnerable to very large and varied commercial and recreational fisheries. Landings have declined in recent years and there is concern that overfishing may occur. The summer flounder crosses Council and Regional boundaries necessitating close coordination between the constituent agencies. The long-term benefits of higher production and revenue to the fishermen and processors are expected to outweigh any short-term limitations on catches in order to rebuild the stocks. Rebuilding the stocks to the maximum level, the efficiency of the fleet will improve as catches per unit of effort will correspondingly rise.

91. ● AMENDMENT TO AMERICAN LOBSTER FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN-GEAR MARKING

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: An amendment to the American Lobster Fishery Management Plan has been proposed to incorporate gear marking requirements. Mandatory reporting of fixed gear is not expected to be part of the amendment. The proposed gear marking would allow fishermen that are harvesting species other than lobster with moving gear such as an otter trawl to avoid entanglement with lobster traps which are fixed gear.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 611.7 to 611.8

Abstract: The interim rule revises the regulations which require foreign fishermen to assist U.S. observers and makes it illegal for foreign fishermen to take certain actions. The action is necessary to address a growing number of incidents of obstruction and harassment of observers by foreign fishermen affecting the safety and proper functions of those personnel. The regulations give explicit instructions to foreign fishermen to ensure the safety of observers, detail the assistance foreign fishermen are to give observers, and specify the actions or inactions that are prohibited to foreign fishermen.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser and Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 643

Abstract: Problems are overcapitalization of shrimp fishing vessels, conservation of shrimp spawning stocks, and inconsistency of State management. Alternatives are continuing with management by each State (no action), limited entry to transfer surplus capital from the fishery, cooperative Federal/State restrictions on fishing on spawning stocks, consistency of State fishing regulations (seasons, areas), improved data collection and analysis on a regional basis and gear modifications that could conserve threatened sea turtles that are incidental catch in shrimp trawls.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.24

Abstract: U.S. tuna purse seine fishermen operating in the eastern tropical Pacific have been subject to certain restrictions relating to the take of marine mammals, whereas often other nations fishing in a similar manner that export tuna to the U.S. do not impose similar constraints on their own industry. Therefore, the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 was amended to require all such nations, prior to being allowed to import tuna to provide documentary evidence that they have adopted a program governing the incidental taking of marine mammals that is comparable to that of the U.S. and that the average rate of incidental take in the fishery is comparable to the U.S. These regulations will implement this requirement.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq Endangered Species Act of 1973

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 222.22

Abstract: The proposed regulations implement Section 10(a)(1)(B) of the Endangered Species Act, as amended (ESA). The proposal establishes a mechanism whereby non-Federal entities whose actions may affect certain endangered marine species under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Commerce, may receive permits allowing the incidental taking of such species, provided the takings will not appreciably reduce the likelihood of the survival and recovery of the species in the wild. The proposal applies only to those private individuals/entities or local or State governments faced with having otherwise lawful actions not subject to Federal involvement or control, prevented by prohibitions against taking. Under the ESA, the taking of endangered species is prohibited except for scientific research or to enhance the propagation or survival of the species. Permits issued under these regulations will allow commercial shrimp fishermen, recreational fishermen and others to conduct their activities without risk of prosecution for incidentally taking species covered under these provisions.

As part of their conservation plan, fishermen will have the option of voluntary use of the Trawling Efficiency Device which allows trapped sea turtles to escape from fishing nets. Selection of this option will result in an additional cost of approximately $400 per Device. NEPA, E.O. 12291 and RFA determinations have not been undertaken.

111. ● AMENDMENT TO AMERICAN LOBSTER FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN - V-NOTCH ON FEMALE LOBSTERS

CFR Citation: 48 CFR 36266

Abstract: An amendment to the American Lobster Fishery Management Plan has been proposed to place a three-year moratorium on the taking or possession of V-notched lobsters (markings made on adult female lobsters by commercial fishermen). The purpose of the amendment is to return females that are bearing eggs or have previously carried eggs so as to enhance recruitments.

112. ● FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR THE BOTTOMFISH AND SEAMOUNT GROUNDFISH FISHERIES OF THE WESTERN PACIFIC REGION

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: The FMP will establish framework measures for the bottomfish/ groundfish resources within the FCZ off American Samoa, Guam and Hawaii. This FMP would achieve optimum yield by preventing stock reductions that would cause instability in the production and market supply of fresh bottomfish, proposes to collect the data necessary to monitor the fishery and would promote an expanded domestic harvest of underutilized bottomfish/groundfish resources in an orderly manner.

114. FEDERAL CONSISTENCY WITH APPROVED COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1456 Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 930

Abstract: On January 11, 1984, the U.S. Supreme Court issued its decision in Secretary of the Interior et al. v. California et al. No. 82-1326. The Court held that the sale of Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) oil and gas leases is not an activity "directly affecting" the coastal zone within the meaning of Section 307(c)(1) of the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended (CZMA), and, therefore, that a consistency determination is not required under that section before such sales may be made. Section 307 (c)(1) requires that Federal agencies conducting or supporting activities "directly affecting the coastal zone" must conduct or support those activities in a manner which is consistent to the maximum extent practicable with federally-approved state coastal zone management programs. NOAA is engaging in rulemaking to revise certain CZMA regulations as a result of the Supreme Court decision. NOAA intends to remove those references which identify OCS lease sales as activities covered by the Section 307(c)(1) requirements.

115. PROPOSED REGULATIONS FOR THE PROPOSED FAGATELE BAY NATIONAL MARINE SANCTUARY

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1431 to 1434

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 941

Abstract: The American Samoa Government does not currently possess the legal authorities necessary for managing site-specific marine resources such as the Fagatele Bay National Marine Sanctuary. Regulations will be proposed for the Fagatele Bay National Marine Sanctuary to fulfill a need evidenced by uncontrolled harvesting of reef fisheries and the loss of habitat via destructive fishing methods. Long-term benefits include resource protection and restoration of habitat; public education and development of an environmental ethic; and ecological succession studies. This project will serve as a prototype for other resource protection initiatives by the American Samoa Government.

118. DEEP SEABED MINING REGULATIONS FOR COMMERCIAL RECOVERY

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1401 et seq Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources Act

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 971

Abstract: Under 15 CFR 970, prospective deep seabed miners may apply to NOAA for the exploration license needed to explore the deep seabed for manganese nodules. Under the new regulations, prospective miners will be able to apply to NOAA for a permit to commercially recover and process nodules to obtain strategic metals (nickel, copper, cobalt, manganese). These permits would provide security of tenure for applicants with respect to other U.S. citizens and other nations' permittees in accordance with applicable international agreements. Fees for securing and maintaining a permit will be based on the Government's processing costs. These fees would be an inconsequential portion of the cost of a commercial recovery operation. The cost of a commercial recovery operation is expected to exceed one billion dollars. Alternatives to the regulation would require amending the Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources Act, which would be considered in the context of the U.S. law of the sea policy.

119. LICENSING OF OCEAN THERMAL ENERGY CONVERSION FACILITIES AND PLANTSHIPS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 9101 et seq Ocean Thermal Energy Conversion Act; as amended by PL 96-623

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 981 et seq

Abstract: These regulations (15 CFR 981) established a stable legal system and a streamlined licensing process to facilitate commercial development of ocean thermal energy conversion (OTEC) facilities and plantships. These regulations are being reviewed to determine if they should be revised. The details of the simplified licensing system for ownership, construction, location, and operation of OTEC facilities and plantships which are associated with the United States or U.S. Citizens, are being examined to gauge the effect on the developing OTEC industry. Section 117 of the Ocean Thermal Energy Conversion Act of 1980 requires NOAA to review these regulations periodically, at intervals of not more than every three years, and to revise them as necessary based on that review. Agency planning amendments to regulations as a result of OMB review under the Paperwork Reduction Act. There is potential revision of antitrust provisions in the regulations which will be considered separately.

123. REEF FISH RESOURCES OF THE GULF OF MEXICO FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 641

Abstract: Biological data indicate a substantial decline in reef fish stocks in the Gulf of Mexico. Overfishing contributes to this decline in many nearshore areas by recreational & commercial users. In addition, there is expanding competition between recreational & commercial users for limited resource. Objectives are: rebuild declining reef fish stocks; establish fishery reporting system; increase reef fish habitats in approp. areas; provide protection for juveniles while protecting existing & new habitats; and minimize conflicts between user groups. Benefits from implementation of the plan over a 5-year period could reach discounted maximum of $8 million for commercial fishermen & $23.2 million for recreational fishermen. Annual costs for development & implementation of plan over a 5-year period are estimated at $393,315. The adopted measures would minimize burden on public & address the problems in the fishery in a cost-effective manner. The regulations will require some small entities to relocate their fishery areas. Net benefits will occur to the fishery because of the rebuilding of the resources.

124. SPINY LOBSTER FISHERY IN PUERTO RICO & THE VIRGIN ISLANDS FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 645

Abstract: A fishery management plan (FMP) and implementing regulations are needed to manage the spiny lobster resources of the U.S. Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. Management measures will protect long-term yields, prevent depletion of the stocks, increase yields from the fishery, and acquire information necessary to better manage the fishery. The primary objective is to achieve optimum yields from a presently healthy fishery stock without encountering the problems of economic or biologic overfishing that have been known to occur in some other fisheries. The FMP imposes a minimum size limit which will cause an est. loss in income during the first year of $228 per fisherman, and $117 per fisherman in the second year. Size limits in subsequent years are expected to improve landings in the third and subsequent years, resulting in $118 per fisherman increase in income. The prohibition of taking lobsters in certain areas may have minor supply and income effects on commercial and recreational harvesters which may be offset by aesthetic benefits to divers and research benefits to scientists. Additional reporting burdens will be placed on some fishermen.

125. KING CRAB (BERING SEA/ALEUTIAN ISLANDS) FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 676

Abstract: This fishery management plan (FMP) and implementing regulations seek to ensure effective conservation and management of King Crab stocks in the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands area while providing continued active participation of the State of Alaska in management of these fisheries. Non-resident Alaskan fishermen will have more effective input to fishery management. There is a need for enforcement of sex and minimum size limits to prevent overharvesting the King Crab optimum yield, and to prevent harvesting of females and under-sized crab. The regulation allows protection of smaller vessels that compete with larger vessels in their ability to move between fishing areas. Regulatory measures also seek to ensure equitable representation of all components of the harvesting sector. Alternative measures under the FMP could have a significant impact on small entities. This is a framework FMP for which formal Secretarial review began on July 16, 1984.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1821(i) The Magnuson Fishery Conser. and Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 611.8

Abstract: PL 97-453 requires the Secretary of Commerce to establish a supplementary U.S. observer program if full observer coverage of foreign fishing vessels cannot be achieved using Federal or contract employees that rely on Congressional appropriations as the source of funding. Under such circumstances, foreign fishing vessel owners would pay observer fees directly to supplementary U.S.

observers or their agents. The Secretary of Commerce must certify observers and procedures for monitoring performance. No cost will be incurred by the U.S. to implement or operate this program as costs are charged to foreign fishermen. No alternative is envisioned because of the law's specificity.

129. REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE TAKING AND IMPORTING OF MARINE MAMMALS; TAKING OF MARINE MAMMALS INCIDENTAL TO COMMERCIAL FISHING OPERATIONS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.24

Abstract: The 1984 amendments to the Marine Mammal Protection Act among other things: (1) extend indefinitely the general permit issued to the American Tunaboat Association to take marine mammals during commercial purse seine fishing operations; (2) establish quotas for two species of porpoise for which quotas have not been issued; (3) removed these two species from the accidental take enforcement policy; and, (4) placed additional importation requirements on nations purse seining for yellowfin tuna in the eastern tropical Pacific. These regulations codify the Congressional action. Since the actions are congressionally mandated and the Administration has no decision-making discretion, there are no alternatives to consider. No additional costs to the tuna industry are anticipated.

132. OCEAN SALMON FISHERIES OFF THE COASTS OF WASHINGTON, OREGON AND CALIFORNIA - MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS FOR A FRAMEWORK AMENDMENT TO THE PLAN

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 661

Abstract: These regulations implement the fishery management plan (FMP) for commercial and recreational salmon fisheries off the coasts of Washington, Oregon, and California. This plan was developed by the Pacific Fishery Management Council. It was first implemented in 1977 and has undergone annual amendments since then. These regs. establish fishing areas, fishing seasons, allowable fishing gear, allowable harvest, & for adjusting the regs. during the year. The intended effect is to protect the salmon from being overharvested, to allocate allowable harvest equitably among the various groups of fishermen to allow adequate numbers of salmon to reach internal water fisheries, & to achieve spawning escapement goals. The FMP & its implementing regs. undergo continuous review & will be modified when conditions warrant changes. These annual adjustments to the management measures will be implemented by publishing revised regs. for the fishery (opening & closing dates fishing seasons, quotas, bag limits, & similar restrictions) by May 1. Changes outside scope of the framework amendment will be made by the normal regulatory process.

Additional Information: Linked with 0648-AB04. The fishery management plan (FMP) & its implementing regs. have undergone & will continue to undergo continuous review. They will be changed whenever conditions warrant a change. The Council has prepared a "framework" amendment of the plan which if approved & implemented, will allow the annual fishery management measures to be implemented without amending the plan or regs. An RIA is not required, but the impacts of these regs. are analyzed in environmental impact statements and regulatory impact reviews.

137. ● RIGHTS TO INVENTIONS MADE BY NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS AND SMALL BUSINESS FIRMS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 35 USC 206

CFR Citation: 37 CFR 401

Abstract: 35 USC 206 as amended by PL 98-620, requires the Secretary to issue regulations implementing 35 USC 202-204 which deals with the rights in inventions to be provided to nonprofit organizations and small businesses that perform Government supported research and development. Previously this was the responsibility of OFPP which issued OMB Cir. A-124. The proposed regulation is based on Cir. A-124 with such substantive changes as are necessary because of various amendments made by PL 98-620. No alternative is available since a major thrust of the statute was the development of a single regulation to replace the numerous regulations that were in effect prior to 1981. The statute and regulations will benefit contractors and the public by creating the certainty necessary for the early commercialization of inventions by the private sector. Compared to the pre-1981 situation this reduces administrative costs of both the Government and contractors.

138. ● LICENSING OF GOVERNMENT OWNED INVENTIONS

CFR Citation: 37 CFR 404

Abstract: PL 98-620 amended 35 USC 208 to shift authority for the promulgation of regulations concerning the licensing of federally owned inventions from GSA to Commerce. These regulations are identical in substance and will supersede GSA regulations at 41 CFR Subpart 101-4-1. Thus, there will be no changes in costs of benefits from this section. At a later date, we may consider whether changes to these regulations could lead to a more effective Government licensing program.

Improving Government Regulations; Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Defense.

ACTION: Publication of the consolidated semiannual agenda of DoD regulatory documents.

SUMMARY: The Department of Defense is publishing this consolidated semiannual agenda of regulatory documents for public information and comments under E.O. 12291, "Federal Regulation." This agenda incorporates the objectives and criteria, when applicable, of the regulatory reform program under E.O. 12291, and other regulatory reform programs. It contains DoD issuances initiated by DoD Components that may have economic and environmental impact on state, local, public or private interests under the criteria of E.O. 12291. Although most DoD issuances listed in the agenda are of negligible public impact, their nature may be of public interest and are therefore published to provide notice of rulemaking and an opportunity for public participation in the internal DoD rulemaking process.

This agenda updates the report published in October 22, 1984 and includes regulations expected to be issued and under review over the next 12 months. The next agenda is scheduled to be published in October 1985. In addition to this agenda, DoD Components also publish rulemaking notices pertaining to their specific statutory administration requirements as required.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For information concerning the overall DoD regulatory improvement program and for general semiannual agenda information contact Mr. Terry D. Judd, telephone 202-697-1142 or write to Directorate for Organizational and Management Planning, OASD(C), Washington, D.C. 20301.

For questions of a legal nature concerning the agenda and its statutory requirements or obligations, contact Ms. Kathleen Buck, legal counsel, Office of the General Counsel, Washington, D.C. 20301, or call 202-697-2714.

For specific agenda items, contact the appropriate individual indicated in each DoD Component report.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This consolidated agenda is composed of the regulatory status reports from the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force. Included also in this agenda is the regulatory report from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, whose civil works functions fall under the reporting requirements of E.O. 12291. Their agenda will reflect these requirements, with follow-on reporting actions taken, as necessary.

DoD issuances range from DoD Directives (reflecting departmental policy) to implementing instructions and regulations (largely internal and used to implement Directives). The OSD agenda section contains the primary Directives under which DoD Components promulgate their implementing regulations.

To ease identification and to clarify the differences between the variety of issuances reported, they are identified by their DoD internal numbering system, which denotes Component level of authority and type of issuance in addition to the required CFR number.

In addition, this agenda, although published under the reporting requirements of E.O. 12291, will continue to be the DoD single source reporting vehicle which will identify issuances that are currently applicable under the various regulatory reform programs in progress. Therefore, when applicable, DoD Components will identify those rules which come under the criteria of the:

a. Regulatory Flexibility Act.

b. Paperwork Reduction Act.

c. GATT International Trade Agreement.

These DoD issuances which are directly applicable under these statutes will be identified in the agenda and their action status indicated. Generally, the reports contained in this agenda will contain three sections: (1) Current and projected rulemaking; (2) review of existing regulations; and (3) completed actions.

Although not a regulatory agency, the Department of Defense will continue to participate in regulatory initiatives designed to reduce economic costs and unnecessary environmental burdens upon the public. Comments and recommendations are invited on the rules reported and should be addressed to the DoD Component representatives identified in each section.

Although sensitive to the needs of the public and regulatory reform, DoD reserves the right to exercise the exemptions and flexibility permitted in its rulemaking process in order to proceed with its overall defense-oriented mission.

Note: The publishing of this agenda does not waive the applicability of the military affairs exemption in title 5, section 553 and section 1 of E.O. 12291.

DATED: February 27, 1985.

Arthur H. Ehlers,

Director for Organizational and Management Planning.

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, DoD.

ACTION: This agenda updates the report published in October 22, 1984 and includes regulations expected to be issued and under review over the next 12 months.

SUMMARY: The regulatory material listed below is in 3 parts: (1) Current and projected rulemaking; (2) review of existing regulations; and (3) completed actions.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: The Agency contact names and telephone numbers appear after each agenda entry. For other information on the agenda, contact Mrs. Patricia H. Means, Directives Division, Correspondence and Directives Directorate, Washington Headquarters Services, telephone 202-697-4111.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

E.O. 12291. None of the regulatory documents listed below is a "major rule" and no major rules are presently under development.

Regulatory Flexibility Action, section 610. The Office of the Secretary of Defense has screened its existing regulatory documents and has concluded that none of its regulatory documents causes significant impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Paperwork Reduction Act, Pub. L. 96-511. None of the DoD regulatory documents listed in the agenda require information collection reports affecting the public sector under the criteria of Pub. L. 96-511.

GATT Agreement. None of the DoD regulatory documents listed in this agenda impact upon foreign trade under the GATT Agreement.

The OSD agenda follows.

AGENCY: Department of the Air Force.

ACTION: This agenda updates the report published in October 22, 1984 and includes regulations expected to be issued and under review over the next 12 months.

SUMMARY: The regulations listed on the agenda are existing or proposed regulations under internal review for revision or development and only apply to those regulations affecting the public. The Department of the Air Force has no "major rules" under development or review as defined by Executive Order 12291. Also, it has determined that the relevant provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-354) do not apply to these rules and that these rules do not contain reporting or recordkeeping requirements under the criteria of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-511). These rules do not have an impact on international trade and therefore the provisions of the GATT Agreement do not apply.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Office of the Secretary

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Education.

ACTION: Publication of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: The Secretary of Education publishes a Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations as required by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin No. 85-6 issued under the authority of section 6(b) of the Executive Order 12291 (Federal Regulations). The purpose of the agenda is to encourage more effective public participation in the regulatory process by giving the public early information about pending regulatory activities.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Questions or comments related to specific regulations listed in this agenda should be directed to the contact person listed for that set of regulations. Questions or comments on the overall agenda should be directed to A. Neal Shedd, Director, Division of Regulations Management, Office of the General Counsel, Department of Education, Room 2131, FOB-6, 400 Maryland Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20202. Telephone: (202) 245-7091.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291, dated February 17, 1981, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354, enacted September 19, 1980, require the Department of Education to publish, in October and April of each year, (1) an agenda of regulations that the Department expects to issue, and (2) currently effective regulations that are under review. The agenda includes both notices of proposed rulemaking (NPRMs) currently being drafted and pending final regulations.

Under the authority of Executive Order 12291, the Director of OMB has issued OMB Bulletin No. 85-6, dated December 13, 1984, prescribing the content and structure of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations. The unified agenda will be issued semiannually and will cover the succeeding 12 months from the date of publication.

For each set of regulations listed, the agenda provides the title of the document, the type of document, a citation of any rulemaking or other action taken since publication of the most recent agenda, and planned dates of future rulemaking. In addition, the agenda provides the following information:

- An abstract, which includes a description of the problem to be addressed, any principal alternatives being considered, and potential costs and benefits of the action.
- An indication of whether the planned action is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601(b)).
- A reference to where a reader can find the current regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations.
- A citation of legal authority.
- The name, address, and telephone number of the contact person at the Department from whom a reader can obtain additional information regarding the planned action.
- An indication if the action is priority and the criteria used in determining the priority status.

If the "Abstract" section of an entry refers readers to the preamble, it means that amendments to those particular regulations would be designed (1) to effect regulatory relief, including reducing paperwork and compliance burdens, improving cost effectiveness and, to the extent possible, vesting greater discretion in State and local agencies, and (2) if necessary, to clarify and simplify requirements governing that program.

This publication in the Federal Register does not impose any binding obligation on the Department with regard to any specific item on the agenda. Regulatory action in addition to the items listed is not precluded. Dates of future regulatory action are subject to revision in subsequent agendas.

DATED: March 12, 1985.

William J. Bennett,

Secretary of Education.

Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: April 1985 regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: In furtherance of this Administration's commitment to make government more responsive to the citizens of the United States and to assist in fulfilling the President's mandate to lessen regulatory burdens, the Department of Energy (DOE) is publishing an agenda of regulatory activities that DOE expects to take in the next year or has completed since October 1984. This Agenda provides the Administration with an effective tool for monitoring and controlling the promulgation of regulations. It includes (1) all rules expected to be issued as proposed or final rules before April 1986, (2) all rules being reviewed within the Department to determine whether to propose modifications through rulemaking, and (3) all rules for which regulatory action has been completed since the October 1984 Regulatory Agenda. In addition, the Agenda identifies each rule that DOE expects to propose or promulgate which is "likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities," and thus also serves as the Department's regulatory flexibility agenda. The Agenda does not include routine regulations and those that relate to internal agency management.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

General: For further information on the Agenda in general, contact: Ted Wilson, Department of Energy, Room 6B-144, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20585, (202) 252-9507.

Specific: For further information about any particular item on the Agenda, contact the individual listed under that item.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Executive Order 12291 (46 FR 13193, February 19, 1981) requires each Federal agency to publish, in April and October of each year, an agenda of proposed regulations that the agency has issued or expects to issue, and currently effective rules that are under agency review. Under the Executive Order, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) sets forth standards and procedures for the preparation of these agendas.

There are important reasons for preparing this Agenda. It is vital in this Administration's efforts to reduce the burdens of existing and future regulations, to increase agency accountability for regulatory actions, to provide for Presidential oversight of the regulatory process, to minimize duplication and conflict of regulations, and to insure well-reasoned regulations. This Administration has made considerable progress in these efforts. The Department of Energy continues to work vigorously to achieve even greater success in the future. A recent example is DOE's achievement of a reduction in the paperwork burden imposed by the DOE Acquisition Regulations (48 CFR Ch. 9) and other procurement regulations by 10% in fiscal year 1984. In addition, the Energy Information Administration, for fiscal year 1984, reduced the burden of its collections on the public by over 44,000 hours, or more than 3% in addition to permanent savings achieved in prior years.

Prospectively, DOE has agreed to reduce the overall paperwork burden it imposes by not less than a further 5% in fiscal year 1985. DOE also has undertaken a number of initiatives for reducing its management and procurement information collections.

Executive Order 12291 also provides that the regulatory agenda may be incorporated with the "regulatory flexibility agenda" required under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354, 5 U.S.C. 602). The regulatory flexibility agenda must contain: (1) A brief description of the subject area and a summary of the nature of any rule which the agency expects to propose or promulgate which is "likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities"; (2) the objectives and legal basis for the issuance of the rule and an approximate schedule for completing action on any rule for which the agency has issued a general notice of proposed rulemaking; and (3) the name and telephone number of an agency official knowledgeable about each rule.

Appended to this notice is DOE's April 1985 Regulatory Agenda, reflecting the status of rules listed as of February 15, 1985. Incorporated in this Agenda is the regulatory flexibility agenda required under 5 U.S.C. 602.

The April 1985 Regulatory Agenda has been prepared in accordance with OMB Bulletin 85-6. Within each major DOE organizational unit, regulatory activities have been divided among the following three categories: (1) Current and projected rulemakings (that is, rulemakings for which a Federal Register notice already has been issued or is expected to be issued prior to April 1986); (2) reviews of existing regulations (that is, pending reviews within the agency to determine whether to modify an existing regulation through a rulemaking); and (3) completed actions (that is, regulatory activities for which the agency has completed its action prior to the publication of the current Agenda). Within the past four years DOE has completed two comprehensive reviews of its regulations (46 FR 20506, April 3, 1981, and 46 FR 18574, April 30, 1982). Accordingly, DOE is not conducting many reviews of existing regulations at this time.

Priority regulations include all regulations designated for priority development or review by an agency head, all regulations that are "major rules" under section 2(b) of Executive Order 12291, and all regulations designated for review by the former Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief. Priority regulations are identified and the reason they are deemed to be priority regulations is stated.

Each item will contain the following information: (1) DOE office or administration (that is, the DOE organizational unit responsible for the regulation); (2) RIN number (that is, the Regulation Identifier Number assigned by OMB/OIRA); (3) title; (4) priority status (that is, if the regulation is a priority regulation); (5) agency contact (that is, the name, title, address and telephone number of a person who is knowledgeable about the regulation); (6) existing regulation (that is, if the regulation under review is an existing regulation); (7) effects on small businesses and other entities (that is, whether the action is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities" as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act); (8) CFR citation (that is, the section of the Code of Federal Regulations that will be affected); (9) legal authority (that is, a citation to the section of the United States Code (U.S.C.), Public Law (P.L.) or the Executive Order (E.O.) that authorizes the regulatory action); (10) abstract (that is, a description of the problem the regulation will address, the alternatives being considered for addressing the problem, and the potential costs and benefits of the action); and (11) timetable (that is, the dates and citations, if applicable, for all past stages of the rulemaking that are not final and the next stage of the rulemaking). In addition, each item regarding completed actions (that is, regulations completed or withdrawn and reviews completed since the preceding Agenda) states why the regulation is no longer under development and the date and citation, if appropriate.

On February 22, 1985, a draft of this Agenda was transmitted to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration for comment, if any, to fulfill the requirement of 5 U.S.C. 602(b).

DOE's next Agenda will be published in October 1985.

Issued in Washington, D.C. on February 25, 1985.

Theodore J. Garrish,

General Counsel.

1. ENERGY EFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR FOUR TYPES OF CONSUMER PRODUCTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6295

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.32

Abstract: Congress directed DOE to prescribe energy efficiency standards for certain specific consumer products unless DOE determines, by rule, that the establishment of such standard will not result in significant conservation of energy or is not technologically feasible or economically justified. This rule deals with four of these products: dishwashers, clothes washers, television sets, and humidifiers and dehumidifiers. The analysis will include all allowable alternatives including various efficiency levels for these consumer products as well as the alternative of no efficiency standard for these consumer products.

2. ENERGY EFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR THREE TYPES OF CONSUMER PRODUCTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6295

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.32

Abstract: Congress directed DOE to prescribe energy efficiency standards for certain specific consumer products unless DOE determines, by rule, that the establishment of such standard will not result in significant conservation of energy or is not technologically feasible or economically justified. This rule deals with heat pumps, heat pump water heaters and home heating equipment (not including furnaces). The analysis will include all allowable alternatives including various efficiency levels as well as the alternative of no efficiency standard.

Additional Information: For two of the three types of consumer products, there has been an ANPRM issued. However, for one type of consumer product, heat pump water heaters, there is yet to be an ANPRM. This ANPRM for this single product is planned to be published 3/15/85.

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 436

Abstract: The National Energy Conservation Policy Act requires DOE to promulgate regulations that establish a methodology for estimating and comparing the life cycle costs of Federal buildings and for determining life cycle cost effectiveness. The Energy Security Act requires that the regulations provide for the use of marginal costs in the life cycle cost analysis. DOE is preparing a NPRM to comply with this requirement.

Legal Authority: PL 94-385; PL 96-399; PL 95-91; PL 97-35

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 435

Abstract: Title III of the Energy Conservation and Production Act, as amended, requires the development and promulgation of energy performance standards for new buildings. In order to comply with this requirement, DOE currently is developing voluntary guidelines for the private sector and mandatory standards for the federal government.

5. ENERGY EFFICIENCY TEST PROCEDURES FOR WATER HEATERS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6293

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.22

Abstract: Final test procedures for 13 types of appliances were established during 1978. The test procedures form the basis of manufacturers' representations on the Federal Trade Commission's EnergyGuide label. The purpose of the rulemaking is to establish test procedures for heat pump water heaters and to eliminate the need for the test procedure waiver granted to A. O. Smith for its water heater with a thermal compensatory dip tube.

6. COMMERCIAL AND APARTMENT CONSERVATION SERVICE (CACS) STANDBY PROGRAM REGULATIONS

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 8284

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 458.701 to 458.715

Abstract: On October 26, 1983, DOE issued a final rule in compliance with Title VII of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act, as amended, establishing the Commercial and Apartment Conservation Service (CACS) Program. The CACS Program is an energy audit program for commercial and apartment buildings to be carried out by public utilities in accordance with Plans developed by States. NECPA requires DOE to administer the Program in States that choose not to submit Plans. DOE will administer the program in the manner set forth in the CACS Standby Program Regulations. Insufficient data exists to reliably estimate potential program costs and benefits.

7. INSTITUTIONAL CONSERVATION PROGRAMS -- AMENDMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6371 to 6372i Title III of the EPCA, as amended; 42 USC 7101 to 7352 Department of Energy Organization Act

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 455.1 to 455.102

Abstract: The Department makes grants to schools, hospitals, and local government and public care institutions for conducting detailed energy audits and to schools and hospitals for installing energy conservation materials and equipment. The amendments would take advantage of experience obtained in administering the program by making adjustment to such matters as the length of the payback for eligible materials and equipment and the contents of energy audits. The amendments would improve the efficiency of the program.

8. TWENTY-SIX STATE PETITIONS REGARDING FEDERAL PREEMPTION OF STATE ENERGY EFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR APPLIANCES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6297 (b)(3)

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.33

Abstract: This is a rulemaking responding to 26 State petitions that the Department promulgate rules exempting various of the States' appliance energy efficiency standards from federal preemption, regarding seven types of major household appliances. The appliances are: refrigerators and refrigerator-freezers, freezers, water heaters, room air conditioners, central air conditioners, furnaces, and kitchen ranges and ovens. The only alternatives open to the Department are to deny or to grant part or all of the State petitions.

10. ● ENERGY EFFICIENCY TEST PROCEDURES -- WAIVER

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6293

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.27

Abstract: Final test procedures for 13 types of appliances were established during 1978. The test procedures form the basis of manufacturers' representations on the Federal Trade Commission's EnergyGuide label. The Department can temporarily waive test procedure requirements for a particular covered product when characteristics of that product prevent use of the prescribed test procedures or lead to results of the test procedures that provide materially inaccurate comparative data. The purpose of this rulemaking is to streamline the waiver process.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6293

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.22

Abstract: Final test procedures for 13 types of appliances were established during 1978. The test procedures form the basis of manufacturers' representations on the Federal Trade Commission's EnergyGuide label. The purpose of the rulemaking is to establish test procedures for water-source heat pumps and multi-evaporator heat pumps; to eliminate the test procedure waiver granted to Borg-Warner Central Environmental Systems for its variable speed heat pump; and to incorporate, by reference, the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air-conditioning Engineers Standard 116-83 and the Air-conditioning and Refrigeration Institute Standard 210/240-84 into the test procedures.

12. ● STATE PETITION REGARDING FEDERAL PREEMPTION OF STATE ENERGY EFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR APPLIANCES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6297(b)(3)

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.33

Abstract: This is a rulemaking responding to one State (Michigan) Petition that the Department promulgate a rule exempting Michigan's appliance energy efficiency standards from Federal preemption regarding three types of major household appliances. Legal Authority: PL 94-163; PL 95-619; EO 11912; EO 12003

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 435

Abstract: The regulations in Subpart B are needed to provide the procedures for conducting and reporting on preliminary energy audits of Federal buildings, as required by Title V, Part 3, of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act (NECPA) and section 10 of EO 11912, as amended. The regulations in Subpart C are needed to provide guidelines for the formulation and updating of Buildings Plans by Federal agencies to achieve goals for reduction of Federal building energy use, pursuant to section 10 of EO 11912, as amended, section 381 of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act, as amended, and NECPA. 16. ● WEATHERIZATION ASSISTANCE FOR LOW-INCOME PERSONS -- AMENDMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6861

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 440

Abstract: The principal amendments to the program: allow States the option of using the eligibility requirements of the Department of Health and Human Services' Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP); and replacement furnaces and boilers to the weatherization materials list; allow the Secretary of Energy to add weatherization materials to the program without rulemaking procedures; require States to spend an average of at least 40 percent of their program costs (materials, program support and labor) for weatherization materials; allow States to average their weatherization expenditures, not to exceed $1,600 per dwelling unit in the State, for materials, labor and program support; remove the $150 limit on the cost of making incidental repairs; and allow reweatherization of dwelling units partially weatherized during the period September 30, 1975, through September 30, 1979.

18. LIMITED ARREST AUTHORITY AND USE OF FORCE BY PROTECTIVE FORCE OFFICERS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2011 et seq

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 1047

Abstract: The regulations in this part establish the limits and conditions on the arrest authority provided to DOE and DOE contractor protective force officers under Section 161.k of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended. The regulations also describe the circumstances under which physical force, including deadly force as necessary, may be used to effect arrests under the Act.

21. MEDICAL AND PHYSICAL FITNESS STANDARDS FOR DOE PROTECTIVE FORCE PERSONNEL

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2011 et seq

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 1046

Abstract: The regulations in this part establish requirements for the medical and physical fitness qualification standards for DOE and DOE contractor protective force personnel. These requirements are essential to ensure that persons responsible for the protection of DOE facilities, nuclear weapons, special nuclear material, and classified matter and related activities are medically and physically able to perform their routine and emergency duties.

22. LOAN GUARANTEE FOR DEVELOPMENT OF UNDERGROUND COAL MINES AND CONSTRUCTION OF COAL PREPARATION PLANTS

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 300, (Revision)

Abstract: The Coal Loan Guarantee Program is designed to encourage and assist relatively small coal producers to increase the nation's coal production from low-sulfur underground coal mines; to enhance competition within the coal industry; to encourage new market entry by small coal producers who, historically, have been unable to obtain adequate long-term financing; and to encourage the construction of coal preparation plants designed to reduce the sulfur content of coal. Potential costs of the program are a default reserve fund of $2.5 million. Potential benefits include the construction of several coal preparation plants.

23. STANDARD CONTRACT FOR DISPOSAL OF SPENT NUCLEAR FUEL AND/OR HIGH-LEVEL RADIOACTIVE WASTE -- AMENDMENT

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10222 Sec 302 of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 961.11

Abstract: A standard contract has been established at 10 CFR Part 961, to be used by DOE in furnishing disposal services to the owners and generators of spent nuclear fuel and/or high-level radioactive waste. This regulation would amend Article VIII of the contract. The alternatives being considered relate to such matters as the fees charged for reinserted fuel, fuel size, and the contract amendment ratification process. The DOE is determining the specifics of potential costs and benefits to the government and users of disposal services.

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 605

Abstract: The regulation would implement a program of special research grants to facilitate the use of grants by the DOE Office of Energy Research in support of basic and applied research and related activities. It would supplement DOE's Financial Assistance Rules by providing specific procedures for the program. The regulation will not impose additional burdens, but will provide a comprehensive procedural mechanism for funding research through grants.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10101

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 960

Abstract: In accordance with the requirements of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 (Pub. Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 7151; 42 USC 7172; 15 USC 3391 to 3393

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 598

Abstract: The proposed rule establishes natural gas curtailment priorities applicable to deliveries by interstate pipelines during periods when not enough gas is available to supply all customers. The proposed rule implements the rulemaking requirements of Title IV of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 by establishing curtailment priorities for high priority uses and for essential agricultural and essential industrial feedstock and process uses.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 3412; 42 USC 7101; 5 USC 553

28. ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES WITH RESPECT TO THE IMPORT AND EXPORT OF NATURAL GAS

Legal Authority: 15 USC 717 et seq; 42 USC 7151; 42 USC 7172

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 205; 10 CFR 590

Abstract: ERA is currently following the FERC procedural rules on an interim basis in natural gas import and export proceedings. The proposal would establish administrative procedures that generally would be informal, would provide more flexibility for tailoring the procedures to the needs of a particular case, and would reflect ERA's organization structure and legislative mandate. Evidentiary hearings would be reserved for situations where necessary to resolve disputes of material issues of fact. The proposal would also eliminate the FERC requirement that the ultimate decisionmaker or an Administrative Law Judge presides at hearings. The proposed rule would ease the regulatory burden on applicants and interested parties by simplifying the procedures and reducing the amount of information and number of documents required for an import or export application.

Abstract: The Department of Energy Acquisition Regulation, promulgated March 29, 1984, at 49 FR 11922, supplements and implements the Federal Acquisition Regulation. A more recent Federal Acquisition Circular has been issued to establish a FAR Part 27 concerning Patents. It will be necessary to revise Part 927 of the DEAR to supplement and implement the FAR and to explain how DOE patent policy will differ due to our statutory requirements. The Department also plans to revise Part 950 of the DEAR regarding extraordinary contract actions to describe how such requests will be handled. 35. SECURITY POLICIES AND PRACTICES RELATING TO LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS

Legal Authority: PL 95-91

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 706

Abstract: DOE proposes to amend 10 CFR Part 706. This part previously was published as an Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) regulation and was revised to reflect its status as a DOE regulation. Section 301 of the Department of Energy Organization Act transferred to and vested in the Secretary of Energy all the functions previously vested in ERDA. To reflect better its present character as a DOE regulation, DOE is proposing to amend Part 706 in several sections to reflect current application of Part 706. For example, a definition of installation will be included in order to specify which DOE contractors are covered by Part 706. In addition, other changes are being made in the interest of brevity, consistency and clarity.

Unified Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Health and Human Services.

ACTION: Publication of unified agenda of regulations.

SUMMARY: The President's February 17, 1981, Executive Order (12291) and the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 require the Department to publish an agenda of significant regulations being developed and an indication of those regulatory actions that are being analyzed for their effect on small businesses. The Department published its last agenda on October 22, 1984.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further inquiries or comments related to specific regulations listed in the agenda, the public is encouraged to contact the appropriate responsible individual. Questions or comments on the overall agenda should be sent to: John J. Phelan, Associate Executive Secretary/Regulations, Office of the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services, 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201, Telephone: (202) 245-3475.

Margaret M. Heckler,

Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services.

RIN: 0991-AA02

2. PUBLIC INFORMATION REGULATION

Legal Authority: 5 USC 552

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 5

Abstract: This will be the first complete update since August 1974 of the Department's Public Information Regulation implementing the Freedom of Information Act. It will facilitate public access to information by making necessary revisions, clarifying, and promulgating at one time all the subparts of the regulation. It will also help Departmental personnel processing FOIA requests by providing them with an integrated regulation that is compatible with current procedures for processing FOIA requests and assessing search and copy fees that reflect the increased cost of such services. The only alternative to this complete update is to continue to operate with a regulation that in the past has been revised on a piecemeal basis.

3. RULEMAKING RELATING TO PUBLIC PROPERTY, LOANS, GRANTS, BENEFITS, AND CONTRACTS

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 2

Abstract: These regulations state the Department's policy on the use of notice and comment procedures where they are not required by statute. The regulations have no direct budgetary impact.

4. ADMINISTRATION OF GRANTS TO STATES OTHER THAN BLOCK GRANTS OR OPEN-ENDED GRANTS

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 74; 45 CFR 98

Abstract: Will reduce and simplify grants administration requirements imposed on States. Except for grants to State universities and hospitals, will apply to almost all HHS close-end categorical grants to States, discretionary (project) grants as well as mandatory (formula) grants. Issues will probably be which of the proposed changes do not go far enough in relieving States of burdens and restrictions and which go too far. No significant impact expected on Federal budget but should reduce administrative costs of States (no estimate available or feasible). This is one of the regulatory relief efforts announced and directed by the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief.

5. PRIVACY ACT REGULATION

Legal Authority: 5 USC 552a

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 5b

Abstract: This will be the first complete update since 1975 of the Department's Privacy Act Regulation implementing the Privacy Act of 1974. It will facilitate individuals' access to information and records that the Department maintains about them in more than 400 designated Privacy Act Systems of Records, clarifying and promulgating at one time all the subparts of the regulation. It will also help Departmental personnel processing Privacy Act requests by providing them with an integrated regulation that is compatible with current procedures for processing such requests. The only alternative to this complete update is to continue to operate with a regulation that in the past has been revised on a piecemeal basis.

Legal Authority: 5 USC 501

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 74, Appendix E; 45 CFR 78

Abstract: This action will revise the Department's current cost principles for research and development activities under grants and contracts with hospitals to make them clearer, more specific, and compatible with cost principles issued by OMB for educational institutions and nonprofit organizations. The revision will also broaden the coverage of the principles to include all grants, contracts and other agreements with hospitals (except the Medicare & Medicaid programs).

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: PL 97-365; 31 USC 3711; 31 USC 2716 to 3718; 5 USC 5514; 5 USC 552a

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 30, (Revision)

Abstract: The proposed rule amends the Department's regulation for collecting debts. Principally, the amendments implement the Debt Collection Act of 1982 (P.L. 97-365), which amended the Federal Claims Collection Act of 1966 (31 U.S.C. 3711, 3716-3718) to authorize, among other things, the charging of interest, penalties and administrative costs, and the use of administrative offset, private collection agencies and credit reporting agencies by the Government. The amendments also implement government-wide regulations issued by the Department of Justice and GAO (49 F.R. 8889) and OPM (49 F.R. 27470).

15. GRANTS TO STATES FOR PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 201.66,(Revision)

Abstract: The proposed rule amends 45 CFR 201.66 by removing paragraph (b)(8). Section 201.66 governs States' repayment by installments of debts to the Department arising from audit disallowances under Titles I, IV-A, X, XIV, XVI (AABD) or XIX of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 201 et seq). Paragraph (b)(8) provides that States will not be charged interest on those repayments unless mandated by court order. Paragraph (b)(8) is being removed to conform to the Department's interest policy set forth in the proposed amendments to 45 CFR Part 30, the Claims Collection Regulation. The provision is inconsistent with the Department's policy of charging interest on outstanding debts.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 670 et seq Adoption Assist & Child Welfare Act of 1980; 42 USC 620 et seq; 42 USC 1302 Social Security Act

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 1356; 45 CFR 1357

Abstract: This NPRM will propose criteria the Department will use to verify that a State has met statutory requirements and is eligible to receive additional funds under Section 427 of the Social Security Act as amended by the Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-272). The proposed rule will contain the specific criteria by which State performance in meeting the requirements of Section 427 is determined, the percentage levels and other standards for case record compliance, and procedures for conducting compliance reviews.

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 56; 45 CFR 224

Abstract: These rules implement three provisions of the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 (PL 98-369) regarding the WIN program. These changes: (1) add a new exemption for women from the WIN work requirements beginning with the sixth month of pregnancy; (2) permit, under the protective payment requirement, a sanctioned caretaker relative (one who refused to participate in WIN or accept employment without good cause) to receive the AFDC payment on behalf of the assistance unit if a suitable protective payee cannot be located; and (3) exempt AFDC recipients from the work program requirements if they are participating in a Work Supplementation Program operated by a State.

19. ● HEAD START PROGRAM

Legal Authority: 42 USC 9831 et seq The Head Start Act, PL 97-35, as amended

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 1301

Abstract: This rule would amend existing regulations governing the recruitment and selection of Head Start staff. The proposed rule would emphasize the importance of careful screening of employees in Head Start programs by requiring that Head Start programs have formal personnel policies and procedures in place that will provide safeguards against the possibility of abuse and neglect, including sexual abuse, occurring in the Head Start program.

Legal Authority: PL 97-248, Sec 186; 42 USC 1382g(c); PL 97-377, Sec 147; PL 98-21, Sec 402

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart T

Abstract: These rules reflect changes in the law which enable States effective for the 12-month period ending 6/82, to switch from the "maintaining of total expenditures" method of compliance with mandatory pass through provisions to the "maintaining of payment levels" method without first having to pass through to all current SSI recipients all the Federal cost-of-living benefit increases which have occurred since 12/76. States can meet the pass through requirements by maintaining the payment levels in effect in December of the latest preceding total expenditures period. The concept of "State

Supplementary payment level" is changed to a concept of combined supplementary and SSI payment levels applicable to months after 3/83. Also, a State is permitted to reduce its 3/83 State Supplementary payment levels by an amount up to the difference between the amount of the 7/83 general increase in the Federal benefits in 7/83. Also reflected in the rules is a special method of compliance for States meeting the passalong requirements by the total annual expenditures test for the period 7/1/80 through 6/30/81. The total expenditures for that period need only equal or exceed the total (cont)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart P; 20 CFR 416, Subpart I

Abstract: This proposed regulation describes revised procedures for processing certain cases where a person's benefits are being stopped because he or she has been found to be not now disabled or blind, as defined in the law. The proposed regulation amends the rules describing when a person's disability will be determined to have ended and, therefore, when cash disability benefits will be stopped (and, for a disabled worker, when a period of disability ends). These changes will result in a moderate increase in program costs.

27. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAM; COVERAGE OF EMPLOYEES OF STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 418; 42 USC 1302; PL 98-21, Sec 103; PL 98-21, Sec 342

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart M

Abstract: This proposed regulation reflects policies and procedures concerning agreements between States and the Secretary for Social Security coverage of State and local employees, payment of Social Security contributions, filing of wage reports by States, charging interest for late payments, etc. The current rules need to be organized into a logical sequence and to be updated to reflect many policies which SSA has followed for many years. In preparing this regulation, we reviewed all policies to assess their impact on the trust funds and to reduce recordkeeping burdens. We also added the provisions of sections 103 and 342 of Pub. L. 98-21. Sec. 103 prohibits termination of existing coverage under the States' agreements. Sec. 342 changes payment of Social Security contributions from once a month to twice a month. Other than these two statutory changes, which leave no room for administrative discretion, this proposed regulation primarily reflects current policies, so that any program and administrative costs or savings resulting from the regulation will be minimal.

Legal Authority: PL 97-35, Sec 2207; 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1306

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 401; 20 CFR 422, Subpart E

Abstract: The substantive changes in these rules conform current rules on who can deny or release a record to those published in final by HHS on May 12, 1982 at 47 FR 20309. They conform the SSA Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) fee schedule to that published by HHS in a final regulation on 9/22/82 at 47 FR 41751. They also announce a fee schedule under which we will charge the full cost of providing certain records as allowed by section 2207 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981. The HHS FOIA fee schedule and our proposed fee schedule to charge full cost of providing certain records will result in savings to the Social Security trust funds by permitting SSA to charge more than currently allowed for providing records and record related services.

29. GENERAL ADMINISTRATION-PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS; AFDC; FEDERAL FINANCIAL PARTICIPATION IN THE COST OF A STATEWIDE MECHANIZED CLAIMS PROCESSING SYSTEM

Legal Authority: 42 USC 602(a); 42 USC 603(a)(3); 42 USC 613; PL 96-265, Sec 406

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 205.35; 45 CFR 205.36; 45 CFR 205.37; 45 CFR 205.38

Abstract: The regulation will make available, at State option, 90 percent matching funds for the planning, design, development, and installation of a statewide claims processing and information retrieval system for the AFDC program. The 90 percent matching includes the purchase or rental of computer equipment and software used for the operation of this system. The regulation will result in short-run administrative costs, but is expected to result in greater long-run program savings through increased accuracy of processing. The regulation also provides for the disallowance of incentive funds that exceed the normal administrative FFP rate (50 percent) back to the beginning date of development should SSA suspend approval of an approved APD or should a State voluntarily withdraw its approved APD.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart K

Abstract: This regulation provides that deeming of parental income and resources to an eligible child ends when a child reaches age 18 and that a sponsor's income and resources are deemed to an alien for a period of three years after admission for aliens who first apply for SSI benefits after September 30, 1980. The regulation eliminates different treatment of children aged 18 to 21 depending on status as students, and assumes that sponsors will support aliens and sets more rigid rules for the sponsor to alien deeming than apply to other deeming categories.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart B; 20 CFR 416, Subpart D; 20 CFR 416, Subpart K; 20 CFR 416, Subpart L; 20 CFR 416, Subpart T

Abstract: This regulation will implement statutory provisions for retrospective monthly accounting and spell out how they affect various regulations that deal with eligibility for and the amount of SSI benefits. This regulation will implement a significant change from quarterly to monthly determinations of eligibility and benefit amount. Although in the first year (1982) of implementation of retrospective monthly accounting there will be an administrative cost, it will be followed by an administrative saving thereafter. Some significant program costs are projected in 1982 through 1984 and neither cost nor savings in 1985.

Abstract: These rules should promote final resolution of cases at the hearing stage and help to reserve appeals council review for cases of a genuinely appellate nature. These rules specify that if a person files an application for benefits before the first month he or she meets all requirements for entitlement, we will allow the claim only if he or she meets all requirements before a hearing decision is issued (if a hearing is held) or if no hearing is held, before a final determination is made. These rules will generate program savings and administrative costs and savings.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart P

Abstract: The regulation revises the medical evaluation criteria used in making Social Security and SSI disability determinations. The changes reflect advances in medical treatment of some conditions and in the methods of evaluating others. Since no significant change in disability allowance and denial rates is expected to result from these changes in the regulations, there will be little, if any, impact on costs (both program and administrative). Other proposed regulations are being processed regarding the evaluation criteria used in determining mental disorders.

Abstract: This regulation will affect a number of provisions of the AFDC program. It will result in savings to

State and Federal governments and will ease the paperwork burden of the States. The changes may include provisions on restricted payments, hearings, redeterminations, issuances of replacement checks and others that will result in a "least costly" approach to the administration of AFDC. This regulation will result in dollar savings and the relief of administrative burdens that we expect to accrue.

Abstract: Sections 4 and 5 of Pub. L. 97-455 require SSA to make face-to-face evidentiary hearings available at the first stage of appeal, known as reconsideration, in cases in which an initial determination is made that an individual receiving title II disability benefits is not now disabled. Regulations are necessary to implement this statutory requirement, which will make the reconsideration stage more meaningful. Although not specifically required by the statute, the proposed regulations will include SSI disability and blindness cessation cases in the new reconsideration process. The availability of an evidentiary hearing at the reconsideration stage in disability and blindness termination cases should enable reconsiderations to be based on more complete information, enable more appeals to be resolved at that level, and thus reduce the workload at the administrative law judge hearing level and in the Appeals Council.

The proposed changes will result in negligible program or administrative costs or savings.

Abstract: This regulation consists of amendments to 5 rules on wage coverage under Social Security. These amendments are: (1) The value of the meals and lodging furnished for the convenience of the employer must be excluded from the employee's gross income; (2) With only limited exceptions, an employer may no longer exclude from an employee's wages, his or her payment of the employee's FICA tax; (3) Payments by an employer to an employee after the calendar year of the employee's entitlement to disability insurance benefits are not wages if paid in a period the employee did not work; (4) The scope of the entitlement to the deemed wages provided to internees of the camps for Japanese-Americans during World War II period is being broadened; (5) The scope of the entitlement to the deemed wages provided to members of the uniformed services is being narrowed. Only two regulations will have a cost impact. Amendment (1) above will reduce the Social Security benefits paid the affected employees but not by $100 million in any year. Amendment (2) will increase taxes paid by employers and employees but these increases are required by the statutory provisions and not the regulation.

42. SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM; REOPENING AND REVISING SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME DETERMINATIONS AND DECISIONS WITHIN FOUR YEARS OF THE NOTICE OF THE INITIAL DETERMINATION

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383; 42 USC 1383b

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.1488

Abstract: The proposed rules provide for the reopening and revising of Supplemental Security Income determinations within four years of the notice of the initial determination if we discover an error affecting a claimant's eligibility or benefit amount during this period through the use of information exchange and data gathering involving either our records or our records and those of other Federal or State agencies. This rule is being proposed because the two-year period in which we may reopen and revise a determination based on new and material evidence we acquire through data and exchange is often too short and often expires before the determination to correct errors revealed by the data can be made. The budgetary impact has not yet been determined.

Legal Authority: PL 98-21, Sec 132; PL 98-21, Sec 301

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart D; 20 CFR 404, Subpart E

Abstract: This proposed regulation provides that a divorced spouse of a worker who is eligible for old-age benefits can receive wife's or husband's benefits if the divorced spouse is otherwise eligible for them and the parties have been divorced for at least 2 years, even if the worker has not applied for benefits or if the worker's current earnings are too high to permit payment of the worker's old-age benefits. Total program cost is estimated as under $100 million through 1989.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart J; 20 CFR 416, Subpart N

Abstract: These proposed regulations reflect section 310 of Pub. L. 96-265 which became effective June 9, 1980. That law provides permanent authority for the payment of certain travel expenses to (1) individuals who attend medical examinations requested by the Social Security Administration (SSA) in connection with disability determinations, (2) parties, their representatives, and all reasonably necessary witnesses who attend disability termination hearings in connection with disability claims, and (3) parties, their representatives, and all reasonably necessary witnesses who attend hearings held before an administrative law judge. We have been paying travel expenses based on internal procedure without regulation. These regulations will not cause any appreciable change in expenditures.

45. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE AND SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAMS; NEW BENEFIT COMPUTATIONS FOR COST-OF-LIVING ADJUSTMENT, FOR DELAYED RETIREMENT CREDIT, AND FOR ETC

Legal Authority: 42 USC 402(w); 42 USC 403(a),(b); 42 USC 415(i); 42 USC 1382(f)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart C; 20 CFR 404, Subpart D; 20 CFR 404, Subpart E; 20 CFR 416, Subpart D

Abstract: This proposed regulation will state that beginning with 1983, the annual cost-of-living adjustment will be effective in December and paid in January rather than being effective in June and paid in July. This revised schedule affects both OASDI and SSI. Additionally, the adjustment will be based on the lower of wages or price increases when the OASDI trust fund ratio of assets to estimated outgo falls below a given percentage. This proposed regulation will also explain that the combined family maximum, where there is entitlement on two workers' records, will be increased only on the basis of cost-of-living adjustments. Finally, this regulation will explain the gradual increases in the delayed retirement credit. Shifting the cost-of-living adjustment will reduce program expenditures by $39.4 billion for 1983-89. The other provisions on this regulation package will have negligible program costs.

Abstract: The proposed regulations will provide for additional coverage of employees of non-profit organizations and other employees and self-employed individuals working outside the U.S. Section 102 will increase revenues by $12.4 billion for 1984-89. Long range savings of .10 percent of taxable payroll. Sections 321, 322 and 323 will have negligible cost implications.

48. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAM; ELIMINATION OF WINDFALL BENEFITS FOR PERSONS RECEIVING PENSIONS FROM NONCOVERED EMPLOYMENT

Legal Authority: PL 98-21, Sec 113

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart C

Abstract: The provision of section 113 of Pub. L. 98-21 (the Social Security Amendments of 1983) eliminates the windfall that occurs when the heavy weighting in the benefit formula that is intended for workers with low wages goes instead to workers who spent many years in noncovered employment and worked only a few years in covered employment. This will be accomplished by modifying the benefit computation formula to consider a worker's pension from noncovered employment. This provision will decrease program costs by $0.1 billion for 1983-89.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1383 (e)(i)(d)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart B; 20 CFR 416, Subpart M

Abstract: Section 1611(e)(1)(A) of the Social Security Act provides that, with certain limited exceptions, no person may be eligible for Supplemental Security Income Benefits for months throughout which he or she resides in a public institution. Section 403 of Pub. L. 98-21, which these regulations would implement, provides that an aged, blind, or disabled resident of a public emergency shelter for the homeless may be eligible for benefits for as many as three months in any 12-month period throughout which he or she is a resident of such a shelter. Program costs will be approximately $2 million for fiscal year 1983.

Abstract: These proposed regulations implement section 404 of Pub. L. 98-21 and section 2639 of Pub. L. 98-369 which provide that certain support and maintenance assistance is not to be counted when determining an individual's eligibility for and the amount of his or her Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits or at the State's option, his or her Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) payments. 51. SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM; RESOURCE LIMITS FOR CONDITIONAL SSI PAYMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1382b(b); 42 USC 1383(d)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart L

Abstract: Current regulations for the Supplemental Security Income program provide that if total resources (liquid and nonliquid) exceed certain limits, an individual may receive conditional SSI payments while disposing of the excess resources. This proposed regulation will eliminate the limit on total resources but retain the limit on liquid resources so that individuals who have little or no income but who own expensive, hard to dispose of nonliquid resources, may receive conditional payments. The proposed change will result in no significant program or administrative cost or savings.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; PL 98-21, Sec 340

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.460(b)

Abstract: These regulations implement Sec. 340 of Pub. L. 98-21--The Social Security Amendments of 1983--which provides a U.S. residence requirement that the dependent or survivor beneficiary must now meet if he or she is an alien outside the U.S. These provisions do not apply to the alien who is an old-age beneficiary who is residing outside the U.S. The dependent or survivor beneficiary, however, who is an alien outside the U.S. will not be paid benefits effective January 1, 1985 unless he or she satisfies these new residence requirements. These provisions will effect negligible budget savings, i.e., $50 million for the period 1983-89.

53. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAM; INDEXING FOR WIDOW(ER)'S BENEFITS; EFFECT OF REMARRIAGE ON WIDOW(ER)'S ENTITLEMENT; REDUCTION OF DISABLED WIDOW(ER)'S BENEFITS; ETC

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart C; 20 CFR 404, Subpart D; 20 CFR 404, Subpart E; 20 CFR 404, Subpart G

Abstract: These final rules will explain: (1) that in many situations remarriage will no longer affect a widow(er)'s entitlement to benefits on the earnings record of a deceased insured worker; (2) that benefit amounts for a widow(er) will be larger because the worker's earnings will be indexed based on the surviving spouse's eligibility rather than on the worker's year of death; (3) that benefits to a widow(er) who becomes entitled before age 60 (based on disability) will no longer be further reduced for months before age 60; (4) that, as an exception to limited retroactivity, a widow(er) age 60 or 61 may choose to have benefits begin effective with the month of death even though he or she did not apply until the next month. Budgetary information is unavailable at this time.

Abstract: These rules were developed as a result of a decision of the U.S.D.C. for the District of Colorado in the case of Pulido et al. v. Heckler. The rules would revise (1) 20 CFR 404.938 and 20 CFR 416.1438 to provide that a notice of hearing will be provided to a claimant at least 20 days prior to the date of a hearing; (2) 20 CFR 404.936 and 20 CFR 416.1436 to set forth standards to be applied and factors to be considered by an ALJ in determining whether there is good cause for changing the time or place of a hearing at a claimant's request; and (3) 20 CFR 404.957 and 20 CFR 416.1457 to permit the ALJ to dismiss a request for hearing without further contact with a claimant or his or her representative when the claimant and the representative fail to appear at the hearing and the ALJ has not found good cause for changing the time or place of the hearing.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.934

Abstract: Section 1631(a)(B) of the Social Security Act provides for the payment of benefits to persons applying for supplemental security income benefits on the basis of disability or blindness before making a formal determination when available information indicates a high probability that disability exists. These presumptive disability and blindness decisions may be made at the Social Security district offices in a limited number of impairment categories. We are proposing to add Chronic Renal Disease to these categories in view of the predictability that the disease will result in a finding of disability. Budgetary impact is expected to be negligible.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383(a)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart U; 20 CFR 416, Subpart F

Abstract: These proposed rules would revise 20 CFR 404.2040 and 20 CFR 416.640, which stipulate the use of benefit payments by a representative payee, explaining that retroactive title II and title XVI benefits received by a representative payee who is a member of an Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) assistance unit, on behalf of a child in the same unit, may be considered available to meet the needs of that AFDC assistance unit. If the representative payee is not a member of the assistance unit, title II and title XVI benefits would be counted as available income for AFDC purposes only to the extent that the payee provides these funds to the AFDC household for the beneficiary's maintenance. Potential costs and benefits are not available at this time. We are also proposing direct payment to a beneficiary under age 18 if the beneficiary is within 7 months of attaining age 18 and is initially filing an application for benefits. This proposed revision represents a policy change and is an extension of the 4-month period in our current regulations.

Abstract: The regulations are being amended to provide rules where resources are excluded because they are property essential to an individual's self-support. These changes, which do not appear in existing regulations, include value limits for property essential to self-support and describe conditions under which an individual's property will be taken into consideration when income-producing activities are associated with the home. Certain rules involving the automobile and the home are included with these regulations since they relate to the self-support rules. We estimate negligible additional costs.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart P

Abstract: Section 12.00 of Appendix 1 Part A to the Disability Regulations (404.1501 through 404.1598) describes those mental disorders which are considered severe enough to prevent a person from doing any gainful activity. We are proposing a comprehensive revision to that section to require consideration of the nature and clinical manifestations of mental disorders as well as consideration of the degree of limitations such disorders may impose on an individual's ability to work. Initial estimates of the Budgetary impact are 3.5 billion for title II and 0.795 for title XVI. Estimates for Health Care Costs are now being obtained.

64. PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS, DUPLICATE ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 603

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 201.70

Abstract: This proposed regulation will require States to report on their quarterly statement of expenditures the Federal share of previously claimed assistance checks which are determined to be: (1) replacements of checks cashed by eligible recipients, or (2) original checks cashed by persons other than the authorized payee. This rule will also clarify procedures for claiming Federal Financial Participation for duplicate checks.

Abstract: Effective June 1, 1981, we promulgated regulations requiring State agencies making disability determinations for the Social Security Administration to meet accuracy and processing time standards and to follow other administrative requirements and procedures. The purpose of these changes is to improve the disability determination process and to clarify and update certain administrative requirements. On the basis of experience in operating under those regulations, we are now proposing performance standard changes for both accuracy and processing time, as well as some administrative changes in fiscal, audit, and appeal requirements.

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 232.12; 45 CFR 233.20; 45 CFR 302.31; 45 CFR 303.80

Abstract: This proposed regulation establishes two methods under which support payments directly received from an absent parent and retained by an AFDC recipient must be accounted for. One method is the IV-A income method in which the IV-A agency counts retained support as income and the other is IV-D recovery in which the IV-D agency collects payments on the indebtedness from the recipient. The proposed regulations provide policy for the collection or accounting for retained support.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.1500ff; 20 CFR 404.1600ff; 20 CFR 416.900ff; 20 CFR 416.1000ff

Abstract: Disability regulations 404.1526(d) and 416.926(b) state that one or more physicians designated by the Secretary must determine medical equivalence. Disability regulations 404.1546 and 416.946 state that physicians designated by the Secretary must assess residual functional capacity where required. Disability regulations 404.1615(c) and 416.1015(c) state that disability determinations are to be made by a medical consultant and a disability examiner. The preamble to the cited regulations defines medical consultant as a physician. We will be proposing new policies with regard to responsibilities and qualifications of psychologists and physicians in mental disorder claims. We will also be proposing new policies with regard to our and State Agency responsibilities for ensuring that every reasonable effort is made to have qualified psychologists and physicians participate in all determinations involving mental impairments.

80. ● OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE AND SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAMS; PERSONAL APPEARANCE DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383; PL 98-460

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.906; 20 CFR 416.1406

Abstract: Sec. 6 of Pub. L. 98-460 requires SSA to carry on demonstration projects that provide an opportunity for a personal appearance with the decisionmaker before an unfavorable determination about disability or blindness is made. The sample of cases is to include disability cases under title II of the Social Security Act (the Act) as well as blindness and disability cases in the Supplemental Security Income program under title XVI of the Act. It is to include people who have applied for benefits but have not received an initial determination about their eligibility and people who have been receiving benefits but whose condition is being reviewed to determine whether they are still disabled or blind. The purpose is to test whether a personal appearance with the decisionmaker at this stage of the decisionmaking process will permit the decisionmaker to better evaluate the person's condition and simplify and expedite the decision process. We plan to issue regulations to implement the demonstration projects. The cost to SSA is not yet determined.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: PL 98-460, Sec 9; 42 USC 465; 42 USC 421; 42 USC 423; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1382c; 42 USC 1383

Abstract: The regulations include standards for obtaining consultative examinations, the types of consultative examination referrals to be made, and monitoring procedures for consultative examinations and the referral process. The regulations also provide for evaluating medical evidence of record and a 12-month medical history where appropriate. The requirement that a medical assessment in work-related terms be included in medical reports is being eliminated. Congress expressed concern about SSA's reliance on consultative examinations rather than medical evidence from treating sources. SSA has been criticized because consultative examiners (especially those providing consultative examinations on a volume basis) were believed to have done incomplete examinations or used inadequate facilities. Congress believed that requiring SSA to put its consultative examination standards in regulation would serve to eliminate these problems. The changes will not have any significant impact on either administrative or program costs.

Abstract: This regulation reflects the provisions of section 2611 of PL 98-369, the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984, which amended section 1611(a) of the Social Security Act (the Act). Section 2611 provides for increasing the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) resource limitations by $100 for an individual and $150 for a couple each year from January 1985 to January 1989. On January 1, 1989, and continuing, the resource limits will be $2,000/$3,000 respectively. There are no alternatives. We estimate program cost of less than $1 million per year and the administrative costs will be insignificant.

Abstract: The proposed regulations will permit the Secretary to terminate a beneficiary's entitlement to Social Security disability or SSI disabled or blind benefits or to determine that a period of disability has ended on the basis that the impairment has ceased, no longer exists, or is not disabling only if there is substantial evidence of at least one of the following: (1) That the individual nas medically improved (other than improvement not related to his ability to work) and is now able to engage in substantial gainful activity (SGA); (2) That (except for SSI recipients eligible to receive benefits under section 1619) new medical evidence and a new assessment of the individual's residual functional capacity demonstrate that, although the individual has not improved medically, (a) he is a beneficiary of advances in medical or vocational therapy or technology, related to his ability to work, and is now able to perform SGA, or (b) he has undergone vocational therapy, related to his ability to work, and is now able to perform SGA; (3) That, as determined on the basis of new or improved diagnostic techniques or evaluations, the individual's impairment is now as disabling as it (cont)

88. ● SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAMS; ASSIGNMENT OF RIGHTS TO THIRD-PARTY MEDICAL PAYMENTS TO STATE

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1383c; 42 USC 1396k

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.2101 to 416.2119

Abstract: Our current regulations permit a State to have SSA make determinations for the State on whether aged, blind, or disabled people are eligible for Medicaid. The regulations now permit this only if the State's Medicaid requirements for these people are the same as SSI eligibility requirements. But Sec. 2367 of Pub. L. 98-369 mandates that States require, as a condition of Medicaid eligibility, that a person assign to the State his or her rights to any medical care support available under an order of a court or an administrative agency and any third-party payments for medical care (except Medicare). Since this is a Medicaid requirement that is different from SSI requirements, no complying State could have SSA make its Medicaid determinations. The assignment requirement is intended to give States an efficient means of preventing or recovering Medicaid overpayments that result from payment by Medicaid of medical expenses for which someone else is legally responsible. Making Medicaid determinations for States is intended to prevent duplication of effort and save States some expense. Our regulations were not intended (cont)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1382a

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.1123(b)

Abstract: The issue is whether amounts otherwise due an individual assigned to repay a legal obligation should continue to be included in income under the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program. The proposed regulation will clarify that we count such amounts as income. Because this clarification only will lend greater support to current operating policy, no costs/savings are anticipated.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 423; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1382c; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart P; 20 CFR 416, Subpart I

Abstract: These proposed rules which implement section 2 of Pub. L. 97-455, section 2 of Pub. L. 98-118 and section 7 of Pub. L. 98-460 provide the following groups with the option to elect to continue receiving benefits/payments pending reconsideration and/or a hearing before an administrative law judge on a medical cessation determination.

Recipients of disability insurance; adult child's, disabled widow's, disabled widower's, mother's and father's, or spouse's based on having in care a disabled adult child. Recipients of benefits based on having in care, a child under age 18 but over age 15, who is disabled and receiving child's benefits. Recipients of SSI benefits based on disability or blindness. Any continued payments are subject to recovery as overpayments, subject to the same waiver provisions now in current law and regulations where the medical cessation decision is upheld on appeal. The estimated additional costs not already funded are FY 1985--$80.1 million, FY 1986--$112.6 million.

Legal Authority: PL 98-369, Sec 2613

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416

Abstract: This proposed regulation reflects the provisions of section 2613 of P.L. 98-369 which provides for waiving recovery of an overpayment that is attributable solely to excess resources if the amount of the excess if $50 or less unless the overpaid recipient (and spouse if any) knowingly and willfully failed to report the value of his/her resources accurately and timely.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 606; 42 USC 1302; PL 98-378, Sec 20

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 233

Abstract: This interim final rule, which implements section 20 of the Child Support Enforcement Amendments of 1984 (Pub. L. 98-378) specifies that in any case where the collection or increased collection of support under title IV-D of the Social Security Act contributes wholly or partly to a family's ineligibility for AFDC, the family is deemed, but only for the purpose of Medicaid eligibility, to be receiving AFDC for a period of four calendar months after the last month of AFDC eligibility. This applies only to families who receive AFDC in three of the six months immediately preceding the month of ineligibility. "Received" includes those individuals denied an AFDC payment solely because the payment amount is under $10 or because the payment is determined to be zero as a result of rounding. The estimated costs are: FY 1985--$53 million, FY 1986--$58 million, FY 1987--$62 million, and FY 1988--$68 million.

Abstract: These proposed rules would make two changes on when a determination or decision affecting someone's rights may be reopened and revised. These changes would permit reopening more than 4 years after the date of the notice of the initial determination so that we can correct clerical errors or errors on the face of the evidence considered in making the determination or decision. We are proposing to make these changes so that we can correct erroneous determinations or decisions discovered more than 4 years after the date of the initial determination. In addition, the proposed rules would establish a new administrative action called a "non-action finding." A "non-action finding" occurs when we fail to act on a report by a beneficiary and as a result fail to make an adverse change in the individual's benefits. A "non-action finding" is final and binding on both us and the beneficiary, subject to special rules on reopening and revising that action. We are proposing to make this change so that a beneficiary is protected under rules covering the reopening and revising of determinations and decisions against the retroactive effect of a (cont)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 421

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404; 20 CFR 416

Abstract: The regulations deal with the operation of State agencies which make disability determinations for the Social Security Disability Benefits program and the Supplemental Security Income for the Aged, Blind, and Disabled program under regulations and other written SSA guidelines. The regulations implement recently enacted law which requires the Secretary to take definitive steps within specific time frames to assure the compliance of State agencies with SSA regulations and other written guidelines or proceed to determine their participation in the SSA administered programs. The regulations also make other changes to improve the disability determination process and to clarify and update other administrative requirements. Costs/savings cannot be estimated at this time.

Abstract: Public Law 98-460 created 2 new provisions under which SSA will pay vocational rehabilitation (VR) agencies for the costs of services provided to disabled or blind social security beneficiaries or SSI recipients. Under the first new provision, SSA will allow payment to VRA's for the costs of VR services provided to individuals continuing to receive payment because they are participating in a VR program after their period of disability has ceased due to their unexpected medical recovery. The second new provision allows payment to VRA's for the costs of VR services provided to beneficiaries/recipients who refuse without good cause to continue or to cooperate in a VR program in such a way as to preclude their successful rehabilitation with such refusal resulting in the nonpayment of their disability or blindness payments. It is estimated that the first year costs of this program will be less than 1 million dollars.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1320a-6

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.408b; 20 CFR 416.1123

Abstract: Sec. 2615 of Pub. L. 98-369 amended sec. 1127 of the Social Security Act to eliminate loopholes that permit some people who are paid Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance (OASDI) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits retroactively to receive more in total benefits for the same period than if they had been paid the benefits when regularly due. The two main changes are: (1) Retroactive SSI benefits will be reduced where retroactive OASDI benefits for the same period have been paid before the SSI benefits. Under prior law, reductions could be made only in retroactive OASDI benefits and only when the retroactive SSI had been paid first. (2) OASDI or SSI benefits payable retroactively upon reinstatement following a period of suspension or termination will be reduced by the amount of SSI benefits that would not have been paid if the OASDI benefits had been paid when regularly due. We plan to amend our regulations to conform to the statutory changes. The program savings and administrative costs to SSA are not yet determined.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart E

Abstract: These proposed rules which implement section 2612 of Pub. L. 98-469 will limit the rate at which an overpayment may be recovered from an individual still receiving benefits (SSI or federally administered supplementary payments, or both) to 10 percent of the recipient's total income (countable income plus SSI and State supplementary payments) or the recipient's payment for the month, whichever is less. They will apply the 10 percent requirement only to recipients in current payment status. However, recovery of an overpayment by withholding from SSI payments due will be suspended when a recipient is subject to the $25 payment limitation (living arrangement D). The 10 percent limit will not apply in situations involving installment agreements, recovery by refund, cross program adjustment or where it is determined that the overpayment occurred because of recipient fraud or willful misrepresentation. They will, in negotiated cases, set a rate of withholding that is appropriate for the financial condition of the overpaid person after factual evaluation. Abstract: The proposed regulations reflect the provisions of section 8 of PL 98-460 by requiring that we make every reasonable effort to have a qualified psychiatrist or psychologist to complete the medical portion of the case review and any residual functional capacity assessment in unfavorable determinations in mental impairment cases. As a result of this new provision of the law, we are also explaining in the regulations the qualifications necessary to be considered as reasonable effort to obtain the services of a qualified psychiatrist or psychologist. In enacting section 8 of PL 98-460, Congress has expressed its concern that in some instances, the Social Security Administration did not have sufficient professional expertise involved in the evaluation of mental impairment claims. Thus, by permitting SSA to use Federal Resources, the Congress addressed conditions which usually impeded the States from obtaining qualified medical professionals such as the inability to obtain their services due to inadequate compensation. This change in the law means that SSA must now make every reasonable effort to see that the services of qualified psychiatrists and (cont)

SSA may also contract directly for these services when the State is unable to provide them due to inadequate compensation or other impediments at the State level. Costs will increase by a range of less than $3.4 million in 1985 to $7.2 million in 1986. These figures were derived from the number of additional physician hours needed for State agency medical consultants.

Abstract: This provision of the law requires us to consider the combined effect of all of a person's impairments in determining disability regardless of whether any single impairment, if considered separately, would be of sufficient severity. If we do find a medically severe combination of impairments, the combined impact of the impairments must be considered throughout the disability determination process. We are revising regulations which explain how we evaluate multiple nonsevere impairments to reflect that we will now consider the combined effect of impairments to determine severity. We believe the Congress intended to ensure that the combined effect of multiple impairment is considered when we determine whether a person has a severe impairment and, when the combined effect is found to be severe, that the person's impairments are evaluated under the full sequential evaluation process. Current cost estimates for fiscal years 1985 and 1986 are as follows: Additional title II benefits: less that $5 million per year. Additional SSI benefits: FY 1985-negligible; FY 1986-$1 million.

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 232.12; 45 CFR 233.20; 45 CFR 302.31; 45 CFR 303.80

Abstract: These joint Office of Family Assistance (OFA)-OCSE regulations provide regulatory authority for child support enforcement agencies to recover support payments that have been assigned to the State as a condition of eligibility for receiving AFDC when these support payments have been incorrectly made directly to the family. These regulations give States the flexibility to use either the child support or AFDC agency in resolving a direct payment problem.

Abstract: Currently, medical support enforcement activities are pursued through optional cooperative agreements between the State IV-D agency and the State Medicaid agency. This regulation requires all State IV-D agencies to attempt to obtain minimal medical support information during the normal processing of child support cases. This will result in increased use of available third party resources in the form of private medical insurance and in medical cost savings to State and Federal governments. State IV-D agencies are also required to petition to include medical support in new or modified orders for support, if employment-related medical insurance is available to the absent parent.

Abstract: These regulations: (1) require OCSE to conduct an audit of the effectiveness of State Child Support Enforcement programs at least once every three years; (2) require OCSE to use a "substantial compliance" standard to determine whether each State has an effective IV-D child support enforcement program; (3) provide that any State found not to have an effective IV-D program in substantial compliance with the requirements of title IV-D of the Social Security Act be given an opportunity to take the corrective action necessary to be in substantial compliance with these requirements; (4) provide for the use of a graduated penalty of not less than one nor more than five percent of a State's Federal AFDC funds if a State is not in substantial compliance with title IV-D of the Act; (5) specify the period of time during which a penalty is effective; and (6) add State-plan audit criteria and performance-related audit criteria that will be used in addition to existing criteria in determining whether a State has an effective IV-D program.

Abstract: The rules implement the Child Support Enforcement Amendments of 1984, which require all States to enact laws requiring the use of certain procedures in their Child Support Enforcement programs. Such procedures include income or wage withholding, expedited processes for establishing and enforcing support obligations, State income tax refund offsets, liens against property, extended paternity statute of limitations, imposition of security, bond or guarantee and providing information to consumer reporting agencies. States must also notify AFDC recipients of child support collections made during the year; establish guidelines for child support award amounts; publicize the availability of support enforcement services; and charge a mandatory application fee not to exceed $25.00 for non-AFDC support services. States may charge absent parents late payment fees of between 3 percent and 6 percent of arrearages and may provide tracking and monitoring of support payments at the request of either parent. The statute also reduces Federal funding to States for administrative costs, revises the system for payment of incentives to States on (cont)

129. CONFIDENTIALITY OF ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE PATIENT RECORDS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 290ee-3; 42 USC 290dd-3

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 2

Abstract: Federal law requires that certain alcohol and drug abuse patient records be kept confidential. A comprehensive rewrite of implementing regulations proposed in the NPRM simplifies and substantially shortens existing rules and proposes major substantive changes including: (1) Limiting applicability to specialized alcohol and drug abuse programs, (2) Requiring notice to patients of Federal confidentiality requirements, (3) Including a sample consent form, (4) Eliminating the impediment to a patient's access to her/his own records, (5) Eliminating most sections restricting disclosures based on patient consent, (6) Eliminating the prohibition on the entry of a court order authorizing disclosure of subjective information regarding a patient.

130. ● OBLIGATED SERVICE FOR MENTAL HEALTH TRAINEESHIPS

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 64a

Abstract: This rule implements statutory service payback obligations of recipients of clinical traineeships in psychology, psychiatry, social work, or nursing. The NPRM would revise 42 CFR 64a to establish a uniform rate of interest for all individuals who receive clinical traineeships, clarify that funds owed to the government become a debt when the trainee fails to complete the obligation, require that training institutions conduct entrance and exit interviews with trainees to inform them of the seriousness of their service obligations, and provide guidelines for hardship deferrals. The option in existing regulations is to continue the potential for 50 different interest rates with disputes ensuing over what the maximum rate is within each jurisdiction. In addition the existing rule permits a 5-year interest-free period which the NPRM would reduce to 2 years. The NPRM will reduce costs to the government by reducing the interest-free period and by avoiding the expense of settling disputes concerning the correct interest rate for payback obligations.

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1522(b) Section 412(b)(5) Immigration and Nationality Act; PL 96-212 Refugee Act of 1980; PL 97-363 Refugee Assistance Amendments of 1982

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51e

Abstract: Regulations are required by Department policy for this project grant program administered by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) under an intra-agency agreement with the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR). The project grants are awarded to State and local health agencies to assist them in providing initial health assessments to arriving refugees. These health assessments specifically address conditions of public health concerns, like tuberculosis, and also identify personal health problems that could impair the effective resettlement of the refugee. CDC has established the program requirements, guidelines, and standards for evaluation.

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 7, (New)

Abstract: This proposal initiates a program that would impose a user charge upon a private agency which requests reference biological standards or biological preparations for their own comparative performance tests to cover the cost to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) of developing and distributing the products. CDC is proposing to impose an average user charge of $24 per unit distributed. The cost will vary, depending upon the type of preparation requested. CDC is not proposing to impose a user charge for State and local health departments, the World Health Organization, or international governments because these materials are provided to those agencies for public health reasons and not for the benefit of the requesters.

Legal Authority: 30 USC 843 Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 37, (Revision)

Abstract: The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) administers an X-ray examination program for coal miners as mandated by the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977. The proposed amendment will provide additional specifications to enable X-ray readers in the Department's medical surveillance program for underground coal miners to interpret miners' chest X-rays more accurately to classify any existing or developing pneumoconiosis. The proposed changes are based on recommendations by NIOSH, the Mine Health Research Advisory Committee to NIOSH, and the American College or Radiology Task Force on Pneumoconiosis. The proposed rule will expand the specification for X-ray film size, specify film/screen combinations and speeds which can be used, and specify the method for obtaining a definitive interpretation of chest X-rays when two readers' interpretations do not agree.

SMALL BUSINESSES CONT: The effects, if any, vary depending on the individual rulemaking. However, the agency anticipates that the rules would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

137. SUCROSE AND CORN SUGAR, CORN SYRUP, AND INVERT SUGAR

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 321(s) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 348 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 182; 21 CFR 184

Abstract: These two proposed rules would affirm the GRAS (generally recognized as safe) status of sucrose and corn sugar, corn syrup, and invert sugar. This action is the result of a re-evaluation of the safety of these food ingredients as part of FDA's review of the safety of all GRAS ingredients.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 321(s) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 341 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21 USC 371(e) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 165; 21 CFR 181

Abstract: This proposed rule would announce the agency's tentative conclusion that a prior sanction exists for the use of caffeine in soft drinks. A companion proposal would propose the revocation of the food standard for soda water which requires that soda water designated by any name that includes the word "cola" or "pepper" contain caffeine.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR Chapter 1

Abstract: This proposed rule would establish a new policy for assessing the safety of food and color additives containing minute levels of carcinogenic substances. The proposal would clarify the definition of an "additive" to apply the Delaney Clause only when the additive as a whole has been shown to cause cancer, and would use risk assessment procedures as one of the tools for determining the safety of an additive under the general safety clause of section 409 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

Legal Authority: 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 42 USC 4332 National Environmental Policy Act of 1969

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 25

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend agency requirements for compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act in accordance with the Council on Environmental Quality's regulations (40 CFR 1500-1508). This rule, which has agency-wide applicability, would change the environmental documents and procedures followed for environmental review of actions proposed by or requested by the agency.

144. DETACHED CIGARETTE FILTERS AS MEDICAL DEVICES; CLASSIFICATION

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 360c Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 868

Abstract: FDA plans to issue a proposed rule to classify into one of three regulatory classes those detached cigarette filters that FDA has concluded are medical devices based on evidence showing that manufacturers or vendors intend the articles to cure, mitigate, treat, or prevent disease or to affect the structure or function of the body within the meaning of section 201(h) of the act. The classification would be dependent upon the regulatory controls needed to assure the safety and effectiveness of the device. The proposal is a follow-up to FDA's November 25, 1980 decision granting, in part, a request to regulate certain detached cigarette filters as medical devices and denying requests to regulate as devices cigarettes and attached cigarette filters, generally.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 50

Abstract: This proposed rule would establish conditions under which biomedical research on prisoners would be accepted in satisfaction of FDA's regulatory requirements. In the Federal Register of July 7, 1981 (46 FR 35065), FDA stayed indefinitely the effective date of the original rule, pending final action on its proposal. FDA's original rule, published May 30, 1980 (45 FR 36386), had been challenged in court by several prisoners and a drug manufacturer because the rule would have virtually banned research on prisoners. Under the new proposal published December 18, 1981, FDA would accept, in addition to the categories of research listed in the original rule, the results of biomedical research on prisoners if the sponsor of the proposed research establishes that the conditions set forth by the National Commission for the Protection of Human Subjects of Biomedical and Behavioral Research had been met.

150. PANEL ON REVIEW OF ALLERGENIC EXTRACTS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 262 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 600.13; 21 CFR 680.1; 21 CFR 680.2; 21 CFR 680.3

Abstract: This proposed rule would place allergenic extracts in categories designated as (1) safe and effective and not misbranded, (2) unsafe or ineffective and misbranded, and (3) not within category (1) or (2) on the basis that available data are insufficient to classify such products. The proposal would bring these products into conformance with current standards of safety and effectiveness.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 321(n) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 321(aa) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 343(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 350a Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 107.3; 21 CFR 107.50

Abstract: The Infant Formula Act of 1980 exempts from some of its requirements specialty infant formulas that are intended for use by infants with special dietary needs. This proposed rule would implement the exemption provisions of the Infant Formula Act of 1980 by establishing the terms and conditions under which those infant formulas would continue to be exempt.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 312

Abstract: This proposed rule would revise extensively the IND rules to improve the efficiency of FDA's operations and to update and clarify its internal policies in reviewing and expediting applications for new drugs. These revisions are believed necessary to improve the efficiency of the drug review process. The result would be greater assurance that safe and effective new drugs are approved as promptly as possible. The undertaking reflects FDA's commitment to refine and improve the entire IND/NDA process. The IND/NDA rules were scheduled for retrospective review announced by FDA in its July 2, 1982 notice (47 FR 29004) establishing priorities for reviewing the agency's existing rules under the Regulatory Flexibility Act and Executive Order 12291. This item was previously listed in the agenda as New Drug Approval Process: Revision of IND/NDA Rules (RIN 0905-AA00).

171. ● FOOD LABELING; PROPOSED RULE CONCERNING SULFITING AGENTS

Legal Authority: 21 USC 343 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 100

Abstract: This proposed rule will clarify the circumstances in which the presence of sulfiting agents (also referred to as "sulfites") must be declared on the label of foods. Sulfiting agents (sulfur dioxide, sodium sulfite, and sodium or potassium bisulfite or metabisulfite) are usually added to foods for their preservative effect. The proposed regulation makes clear that when a sulfite that is added either to a food or to one of its ingredients is detectable in the finished food, it is present in that food at a significant level. In such circumstances, the sulfite is not an incidental additive and must be declared on the label. The proposed regulation also makes clear the level of sulfites that the agency considers to be detectable.

172. ● ADVERSE DRUG EXPERIENCE REPORTING REQUIREMENTS FOR MARKETED PRESCRIPTION DRUGS WITHOUT APPROVED NEW DRUG OR ABBREVIATED NEW DRUG APPLICATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 351 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 352 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 355 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 374 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 211; 21 CFR 310

Abstract: This proposed rule would require manufacturers, packers, and distributors of marketed prescription drug products that are not the subject of approved new drug or abbreviated new drug applications to report to the agency whenever the manufacturer, packer, or distributor receives information about any serious and unexpected adverse event associated with the use of one of its marketed drug products. The agency is taking this action based on recent events whereby serious adverse reactions, which were associated with an intravenous drug product (that was not the subject of an approved new drug or abbreviated new drug application and that is no longer being marketed), were not reported to the agency by the manufacturer, packer, or distributor. Under the agency's current regulations, neither the manufacturer, packer, nor distributor of such a product is expressly obligated to report serious safety problems to the agency.

Abstract: This NPRM sets forth provisions under which the Secretary may deny Federal reimbursement under Title XVIII (Medicare) and Title XIX (Medicaid), for expenses related to capital expenditures (1) which the Designated Planning Agency (DPA) has found to be inconsistent with established standards, criteria or plans developed under the Public Health Service (PHS) Act; or (2) for which the DPA was not provided notice as required. The NPRM includes changes made in response to comments received on the NPRM published in the Federal Register on March 19, 1976; changes necessary to conform to the amendments to Title XV of the PHS Act enacted by the Health Planning and Resources Development Amendments of 1979 (P.L. 96-79), the Health Programs Extension Act of 1981 (P.L. 97-35); and changes necessary to conform to the amendments to Section 1122 of the Social Security Act enacted by the Social Security Amendments of 1983 (P.L. 98-21). Also, many States have discontinued their agreements with the Department to perform reviews under the Section 1122 program because the requirements of Section 1122 are inconsistent with the Department's requirements for acceptable certificate of (cont)

Abstract: This final regulation governs a grant program to provide traineeships for nurse practitioner training to registered nurses. The rule deletes the requirement that trainees must be residents of health manpower shortage areas and provides instead that applicants from such areas be given special considerations; the rule modifies practice commitment requirements and includes conditions for waiver or suspension of repayments. No funding for future traineeships is anticipated. The rule is needed to administer existing traineeships and to monitor compliance and repayment/waivers.

Abstract: The Department is proposing rulemaking to establish standards for both the accreditation of educational programs and the certification of radiologic personnel. Standards have been developed after consultation with relevant professional and State officials for accreditation of educational institutions and certification of radiologic personnel. The categories of personnel to be affected by the initial standards are: radiographers, dental hygienists, dental assistants, radiation therapy technologists, and nuclear medicine technologists. The standards are mandatory for agencies of the Federal Government. Standards are voluntary for States.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 701 to 709

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51a; 42 CFR 51d; 42 CFR 51f

Abstract: The Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 (Pub. L. 97-35) revised Title V of the Social Security Act to establish the Maternal and Child Health Service Block Grant. In the block grant there is a Federal Set-Aside Program which provides for the retention of 10 to 15 percent of the appropriation in each fiscal year for continuation of certain categorical programs (special projects of regional and national significance, maternal and child health research and training, genetic disease testing, counseling and information and hemophilia diagnostic and treatment centers). A Final Rule, published on June 25, 1982, made regulations for the previous programs applicable to the set-aside authority until regulations specifically designed for the set-aside could be developed.

197. PROGRAM GRANTS FOR MIGRANT HEALTH SERVICES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216 Public Health Service Act; 42 USC 254b Public Health Service Act

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 56

Abstract: A notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) was published in the Federal Register on December 19, 1980 to revise the existing regulations to incorporate provisions of Pub. L. 95-626, the Health Services Amendments of 1979. Because of administrative changes and new policy direction, a new NPRM will be developed to place greater emphasis on and to facilitate State participation in this program. The new NPRM would also simplify the regulation and incorporate the provisions of Pub. L. 95-626. These regulations will simplify application requirements for States, give certain priorities to awards to States, and will offer alternatives for States to meet requirements which have tended to be barriers to States.

Additional Information: SMALL BUSINESSES CONT: This regulation will increase opportunities for States to become grantees under this program. Not every State will choose to implement this approach and it is anticipated that many who do will implement it in co-application with existing grantees. substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

199. PROJECT GRANTS AND LOANS FOR HOME HEALTH SERVICES AND TRAINING

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51e

Abstract: Title III of the Public Health Service Act was amended by section 6 of the Orphan Drug Act of 1983 (P.L. 97-414). The effect of the amendment authorizes a new program of grants and loans to support home health services. Specifically, it authorizes grants to nonprofit agencies and loans to proprietary agencies to establish and operate home health programs. It also authorizes grants and contracts for training paraprofessionals to provide home health services, with special consideration given to trainees 50 years of age or older. The amendment requires five separate reports to Congress and requires the Secretary to develop and carry out demonstration projects regarding patients at risk of institutionalization and alternative reimbursement methodologies. The program is expected to impact in cost savings through better methods of identifying patients at risk and decreasing the length and frequency of hospital stays.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216; 42 USC 300Y to 300Y11

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51; 45 CFR 74; 45 CFR 96

Abstract: Section 1932 of the Public Health Service Act was amended by section 8 of the Orphan Drug Act of 1983 (P.L. 97-414). The effect of the amendment requires the Secretary to promulgate separate regulations for the Primary Care Block Grant taking into consideration the distinctive features of the program such as: the program consists principally of community health centers; the States have the option of assuming responsibility for the program; the States have to make a substantial financial contribution; if a State opts for the block, it agrees to continue to provide a statutory range of services; new centers could only be established in medically underserved areas; and procedural safeguards protecting existing centers.

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 4; 42 CFR 59a; 42 CFR 63; 42 CFR 64

Abstract: All of the regulations are being substantially clarified and reduced in size by eliminating out of date or otherwise available information. The regulations at 42 CFR Part 4 pertain to the access of facilities and library collections. Those at 42 CFR Part 59a deal with NLM extramural programs. Part 59a is being amended to remove the requirement that photocopies of biomedical material be provided without charge to users. The regulations at 42 CFR Part 63 deal with both NIH and NLM traineeships. Part 63 is proposed to be deleted because NIH no longer has general traineeship authority and the sole remaining NLM program is unfunded. The regulations at 42 CFR Part 64 govern the training grants of NIH and NLM.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 241; 42 USC 2891-1

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 52; 42 CFR 61; 42 CFR 66; 48 CFR 3, Appendix A

Abstract: Recipients of Public Health Service research and research training funds do not presently have sufficient guidance regarding their responsibility to investigate and report possible misconduct in PHS-funded research or research training. While many institutions have voluntarily established procedures for dealing with misconduct in science, they are not required to do so and in many recent instances the lack of defined procedures has delayed or compromised awardees' investigations. Institutional policies regarding reports to funding agencies vary considerably. The proposed regulation will define the point at which funding agencies are notified and will require awardees to develop procedures for dealing with misconduct in science. Legislation proposed in the 98th Congress would have required Departmental approval of institutional procedures but PHS prefers a less directive approach allowing awardees to develop appropriate procedures.

Abstract: The regulation requires employers to offer their employees age 65 through 69, their dependents and spouses age 65 through 69 of employees under age 65 and their dependents the same health benefits as offered to their younger employees. The provision makes Medicare the secondary payor for such employees. This provision amends the Federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA).

Abstract: These rules confirm interim final rules published on October 26, 1982 (47 FR 47388) with changes that make it possible for certain additional physicians to certify need for home health services and to establish and review a plan of treatment for those services. The changes are responsive to public comments and also serve to implement section 2336 of Pub. L. 98-369. The rules also make clarifying changes with respect to timing and procedures for certification for home health services and outpatient physical therapy and speech pathology services.

Legal Authority: PL 97-248, Sec 137(b); PL 98-369, Sec 2373

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 435, 42 CFR 436

Abstract: This regulation would implement changes with respect to Medicaid eligibility groups and coverage criteria made by the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA) and the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 (PL 98-369). Most of these changes affect the provisions of September 30, 1981 regulations concerning Medicaid eligibility for the medically needy, published as a result of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981. The regulations would also respond to public comments received on the September 30 regulations. Because of changes required by TEFRA and in order to respond to comments, an NPRM will be published rather than a final regulation.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1396d

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 435.1009

Abstract: This regulation would amend Medicaid regulations on intermediate care facility services for the mentally retarded persons with related conditions by revising the current definition of "persons with related conditions." This definition is presently tied to the definition of developmental disability in the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (DDABRA). This regulation establishes a Medicaid definition of conditions related to mental retardation that would meet the specific needs of the Medicaid program and would be independent of the definition of developmental disability in the DDABRA.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302

Abstract: This regulation would preclude the availability of Federal matching funds in expenditures for all services to an individual who is an inmate in a public institution or to an individual under age 65 who is a patient in an institution for mental diseases or tuberculosis from the date of admission to the date of discharge. We would continue to provide matching funds in expenditures for services for individuals under age 22 who are receiving inpatient psychiatric services.

Abstract: This proposal would revise the way HCFA applies the limitation of liability provision under section 1879 of the Social Security Act. It would implement section 145 of Pub. L. 97-248, that provides that a provider, practitioner or other supplier of services shall be deemed to have knowledge that payment cannot be made for noncovered services if the entity had previously been notified by the Secretary that a pattern of inappropriate utilization had occurred but has continued the practice after having a reasonable opportunity to correct the inappropriate utilization. Also, we would eliminate criteria that, if met, make a provider of Part A services eligible for a presumption that it should not be held liable. The decision to make or deny payment for noncovered services would be made after an analysis of the circumstances without the general assumption that the provider did not know or could not be expected to know that furnished services were noncovered.

257. HOSPICE "CORE" SERVICES; NURSING

Legal Authority: PL 98-369, Sec 2343

Abstract: This regulation would implement provisions of PL 98-369, the Medicare and Medicaid Budget Reconciliation Amendments of 1984, relating to hospices contracting for "core services." PL 97-248, the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982, authorized time limited Medicare Part A coverage for hospice services. The law specifies that a hospice must routinely provide the following "core services" directly: nursing care, medical social services, physician's services, and counseling services. This regulation would permit the Secretary to waive the nursing care "core services" requirement for hospices which are located in rural areas, which were in operation on or before January 1, 1983, and which have demonstrated a good faith effort to hire their own nurses.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1395x(v)

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 405.460

Abstract: This proposed notice would set forth a schedule of limits on home health agency (HHA) costs that may be reimbursed under the Medicare program. The schedule is an update of the limits to take into account more recent data and the effects of inflation on HHA operating costs and would apply to HHA costs for entire cost reporting periods beginning on or after July 1, 1985. The notice also explains the basic methodology for computing the cost limits and proposed changes to the methodology.

Department of Housing and Urban Development

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

HUD

24 CFR Subtitles A and B

[Docket No. N-85-1510]

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Housing and Urban Development.

ACTION: Semiannual agenda, under Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, of regulations expected to be issued and under review.

SUMMARY: In accordance with section 5 of Executive Order 12291, "Federal Regulation," the Department is publishing its Agenda of proposed regulations already issued or expected to be issued, and of currently effective rules that are under review. Also, under section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Department has prepared a regulatory flexibility agenda of regulations expected to be proposed or promulgated which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. As permitted by Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the two agendas are combined for publication.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Grady J. Norris, Assistant General Counsel for Regulations, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Room 10278, 451 7th Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410, (202) 755-7055. (This is not a toll-free number.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291, "Federal Regulation," issued on February 17, 1981 (46 FR 13193), requires each agency to publish semiannually an agenda of regulations that the agency has issued or expects to issue and of currently effective regulations that are under agency review.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601-612, requires each agency to publish semiannually a regulatory flexibility agenda of rules expected to be proposed or promulgated which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities," meaning small businesses, small organizations, or small governmental jurisdictions.

Executive Order 12291 and section 605 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act each permit incorporation of the agenda it requires with any other prescribed agenda. Accordingly, the agenda set out below combines the information required by the Executive Order and by the Regulatory Flexibility Act. In addition, the Agenda contains certain information not required by either the Executive Order or by the Act which the Department considers useful, both better to inform the public and to enhance the Department's own inventory control over its body of regulations.

For purposes of Executive Order 12291, "regulation" or "rule" is defined as "an agency statement of general applicability and future effect designed to implement, interpret, or prescribe law or policy or describing the procedure or practice requirements of an agency," subject to certain exceptions. The Agenda published below concentrates upon regulatory material contained, or expected to be contained, in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) (or incorporated therein by reference) following publication in the Federal Register. As appropriate, however, issuances in the nature of general statements of policy may be published in the Federal Register but not for codification in the CFR.

The Department also is subject to certain requirements involving congressional review of rulemaking actions, including publication of an agenda. Section 7(o) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development Act (42 U.S.C. 3535(o)) requires that the Secretary transmit to the congressional committees having jurisdictional oversight (the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs and the House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs) a semiannual agenda of all rules or regulations which are under development or review by the Department. A rule appearing on the agenda cannot be published for comment before or during the first 15 calendar days of continuous session of Congress after transmittal of the agenda. If, within such period, either Committee notifies the Secretary that it intends to review any rule or regulation or portion thereof which appears on the agenda, the Secretary must submit to both Committees a copy of the rule or regulation, in the form it is intended to be proposed, at least 15 calendar days of continuous session before it is published for comment. The Semiannual Agenda appearing hereinafter is the agenda transmitted to the Committees in compliance with the foregoing requirement.

The agenda items are divided first by program office. Within each program office, the agenda items are divided into three groups: (i) Current and projected rulemakings, (ii) reviews of existing regulations, and (iii) completed or withdrawn regulations and completed reviews. Within each grouping, rules are listed in chronological order by the Part number of the CFR affected. Where a rule affects multiple parts of the CFR, the rule is listed by the first affected Part number. Rules which are designated "priority" include all regulations designated for priority development or review by the Department, all regulations that are "major rules" under section 1(b) of Executive Order 12291, and all regulations designated for review by the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief.

Under Executive Order 12291, a "major rule" means "any regulation that is likely to result in: (1) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; (2) a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; or (3) significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets."

Items listed in this Agenda are from the following Offices within the Department: Office of the Secretary; Office of Housing; Office of Public and Indian Housing; Office of Community Planning and Development; Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity; Office of Administration; and Office of the Inspector General.

DATED: February 27, 1985.

John J. Knapp,

General Counsel.

Office of the Secretary (HUDSEC)

1. PROCEDURE FOR FLOODPLAIN MANAGEMENT AND THE PROTECTION OF WETLANDS. IMPLEMENTATION OF EXECUTIVE ORDERS 11988 AND 11990 (S-7-84; FR-865)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: EO 11988; EO 11990; EO 12127; PL 91-190

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 55, (New)

Abstract: This regulation sets forth the policy, procedure and responsibilities of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to implement and enforce Executive Order 11988, Floodplain Management, and Executive Order 11990, the Protection of Wetlands. This regulation replaces a general statement of Departmental policy (44 FR 47623; August 14, 1979) implementing these Executive Orders pending the adoption of final procedures.

Abstract: This rule implements increased changes for late payments made to the government by debtors. Regulatory changes include the imposition of interest at a minimum Annual rate of interest on the outstanding debt which is equal to the average investment rate of the Treasury tax and loan accounts as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury; assessment of penalty charges of up to six percent for payments over 90 days late; and charges for the administrative costs of processing the late payment. The Department must issue a demand letter to the debtor which indicates when the payment is due and the date used to calculate the interest and penalty charges.

6. PROTECTION OF HUMAN SUBJECTS IN RESEARCH (S-6-83; FR-1807)

Legal Authority: Executive Order to be issued

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 46

Abstract: In response to a Presidential Commission, an Interagency Task Force on the Protection of Human Subjects in Research has proposed that all Federal agencies adopt a common policy and uniform regulations for the protection of human subjects in research.

HUD has agreed to adopt the policy and to issue a regulation based on a model previously promulgated by the Department of Health and Human Services on this subject, and as embodied in the planned Executive Order.

Timetable:

Action	Date	FR Cite
NPRM	06/00/85

Small Entity: No

Additional Information: Compliance costs for HUD's adoption of the model regulation will be minimal, because almost all research conducted by HUD falls within categories exempted from the requirements of the model regulation. The infrequent projects that may not be exempt (perhaps one every two years) have in the past been proposed by organizations already subject to the Department of Health and Human Services regulation, and thus would not have any incremental compliance costs for the organization, other than the actual project requirements.

Costs would be slight.

Affected Sectors: Profit and Non-profit Research Organizations.

Levels of Government Affected: only HUD itself.

The Executive Order will be published for public comment and then promulgated with changes, if any, resulting from the public comment. Once the order is promulgated, agencies adopting the policy verbatim may move directly to the publishing of a final rule without a public comment process. HUD expects to follow this procedure.

7. ● DEPARTMENTAL POLICIES, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND PROCEDURES FOR PROTECTION AND ENHANCEMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY (S-4-85)

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 4321; PL 95-557

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 50

Abstract: This amendment to 24 CFR Part 50 will establish regulatory procedures for determining exemptions from environmental review. The existing rule will be updated to reflect current policy with respect to the environmental review of 203(b) subdivisions and subdivisions approved by other agencies. This amendment will also address the public comments received on the existing rule and address other clarifications that may seem necessary.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: PL 93-234

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 56, (New)

Abstract: This regulation specifies how HUD will conduct its programs so as to comply with Sections 102(a) and 202(a) of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 relating to the requirement to maintain flood insurance. The rule is designed to provide improved policy guidance in response to HUD Secretary's directive, OMB Circular No. A-123, and inquiries from HUD field offices and program users.

9. ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW PROCEDURES - RENTAL REHABILITATION AND HOUSING DEVELOPMENT GRANT PROGRAM (S-6-84; FR-1965)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437o(i); 42 USC 5304(f)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 58

Abstract: Implements Section 17(i) of the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983 which makes the award and use of resources under the Housing Development Grant and Rental Rehabilitation Programs subject to the statutory provisions governing environmental review that apply to the Community Development Grant Programs. The rule also implements Section 17(i) by creating a special procedure for considering program effects on property that is included, or eligible to be included, on the National Register of Historic Places.

18. ELIMINATION OF MINIMUM PROPERTY STANDARDS (MPS) FOR ONE- AND TWO-FAMILY DWELLINGS (H-74-82; FR-1655)

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200

Abstract: Would revise eligibility criteria for single family housing by accepting applications for properties which comply with local codes rather than MPS 4900.1 whose health and safety provisions require a level of performance substantially equivalent to a nationally recognized model building code.

22. USE OF MATERIAL BULLETIN NO. 78A, PLASTIC SUPPLY PIPING FOR DOMESTIC COLD WATER (H-33-79; FR-1154)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d); 12 USC 1715(b)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200.929

Abstract: UM 78 originally outlined the requirements and conditions for HUD field office acceptance of a number of plastic piping materials for use in domestic water service, (from water main to house), and included references covering polybutylene piping (PB). UM 78 identified national standard references for plastic piping which is normally used in residential construction for domestic cold water service. This revision will update references to industry standards and combine UM 78 and UM 76, "CPCV and PB Plastic Hot and Cold Water Distribution."

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1701

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200.925; 24 CFR 203.43f

Abstract: Would insure financing of properties with manufactured homes under Title II of the National Housing Act, as a means to broaden affordable home ownership opportunities. To qualify for such financing, the manufactured homes, foundations and sites must meet prescribed standards to insure adequate security for HUD-insured mortgages. By such action homeowners can expect reduced housing cost without sacrificing housing quality or durability.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200

Abstract: Would eliminate the current Minimum Property Standards (MPS) for Care-Type Housing and revise the current MPS for Multifamily Housing to include Care-Type Housing. By doing this, marketability and livability criteria would be deleted to the same extent as they were deleted from multifamily housing. This would also adopt by reference, nationally recognized model building codes or State or local codes, if acceptable, to provide health and safety criteria.

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203.32; 24 CFR 213.520; 24 CFR 234.55; 24 CFR 235

Abstract: Would reverse current prohibition against the use of insured mortgages on properties with secondary mortgages or liens. These amendments also provide for the recapture of funds placed into escrow accounts to reduce the mortgagor's monthly payments to principal and interest in the early years of the mortgage. No alternatives are being considered. No potential costs have been identified. Potential benefits include greater homeownership opportunities for homebuyers, allowing sellers to recapture funds used to buy down interest rates and increased use of buy down which would allow more families to qualify for mortgages.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1709

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203.43c; 24 CFR 203.437

Abstract: Would relax some restrictions which have unnecessarily inhibited activity under the program. The rule would delete the requirement that corporations waive the right of first refusal and it would eliminate the limitation of the mortgage term on an individual share to the term remaining on the blanket mortgage. The 1983 statute extends the availability of mortgage insurance in existing conventionally financed cooperatives provided construction has been completed one year. The statute removed the requirement that the cooperative have an insured blanket mortgage.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1709; 12 USC 1715b; 12 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203.18

Abstract: Rule proposes to eliminate the requirement that a veteran submit a Certificate of Veteran Status from the Veterans Administration in order to establish eligibility for special loan terms for veterans. The proposed change would permit a veteran to certify that he or she qualifies as a veteran and would require the veteran to submit only a copy of his or her discharge papers. CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203.42(a)

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend 24 CFR 203.42(a). The current rule prohibits the insuring of a mortgage on property on which there is a dwelling to be rented by a mortgagor, if the property is part of, or contiguous to, a subdivision or group of similar properties and if the mortgagor has a financial interest in eight or more of the contiguous properties. Abstract: HUD will propose to strengthen the commitment of profit motivated and limited dividend multifamily mortgagors by limiting their mortgages to 85 percent of value or replacement cost, except in cases where the mortgagors agree either to accept limited personal liability for loan repayment or to establish an up-front, rent-up escrow. More specifically, a profit-motivated or limited distribution mortgagor would not be permitted to receive a mortgage in excess of 85 percent of value or replacement cost, unless it were to agree to either:

1. Provide an escrow, in the form of cash or letter of credit, of an amount equal to three percent of the mortgage. The escrow funds would have to remain available for project use until the project achieved sustaining occupancy and showed a positive cash flow, at which time one half of the escrow balance would be released; the remainder of the escrow funds would be released 120 days later, assuming that the positive cash flow condition had been maintained; or

2. Assume personal liability for repayment of a percentage of the mortgage amount, determined in accordance with sliding scale.

77. COINSURANCE FOR THE PURCHASE OR REFINANCING OF EXISTING MULTIFAMILY HOUSING PROJECTS - TECHNICAL REVISIONS (H-63-84; FR-1973)

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 207; 24 CFR 255

Abstract: This interim rule revises Parts 207 and 255 of the CFR in order to implement Section 303 of the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983. Section 303 authorizes special FHA coinsurance benefits for multifamily housing projects which are assisted under the new Rental Rehabilitation Grant Program also authorized in the 1983 Act.

78. FLOOD INSURANCE REQUIREMENTS FOR MORTGAGES INSURANCE AND GRANT PROGRAM (H-74-84; FR-2007)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 4012(a); 42 USC 4106(a)

Abstract: This rule would implement HUD's responsibilities under the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973. It would add a new Part 56 to specify HUD's responsibilities to require that flood insurance be obtained for eligible properties. This part would then be cross-referenced in the rules governing programs involving mortgage insurance and housing assistance grants.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1713; 12 USC 1715e

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 207; 24 CFR 213

Abstract: The proposed rule will permit unsubsidized multifamily rental housing projects with Secretary-held mortgages to be converted to cooperatives by subordinating the Secretary-held mortgage to a new first mortgage. The proposal would benefit tenants by giving them the opportunity for cooperative homeownership at a lower cost. The government would benefit by sharing half of the equity appreciation received by the project owner in selling the project to a Cooperative.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715z-7; 12 USC 1715n; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 242

Abstract: Hospitals have been eligible for mortgage insurance under Section 242 of the National Housing Act since 1968. If appropriate regulations are published, hospitals previously insured under Section 242 could refinance their mortgages up to the original amount of the mortgage provided there was no increase in the debt service. This provision would be of particular assistance to hospitals which were insured at a high interest rate and could reduce their debt service by refinancing at a lower rate.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715z-1b

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 245

Abstract: Amendment would add requirements providing an opportunity for tenants in certain types of multifamily housing projects to comment on requests by a project owner for HUD approval of any of the following owner action: (1) conversion from project-paid utilities to tenant-paid utilities; (2) conversion of residential units to commercial space, cooperative housing or condominiums; (3) a partial release of mortgage security; and (4) major capital additions to a project. The requirements for tenant participation in project rent increases, as provided in existing 24 CFR 245, would be continued with certain changes and with exemptions for rent utility costs. The amendments implement section 202(b)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Amendments of 1978, as amended in 1981.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715z-15

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 245

Abstract: Would implement Section 250(a) of the National Housing Act to provide tenant participation in requests for HUD approval to prepay a mortgage. The rule would also implement Section 250(b) and (c) to provide a priority for additional assistance under Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 and Section 201 of the Housing and Community Development Amendment of 1978 to tenants and applications to become tenants of a project. This assistance would be provided with respect to Section 236, rent supplement and Section 202 projects where the owner has the right to prepay the mortgage without HUD approval. Such assistance would be provided if funds are available and if HUD determines that the assistance is necessary to prevent prepayment of the mortgage.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 265.13

Abstract: Rule would remove the provision which prohibits a nonprofit owner transferring a project to a profit-motivated owner from receiving any remuneration in excess of the nominal consideration necessary to effect the transfer. The rule would permit the selling nonprofit owner to retain the amount of purchase proceeds, if any, which exceeds the greater of 10 percent of the unpaid principal balance of the mortgage loan or the costs of restoring the project to sound physical and financial condition.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 450

Abstract: Clarifies the Department's intent that evictions of tenants from certain subsidized and HUD-held projects be effected solely by judicial action. This rule requires the landlord to advise the tenant in a termination notice, that the tenant is entitled to a court proceeding at which he or she may present a defense to the eviction. The landlord is prohibited from resorting to "self-help" evictions or any non-judicial process even where such actions are authorized by state or local law. This rule is procedural only and does not alter in any way the grounds for which the landlord may terminate a tenancy.

104. ● REVISION TO DEFINITION OF INCOME RESULTING FROM CONSULTATION WITH THE FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION (H-4-85; FR-2042)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437c; 42 USC 1471; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 813; 24 CFR 913

Abstract: This final rule would amend the definition of income for the Section 8 Housing Assistance Payments program and the Public Housing program to permit the deduction of depreciation in determining business income but requiring any withdrawal of capital to be included in income. This rule would essentially restore the status quo for both HUD and Farmers Home Administration programs existing before the adoption of 24 CFR Parts 813 and 913 in May 1984. This change would also make the definition conform more closely to standard accounting practice.

Priority: Agency Determination, Major

Legal Authority: PL 98-181, Sec 301; PL 98-181, Sec 302; PL 98-181, Sec 303

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 850

Abstract: Implements the Housing Development Grant Program established by Section 301 of the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983. Under this Program, the Secretary is authorized to make grants to cities and urban counties and to States acting on behalf of units of general local government to support new construction or substantial rehabilitation of residential rental housing. At least 20 percent of the units in a project assisted under this Program must be leased to, or made available for occupancy by, lower income families for a period of 20 years. The rent for these units cannot exceed 30 percent of the adjusted income of a family at 50 percent of area median income. Assisted projects must be located within eligible areas, special purpose areas or neighborhood preservation areas.

135. ● HARDBOARD SIDING - MANUFACTURED HOMES CONSTRUCTION AND SAFETY STANDARDS (H-24-85)

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5403

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 3280

Abstract: A rule will be developed which will deal with the specific problems associated with the use of hardboard siding as the exterior weather resistant siding on manufactured homes. The primary problem is deterioration of the siding resulting from infiltration of water.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5403

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 3280

Abstract: The final rule will amend those portions of the Manufactured Home Construction Standards which deal with windows, structural adhesives, materials, coolers, heaters, doors, utility connections, gas and oil equipment, plumbing, venting systems and electrical systems. Basically, the standards will be updated and revised to more closely reflect current state of the art and industry practice.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 12 USC 2601 to 2617

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 3500

Abstract: The rule will implement statutory amendments established by Section 461 of the Housing and Urban Rural Recovery Act of 1983 (Pub.L.98-181). The amendments address a problem identified as "controlled business" and the manner in which Section 8 of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (12 USC 2607), the kickback prohibition of RESPA is to be applied to such arrangements. No alternatives are being considered because of the statutory mandate. The potential costs cannot be accurately projected but are believed to be incidental. Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 401

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: This is a request for responses to develop and maintain voluntary consensus standards for residential manufactured homes. In an effort to adhere to OMB Circular A-119, "Federal Participation in the Development and Use of Voluntary Standards", the Department is interested in working with voluntary standards bodies in developing and adopting voluntary standards for use as the Federal Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards. The request for response would identify those private organizations qualified and interested in developing and maintaining standards which can meet the intent of the Act. Responses to ANPRM are now being considered.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1701q; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 885.410(g)

Abstract: This rule establishes the interest rate direct loans made during Fiscal Year 1985 for housing for the elderly or handicapped. The rule implements provisions of the Housing and Urban Development - Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1985 (Pub. L. 98-371). That Act provides that the interest rate for section 202 Loans made during Fiscal Year 1985 may not exceed 9.25 percent per annum (including an allowance for administrative costs and probable losses).

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 4321; PL 95-557

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 50

Abstract: This final rule will replace an interim rule published on December 15, 1982 (47 FR 56266). The rule provides policies and procedures for HUD consideration of environmental factors in decision-making under HUD programs (except the Community Development Block Grant Program). The rule implements the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and several specific environmental laws and authorities. The rule reflects a number of elements of the December 1982 interim rule to reduce the regulatory burden and procedural details resulting from two years of field experience. Changes have also been made to reflect field office reorganization and requirements mandated by the passage of the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983.

Priority: Undetermined

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 51F

Abstract: The proposed ANPRM will seek public input to the decision on whether or not to proceed with the development of siting standards related to overhead high voltage transmission lines as part of HUD's environmental criteria and standards contained in 24 CFR Part 51. Particular attention will be given to research, experimental findings and studies that indicate exposure to electric fields (and electromagnetic fields) may have adverse health effects.

The proposal will look at current state and local standards, the potential effect of electric fields on human health and safety and consider establishing standards which will influence the siting of housing and other HUD-assisted projects in the vicinity of high voltage transmission lines.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1441, 42 USC 3535, 42 USC 1441(a)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 51E

Abstract: The proposed ANPRM will seek public input to the decision on whether or not to proceed with the development of standards for the concentration of indoor concentration of radon gas in HUD- assisted housing under 24 CFR Part 51. Radon gas is an inert gas resulting from the decay of radioactive materials that exist within the earth, in uranium mill tailings, on reclaimed phosphate land, in granite rock, and even in drinking water Radon emits Alpha particles which are carcinogenic, and represents a particular hazard to humans once it enters into and is confined inside a building. The EPA has determined that an acceptable indoor concentration of radon should not exceed 0.02 working levels (WL) which is based on studies of workers exposed to concentration of radon. HUD has funded studies which identified techniques for reducing the infiltration of radon gas in existing residences and has been active in seeking techniques to prohibit infiltration of radon gas in new residential construction. Such mitigation techniques would be considered as part of the rule making.

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 51G

Abstract: The proposed ANPRM will seek public input to the decision on whether or not to proceed with the development of siting standards related to high pressure gas transmission lines as part of HUD's environmental criteria and standards contained in 24 CFR Part 51. Particular attention will be given to potential hazards from high pressure gas transmission lines.

There has been a considerable loss of life and property from explosions and fires caused by eruptions of high pressure gas transmission lines. The proposal will look at current standards, the potential effect of high pressure gas transmission lines on residences and other places of assembly, and particularly at the potential development of safety standards in terms of acceptable separation distances

169. ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW PROCEDURES FOR THE CDBG PROGRAM (CPD-21-81; FR-1027)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5301; PL 97-35; 42 USC 4321; 42 USC 1437

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 58

Abstract: The final rule provides policies and procedures by which assisted communities and participating states discharge Federal environmental review responsibilities. The final rule also streamlines and reduces the environmental requirements. Such actions include: (1) an expanded listing of block grant activities and projects exempt or categorically excluded from the NEPA requirements; (2) the definitive list of related statutes and authorities that must be observed by grant recipients for the release of block grant funds as required by the HUD legislation; and (3) the further provisions needed to conform with and implement innovative measures of the HUD Amendments of 1981 such as the new state-administered block grant program for small cities and the assumption of the environmental oversight responsibilities by such states.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 3

Abstract: Subpart C delegates authority from the Secretary to the Comptroller and then to certain Divisions. This subpart is almost entirely obsolete. The alternatives being considered are to eliminate Subpart C entirely or to update all the obsolete references. Neither one will have any significant costs; each will require a minimal amount of staff time and Federal Register publication costs. The benefits of both alternatives are to eliminate a potentially confusing delegation of authority.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437d; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 960

Abstract: This proposed rule would set forth some minimum requirements for notice to tenants and opportunity to comment on important management actions and would encourage Public Housing Agencies to involve tenants in such management responsibilities as maintenance and security. It would provide for recognition of tenant organizations and would permit PHAs to contract with them to perform some functions. It would permit PHAs to provide minimal funding to tenant organizations to permit them to communicate effectively with tenants. Overall, this rule would establish in a rule the content of expired HUD notices that reflect continuing Departmental policy of encouraging tenant participation in their public housing projects.

Semiannual Agenda of Rules Scheduled for Review or Development

AGENCY: Department of the Interior.

ACTION: Semiannual agenda of rules scheduled for review or development.

SUMMARY: This notice provides the semiannual agenda of rules scheduled for review or development between April 1985 and October 1985. A semiannual agenda is required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act and Executive Order 12291.

ADDRESS: Unless otherwise indicated, all Agency Contacts are located at the Department of the Interior, 18th and C Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20240.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: All comments and inquiries with regard to these rules should be directed to the appropriate Agency Contact. General comments or inquiries relating to the agenda should be directed to the Division of Directives and Regulatory Management, Office of Information Resources Management, Department of the Interior, at the address above or on 202-343-6191.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: With this publication the Department satisfies the requirement of Executive Order 12291 that the Department publish in April and October of each year an agenda of rules that have been issued or are expected to be issued, and currently effective rules that are scheduled for review. Simultaneously the Department meets the requirement of the Regulatory Flexibility Act that an agenda be published in April and October of each year identifying rules which will have significant economic effects on a substantial number of small entities; those rules which will have such effects are specifically identified in the agenda. This incorporation of agendas is expressly allowed by Executive Order 12291.

DATED: February 25, 1985.

Joseph E. Doddridge,

Deputy Assistant Secretary, Policy, Budget and Administration.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 33 USC 9651(c)(1) Comp Envir Rspnse, Compnstn & Liabty Act 1980

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 11

Abstract: CERCLA allows trustees of natural resources which have been damaged by a release of a hazardous substance to bring a claim against the responsible party. Section 301(c) requires the development of two sets of regulations. The Type A regulations will be composed of simplified procedures which require minimal field investigations. Type B regulations will include alternative protocols for the testing, sampling, and valuing of natural resource damages. This submission covers the Type B procedures.

Abstract: The Indian Land Consolidation Act (Act) was enacted on January 12, 1983, and changes existing law regarding the descent of Indian trust and restricted lands. The Act provides that certain undivided fractional interests in such lands can now be acquired by the tribe instead of descending by intestacy or devise. Existing regulations governing the probate of Indian lands by Indian Probate Judges must therefore be amended to conform with the Act.

GENERAL PROVISIONS: DEFINITIONS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 704; 16 USC 712

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 10, Subpart B

Abstract: The list of migratory birds found at 50 CFR 10.13 would be amended by adding formerly unprotected species which are covered by the convention concluded with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics for conservation of migratory birds and their environment. Also, the laughing gull, which was inadvertently omitted when the list was last revised, would be restored. Several species of birds belonging to groups protected under conventions concluded with Canada and Mexico have recently been found in the United States and would also be added to the list. The Mexican duck, which is no longer found in the United States, would be deleted from the list; Mexican-like ducks which are found in the Southwestern United States would continue to be protected as hybrids of the mallard, a migratory bird.

IMPORTATION, EXPORTATION, AND TRANSPORTATION OF WILDLIFE

Legal Authority: 16 USC 3376(a)(2)

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 14

Abstract: The Service would amend the requirements for marking and labeling containers or packages containing fish or wildlife in a joint rulemaking with the Department of Commerce. The Lacey Act Amendments of 1981 make it unlawful to import, export, or transport in interstate commerce any containers or packages containing fish or wildlife that are not marked or labeled in accordance with regulations jointly issued by the Secretaries of the Interior and of Commerce. Such regulations will be in accordance with existing commercial practices.

ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 to 1543

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Abstract: Regulations will be developed which would list, reclassify, or delist, as appropriate, certain species of fish, wildlife, and plants under the Endangered Species Act, and where prudent, would identify critical habitat for endangered and threatened species. Such actions are taken upon determination that species are endangered, threatened, or neither and are based solely on the biological information available to the Department.

ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 to 1543

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Abstract: 50 CFR 17.21(g), Captive-bred Wildlife, provides regulatory relief for activities that enhance the propagation or survival of living, captive-bred, exotic species listed as endangered and born in the U.S. There is also a provision by which certain specifically situated native species may be eligible. The Service recognizes that a number of native species that do not presently qualify for the benefits of this regulation are specifically situated such that their continued survival would be enhanced by being qualified; therefore, the Service will propose to establish criteria by which species are to be so qualified.

THREATENED WILDLIFE

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 to 1543

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17, Subpart D

Abstract: At the request of State, Federal and private parties, the special rule on the American alligator, found in 50 CFR 17.42(a), will be reviewed in order to determine whether to revise or revoke certain prohibitions and procedures. Areas to be considered during the review include: present prohibitions on export of meat and parts other than hides; need for serially numbering each tag applied to hides; need for a Federal permit to kill alligators legally held under State Alligator Farmer permits; and use of data collected from reports required of permittees.

Abstract: The Service will propose rules that would require the marking, tagging, or otherwise identifying of raw parts of certain lawfully taken marine mammals, including those taken by Alaska Natives for purposes of subsistence or the creation and selling of authentic native articles of handicrafts and clothing. Except for scientific research purposes, the rules would also prohibit exportation of raw parts of these marine mammals from Alaska and the sale of such parts, other than those that are edible, to persons other than resident Alaska Natives. These rules are necessary for management purposes.

Originally scheduled: April 1985. E.O. 12291: These rules are major because of the economic values associated with migratory game bird hunting; however, the need to obtain and consider the latest population data for these migratory birds requires that the regulatory schedule be shortened. The regulatory impact analysis, as required by E.O. 12291, and the small entity flexibility analysis, as required by 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., have been combined into one analysis as provided for by both authorities. Copies of the combined analysis will be available from the Agency Contact upon publication of the Notice of Intent in March 1985.

● MINERAL RIGHTS RESERVED AND EXCEPTED

Legal Authority: 16 USC 668(dd) National Wildlife Refuge System Admin Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 29.32, (Revision)

Abstract: Existing regulations will be revised to provide more comprehensive guidance on the procedures to be followed by persons conducting mineral exploration and/or development on National Wildlife Refuge System (NWRS) lands where the mineral rights are vested in other parties. Such operations were conducted on 47 NWRS units in 11 states during 1984. The purpose of the new rule will be to protect NWRS resources to the maximum extent possible without infringing upon the rights of the subsurface owners. Similar regulations of the National Park Service (36 CFR 9.30) and the Forest Service (36 CFR 251.15) will be considered in developing the NWRS regulations.

ENDANGERED SPECIES ACT RULES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17; 50 CFR 424

Abstract: The Endangered Species Act Amendments of 1982 made changes in the procedures that must be followed in promulgating rules under the Endangered Species Act. The Amendments also set up a procedure to designate certain populations of listed species as "experimental." Changes must be made in 50 CFR Parts 17 and 424 to accommodate the Amendments. Part 17 would be amended to allow certain populations of species otherwise listed as Endangered or Threatened to be designated experimental populations; for such populations to be designated as essential or nonessential; and for appropriate protective measures to be applied to such populations. Part 424 would be amended to alter the procedures followed in determining whether species are Endangered or Threatened and in designating and revising Critical Habitat. Changes would be made in the treatment of petitions from the public, mandatory time limits for various actions, standards under which determinations are made, and other procedural matters.

ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 to 1543

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Abstract: While listed specimens found dead may be salvaged without permit for scientific purposes by qualified parties, the area of consideration for revision of this Part requires the issuance of permits for the import or export of such specimens or their parts such as blood, tissue, sperm, etc. The Service wishes to review these restrictions to determine whether or not they are in the best interest of the enhancement of the survival of listed species. Affected parties of the scientific community have commented on the seeming counterproductive effect of the restrictions of these regulations. The Service has therefore agreed to review pertinent parts in order to determine the need, if any, to revise the regulations.

● CONCESSIONER CHILD LABOR

Legal Authority: 16 USC 3

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 8.4

Abstract: It is proposed to amend 36 CFR by deleting Section 8.4, Child Labor, which prohibits a person under 16 years of age to be employed by a concessioner. This action will allow National Park Service concessioners to employ minors in accordance with Federal or State labor laws applicable in the state of employment. This action is without cost to any party but will benefit children and concessioners by permitting concessioners to employ children between the ages of 14 and 16. It will benefit parents working for a concessioner by enabling the concessioner to employ their children under the age of 16 who otherwise may be unemployed or would need to be transported to a place of working outside a national park area, sometimes a considerable distance. The only other alternatives are to delete only the first sentence of Subsection 8.4 or leave the current regulation as is.

● MINERALS MANAGEMENT OF ACTIVITIES ON MINING CLAIMS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1901 et seq Mining In The Parks Act of 1976; 16 USC 1 et seq NPS Organic Act; 16 USC 79 1978 Redwoods Act

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 9, Subpart A

Abstract: As mandated by the "Mining In The Parks Act of 1976", the NPS promulgated its existing regulations to assure that operations on valid mining claims within units of the National Park System are conducted so as to prevent or minimize damage to park resources. The experience gained by the application of these regulations over the past six years indicates that certain adjustments are now necessary to clarify and simplify the existing regulatory language and to improve the management of mineral resources within NPS units. Specifically, several sections of the current regulations either have proven difficult to interpret or pertain to a surface disturbance moratorium that expired in 1980 thus rendering them obsolete. Moreover, the recent addition of several units located in Alaska to the National Park System dictates recognition of the unique legal and natural conditions under which mineral development activities take place in that environment. NPS is also considering expanding the scope of the existing regulations to include activities associated with non-federal mineral rights within units of the National Park System.

IDENTIFICATION OF INTEGRAL VISTAS ASSOCIATED WITH FEDERAL CLASS I AREAS

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 7491; 16 USC 1 et seq National Park Service Organic Act

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 16, (New)

Abstract: This rule will provide guidelines for identification of integral vistas and a list of integral vistas associated with 44 of the 48 National Park Service mandatory class I areas where visibility is an important value. The alternatives under consideration include (a) no action and (b) proposal of revised list of integral vistas. Upon completion, the RIA will discuss costs and benefits of the rule. Cost-benefit analysis is difficult, however, and speculative at best, since the rule merely identifies the integral vistas, but commits the decision on whether and how much to protect any particular vista to the permitting authority (usually the state, otherwise GPA). In other words, once an integral vista is properly and timely identified, the permitting authority must balance its protection against costs of compliance, the time necessary for compliance, the energy and nonair quality environmental impacts of compliance, and the remaining useful life of any existing source, subject to such requirements.

CURATION OF FEDERALLY-OWNED ARCHEOLOGICAL COLLECTIONS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 16 USC 470a; 16 USC 470dd

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 79

Abstract: This rule fulfills the Secretary of the Interior's responsibility to issue regulations on the disposition, exchange and curation of federally-owned prehistoric and historic archeological artifacts and associated records recovered under the Antiquities Act of 1906, the Reservoir Salvage Act of 1960 (as amended by the Archeological and Historic Preservation Act of 1974), the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 (as amended) and the Archaeological Resources Protection Act of 1979. The regulation will describe Federal agency responsibilities to preserve federally-owned archeological collections and provide guidance for Federal agencies to select appropriate repositories and to ensure that appropriate Indian tribes or individuals are notified concerning the disposition of materials recovered from Indian lands.

● NATIONAL PARK SERVICE ACQUISITION REGULATION

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 40 USC 486(c)

CFR Citation: 48 CFR 1489; 48 CFR 1452.289; 48 CFR 1453.2; 48 CFR 1453.3

Abstract: The proposed regulation would establish Bureau-specific solicitation provisions, contract clauses and prescriptions for their use. These are necessary to supplement and implement the Federal Acquisition Regulation and the Department of the Interior Acquisition Regulation. This will provide standard contractual language for provisions and clauses not otherwise available in the Federal or Interior regulations that are needed by our operational contracting activities. This action should result in cost savings as this development and standardization will relieve the individual contracting activities of the responsibility of developing their own.

APPEALS FROM ADMINISTRATIVE ACTIONS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 2

Abstract: The present administrative appeal regulations are ambiguous and misleading. It is difficult to tell what issues may be appealed and to whom the appeal should be sent. Most deadlines are uncertain. Those that are certain are often unrealistic. It is also unclear when a final decision will be rendered by the Interior Board of Indian Appeals and when it will be rendered by the Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs. Alternatives will be developed by reviewing the existing appeal regulations of other agencies. Consideration will be given to specifying which types of appeals go to the Assistant Secretary and which to the Board. The alternative of providing for the Assistant Secretary to make a case-by-case decision whether or not to refer the matter to the Board will also be considered. The primary benefit should be reduced frustration for both appellants and the BIA officials who handle the appeals. The greatest cost may be that both appellants and BIA officials may have to comply with more specified procedures and meet more deadlines in order for the system to work.

SOCIAL WELFARE-FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE
INDIAN CHILD WELFARE

Legal Authority: 25 USC 13

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 20; 25 CFR 23

Abstract: Public Law 97-394 requires the Bureau of Indian Affairs to impose a rateable reduction in General Assistance (GA) grant payments to eligible Indian clientele. When implemented, the rateable reduction will vary among states in that it will be identical in amount to the reductions established by states in the Administration of their respective Aid to Families with Dependent Children programs. In the past, the Bureau has made GA grant payments at the full need levels established by the states. The effect of applying a rateable reduction will be reduced program costs.

● FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE AND SOCIAL SERVICES PROGRAM

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: PL 98-473; 25 USC 13

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 20

Abstract: BIA will amend rule according to directions of Congress, Public Law 98-473. No alteratives are being considered because of legal opinion from Office of the solicitor. The action's potential cost is unknown at this time. Public Law 98-473 requires the BIA to promulgate regulations for BIA's assistance program which would clearly and generally define eligibility for general public welfare assistance or the availability of general public welfare assistance from a state.

● FEDERAL SCHOOLS FOR INDIANS (REVISION)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 34 Stat. 1018, 35 Stat. 783; 40 Stat. 564; 25 USC 288; 25 USC 289

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 31, (Revision)

Abstract: The purpose of the proposed revision is to clarify and define the clause "adequate free public school facilities" for non-Indian and Indian children of less than one-fourth blood who wish to attend Bureau-funded day and boarding schools. This proposed revision will also address criteria by which these students may attend Bureau-funded schools and tuition payments related thereto. Costs related to this part will be assumed by the public school district in the form of tuition payments, at no cost to the Bureau. Tuition fees charged will not exceed the tuition cost charged by the State or County in which the Bureau school is located.

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 140

Abstract: On April 25, 1980, the Bureau published a proposed rule that would have amended the regulations governing Indian traders on most Indian reservations. That proposal would have restricted application of the regulations to businesses located in isolated communities where there is an absence of competition. Most comments received were strongly opposed to the proposal and supportive of diligent enforcement of the trader regulations on all Indian reservations. In response to those comments, the Bureau has proposed to modernize the trading regulations by adopting as its regulations the consumer protection statutes of the state where the business is located. This Part has been redesignated from 25 CFR Part 251. This part is also scheduled for review.

Additional Information: In May 1982, the District Court for the District of Arizona invalidated the regulations and ordered the Bureau to publish new regulations. The Bureau published interim regulations on Hopi Partitioned Funds on September 8, 1982. During the past year several negotiating meetings have been held with the Navajo Tribe to obtain concurrence to include Navajo Partitioned Land in the regulations. The Navajo Tribe wants separate regulations and the Bureau has drafted new regulations for Navajo Partitioned Lands.

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 170

Abstract: With the Surface Transportation Assistance Act of 1982, Indian reservation road construction is funded from the Highway Trust Fund with authorizations for Fiscal Years 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986. Other provisions include a requirement for proper maintenance of roads, applications of the "Buy Indian" and Indian Self Determination Acts, and joint program management by the Secretaries of Interior and Transportation. These changes in the law make changes in regulations imperative. The no-action alternative would leave program managers with outdated guidelines. Cost of the action will be minimal and it imposes no burden on the public. Benefits will be a better ordered road construction and maintenance program on Indian reservations, greater management efficiency, and clarity of procedures for federal managers, legislators and tribal officials. CFR Citation: 25 CFR 244, (New)

Abstract: The interim rule will provide regulations governing hunting of big and small game on the Wind River Indian Reservation in Wyoming, to conserve, protect and increase the currently depleted populations. No alternative actions for addressing the problem are being considered. The program will be confined to a localized area, and economic effects will be relatively insignificant. Benefits will be conservation of existing populations through reduced hunting mortality. Abstract: This rule is an annual amendment covering the treaty Indian fishery in waters subject to the Fraser River Convention. Regulations provided by the rule assure fulfillment of obligations to treaty tribes and to Canada. The alternative of no regulation would leave the treaty Indian fishery unregulated, and was not considered. The rule is beneficial in that it will allow for the implementation of treaty guaranteed rights in a manner consistent with U.S. obligations to Canada. Priority: Undetermined

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 142

Abstract: The review of this rule was originally assigned an "End Review Date" of October 1984. During the 1985 Shipping Season, which extends from April through October 1985, the BIA will be conducting a test of the Department of Defense Coolbarge system. During that period, all Bureau-sponsored cargo will be shipped via Coolbarge and the USMS "Northstar" will be temporarily removed from service. If the test proves to be successful, then, the Northstar Operation (the use of the Bureau-held ship) will be permanently discontinued in favor of Coolbarge. After completing the test evaluation, decisions will be made regarding Northstar vs. Coolbarge. After the policy decisions are made, the regulation will be deleted or revised as appropriate to reflect and describe the new concept of Operation. The estimated completion date should be changed to October 1986.

● PREPARATION OF ROLLS OF INDIANS

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9; 25 USC 1401 et seq

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 61, (Revision)

Abstract: The regulations contained in 25 CFR part 61 are general regulations that govern the compilation of rolls of Indians by the Secretary of the Interior when required to do so under statutory authority. As a result of review, it has been determined that there is a continued need for this rule. However, as had already been determined, there is need for considerable revision to add certain portions which will govern the preparation of specific rolls under statutory authority, delete other portions that governed the preparation of certain rolls which have subsequently been completed and for which there is no further need or applicability, and make general revisions of an administrative nature including the elimination of sex-based and gender specific terminology. ● SUSPENSION AND DEBARMENT AS ADDITIONAL PENALTY

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 30 USC 181 et seq

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: The Minerals Leasing Act and Federal Oil and Gas Royalty Management Act authorize assessing significant penalties for the failure to pay royalties. These penalties include financial penalties, criminal sanctions, and the authority to revoke leases. Although debarring authority is not explicitly granted, we believe we have that authority. It is needed because the other remedies may not be effective. The process approval is complicated and time consuming. There may be little incentive for a company to comply at the outset. Debarment would provide that incentive. The alternative considered is operating only under the present penalty regulations at 30 CFR 241.

● DEVELOPMENT AND PRODUCTION OPERATIONS FOR NONENERGY MINERALS ON THE OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1334

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: Proposes the desirability of new regulations to govern Production and Development Operations on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) for minerals other than oil, gas, and sulphur under the authority of the OCS Lands Act; and requests comments and recommendations from interested parties. Alternative is to specify requirements in a lease document. Promulgation of regulation is not expected to result in costs significantly more than those incurred through the unregulated use of good commercial practices. The regulation will require that hard mineral operations are conducted in a manner that will ensure safety and protection of the environment.

● SUSPENSION OF OPERATIONS FOR LEASES IN WATER DEPTHS OF 400 TO 900 METERS

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1334

Abstract: Amends the regulations to require the granting of an automatic suspension of operations to permit time to carry out the activities described in an approved development and production plan for leases in the Alaska, Atlantic, and Pacific OCS Regions in water depths of 400 to 900 meters (the amendment has already been made for the Gulf of Mexico OCS Region). It is expected to cut costs and increase Federal revenues by eliminating some of the uncertainties of operating in deeper water. Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 30 USC 181 et seq; 30 USC 1701 et seq

Abstract: The proposed amendments would ensure consistency with other Royalty Management regulations and would conform to present practices. The amendments include the following: (1) Extend the 6-year record retention to cover solid minerals; (2) Eliminate references in regulations to provide a monthly statement of account to lessee; and (3) Provide for a change from Treasury rate to IRS interest rate applicable to assessments under solid minerals and geothermal. The potential costs and benefits of this action have not been determined. The alternative is to continue the present system of inconsistency within Royalty Management regulations.

NONDISCRIMINATION IN OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF CONTRACTING

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1863

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Abstract: The proposed rule would prohibit unlawful discrimination in contracting activities conducted in support of oil and gas exploration, development, and production on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS). The rules would also provide a process whereby persons who believed they had been denied a contract because of unlawful discrimination would have a forum. Violators would be subject to the same penalties that are available for other OCS rule violations. These proposed rules would implement the purposes of section 604 of the OCS Lands Act Amendments of 1978. Alternatives considered span from the issuance of a policy statement and no rules to a proposal of extensive affirmative action rules similar to those rescinded in the past. Very few complaints are expected to arise as there has been no evidence of discrimination to date. Therefore, the costs are expected to be minimal.

● EXPLORATION FOR NONENERGY MINERALS ON THE OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1334

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 251 or new part to be determined

Abstract: Proposes the desirability of new regulations to govern exploration on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) for minerals other than oil, gas, and sulphur under the authority of the OCS Lands Act; and requests comments and recommendations from interested parties. Alternative is to specify requirements in a permitting document rather than in regulations. Promulgation of regulations is not expected to result in costs significantly more than those incurred through the unregulated use of good commercial practices. Abstract: The Minerals Management Service is considering direct payment of minerals royalties to Tribes or allottees. Annually, about $175 million is distributed to approximately 20,000 individual allottees and Tribes. The payments are sent by the payor to MMS and from MMS to the Bureau of Indian Affairs for distribution. The present system increases the risk of making late or wrong payment and is extremely expensive and inefficient to administer. Also, accountability is difficult to establish under the present system.

ROYALTY MANAGEMENT REGULATIONS FOR FEDERAL LANDS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1701 et seq; Secretarial Order No. 3071; Secretarial Order No. 3087, as amended

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 201 to 203; 30 CFR 206; 30 CFR 210; 30 CFR 212; 30 CFR 217 to 219; 30 CFR 228 to 229; 30 CFR 241; 30 CFR 243

Abstract: All royalty management regulations affecting Federal lands will be redesignated from Title 43 and will be revised or modified to reflect the changes required by the Federal Oil and Gas Royalty Management Act of 1982 and Secretarial Order Nos. 3071 and 3087 (Organizational Structuring of the Department of the Interior Minerals Management Functions).

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 30 USC 192 et seq; Secretarial Order No. 3087; Secretarial Order No 3071

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 206

Abstract: This guideline will provide consistent valuation procedures for coal for the purpose of royalty computations. The guideline is being prepared in response to a Linowes Commission recommendation for detailed, definitive product valuation guidelines which contain clear terms and procedures.

REGULATIONS FOR THE VALUATION OF OIL, GAS, AND GAS PRODUCTS FOR ROYALTY PURPOSES FROM FEDERAL AND INDIAN LEASES

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1701 et seq; 25 USC 2102

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 206; 25 CFR 211; 25 CFR 212

Abstract: Existing rules will be revised to consolidate, and streamline the oil, gas and gas products valuation regulations for Federal Onshore, Offshore, and Indian leases, now in 30 CFR, Part 206, and 25 CFR, Parts 211 and 212. These revisions are being made in response to a Linowes Commission recommendation to establish a consistent product valuation policy which is less burdensome to the public, and will result in additional revenues for the Government.

● PERMANENT REGULATORY PROGRAM
DEFINITION OF ADVERSE PHYSICAL IMPACT

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 701.5; 30 CFR 816.106(b); 30 CFR 817.106(b)

Abstract: This regulation addresses the result of a joint motion approved by the District Court for the District of Columbia on December 3, 1984. The final regulation will remove the definition of adverse ph physical impact; remove the limitations imposed by 30 CFR 816.106(b) and 817.106(b); and require that all reasonably available spoil in the immediate vicinity of the remining operation be used to backfill the highwall to the maximum extent technically practicable. In view of the joint motion this is the only alternative being considered. There will be little if any potential costs because of the very limited application of this rule. Therefore, benefits which will result will also be very limited. The proposed rule asks for public comment on this very issue.

REQUIREMENTS FOR PERMITS FOR SPECIAL CATEGORIES OF MINING

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 701.5; 30 CFR 785.19(d)

Abstract: This proposed rule would comply with a ruling by the District Court for the District of Columbia which stated that the definition of farming and agricultural activities were not equal as it related to Alluvial Valley Floors as defined in OSM's regulations. The Court ordered that the definition be repromulgated in a manner consistent with Congressional intent. Pursuant to the Court ruling, additional guidance would be provided as to what the "essential hydrologic functions" are of AVF's.

Abstract: The regulation will address the sections that were remanded back to OSM by the action of the Court and modify some provisions that are confusing in the existing file. The changes will provide additional guidance to the surface coal mine operator in fulfilling the performance standards of the Act. ● PERMANENT REGULATORY PROGRAM DEFINITION OF SUPPORT FACILITIES

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 701.5

Abstract: The proposed rule will amend the definition of the term support facilities as a result of the District Court for the District of Columbia's opinion of July 6, 1984. The proposed regulation would bring additional support facilities under the Permanent Program Regulations of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act and amend the definition of support facility to connote a functional relationship with a regulated facility. This proposed rule would impose only minor costs to the coal industry since relatively few operations will be affected.

● EXEMPTION FOR COAL EXTRACTION INCIDENTAL TO THE EXTRACTION OF OTHER MINERALS

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 702

Abstract: The Surface Mining Act exempts mining operations that extract other minerals where coal does not exceed 16 2/3 percent of tonnage of minerals removed for sale. Evidence of abuse of this exemption has been given to Congress by legitimate operators. Coal mine operators are using the exemption to avoid compliance with the Surface Mining Act's environmental protection performance standards. Proposed regulations would require operations claiming exemption to apply for exemption and report on their operations. The costs of compliance for these operations is undetermined. Benefits would be to the public in terms of protection of health, safety, and environment from detrimental effects of mining. Legitimate noncoal operators would be able to compete fairly with those operations now using the exemption to undersell their legitimate competitors.

Abstract: This rule will address whether the Office of Surface Mining should retain the exemption for members of multiple interest boards in the definition of the term "employee" in 30 CFR 705.5 for purposes of determining restrictions on financial interests of State regulatory authority employees. In the event the exemption is retained, the Office of Surface Mining would propose to define multiple interest boards qualifying for the exemption.

● EXEMPTION FOR COAL EXTRACTION INCIDENTAL TO GOVERNMENT FINANCED CONSTRUCTION

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1202; 30 USC 1211; 30 USC 1278

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 707

Abstract: The current limiting language in 30 CFR Part 707 can have at least three adverse results for the Abandoned Mine Lands (AML) Program. The inability to remove incidental amounts of coal encountered during reclamation activities can result in: 1) the loss of a valuable energy resource, 2) a no-cost subsidy of a future mining operation, and 3) a windfall profit to the mineral owner. In addition, the Federal and State governments are unable to reduce the costs of their AML projects. Participation in the incidental recovery of coal and resulting reduction in reclamation costs would allow the Federal and State AML programs to accomplish more reclamation at a substantial saving. To correct these deficiencies and to allow greater flexibility for the AML Program to remove incidental amounts of coal encountered during AML-financed reclamation activities, the clarification and expansion of the scope of Part 707 is being proposed.

● CRITERIA FOR DESIGNATING AREAS AS UNSUITABLE FOR SURFACE COAL MINING OPERATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 762.5

Abstract: The objection to the definitions of the terms "fragile lands" and "historic lands" in 762.5 is their requirement that damage from proposed mining to historic and other values must be irreparable or permanent before lands can be classified as fragile or historic and therefore, eligible for consideration as being unsuitable for mining. The court order requires only a finding of significant damage, in accordance with Section 522(a)(3)(b) of the Act. In as much as the required wording "significant damage" is used in 762.11(b)(2) in the fragile-or-historic-lands criterion for designating lands as unsuitable, rather than using the wording of the two definitions, the proposed rule change would remove the degree-of-damage requirement from the definitions and thereby remove the wording objected to. In addition, the two terms would be combined into the one term "fragile or historic lands" that is used in the Act and also in 762.11(b)(2). The cost and benefits would remain unchanged because a finding of only significant damage and the combined term are already in place in 762.11(b)(2).

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 784.20

Abstract: In remanding Section 817.21(c)(2) for further comment following the Permanent Surface Mining Regulation Litigation II, the court also found that the 1979 rule requiring the subsidence control plan to include the results of the pre-subsidence survey and description of proposed monitoring measure were deleted in the 1982 proposed and 1983 final rule without adequate notice. Because this regulation related to Section 817.121(c)(2) concerning the protection of surface structures, the court ordered the Secretary to request additional public comments on this deletion in conjunction with the comments of 817.121(c)(2). No other alternative to the repromulgation of this rule is being considered because of the court order. Depending upon the number and types of comments received, this 1983 rule may or may not be changed. Consequently, the action's potential costs and benefits cannot be assessed.

Abstract: Following Permanent Surface Mining Regulation Litigation II, the court remanded portions of the subsidence control rule relating to the protection of surface structures and facilities to Office of Surface Mining to repromulgate the rule for notice and comment, holding that the final 1983 rule represents a radical change from the 1982 proposed rule. No other alternative to the repromulgation of the 1983 rule is being considered because of the court order. Depending upon the number and type of comments received the 1983 final rule relating to the protection of surface structures and facilities may or may not be changed.

Consequently, the action's potential costs and benefits cannot be assessed.

● SPECIAL PERMANENT PROGRAM PERFORMANCE STANDARDS OPERATIONS ON PRIME FARMLAND

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 823.11(a); 30 CFR 823.11(b)

Abstract: These regulations are being revised as ordered by the District Court for the District of Columbia. They will amend OSM's permanent program performance standards with respect to prime farmlands by allowing last cut lakes to remain after mining is complete only where they are beneficial or necessary to agricultural activity and allowing for a support facility exemption only for underground mines. These changes are mandated by Court Order, thus, no alternatives to this action are being considered.

● RECLAMATION ON PRIVATE LAND

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1238

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 882

Abstract: To address concerns raised by Inspector General and states in regulations implementing Lien Provisions of Surface Mining Control Act. Provisions for documenting lien waivers and defining unclear terms will be proposed. State and Federal reclamation programs will expend more time and resources documenting their decisions to waive liens but possibility for windfall profits to private landowners from expenditure of federal funds will be decreased. Satisfaction of liens will result in recovery of federal funds.

● STATE RECLAMATION PLAN AMENDMENTS

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1235

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 884; 30 CFR 886

Abstract: The revised rule provides that the Director may request that a State initiate procedures to amend its reclamation plan and that the Director may establish, after consultation with the State, a timetable which is consistent with established administrative and legislative procedures in the State for submitting an amendment to the reclamation plan. Failure to amend the reclamation plan within the specified time could result in either the suspension of the AMLR Plan, reduction, suspension or termination of existing grants or the withdrawal from consideration of all future grant applications. States may have minor administrative costs in amending their approved reclamation plans. Benefits would include more efficient and cost effective reclamation procedures.

● SUBSIDENCE INSURANCE PROGRAM GRANTS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: HR RES 648; PL 98-473; 30 USC 1231

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 887, (New)

Abstract: Proposed regulations implementing Congressional amendment to Surface Mining Control Act that authorizes up to $3 million to States for the establishment of state administered self-sustaining subsidence insurance programs. If all eligible states avail themselves of the opportunity, the costs to the AML Reclamation Fund will be $69 million. Benefits are, if land is insured, approximately $100 million in savings to the AML reclamation program. If land is not insured, then the AML Trust Fund will lose up to a maximum of $69 million dollars. The subsidence insurance program will result in considerable savings to home owners and commercial and industrial entities who will be able to insure their property from damage caused by subsidence in abandoned underground coal mines.

FEDERAL OIL SHALE MANAGEMENT

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 30 USC 181 et seq; 43 USC 1701 et seq

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 3900

Abstract: This major rule will establish procedures for conducting a competitive leasing program, including procedures for issuing competitive oil shale leases, leasing multimineral deposits, issuing exploration licenses, and managing oil shale leases. Oil shale is a resource that has significant potential to increase the domestic energy supply and to reduce the Nation's dependence on foreign sources of energy. The rule is needed to establish procedures that will allow orderly development of this resource. Annual Federal costs of administering the oil shale leasing program described in the rule are estimated to be $3.5 million to $4.0 million. Total production from Federal leases is expected to range from 120,000 barrels per day to 400,000 barrels per day by the year 2000. The annual production costs associated with Federal oil shale leases are estimated to range from $1.2 billion to $3.1 billion. The shift in balance of payments resulting from the Federal program is estimated to be $5.5 billion to $7.0 billion in 1990. The rule, therefore, has been determined to be major because it is anticipated to have greater than a $100 million annual impact on the economy. Copies of the (cont)

WILD FREE-ROAMING HORSE AND BURRO PROTECTION: MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1331 to 1340; 43 USC 1701 et seq

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 4700

Abstract: This part will be revised in order to reorganize the regulations into a logical, consistent format and to remove needless self-regulation more appropriate for the Bureau Manual. In addition, related rules will be consolidated (aircraft and motor vehicles - 4730 and 4740; removal of horses and burros - 4720, 4740 and 4750), and rules which have no foundation in the law will be eliminated (problem animals - (4740.3(c); fencing of private land - 4750.3)). Procedures for adoption and title transfer will be clarified, and burdensome requirements for veterinarian certifications will be eased by canceling the requirement or allowing certification from any qualified official (4740.4-2 and 4740.5). The costs to those who choose to participate in the adoption program should be lessened by these revisions.

STATE WATER RESEARCH INSTITUTE PROGRAM

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10303 Water Resources Research Act of 1984

Abstract: The purpose of this action is to establish procedures that will enable the Secretary of the Interior to meet his responsibilities in administering the program of state water research institutes reauthorized by the Water Resources Research Act of 1984. The rules and regulations presently governing the grant program were promulgated in 1964 and are not responsive to the new legislation. The new rules and regulations will primarily address matters of: administrative responsibility within the Department; state designation of the universities hosting the institutes; cost-sharing requirements and the evaluation process called for by the Act; and application and reporting procedures. The action will provide clear and consistent administrative direction to both the granting agency and the grantees. The revised rule will be redesignated as 30 CFR 401.

● CRITERIA FOR DETERMINATIONS OF ADVERSE IMPACT UNDER SECTION 165(D)(2)(C)(II) AND (III) OF THE CLEAN AIR ACT

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 7475(d)

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: Under the Clean Air Act, the Department of the Interior, as Federal Land Manager, has the affirmative responsibility to protect the air quality related values of its class 1 areas and to consider whether proposed new major sources of air pollution will have an adverse impact on these values. The Department has developed and applied "working" criteria for making adverse impact determinations in several cases since 1982. Both industry and environmental groups have commented on the "working" criteria and requested further rulemaking action on the criteria. In response to these requests, this rulemaking action would solicit public input on the working definitions as well as related technical and legal issues.

The Notice of Intent will ask several questions. The answers to these questions will be useful in determining alternatives and potential costs and benefits.

IMPOSITION OF MINIMUM BOND AS CONDITION OF RELEASE

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1252; 8 USC 1254

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 3.1(b)(7); 8 CFR 242.2

Abstract: The proposed rule would revise the procedures relating to release of apprehended aliens. Release without bond would be authorized only for compelling interests of the government, and only by a district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Neither an Immigration Judge nor the Board of Immigration Appeals would have authority to release an alien without bond.

INSPECTION OF PERSONS APPLYING FOR ADMISSION; PREINSPECTION

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1225

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 235.5(c)

Abstract: The proposed rule would shift the financial burden for excess costs relating to INS personnel at preclearance facilities from the United States government to the benefiting carriers. These excess costs would include such items as quarters, post-of-duty differentials, and transportation of family members and household effects.

NONIMMIGRANT CLASSES; EXTENSIONS OF STAY FOR CERTAIN NONIMMIGRANT CLASSIFICATIONS

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1184

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 214.2

Abstract: This final rule will improve the extension of stay rules for the E, J, and certain NATO nonimmigrant classifications by allowing the nonimmigrant to enter the United States for a longer period of time upon initial admission. This change should eliminate unnecessary extension of stay applications while still allowing for adequate control of these nonimmigrant groups.

● CHANGE OF NONIMMIGRANT CLASSIFICATION

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1184

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 248.3; 8 CFR 248.4

Abstract: This rule will require the application for change of nonimmigrant status to "H" or "L" classification to be filed with a nonimmigrant visa petition or notice of approval of the petition. It would also require that the application for change of nonimmigrant status be filed with the same district director having jurisdiction over the nonimmigrant visa petition, thus helping the Service provide a more expeditious adjudication of change of status requests by keeping related documents together.

LEAA ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW PROCEDURE

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3701 Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 18

Abstract: The Office of Justice Programs (OJP) proposes to revise the regulation for the hearing and appeal procedures of the Justice Assistance agencies. These include: the Office of Justice Programs (OJP); the National Institute of Justice (NIJ); the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS); the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA); the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP); and the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC). The new regulation is necessary to reflect changes made by Congress in the authorizing legislation of these agencies. The proposed regulation will provide guidelines for the hearing and appeal process available to a block grant or formula grant applicant or recipient or a recipient of a categorical grant or cooperative agreement whose grant or cooperative agreement may be terminated.

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Labor.

ACTION: Semiannual agenda of regulations selected for review or development.

SUMMARY: This document sets forth the Department's Semiannual Agenda of Regulations which have been selected for review or development during the coming one year period. The agenda complies with the requirements of both Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

DATES: The agenda includes all regulations which are expected to be under review or development between April 1985 and April 1986.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Roland G. Droitsch, Acting Deputy Assistant Secretary for Policy, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Policy, Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Room S2233, Washington, D.C. 20210 (202) 523-9058.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act require the semiannual publication in the Federal Register of an agenda of regulations.

Executive Order 12291 became effective February 17, 1981, and in substance requires the Department of Labor to publish an agenda, listing all the regulations it expects to have under active consideration for promulgation, proposal or review during the coming one year period. It also requires the Department to conduct a Regulatory Impact Analysis for all "major" regulations being developed.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act became effective on January 1, 1981. It applies only to regulations for which a notice of proposed rulemaking was issued on or after January 1, 1981, and requires the Department of Labor to publish an agenda, listing all the regulations it expects to propose or promulgate that are likely to have a "significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities" (5 U.S.C. 602). For any regulation that will have this impact, the Department must conduct a Regulatory Flexibility Analysis to gauge the economic consequences of the rule, and to analyze the availability of more flexible approaches for lightening the rule's regulatory burden on "small entities."

If a proposed regulation will not have a "significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities," the Department of Labor must publish a certification to that effect at the time of the general notice of proposed rulemaking or at the time of the publication of the final rule. That certification must be accompanied by a succinct statement explaining the reasons for the agency's determinations.

As permitted by law, the Department of Labor is combining in this publication its agendas under the Regulatory Flexibility Act and Executive Order 12291.

The regulatory reform process, of which the unified agenda is a part, continues to be an extremely valuable aid in the development of better regulations by the Department. We believe that our regulatory reform program has resulted in improved regulatory management, more clearly written regulations and significantly less burdensome regulations.

Further improvement is certainly needed, and we are constantly seeking new and innovative approaches in pursuit of this goal. All interested members of the public are invited and encouraged to let Departmental Officials know how our regulatory reform process can be further improved and, of course, to participate in and comment on the review or development of the regulations listed on the agenda.

The Department of Labor's next semiannual agenda, under Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, will be published in October 1985.

Ford B. Ford,

Under Secretary of Labor.

1. ● DEBT COLLECTION ACT REGULATIONS: SALARY OFFSET

Legal Authority: 5 USC 5514

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 20

Abstract: These regulations will implement the Debt Collection Act of 1982 (P.L. 97-365). The Debt Collection Act gives Federal agencies new tools to collect on debts owed to the United States. These include the authority of Federal agencies to offset the current pay account of an employee ("Salary Offset") when the employee owes money to the United States. These regulations will establish the policies and procedures the Department of Labor will use to implement a salary offset, in conformance with the Office of Personnel Management Regulations on this matter (49 FR 27470).

2. ● RIGHT TO FINANCIAL PRIVACY ACT

Legal Authority: 12 USC 3401 et seq Right to Financial Privacy Act of 1978

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 19, (New)

Abstract: These proposed regulations would authorize Department of Labor units to request financial records from a financial institution pursuant to the formal written request procedure established by the Right to Financial Privacy Act of 1978, 12 U.S.C. 3401 et seq., and would set forth the conditions under which such requests may be made. Section 1108(2) of the Right to Financial Privacy Act of 1978 requires that the formal written request be authorized by regulations promulgated by the head of the agency or department. These proposed regulations would thus, once implemented, enable Department of Labor units to utilize the formal written request procedure to obtain financial records.

3. DEBT COLLECTION ACT REGULATIONS; DISCLOSURE TO CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCIES; ADMINISTRATIVE OFFSET; INTEREST, PENALTIES, AND ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS

Legal Authority: 31 USC 3711 et seq

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 20

Abstract: These regulations will implement the Debt Collection Act of 1982 (PL 97-365). The Debt Collection Act gives Federal Agencies new tools to collect on debts owed to the United States. These include the authority for Federal Agencies to disclose the existence and amount of delinquent debts to a consumer reporting agency; to collect a debt by means of an administrative offset; and to charge interest, assess penalties and recover administrative charges to delinquent debts. These regulations establish the policies and procedures the Labor Department will employ to implement the foregoing Debt Collection Act tools. The Labor Department's rules are in conformance with the Federal claims collection standards, issued jointly by the Department of Justice and the General Accounting Office.

Legal Authority: EO 11246, as amended

CFR Citation: 41 CFR 60-1.11

Abstract: These provisions would have made it a violation for federal contractors to pay membership fees or other expenses for employees to join an organization which limits membership on the basis of race, color, religion, sex or national origin. The Department has since proposed to withdraw this regulation. Further action on the proposed withdrawal is pending completion of additional study of the issues involved.

5. GOVERNMENT CONTRACTORS: NONDISCRIMINATION AND AFFIRMATIVE ACTION OBLIGATION (ESA/OFCCP)

Priority: Major, Task Force

Legal Authority: EO 11246, as amended; 38 USC 2012; 29 USC 793; 29 USC 1781

CFR Citation: 41 CFR 60-1; 41 CFR 60-2; 41 CFR 60-4; 41 CFR 60-20; 41 CFR 60-30; 41 CFR 60-50; 41 CFR 60-60; 41 CFR 60-250; 41 CFR 60-741

Abstract: These provisions contain OFCCP's rules covering nondiscrimination and affirmative action obligations of covered contractors under EO 11246, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Section 481 of the Job Training and Partnership Act. The rules would be revised to make them more cost effective, reduce paperwork burdens and assure that contractors may always hire the best qualified person regardless of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. Proposed changes to the regulations were published in the Federal Register on 12/28/79 and 02/22/80, and a final rule on these issues was published on 12/30/80 (45 FR 86215). The rule was stayed and reviewed in accordance with the President's Executive Order 12291 of 02/17/81. An ANPRM was published on 07/14/81 (46 FR 36213) and supplemented on 08/21/81 (46 FR 42490) to elicit comments on several issues pertaining to the regulation. A notice of proposed rulemaking was published on 08/25/81 (46 FR 42968) with comments due by 10/26/81. The proposal suspended the effective date of the 12/30/80 regulation, and proposed revision of that regulation. A final rule will be (cont)

6. NONDISCRIMINATION AND AFFIRMATIVE ACTION OBLIGATIONS FOR DISABLED VETERANS, VETERANS OF VIETNAM ERA, AND HANDICAPPED WORKERS (ESA/OFCCP)

Legal Authority: 29 USC 793; 38 USC 2012

CFR Citation: 41 CFR 60-1; 41 CFR 60-250; 41 CFR 60-741

Abstract: This proposal would make the definition section of these regulations consistent with 1978 amendments to the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act, and conform these rules to changes in DOL's regulations implementing Sec 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. These provisions reflecting statutory changes have been incorporated into the 08/25/81 "main" OFCCP proposal (46 FR 42968).

7. BLACK LUNG: OBLIGATIONS OF LESSORS FOR CLAIMS FOR BENEFITS (ESA/OWCP)

Legal Authority: 30 USC 901 et seq

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 725.491(b)(2)

Abstract: The intent of this proposal is to make explicit the Department's policy that a lessor of a coal mine, who has never actually operated such a mine, will not be held liable for the payment of benefits for black lung contracted in the course of employment in that mine and, therefore, need not insure against that possibility.

8. LONGSHOREMAN'S ACT: REGIONAL OFFICES (ESA/OWCP)

Legal Authority: 33 USC 939(b)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 702.101

Abstract: The low volume of cases received under the Longshore Act and its extensions did not justify maintaining separate longshore district offices for the disposition of cases in the Denver and Kansas City regions. Therefore, these offices were closed and their workloads transferred to the Seattle and Chicago district offices, respectively. This rule would formalize these changes by making a technical amendment to 20 CFR 702.101 redefining the jurisdictions of the four affected district offices.

9. FECA MEDICAL FEE REGULATIONS (ESA/OWCP)

Legal Authority: 5 USC 8101 et seq

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 10.400 et seq

Abstract: 5 USC 8103(a) of the Federal Employees' Compensation Act provides that the United States shall furnish a broad range of medical services and supplies to employees of the United States injured in the performance of duty. ESA proposes to exercise its statutory authority to define the "reasonableness" of medical service costs and thereby monitor, and possibly reduce, these costs by imposing a schedule of allowable fees to be paid for services under this law. On 06/07/84 (49 FR 23658), a notice of proposed rulemaking was published with comments due by 08/06/84. The comment period was extended from 08/06/84 to 10/05/84 in response to a request by the American Medical Association (49 FR 33695), and reopened from 01/31/85 to 03/04/85.

10. CLAIMS FOR COMPENSATION UNDER THE FEDERAL EMPLOYEES' COMPENSATION ACT

Legal Authority: 5 USC 8101 et seq

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 10.1 et seq

Abstract: This proposal would revise the Federal Employees' Compensation Act regulations to (1) increase the ability of employing agencies to monitor the Act's continuance of pay (COP) provisions; (2) reduce the period for using up the remainder of the 45-day COP eligibility when there is a recurrence of a disability subsequent to a first return to work from six months to 90 days from the date of return to work; (3) require partially disabled employees to report on their efforts to find work; (4) reduce the number of internal body organs that are included in the list of schedule awards payable to employees who suffer a loss or loss of use of such organs; (5) make other modifications designed to provide consistent rationale for the payment of benefits; and (6) incorporate procedures for giving full due process in overpayment cases before recoupment.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 701; 20 CFR 702; 20 CFR 703

Abstract: The Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act Amendments of 1984 were passed and signed into law on September 28, 1984 (P.L. 98-426). These amendments made many substantive changes to the Longshore Act (33 USC 901 et seq.), which were effective on the date of enactment, or 90 days thereafter. These regulations implement the changes made by the amendments, and make technical corrections in the unchanged sections of the regulations. The changes include an exemption from the Act's coverage for specified classes of workers, a certification procedure for exemption from coverage of certain small-vessel facilities, provisions allowing the Secretary to debar medical care providers and representatives for certain reasons, and revisions in the assessment formula for the program's Special Fund (for second injury coverage). Because of the statutory deadlines imposed, these regulations were published as interim final rules on January 3, 1985 with a comment period which will close March 22, 1985. They will automatically expire October 1, 1985, thus necessitating republication before then.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 703.102

Abstract: The Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act (LHWCA) requires employers to provide coverage for their compensation liability either through becoming an authorized self-insurer or by procuring an insurance policy under the Act. In order to determine whether a carrier should be authorized by the Secretary, it is necessary to review certain administrative and financial information (such as State charter status, insurance policy including LHWCA endorsement, annual reports, audit ratios, etc.) which will provide a rational basis for the decision. The existing regulations do not specify the full range of information which practice over the years has proved to be necessary. In addition, because the program lacks the expertise and staff to properly analyze the financial status of the insurance company, it has relied on Best's Insurance Reports and industry standard rating service. Up to now, companies which have Best's rating of B or better have been considered for authorization, although this standard was not part of the regulations. Market changes have undermined the stability of the insurance industry in general and several authorized (cont)

In order to ensure the coverage of compensation liability under the Act, the Department will require newly authorized carriers to have an A or better Best's rating and the revision of the rule will reflect this policy. It will apply only to carriers applying for the authorization and not to carriers already authorized and writing insurance, to the extent of coverage already underwritten.

13. DEFINING AND DELIMITING THE TERMS "ANY EMPLOYEE EMPLOYED IN A BONA FIDE EXECUTIVE, ADMINISTRATIVE, OR PROFESSIONAL CAPACITY. . ." (ESA/W-H)

Priority: Major, Task Force

Legal Authority: 29 USC 213(a)(1)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 541

Abstract: These regulations set forth the criteria used in the determination of the application of the Fair Labor Standards Act exemption for "executive," "administrative," "professional" and "outside sales employees" from the minimum wage and overtime requirements of the Act. The existing regulation was targeted for review by the President's Task Force on Regulatory Relief. A final rule increasing the salary test criteria was published on 01/13/81 (46 FR 12206) and was scheduled to become effective on 02/13/81. On 02/12/81 (41 FR 11912) an indefinite stay of the final rule was published. On 03/27/81 (46 FR 18998) a proposal to suspend the final rule indefinitely was published with comments due by 04/28/81. As a result of numerous comments and petitions received from industry groups regarding the duties and responsibilities tests as set forth in the regulations, as well as recent case law developments, the Department has concluded that a more comprehensive review of these regulations is needed and has decided to reopen the comment period and broaden the scope of the review to include all aspects of the regulations. An ANPRM is expected to be published during April 1985.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 29 USC 203(m); 29 USC 203(t)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 531

Abstract: These regulations contain the basic standards governing the application of Section 3(m) of the FLSA, which provides that, under certain conditions, the reasonable cost or fair value of furnishing employees with board, lodging, or other facilities may be applied towards meeting the Act's minimum wage and overtime requirements. Section 3(m) also provides that tips received by certain employees may be credited towards the payments of the statutory minimum wage (up to a maximum of 40 percent). The changes under consideration would conform the regulations to legislative amendments, court decisions interpreting Section 3(m), and administrative experience related to enforcement of these provisions.

16. ● GENERAL REGULATIONS UNDER THE WALSH-HEALEY PUBLIC CONTRACTS ACT

Legal Authority: 41 USC 38

CFR Citation: 41 CFR 50-201.101(b)(6); 41 CFR 50-201.1201

Abstract: The proposed rule would revise the role of the Small Business Administration (SBA) in determining a small business concern's eligibility as a "manufacturer" or "regular dealer" under the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (PCA). Current procedures for small businesses require SBA review of all contracting agency findings of ineligibility, as well as all protests which challenge an agency's findings of eligibility. SBA did not have an opportunity to comment when the current rules were first adopted following enactment of the 1977 Amendments to the Small Business Act (P.L. 95-89, 91 Stat. 561 (15 USC 637(b)(7)(B)). SBA believes its review authority under the Act is restricted to only executive branch agency findings of noneligibility under PCA, and has requested revisions to the regulations which would eliminate SBA review in protest cases which challenge an agency's findings that a small business is eligible for award. Additional revisions requested by SBA would streamline the processing of cases between SBA and Wage Hour. (cont)

Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: b. An additional procedural change would discontinue the reporting requirement for federal contracting agencies to submit Standard Form (SF) 99, Notice of Award of Contract, to the Wage and Hour Division for contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (PCA) if the agencies report such information directly to the Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS) or to Wage-Hour by alternative means, e.g., automated data process reports. A similar rule change was promulgated under the Service Contract Act (SCA) regulations (29 CFR 4.8) published October 27, 1983 (48 FR 49770). The reduced administrative burden for the affected procurement agencies resulting from the rule change under both SCA and PCA is expected to produce estimated annual cost savings governmentwide of nearly $410,000, the majority of which is attributable to PCA contract awards.

Legal Authority: 29 USC 214; 29 USC 211

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 525

Abstract: These regulations establish the terms and conditions under which handicapped clients in sheltered workshops performing work subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, and the Service Contact Act may be employed, under certificate, at wage rates less than those otherwise required by these acts. The FLSA Amendments of 1966 substantially revised the provision of section 14(c) of the Act which authorizes such employment. The regulations have not been comprehensively revised since 1967 when they were revised to reflect the amendments. The Department has concluded, that it would be appropriate to review the regulations to determine whether changes are necessary to address the concerns of interested parties.

Legal Authority: 20 USC 954 (i) and (j); 20 USC 956 (g)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 505

Abstract: The National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities Act of 1965, as amended in 1976, requires the Secretary to determine the prevailing minimum compensation for professional performers and related or supporting personnel employed on projects or productions assisted by grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities. As originally enacted, these labor standards only applied to the Arts; the existing regulations do not reflect the amendments which applied the same labor standards to the Humanities. A review is planned to determine (1) whether the existing provisions for determining prevailing minimum wages with respect to grants from the National Endowment for the Arts should be continued, and (2) whether the same or some different approach to such determinations should be applied to grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Abstract: These rules would govern the manner by which a coal mine operator fulfills its insurance obligations under the Black Lung Benefits Act, either by qualification as a self-insurer or by contracting with a commercial insurance company. Revision of Part 726 is necessary as a result of enactment of amendments to the Act in 1978 and 1981. Abstract: These regulations govern labor standards applicable to Federally funded or assisted construction contracts subject to the Davis-Bacon and Related Acts, and contracts subject to the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act. The existing regulations were targeted for review by the President's Task Force on Regulatory Relief. An NPRM was published 08/14/81 (46 FR 41444), with comments due by 10/13/81, resulting from DOL's reexamination of rules previously published 01/16/81 (46 FR 4306, 4380) and subsequently stayed. On December 23, 1982, the court permanently enjoined certain provisions of the 05/28/82 final rules. The Department appealed, and on 04/29/83 (48 FR 19532) published the unenjoined provisions of the 05/28/82 final rules. The enjoined sections were deferred pending final conclusion of all appeals. Abstract: This regulation governs the issuance of certificates authorizing the employment of full time students at subminimum wages. Under this proposal the regulation would be revised to permit the issuance of certificates authorizing employment of full time students at subminimum wages for periods longer than the current one year duration. The Wage and Hour Division plans to publish a new proposed revision which will supersede the 07/16/82 proposal. Priority: Task Force

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 570

Abstract: This regulation sets forth the occupations and periods and conditions for the employment of minors 14 and 15 years of age. A number of changes are being considered which would update the provisions of this regulation which have not been changed since 1938. As proposed, the regulation would (1) expand permissible hours of work, (2) tighten employment restrictions in certain occupations such as those involving work near open flames, and (3) remove employment restrictions where no hazard is deemed to exist. The Wage and Hour Division plans to publish a new proposed revision which will supersede the 07/16/82 proposal. 28. EMPLOYMENT OF HOMEWORKERS IN CERTAIN INDUSTRIES

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 29 USC 211

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 530

Abstract: This regulation sets forth restrictions on industrial homework and governs the issuance of certificates authorizing the employment of homeworkers in certain industries, pursuant to Section 11 (d) of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). As originally issued, these regulations restricted the employment of industrial homework in seven industries: knitted outerwear; women's apparel; jewelry; buttons and buckles; gloves and mittens; handkerchiefs; and embroideries. On March 27, 1984, the Department issued (49 FR 11792) a 120 day emergency temporary suspension on the ban on homework in the knitted outerwear industry. The ban had been removed by the Department on November 9, 1981 following extensive hearings and public comment. This action was subsequently upheld by the District Court for the District of Columbia. However, on appeal the ban was reimposed on February 29, 1984 by a mandate of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. On 05/08/84, the District Court ruled that the Department's emergency rule was invalid and ordered the Department to rescind the rule. Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: reinstated the ban on homework in the knitted outerwear industry (49 FR 22036). On 03/27/84 the Department also published a proposed rule rescinding the ban on homework in the knitted outerwear industry. In addition to soliciting comments on the proposed rescission, the Department sought comments on alternatives to such action (49 FR 11786). The period for public comment on the proposed rule was extended from 30 to 45 days (49 FR 17974). On 06/22/84, the Department reopened the comment period for 15 days in order to invite additional comments on alternatives to a total rescission of the ban on homework in the knitted outerwear industry, particularly on the alternative of licensing or registering of employers of homeworkers in that industry (49 FR 25641). On 11/05/84, a final rule was published (49 FR 44262) which permits homework in the knitted outerwear industry for those employers who obtain certificates from the Department authorizing such employment. The final rule became effective 12/05/84.

29. ● SINGLE UNIT CHARGE AGREEMENTS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1579(a); 29 USC 1551(d)(3); PL 98-524, Sec 7

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 629.38(e)(2)

Abstract: The regulation would implement a provision of the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act that affects regulatory provisions of the Job Training Partnership Act. The new legislation provides that payments for training packages purchased competitively under Section 141(d)(3) of JTPA may occur in the case of training for youth if that training results in either placement in unsubsidized employment or the attainment of an outcome specified in Section 106(b)(2) of the Act, notwithstanding 20 CFR 629.38(e)(2)(iii), which is being modified by this regulation revision. This regulation revision amends 20 CFR 629.38(e)(2) to correspond to Section 7 of P.L. 98-524.

30. PIECE RATE ADJUSTMENTS

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1101(a)(15)(H)(ii); 8 USC 214.2(h)(3)(i)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 655

Abstract: The regulation as proposed retains in place a regulation protecting covered U.S. farmworkers from adverse effect of lower wages from the use of alien farmworkers. The rule informs covered U.S. agricultural employers of their duties under the temporary alien labor certification program, and reflects DOL's policy on this subject.

31. ● LABOR CERTIFICATION PROCESS FOR THE PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT OF ALIENS IN THE UNITED STATES

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1182(a)(14)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 656

Abstract: Physicians are currently on the Department's Schedule A precertification list if they are to be employed in a designated Health Manpower Shortage Area (HMSA) or an area which has an insufficient number of physicians as designated by the Public Health Service (PHS). The PHS has recommended removal of physicians from Schedule A, or in the alternative leave only those physicians on Schedule A that are to be employed in the HMSA's. According to the PHS: (1) there is no longer a national shortage of physicians; and (2) alien physicians after they are certified do not go to the HMSA's or the area with an insufficient number of physicians, or if they do go to these areas they leave shortly after starting work. Thus, the labor certification program has not had a significant effect in alleviating the shortage of physicians in the HMSA's or in the areas with an insufficient number of physicians. Consequently, ETA proposes to remove all physicians from Schedule A.

32. ● LABOR CERTIFICATION PROCESS FOR THE TEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT OF ALIENS IN AGRICULTURE AND LOGGING IN THE UNITED STATES

Legal Authority: 8 USC 214

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 655

Abstract: Current regulations state that when employers provide meals they may charge the worker no more than $4.00 per day. There are exceptions in cases where employers document costs exceeding $4.00 in support of higher meal charges. In such instances, a ceiling of $5.00 per day may be charged if approved by the RA. These charges were established in 1980, and do not reflect the higher costs for food that currently exist. ETA proposes to increase the amount employers can charge workers for three meals per day.

33. SENIOR COMMUNITY SERVICE EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: PL 98-459 Community Service Employment for Older Americans

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 89

Abstract: The regulations will revise and update the existing rules for the Senior Community Service Employment Programs. These changes will not create new cost nor materially change the existing program. However, the new rules will place the program in compliance with the 1984 Amendments to the Older Americans Act.

34. AIRLINE DEREGULATION: EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PROGRAM

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 49 USC 1552; PL 95-504

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 638

Abstract: These regulations are being developed to implement the benefit provisions contained in Section 43 of the Airline Deregulation Act. The Act requires the Secretary of Labor to specify the percentage of prior salary which an "eligible protected employee" would receive as a benefit payment under the Act. An eligible protected employee is a person who has had at least 4 years of employment with a certificated air carrier as of October 24, 1978 and who loses his or her job during the ten years following such date in a bankruptcy or major employment contraction if and only if the Civil Aeronautics Board determines that the principal causes of such job loss was deregulation. On May 17, 1984 the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia held that Section 43 of the Airline Deregulation Act was unconstitutional. Because Section 43 provides statutory authority for these regulations their development has been delayed pending the outcome of this litigation.

Legal Authority: PL 97-35, Sec 2406; PL 97-35, Sec 2407; PL 97-35, Sec 2408

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 608

Abstract: The Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 amended the tax credit provisions of FUTA to authorize the placing of a "cap" on reductions in tax credits on a State-by-State basis in certain prescribed circumstances. The amendment requires these determinations to be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The same Act also amended Title XII of the Social Security Act to assess interest on advances to States, the payment of which is prohibited from State unemployment funds. The proposal would implement these statutory changes.

Legal Authority: PL 91-573, Title II; PL 96-499; PL 96-364; PL 97-35; PL 98-21

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 615

Abstract: These regulations would be amended to implement various statutory amendments of 1981, 1982, and 1983 to the Federal-State Extended Unemployment Compensation Act of 1970. The regulations would (1) provide for the denial of extended benefits to certain interstate claimants and to individuals who fail to actively engage in seeking work or refuse to accept an offer of suitable work, (2) provide for the purging of certain disqualifications in order to establish eligibility for extended benefits, and (3) establish the method of determining the rate of insured unemployment for extended benefit claims, the State trigger rates and removal of the National trigger.

37. TRADE ADJUSTMENT ASSISTANCE FOR WORKERS

Legal Authority: 19 USC 2320

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 617

Abstract: These regulations would implement the 1981 and 1983 amendments to the Trade Act of 1974. The Trade Adjustment Assistance program provides adjustment assistance in the form of reemployment services, training, job search, relocation allowances, and cash benefits (adjustment assistance) to workers whose unemployment is linked to increased imports of foreign-made products. The amendments represent a fundamental shift in program emphasis from income maintenance to placement and employment services and benefits such as training, job search and relocation. The 1981 amendments are designed to assure that adjustment assistance and reemployment services are more appropriately targeted to trade impacted workers with emphasis placed on their return to work. The 1983 amendments extended the program to September 30, 1985. The 1984 amendments to the program are not included in these regulations but will be issued separately.
